CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 33. SATURDAY, JANUARY 4, 1941. NO. 1

BOSTON'S GENERAL HEALTH FOUND TO BE IN SOUND CONDITION, ACCORDING TO REPORT OF HEALTH COMMISSIONER DR. G. LYNDE GATELY — BIRTHS HIGHER BY 203 BABIES IN 1940 THAN IN 1939, AND 393 MORE THAN IN 1938, WITH 16,300 FOR THE YEAR JUST USHERED OUT — DECREASES IN DEATHS FROM SEVERAL OTHER FORMS OF DISEASE ALSO SHOWN, WITH DEATHS FROM ALL CAUSES HIGHER THAN IN PREVIOUS YEAR.

According to a statement issued by Dr. G. Lynde Gately, Health Commissioner, Boston has established several records in the matter of health for the year 1940. The most outstanding feature of the record was the number of births recorded, with 16,300 for the year, 203 more than in 1939, and 393 more than in the preceding year.

In several other respects Boston showed a remarkable condition of health. There was a decrease in deaths from the pneumonia group of illnesses, a decrease in deaths from puerperal diseases, a decrease in deaths from diabetic conditions, and there were no deaths at all from infantile paralysis or measles.

On the other side of the ledger, however, there was an increase in the number of deaths from all causes, an increase in the total deaths of children under one year of age, an increase in deaths due to degenerative diseases and cancer, and an increase in deaths due to pulmonary tuberculosis.

The statistical statement issued by the Health Commissioner reads as follows:

Boston Health Department, Division of Vital Statistics.

Statistical estimates for the calendar year 1940, with final figures for five preceding calendar years.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hill looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

(a) On account of the removal of the adjacent building to the lot line, change the common red brick to white brick, similar to that used on rest of building, $2,411.64.

(b) Due to the removal of adjacent building, furnish and install four windows, having metal trim and wire glass, in the lot line wall, $464.89.

Lynch, the next to the highest bidder, at $217.77 per month, Mr. Lynch being the only one of the three bidders who complied with the requirements set forth in the advertisement.

The following bids were received October 22:

Frank J. Jacobs Company, 44 cents per cubic yard; Baker & Co., 49 cents per cubic yard; Walter Reed Corporation, 49 cents per cubic yard; D. & H. —

Upon December 27 the Mayor approved a contract with Martin J. Kelly for removing snow and ice in snow area No. 1, the second bidder, at the rate of 45 cents per cubic yard.

In this district the award is recommended to the second bidder because the lowest bidder, Baker & Co., has been awarded another area.

The following bids were received October 22:

Baker & Co., 42 cents per cubic yard; Martin J. Kelly, 45 cents per cubic yard; Walter Reed Corporation, 46 cents per cubic yard; J. J. Callahan, 47 cents per cubic yard; Edward M. The following bids were received December 20, 1940:

Clarence H. Newlin, $23.10 per horse per year; Vincenzo Farese, $20.25 per horse per year.

Upon December 27 the Mayor approved a contract with Marinucci Brothers & Co. for collecting and removing garbage and refuse in the Dudley district, the second bidder, at the rate of $2,249 per month.

This district has been recommended to the second bidder, Marinucci Brothers, who in the past have had work of this type and always performed it most satisfactorily, and in addition the low bidder at the present time has a contract in the Brighton district and has been awarded in addition a contract for the new Back Bay district.

The work to be done under this contract is to be completed December 31, 1941.

The following bids were received December 23, 1940:

Anthony J. Ryan, Inc., $2,085 per month; Marinucci Brothers & Co., $2,249 per month; Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., $2,540 per month; Central Disposal Company, $3,130 per month; Capitol Contracting Company, $3,195 per month; Coleman Brothers Corporation, $3,748 per month; Hub Disposal Company, $4,480 per month; Martin J. Kelly, $5,475 per month.

Upon December 27 the Mayor approved a contract with Anthony J. Ryan, Inc., for collecting and removing garbage and refuse in the Back Bay district, at the rate of $2,540.

The Central Disposal Company, the lowest bidder in this district, has had work of this nature in the past and was very unsatisfactory in its performance. The price of the second bidder is only $45 per month lower than Ryan, Inc., to whom this award is recommended, and as the said Ryan at the present time has a contract in the Brighton district, and for years has done work of this type in a most satisfactory manner, we feel that the best interests of the city will be served by awarding this contract to the Anthony J. Ryan, Inc. (This Back Bay district is adjacent to the Brighton district.)

The work to be done under this contract is to be completed December 31, 1941.

The following bids were received December 23, 1940:

Central Disposal Company, $2,040 per month; Capitol Contracting Company, $2,495 per month; Anthony J. Ryan, Inc., $2,540 per month; Albert P. Dooley, $2,750 per month; Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., $2,840 per month; Ward General Contracting Company, $3,120 per month; Marinucci Brothers & Co., $3,300 per month; Coleman Brothers Corporation, $3,580 per month; Martin J. Kelly, $6,945 per month.

Upon December 23 the Mayor approved a contract with P. J. Riley Company for completion of alterations to toilets and baths in Wards A, B, C, D, and Ward No. 6 at Long Island Hospital. Bids, opened December 13, were as follows:

P. J. Riley Company, $5,781; P. J. Cantwell & Son, $5,913; H. R. Gironi, $6,565; Federal Contracting Company, $6,593; Carilli Construction Company, $7,492.

Upon December 27 the Mayor approved a contract with Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., for removing snow and ice in area No. 9, the second bidder, at the price of 42 cents per cubic yard.

The award of this contract is made to Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., as the lower bidder has been awarded another district.

The following bids were received October 22:

J. J. Callahan, 40 cents per cubic yard; Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., 42 cents per cubic yard; William J. Barry Company, 45 cents per cubic yard; Baker & Co., 47 cents per cubic yard; E. M. Carriere, 47 cents per cubic yard; Walter Reed Corporation, 48 cents per cubic yard; Ward General Contracting Company, 50 cents per cubic yard; Albert P. Dooley, 55 cents per cubic yard; Martin J. Kelly, 55 cents per cubic yard; D. & H. Contracting Company, 58 cents per cubic yard; Coleman Brothers Corporation, 60 cents per cubic yard; John Deveney & Co., Inc., 60 cents per cubic yard; M. McGinnis Company, 60 cents per cubic yard; Edward M. Matz, Inc., 75 cents per cubic yard; Appel & O'Toole Company, 75 cents per cubic yard.

Upon December 27 the Mayor approved a contract with Baker & Co. for removing snow and ice in snow area No. 8, the second bidder, at the rate of 59 cents per cubic yard.

The low bidder, McCabe, has been awarded another area, but in addition to this, it is reasoned the price submitted by him is too low to do the work properly in this very important area which takes in the streets serving the retail stores district and is a snow area where the work must be done in the most efficient and speedy manner.

The following bids were received October 22:

Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., 48 cents per cubic yard; Baker & Co., 59 cents per cubic yard; Albert P. Dooley, 60 cents per cubic yard; Coleman Brothers Corporation, 65 cents per cubic yard; Hugh Nawn, Inc., 65 cents per cubic yard; M. McGinnis Company, 70 cents per cubic yard; Walter Reed Corporation, 80 cents per cubic yard; J. J. Callahan, 90 cents per cubic yard; D. & H. Contracting Company, $1 per cubic yard; Martin J. Kelley, $1 per cubic yard; Edward M. Matz, Inc., $1 per cubic yard; John Deveney & Co., Inc., $1.25 per cubic yard; Ward General Contracting Company, $2 per cubic yard.

Upon December 27 the Mayor approved a contract with Edward M. Matz, Inc., for removing snow and ice in snow area No. 7, at the rate of 48 cents per cubic yard.

All the bidders in this area, with one exception, who submitted lower figures than the Matz Corporation have been awarded other snow areas. We feel justified in recommending this award to the Matz concern as they have had this area in the past, are familiar with the conditions therein, and have previously performed this work in a most satisfactory manner.

The following bids were received October 22:

Frank J. Jacobs Company, 42 cents per cubic yard; Baker & Co., 43 cents per cubic yard; Walter Reed Corporation, 43 cents per cubic yard; John Deveney & Co., Inc., 45 cents per cubic yard; J. J. Callahan, 47 cents per cubic yard; M. McGinnis Company, 47 cents per cubic yard; Edward M. Matz, Inc., 48 cents per cubic yard; Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., 48 cents per cubic yard; Ward General Contracting Company, 48 cents per cubic yard; D. & H. Contracting Company, 49 cents per cubic yard; Martin J. Kelley, 50 cents per cubic yard; E. M. Carriere, 60 cents per cubic yard; Albert P. Dooley, 60 cents per cubic yard; Hugh Nawn, Inc., 60 cents per cubic yard; Coleman Brothers Corporation, 70 cents per cubic yard.

Upon December 27 the Mayor approved a contract with the Ward General

Contracting Company for removing snow and ice in area No. 6, the third bidder, at the price of 45 cents per cubic yard.

The award of this contract is made to the Ward General Contracting Company as the lower bidders in this area have all been awarded other areas.

The following bids were received October 22:

Baker & Co., 43 cents per cubic yard; J. J. Callahan, 44 cents per cubic yard; D. & H. Contracting Company, 45 cents per cubic yard; Walter Reed Corporation, 45 cents per cubic yard; Ward General Contracting Company, 45 cents per cubic yard; John Deveney & Co., Inc., 47 cents per cubic yard; M. McGinnis Company, 47 cents per cubic yard; Edward M. Matz, Inc., 48 cents per cubic yard; Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., 48 cents per cubic yard; Martin J. Kelly, 50 cents per cubic yard; Hugh Nawn, Inc., 52 cents per cubic yard; E. M. Carriere, 60 cents per cubic yard; Coleman Brothers Corporation, 60 cents per cubic yard; Albert P. Dooley, 60 cents per cubic yard.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with firms and contractors as indicated for furnishing supplies, labor, etc. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 13, 1940.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your approval is respectfully requested for the award of a contract without advertising to the Otis Elevator Company for furnishing Otis Elevator Service to elevators in the Boston City Hospital for the year beginning January 1, 1941, and ending December 31, 1941, in the sum of $955 per month or $11,460 for the entire year. This amount includes $180 for the annual test called for by the City of Boston Building Department.

The trustees feel that nothing can be gained by advertising, as twenty-three of the thirty elevators were manufactured and installed by the Otis Elevator Company. Moreover, the service rendered by them for almost five years has been satisfactory in every respect.

It is therefore strongly recommended that you approve the award of this contract without advertising.

Respectfully yours,

CARL DREYFUS,
President, Board of Trustees.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 9, 1940.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Your approval is respectfully requested for the awarding of a contract without bidding to the T. R. Noonan Company of Boston for furnishing and installing Corkoustic, Armstrong's Type B-5, with the purpose of sound-proofing the Bureau of Operations, for the sum of $1,244. The material used is of fire resistance substance.

The room formerly occupied by the bureau was sound-proofed, but with the completion of the two-way radio and the expansion of the Police Communications System it became necessary some time ago to move the bureau to larger quarters.

This proposed work is necessary for the efficiency of the bureau.

T. R. Noonan Company are specialists in the work, and I understand their material and their workmanship are best suited for the work.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising therefor to the Henney New England Company for furnishing one Model 24194 Henney Packard Ambulance to the Public Buildings Department at a delivered price of $3,450.

COURT HOUSE COMMISSION.

BOSTON, December 23, 1940.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston,

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Because of the satisfactory service rendered over a period of years by the Federal National Linen Service Company of Boston in supplying towel service to the Suffolk County Court House, the Court House Commission believes that it would be in the best interest of the County of Suffolk and the City of Boston to continue this service with the Federal National Linen Service Company for the coming fiscal year 1941, and requests your authority for awarding a contract, without advertising, to the Federal National Linen Service Company for the calendar year 1941 on the basis of supplying one thousand (1,000) towels weekly at a monthly charge of $93.60.

The deliveries and collections of towels at the Court House are made twice a week and are without bickering with employees as to replacements. The company owns the towels, bears the losses and replacements and guarantees the suitableness of the towels furnished, and undertakes to save the owner from any claims arising through the performance of the service.

Cordially yours,

COMMISSION FOR THE CARE, CUSTODY AND CONTROL OF THE SUFFOLK COUNTY COURT HOUSE, CHARLES M. DAVENPORT,
Chairman.

My dear Miss Cronin:

The Board of Commissioners of School Buildings are in receipt of the following proposed order:

"ORDERED, That the sum of $3,492.23 resulting from the sale of city property, schools, special fund, be and hereby is appropriated for the construction of an Addition to the William Howard Taft Intermediate School, Brighton, William Howard Taft Intermediate District, P. W. A. docket 1095F, for which an appropriation of $446,000 was made by the School Committee on August 12, 1938, out of the sum appropriated by the City Council by order passed May 3, 1937, and May 24, 1937, and approved by the Mayor on June 1, 1937."

I would respectfully call to the attention of the School Committee, that while the sum of $446,000.00 was appropriated for the construction of an addition to the William Howard Taft Intermediate School, Brighton, this amount was not spent. The total cost of this project was $279,038.78, which included plans, construction and furnishings complete.

At a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings held this date, it was voted as provided in Chapter 351 of the Acts of 1929, to report favorably on the above order.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) William L. Baxter

BUDGET OUTLOOK

Mr. Lee: I would like to bring up again the matter of the budget. It has been almost a month, since November 4, when we first discussed the budget. The Committee will remember that we were to make an effort this year to get at the budget earlier than in any other year. As I originally brought the matter up, you may ask why I have not pressed the matter further. There have been two reasons for that.

I have been concerned with an outline of policy before getting down to the figures, for one thing, and secondly two of the major considerations of policy have involved studies by the Board of Superintendents which are not yet ready, and one of these studies cannot very well be done in a hurry. This involved the question of whether we are going to borrow money by a bond issue for the purpose of expanding Mechanic Arts High, or a new Mechanic Arts High, or for the purpose of expanding the present Trade School or for a new Trade School.

What our school system already supplies by way of training for such jobs as we foresee, brings up a pretty difficult question, which has many factors, involving the whole employment future of Boston. But that cannot be helped. If it holds back the budget, perhaps it is well to have the budget wait until such questions are taken care of.

Another item which is under study by the Board of Superintendents is the question of what new salaries should be paid to people coming into the service new, for the first time. I wish at this time to suggest to the Board that I think a very short study is quite as good as a long study in a matter like that. Too long a study or too perfect a study, defeats its own end. In any relation between buyers and sellers, or between employers and employees, you want both parties to come to an agreement based on their mutual desires and needs at the time. You certainly would not gain any benefit by a long study of what apples are to sell for, or a long study of what movie stars should be paid.

The science of fixing salaries is one of working out some kind of an agreement that both parties accept, where the buyer attracts the kind of talent he wants and the people who are in the field for those positions decide whether or not to work for that price.

I wish the Board would not go into a long study involving factors that I think are not relevant and that will stand in the way of their coming to a quick decision.

I would be glad to decide on the salaries that should be fixed for those coming into our schools to teach, and I think I could do it in about ten minutes, because I have a pretty good idea of what shortage of teachers there is in the high schools and elementary field, and what the available supply looks like. I see these young men and women who are on our lists who are applying for jobs. We have an existing salary schedule now and to my mind it is not very hard to say what we will have to pay in order to get the kind of teachers we want. For instance, if we want to have the intermediate men teachers of as high a caliber as the high school men teachers, we will have to pay them a higher salary,—if we are to attract young men of the caliber we want into the intermediate schools and into that phase of the teaching profession. That seems clear-cut to me and I cannot help but think it is clear-cut to the other members of the Board.

If we are going to continue to attract good women teachers into the elementary schools, we will have to pay higher salaries. We cannot let a teacher go on through the eighth and ninth years at a wage which was only contemplated for the two or three year probationary period before she moved into permanent appointment under the salary schedule established by previous school boards.

While I am satisfied that we better leave our minimum high school men's salaries as they are, to continue to attract young men out of college, I think we could attract as many of these men as we need in the future—and there are many of first class caliber waiting to go to work—if the maximum were not as high as it is now.

It seems to me it is a question of getting both sides, the taxpayer, who is the employer, and the teacher to see what the factors are between them, without a prolonged study of other factors which do not seem to me so important

I know this perhaps involves a question of one's economic ideas about how salaries are fixed, and, as I think you know, I have never taken very seriously, to be frank with you, your statement, Mr. Chairman, or the Superintendent's statement that labor is not a commodity, because I have never seen anybody make a slot in the skin of an apple and put a nickel in it and I have never seen anybody make a slot in the skin of a potato and put a nickel in the potato. I know that when human beings buy apples or potatoes they put the money into the hand of the man who gives them the apples or potatoes, and he in turn puts it into the hand of the man who raised the apples or potatoes.

If there is a law of supply and demand it always applies to human beings. There is no more reason for denying that it is a good system as between school department and teacher, than there is for denying that it is a good system between farmer and consumer, or between consumer and any other human being who labors for his living.

When you say it is old-fashioned to believe that labor is a commodity, you do not take your own statement or the statement of the Superintendent seriously. In 99 cases out of a hundred the school system already pays people according to what we have to pay to attract the kind of workers we want and according to whether they agree to take that salary.

The reason we pay elementary substitutes $5 a day in their sixth and seventh years of teaching is because we can retain all the teachers we need at that salary. We can hold the present intermediate men teachers at what we give them. We pay the matrons in our schools and the lunch room attendants at salaries which are around $3 or $4 a day. If these groups of teachers or employees found they could get better pay somewhere else or in another line of work, I am sure we would be after them with a higher offer to induce them to stay. So that this law of supply and demand works like gravity, and we apply it in all parts of the school system except among this particular group of high school men teachers that I have referred to before.

I could point out further that we follow out that American principle in our instruction to children. I called up a member of our Advisory Board on defense industries to see how things were getting on. In talking things over with him he brought up the word "merchandising." He said, "We are trying to advise the selection of students for these 'refresher courses' and we are trying to give them a type of course by which they can 'merchandise' their services."

Our whole vocational program is to give the youngster more preparation in the lines where there is a demand. We like to stress the occupations which are in highest demand, where the wage is higher, where we can equip the student to meet that demand.

Since the world started to have human beings supply each other's wants, it has been common sense to have the supply follow the demand. Throughout our instruction we respect this idea of mutual agreement between buyer and seller, taking into consideration what people want and what the labor market has got. We do it in most ranks of our teaching profession, with only one or two exceptions.

I would ask, Mr. Chairman, that the Board of Superintendents bear in mind what we actually do in practise, both in teaching our youngsters and in treating with most groups of our employees, and question the wisdom of paying more than we have to in order to attract and hold the high school men.

It is my belief that the taxpayer, who is the fellow on one end of the bargain, would rather spend that money in keeping some gymnasiums open at night, in extending our vocational guidance work, in paying the intermediate men teachers enough so that we can replenish their ranks when they retire and likewise in paying enough to attract new applicants to enter the elementary teaching field.

In considering what the buyer thinks about it and what the person who works thinks about it, we can at the same time accomplish the following:

1. More vocational guidance;
2. Gyms open at night;
3. Upward revisions of some salaries to insure a replenishment of their ranks; and
4. A reducton of some of these top salaries where I am sure we can both hold those whom we have and attract new talent at a reduced amount.

In conclusion let me point out that when I have talked about a reduction in the high school men's maximum, I have talked about reducing it to $3,600 which is the very amount they agreed to work for. Under the present conditions I am not suggesting a revision of salary—whether or not it suits the market—which would be a departure from the very maximum salary which they expected to have or which was the possibility ahead of them when they first entered the service.

My concluding thought is that I hope the Board of Superintendents will regard only what seem to me to be the proper factors in the case,—the demand on the part of the taxpayers for those who serve in our schools, and the availability, today and tomorrow, of applicants and potential applicants for teaching in our schools. If they think of those two primary things, they will see whether it does not become quite apparent that some groups ought to have an upward revision, that one group ought to stand a downward revision, and that all this could be done within the compass of offering to the group which would be revised downward, a salary just as high as was set before them when they joined the service.

Having turned the matter over to the Board of Superintendents, I do not suppose the Committee can order the Board of Superintendents as to how to exercise its judgment, but I do wish the Board would at least give consideration to the same elemental factors in the case of particular salaries for high schools which they consider when they buy things in the market, and which they consider when they teach our youngsters to go out and merchandise their services in the world of American opportunity, in a so-called market of free individuals, and consider that in reality they themselves pretty well follow the question of how strong is the demand and what is the supply, in utilizing the services of almost all ranks of teachers in our schools.

Superintendent: Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: Mr. Gould.

Superintendent: I just want to make a brief statement.

I think Mr. Lee does not have to take the word of the Superintendent or the word of the Chairman of the School Committee with reference to the question of whether labor is a commodity or not. He will find a great many economists who say that labor is not a commodity and he will find some schools of thought that say labor is a commodity. It is not restricted to the Chairman, or to the Superintendent.

With reference to the question of the market demand for teachers, of course that does not signify anything at all unless you specify the time element, because the very idea of a salary schedule and buying where you can get your labor cheapest, are not consistent. A salary schedule fixes salaries for a given period of time. The condition of the market varies from month to month and from year to year, so that the idea of a fixed salary schedule and buying as cheaply as you can for the quality of material you want are not ideas that you can put forth except at a given time. I think the ideas are mutually repugnant.

Mr. Lee: What I would like to point out there is this, Mr. Chairman, that if labor has any one right it is the right to be regarded as something that has some value in the market. When the day comes that labor is no longer a commodity which buyers want to make use of, it will be a pretty hard day for anybody working for a living. The one right that labor does have is to be a commodity in the market.

I will point out that labor is something which should be very carefully evaluated, appreciated, weighed and esteemed. Of course, everything you bargain for or negotiate for is different from every other thing. When you are talking about teachers who happen to require a long preparation for their work, as distinct from unskilled labor whose preparation is very short, you have to fix a salary for teachers which is designed to encourage teachers over a period of time. I used that thought in my remarks. I think I am arguing, in a sense, on the Superintendent's side.

Right now you can get your intermediate and elementary teachers at their present salary. It is proved that you can get them at their present salary. I go along with the Superintendent in saying that in dealing with teachers whose training is a prolonged thing toward which they direct their efforts at an early age, you must set enough of a goal to attract the type of teacher you want for the branch of the service that you want her in.

My proposition is not that you disregard the future or that you disregard the time element. My proposition is that you regard the future and the time element and that you must try to anticipate as well as you can.

I say that the thing that you try to anticipate is the demand of the city for teaching services and the availability of teachers, and you then arrive at a wage calculated to bring those two together and set enough years ahead so that the new aspirant coming up through college may know whether or not he or she wants to try for teaching service.

We throw a monkey wrench into this law of supply and demand, just as the mill owners threw a monkey wrench into conditions in Lawrence and other mill centers when they imported labor from Europe and got such a supply that it brought down the wages of the local workmen. Although the Board of Superintendents at the time reported against it, the school system brought about an over-supply of teachers by allowing unduly large classes in Teachers College and thus created a situation which only complicates the matter.

I do believe you have to think of the future.

Superintendent. I am thinking of the future.

Mr. Lee: You have to think of the future and pay a wage which considers not only this year but the years to come.

In doing that you should consider the elemental primary equation:

Who is demanding this service?

Who can give it?

What inducement must be placed before applicants to induce them to come into this service?

That is a system that you really apply in almost every rank of your teaching force. If it is applied throughout the teaching force it will mean a slight downward revision in some categories and an upward revision in other categories.

Superintendent: I think you will find no less an authority than Samuel Gompers, who says definitely that labor is not a commodity, that you cannot separate the labor from the laboring man. There is something definite and encouraging in beginning at a small salary and going to a high salary.

Mr. Lee. When you buy a cotton undershirt at what other buyers and other sellers find is an agreeable price, you do not regard the fact that that cotton undershirt began its life story on a sharecropper's plantation where children seven years old were working all day long at ten cents.

When we start to think of labor and commodities as being one and the same thing, we will then start to look back of the commodity into the labor behind it.

In the school system, because it is only service and not an article that is being exchanged, we do look at the human equation. We should also look at the article and see the human equation back of that. If your Southern school were as much on the job as we are in preparing youngsters to qualify for the jobs where there is a strong demand, they would train those youngsters to qualify themselves for some calling which produced a much better return than living on a sharecropper's plantation, even if they had to prepare them for some calling away from their home town.

Whether I am in disagreement with heads of labor organizations or not, I think the humanitarian end is achieved by looking upon the identity of the commodity and the labor behind it, and always recognizing the rights of the customer to make his demand and to offer his price and, where the demand for labor is small or the supply is too great, retraining those young enough, or those who can be retrained, to qualify for a line where there is a higher demand.

I always want to stick to the principle of putting the consumer in the saddle, letting his demand count and letting agreements go forward between him and those who are trying to meet his orders. I hope that system will prevail in reference to a salary schedule, as I think it does prevail in most parts now.

Chairman: Is there any further discussion?

Mr. Lee: Unless you have further questions on the budget part of it we must wait, I think, until we get some report on new vocational schools that will have to be long and painstaking,—and the Board of Superintendents is understaffed. I do not know whether the School Committee wants to express any view on that matter.

The Committee adjourned.

Secretary.

LIBRARIES AND SCHOOLS SAVE MONEY.

Libraries and schools in the United States, it is estimated by the United States Office of Education, will save at least $1,600,000 a year on transportation charges for book purchases because of the low postal rate which will be continued until July 1, 1941. It is stated that the 1½ cent per pound rate on books, regardless of zones, is having important effects on limited and inadequate book budgets.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 33. SATURDAY, JANUARY 11, 1941. NO. 2

BOSTON'S FINANCIAL CONDITION ON A MOST SOUND BASIS, MAYOR TOBIN TELLS 1941 CITY COUNCIL AND PUBLIC DURING FIRST MEETING OF NEW YEAR, AT WHICH HE READ HIS ANNUAL MESSAGE — FISCAL OUTLOOK GOOD DESPITE BURDENS AND DEMANDS TO BE MET IN COMING MONTHS — AMONG PROBLEMS MOST URGENTLY NEEDING SOLUTION ARE THOSE OF TRAFFIC CONGESTION, SUMNER TUNNEL DEFICIT, CONTINUING DECENTRALIZATION OF POPULATION, FALLING REAL ESTATE VALUES, AND RELIEF BURDENS — CALLS FOR HIGHWAY AND PARKING IMPROVEMENTS AND REHABILITATIONS.

The following is the annual address of Mayor Maurice J. Tobin to the Honorable the City Council, January 6, 1941:

In the conduct and operation of this city government, there is an abundance of activities which merit more than just passing comment, and others which, owing to the exigencies of the times, require more or less free discussion. To give space and time to all matters of civic interest would entail the creation of a much too voluminous document. There is, however, one subject-matter of intense interest to which it is necessary to give particular attention, and that is the financial status of our city government. If, therefore, it would appear that I pass too quickly or too lightly over some features of municipal government, it is solely because a comprehensive discussion of our financial situation is of primary importance, transcending all else. Our financial condition is the axis upon which the wheels of municipal government turn, and unless we can report that this essential part of the machinery of city government is performing smoothly and progressively, all other references to accomplishments, so called, would be empty in meaning and rather presumptuous in fact.

It is with some satisfaction, therefore, that I present the following account of the financial status of our city government.

Finances of City.

In the year just closed, as in the two previous years, we have continued to make substantial progress towards the goal of rehabilitating the city's finances. We are growing in financial strength and security. We have not yet reached the point where our financial structure is free of all defects and all weaknesses, but we are constantly making solid progress toward that enviable condition.

It is my belief that the policy we adopted at the beginning of this administration, to avoid all but most necessary expenditures, should be continued. The adoption of that policy has begun to bear fruit. Our financial picture shows definite improvement. Our credit is infinitely better. Our financial foundations have been cemented and strengthened. Our rating and reputation for sound municipal government has been enhanced. Our future as a municipality is far brighter and far more secure than it was in former years. We cannot, it is true, point to accomplishments in the form of ornate monuments of stone and marble, but we can, in all sincerity, point to the best accomplishment within our power to achieve — a sound and a solvent city government.

Maintenance Expenses and Debt.

In three years we have reduced our maintenance expenses for the operation of the city government over two million dollars, and were it not for factors over which we have little, if any, control, that reduction would have resulted in a one dollar and a half reduction in the tax rate.

During the past year, the total outstanding indebtedness of the city has been reduced five million three hundred thousand dollars ($5,300,000) and this reduction over a two-year period is more than nine millions of dollars. This reduction has been made, if you will, at the risk of some transitory political popularity but, on the other hand, it has served to release the pressure on one of the vital arteries of the city government, and has contributed in no small measure to our better financial standing.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hill looking down on the shipteeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR MAURICE J. TOBIN.

Collections.

In the year just passed, over seventy-nine per cent of the taxes assessed in 1940 were collected. This represents an improvement of about two per cent over the collection record of 1939, and is the best percentage of collections to be established in any year since 1931. It is interesting, as a comparison, to note that in the six years preceding this administration, the average percentage of current tax collections was seventy-two per cent. Of the collections made prior to interest date, the best record over a period of twenty-one years has been attained. This splendid record of collections needs no further comment other than to state that the prompt and efficient collection of taxes is one of the prime requisites to a stable financial condition.

Surplus.

Although the accounts of the city for the year 1940 are still open, I am advised that when closed the financial records will reveal that total operating cash receipts for the year have exceeded expenditures for all operating purposes. In other words, it can be stated definitely that the city will close it books for 1940 with a surplus, thus making possible a further reduction in the accumulated cash deficit of the city. While it is impossible at this time to state definitely the amount of the surplus, I am informed that if the city had received from the Commonwealth the full amount of reimbursement for Welfare disbursements to which it was entitled, the surplus for 1940 would approximate two million dollars. Under existing procedure it is impossible for our Department of Public Welfare to obtain from the Commonwealth the full amount of outstanding obligations as represented by departmental billings. Reimbursement by the Commonwealth is made, on the average, eighteen to twenty months after commencement of relief payments by the city. It is unfortunate that such a delay should exist, since it means that the city must engage in extensive temporary borrowings in order to provide for the relief of needy persons in whose support the State is required to share.

Water Income Savings.

The Water Division of the Public Works Department, for the third consecutive year, has produced a surplus of income over expenses. In the seven years preceding this administration, the expenditures of this Division exceeded receipts from water rates. This unsatisfactory condition was corrected in the years 1938 and 1939, and I am advised that for the year 1940 this Division will close its books with a surplus of four hundred thousand dollars. This surplus will be utilized, as it was during the past two years, for the reduction of the amount to be provided in the 1941 tax levy for debt requirements.

Sumner Tunnel.

Since the date of the opening of the Sumner Traffic Tunnel, this under-water highway has not produced sufficient income to meet the debt and operating charges of the Tunnel and its accompanying approaches and street widenings. The financial year just passed discloses a deficit of approximately three hundred and eight thousand dollars ($308,000). In the three years this administration has been in office, the annual deficit has been reduced almost one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000). In addition fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) has been received by the city from the State Highway Fund. I am exceedingly hopeful that we shall have further success in the reduction of this deficit. In addition to our efforts to lower the deficit of the Sumner Tunnel, it is our intention to again seek legislation during the present year providing for a continuance of payments from the State Highway Fund. In view of the fact that the Sumner Tunnel is acknowledged to be a vital link in the highway system of the State, and in view of the fact that seventy per cent of the users of the Tunnel reside outside the limits of the city of Boston, I believe it to be eminently equitable and just that a generous allocation of monies from the State Highway Fund be provided for the upkeep of the Tunnel. With the allocation from the State, I am happy to report that in three years we have reduced the deficit of the Sumner Tunnel approximately forty per cent, thus lessening, to a marked degree, the Tunnel deficit burden which is assessed on all the taxpayers of our city.

Metropolitan District.

The present administration has consistently opposed the authorization of additional expenditures by the Metropolitan District Commission, not because these expenditures might be termed unnecessary, but solely on the ground that until there is a more equitable distribution of the costs of the Metropolitan District no further capital outlays should be made for Metropolitan improvements. Impartial surveys are in agreement that the city of Boston and its taxpayers bear a disproportionate share of the costs of the Metropolitan District, and that an adjustment of these costs should be made. The present distribution arrangement of Metropolitan costs has been in existence for many years. It is extremely difficult to effect changes in that arrangement, especially when any worthwhile change would involve a shifting of our excess burden to other communities, or to the State itself. However, in the present year, legislation obtained by the city will be effective which will transfer to the State Highway Fund possibly five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) of Metropolitan charges. This reduction in the costs of the Metropolitan District will be reflected in lowered assessments on our city. I am hopeful that this legislation is the first of a series of steps which will eventually relieve our city of considerable of the present burden it carries for Metropolitan District expenses.

Relief and W. P. A. Costs.

In the three-year period 1938 to 1940, borrowings to the extent of fifteen million dollars were made for relief and W. P. A. purposes. In the three-year period prior to 1938, corresponding loans were issued to the extent of twenty-one million dollars. The policy of issuing loans of this character for current running expenses has continued since 1933. It is, admittedly, not the most acceptable financial policy to pursue, but yet, to entirely discontinue this practice would result in a forbidding rise in the tax rate. There is much to be said, also, against assessing the full cost of abnormal relief and W. P. A. charges on the annual tax bill, and there is considerable more to be said on the question of special revenues for relief purposes only. Unless definite recognition is given to the growing belief that relief and the costs thereof is not entirely a local question, or a burden to be borne locally, and unless some provision is made to more equitably distribute these extraordinary requirements, I am compelled to the belief that relief loans are preferable to a prohibitory tax rise, keeping in mind, however, that the use of this expedient, in the absence of other aid, be gradually dispensed with. Later in this discussion, I shall refer more specifically to the relief situation as it now exists. At this point, merely let me add that the relief burden continues to be the one financial obstacle to a strictly pay-as-you-go policy, and this obstacle, combined with the revenue losses because of the tremendous recession in real property values in our city, will continue to plague responsible municipal officials until such time as our general tax structure is remodelled and reinforced.

A recent tabulation indicates that the number of cases on general relief, which includes dependent aid, aid to dependent children, and old age assistance is thirty-one thousand three hundred and forty-seven (31,347). This total is about one thousand one hundred and fifty (1,150) cases less than at this time last year, but still remains about three thousand (3,000) more than the total in 1938.

During the year, the peak load of relief cases was reached late in July. Since that time, there has been a perceptible and welcome shrinkage in the numbers receiving relief. Assignments to W. P. A. and increased employment because of the defense program are the main factors responsible for this shrinkage.

Appropriations of more than nine million dollars ($9,000,000) out of taxes, and loans of two million six hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($2,650,000) were made available to carry the relief burden in the Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments during the year. In addition to this sum, three million four hundred and twenty thousand dollars ($3,420,000) received as Federal grants for aid to dependent children and old age assistance was received and expended, making a grand total of expenditures for general relief in the Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments of more than fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000) for the year 1940. When it is realized that this expenditure is greater than the expenditures of the Police, Fire, Hospital and Library Departments combined, we can begin to visualize what a serious financial load the relief expenditures are on the city government.

It is the duty of this city, and every city or town, to care for its citizens who are the victims of one form of misfortune or another. Our city recognizes that duty to a liberal degree. We do not permit, and shall not permit, any worthy person in this city to be cold, or hungry, or without proper means of shelter. To do otherwise would be to defy the laws of this Commonwealth, but even more than that, defy the command of the Almighty that we care for our brother man who is heavily burdened.

Relief and W. P. A.

In previous paragraphs I have made mention of the necessity, as I view it, that this problem of relief be considered in its true light as one not local in character, and from all indications, not of temporary duration. I will not again go into that question, but I merely wish to reiterate what was said by me this time last year to this effect, first, that relief is a permanent problem; second, it must be recognized that local governments cannot continue to carry its full burden; third, where the depression has hit the hardest, relief costs are the highest; and fourth, that this is a common burden to be shared by all in equal measure, even though that sharing means the erasure of community boundaries.

Before leaving this subject, may I say that I am hopeful that the decline in relief cases may continue. If it does, and even though that decline be a temporary one because of defense activity, nevertheless, it will produce a salutary effect on the finances of our city.

Closely related to the subject of relief are the activities under the Works Projects Administration, commonly referred to as the W. P. A. During the year just closed, the city government provided over two million two hundred thousand dollars ($2,200,000) by loan appropriations for the purchase of supplies, material and equipment in order that an average of twenty thousand (20,000) W. P. A. employees be gainfully employed on projects sponsored by the city of Boston.

The outstanding accomplishment of permanence and size is, of course, the extension of the Huntington Avenue Subway. This extension will be completed and in operation about February first of this year. During the year, an average of eighteen hundred W. P. A. employees found work on this project on a three-shift basis.

In almost every city department, there is an assignment of W. P. A. employees engaged on projects which are, in the main, of permanent value to the city. Under a later heading I shall refer to some of these projects and some of the results obtained. It is unquestionable that much work performed under W. P. A. auspices would have been delayed, or perhaps never attempted because of financial stringency. Whatever the city government has expended on projects of this kind has been money spent for a triple purpose; first, it has relieved welfare requirements; second, it has provided gainful employment to able-bodied, self-respecting men and women; and third, it has enabled our city to initiate projects of utility and value which otherwise might be left undone. I shall continue to closely cooperate with the Federal government in order that our city and its citizens may profit to the fullest extent from this worthwhile agency of the national government.

Real Property Taxes.

In the year 1930 the assessed valuation of real estate in the City of Boston was one billion eight hundred twenty-seven million four hundred sixty thousand six hundred dollars ($1,827,460,600). In the year 1940, the assessed valuation of real estate was one billion three hundred sixty-two million one hundred thirty-one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,362,131,500), a reduction in eleven years of four hundred sixty-five million three hundred twenty-nine thousand one hundred dollars ($465,329,100). In the same eleven years the appropriations for public welfare purposes increased from approximately three million dollars ($3,000,000) to fourteen million five hundred thousand dollars ($14,500,000). Both of these changes are chargeable in great part to the depression.

The reduction in real estate valuations alone, applied to the 1930 scale of expenditures, would require an increase of ten dollars over the tax rate of 1930, and the increase in public welfare expenditures would add perhaps eight dollars more, bringing the tax rate which was thirty dollars and eighty cents ($30.80) in 1930 to near fifty dollars ($50) per thousand. However, with various forms of state assistance, by an increase in the ordinary revenue of the city, by meeting a portion of the public welfare expenses by loans, and by a reduction of some five million dollars ($5,000,000) in the appropriations for the ordinary maintenance of the city and school departments outside of public welfare, the tax rate has been kept down to the 1940 figure of forty dollars and sixty cents.

It should be noted here that the assessed value of all real estate in Boston in 1940 is more than thirty million dollars less than it was twenty years ago, in 1920.

No one can deny that an annual tax of four per cent on real estate is unduly burdensome, but let us recount the steps by which this burden has been imposed. In 1916, intangible personal property was removed from local taxation. The City of Boston immediately lost the local taxes on one hundred sixty million dollars' ($160,000,000) worth of property. In 1919, tangible personal property of corporations, other than machinery, was removed from local taxation. In 1924, bank stock was removed from local taxation. In 1936, corporation machinery was removed from local taxation, and the basis of distribution of corporation taxes were changed.

The net result of these changes was that Boston received in 1940 but three million five hundred fifty-nine thousand eight hundred forty-one dollars and twenty-four cents ($3,559,841.24) as its share of the income tax, and but seven hundred eighty-nine thousand three hundred seventy-four dollars and fifty-seven cents ($789,374.57) as its share of the corporation tax, whereas if these changes had not been made, the valuation of personal property, tangible and intangible, which reasonably could have been taxed in this city is conservatively estimated at three hundred millions of dollars ($300,000,000). In place of the proceeds from the taxation of this property, which at a rate of thirty-five dollars a thousand would amount to ten million five hundred thousand dollars ($10,500,000), the city received in 1940 as its share of the income and corporation taxes four million three hundred and forty-nine thousand two hundred and fifteen dollars and eighty-one cents ($4,349,215.81). The additional burden, of necessity, falls upon real estate.

Whether or not these changes in the methods of taxation were warranted or justifiable, the fact remains that the result has been to leave real estate as practically the only source from which the revenue can be obtained for the municipal activities. The contributions from time to time from the State, the resort to borrowing to meet current expenses, are but temporary palliatives and are unsound in theory and practice.

The situation must be met squarely and some solution arrived at that will be other than temporary. The broadening of the tax base is imperative, and, as I have previously remarked, the whole general tax structure remodelled and reinforced. Measures for that purpose ought to receive the support of every element in the community who, notwithstanding their special interests, should realize that a continuance of the present conditions means a continuance of uncertain municipal financing, which might well lead to financial chaos or even financial disaster.

At present and for some time past there has been a crying need for a national conference on taxation. In many fields there is an overlapping of Federal, State and local taxes. As a result of the tremendous increase in Federal appropriations for preparedness, it is natural to expect a greater aggravation of this overlapping as a result of new Federal Tax Laws. I am going to strongly urge the calling of a national tax conference of Federal, State and local officials for the purpose of allocating definite fields of taxation to each of the three branches of government.

Rehabilitation.

It is my strong conviction that the time has come in the life of our city when every cooperative effort must be lent to the problem of preserving our city and protecting it from further decay, and from further decentralization. If this problem is not immediately recognized, and if it is longer ignored, the time may not be far distant when its solution will be a discouraging impossibility. It is not the fortunes of the city of Boston alone which are concerned in the rehabilitation of our city. There is far more involved in this question than the future of the city of Boston itself. This is a problem apparently local in its being, but state-wide in its magnitude and implications.

Boston, like most large cities, has ceased to grow in population. Surrounding us on all sides are cities and towns whose population rate is increasing, and who have not only been attracting our residents, but who have also taken from us some of our industries and commercial establishments. As these surrounding communities gain in population and commercial possibilities, the central city, which is Boston, continues to struggle to retain its place as a large business and residential center. This trend away from the central city has manifold results of a serious nature to our city. There is, to name but a few, the loss of employment to our citizens; loss of sales and business to our commercial establishments; loss of taxable properties to the city government; increase in vacant properties; increase in demolitions; increase in slum areas.

The situation as I have outlined it is not peculiar to Boston. Nearly all of the large cities in the United States have been affected by these same elements of decentralization; many of them more seriously than Boston. It is part of a trend that is national in its scope and admittedly is due to economic reasons rather than governmental.

One of the primary reasons why this administration has been reluctant to obligate our city to large expenditures, is because of the realization that Boston, in and of itself, cannot raise the level of its expenditures in the face of the fundamental changes which are taking place. As matters now stand, there is some basis to the claim that our city, shrinking in population, is maintaining extensive and expensive services not justified by either the size of the city or the promises for the future. That, however, is an argumentative matter. There is no good argument, conversely, to the statement that we must give less thought to expansion of those services and some thought to their reduction.

The changes which have taken place in our city, and which can be observed by the most casual inspection, have not been sudden changes. Ten years ago they were discernible and their results were foreseen. Ten years ago they were recognized as serious in their magnitude and possibility. Today, they have become even more serious, and we can foresee that unless prompt measures are taken the contagion will spread until virtual decay and destruction of the whole city has taken place. It is my opinion that we can no longer, with any degree of safety, delay the taking of immediate steps to prevent further encroachment of the destructive germs which have been eating at the very vitals of our city. A metropolitan city of over two million population is not an immediate possibility. The antagonisms that must be appeased and the traditions that must be broken down before the attainment of that goal would take too long a time.

There is, however, an immediate avenue open to us, and that is the adoption of a program of highway improvements for our city, in conjunction with a program for off-street parking facilities. There is under consideration at this moment by a Conference Committee on Traffic, plans for highway and parking improvements in our city which are very extensive in scope. Their program will be presented to the incoming Legislature with the hope and the expectation that authority will be given, and funds provided, so that this first essential to a newer and better Boston may be commenced without delay. Unless we can, as a start, relieve the traffic congestion which exists within our city, and unless we can provide the facilities for business terminals and parking of motor vehicles, we shall make no progress in the rehabilitation of Boston.

In connection with this subject-matter, I have appointed an Advisory Committee on Community Rehabilitation to work in conjunction with the enlarged City Planning Board, for the purpose of making a study of a limited number of specific areas so that some physically and financially sound plan for their rehabilitation may be found. In addition to this, we have succeeded in obtaining the active participation of seventeen joint local planning committees throughout the city in this study. I am confident that the results will be of great value to our city.

Closely allied with the study just mentioned is the appraisal now going on of the Zoning Law as it applies to Boston. This law has been in effect for sixteen years. It needs clarification, amendment, and new provisions in order that the law may be effective in exerting a stabilizing influence on real property values throughout our city.

I have spoken at some length on this subject of rehabilitation because I believe it to be a subject of great fundamental importance. The very future of our city is at stake unless we realize its importance, unless we act immediately, and unless we get the cooperation of every agency in our city which has faith in Boston and hope for its future.

Municipal Survey Committee and Various Departmental Activities.

Survey Committee.

The Municipal Survey Committee continues to perform valuable work in diverse fields of endeavor, and continues to justify its existence as a worthwhile adjunct to city government. The results of the Committee's efforts are such, in my opinion, as to entitle it to the commendation of public officials and taxpayers alike.

Not the least important of the activities of the Survey Committee is the encouragement and assistance given to concerns which explore the Boston territory for possible sites for business locations. The time-consuming nature of the duties of Mayor preclude that official from doing much more than making the initial contact with the individuals who might establish a new business in our city. The actual work, the presentation of arguments favorable to the city, the advice and the assistance which must be given in order that smoke might arise from chimneys, jobs created, and new sources of taxation made available, must remain to be performed by some capable city official or agency. I am happy to say that our Survey Committee is performing this service in a manner which leaves little to be desired.

During the past year, in constant communication with me and with full cooperation of various city departments, the Survey Committee has coordinated the efforts of the Collecting and Law Departments in the collection of delinquent taxes; has assisted in bringing about the installation of a new switchboard at the City Hospital which will result in greatly improved service at no additional cost to the city; has continued its studies toward the mechanization of certain procedures in the Assessing Department; has assisted the Penal Institutions Department in reviving certain industries at Deer Isalnd to provide occupations for inmates at that correctional institution; has cooperated with the Street Laying-Out Department in the setting up of a system for improved control over parking spaces; has made surveys of all laundry equipment in control of various departments, with the possibility in view that all city laundry work might be done at the modern City Hospital laundry; has cooperated with the Traffic Department on traffic problems; and has worked in conjunction with the Advisory Committee of Certified Public Accountants which group, has, without charge to the city, made an illuminating survey of eighteen revenue-producing departments of the city, to the ultimate profit of the city.

The most notable activity of the Committee during the year has been its cooperation with the Supply Department in the installation of an inventory control of consumable materials for the City Hospital and Sanatorium, the Long Island Hospital, Deer Island House of Correction, and the Suffolk County Jail. Under this system there will be a much more effective control of supplies and materials in the various institutions of the city, and it will hereafter be possible, in those departments at least, for the Supply Department to exercise a practical control over the purchase and use of consumable supplies. During the present year, it is planned to include all divisions of the Public Works Department in the inventory control system. The initiation of inventory control in city government has been a long-awaited improvement. The merits of this system and the savings made possible by its adoption justify the efforts expended in its installation. It is still another step toward placing our municipal government on a sound business basis.

Fire Department.

The most forward-looking step in many years has been taken in the Fire Department by the formation of the Volunteer Civilian Auxiliary Fire Force. Modelled after the London Auxiliary Brigade, this volunteer organization is being trained not only in the field of fire fighting, but also to be prepared and available for any national defense emergencies, or any local emergencies such as blizzards, hurricanes or earthquakes. Boston was the first city in the country to organize such a force, and our activities in this respect have been widely publicized and widely copied in many of the cities of the country.

I am extremely happy to report that the National Board of Fire Underwriters has placed Boston first, among the largest thirteen cities, on the basis of Fire Department activities and fire protection resources. Our Fire Department is efficiently and expertly directed, and competently manned.

HOSPITAL AND HEALTH DEPARTMENTS.

The activities of these two departments are too numerous to mention at this time. Suffice it is for me to state that their constant care and watchfulness over the health of our citizens permits our city to enjoy an enviable reputation in the field of public health.

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

During the year a new men's dormitory was erected at the Long Island Hospital at a cost of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars. This was made necessary because of the fact that three buildings leased by the city from the United States Government were needed by the government in connection with its harbor defense program. The new building will provide quarters for almost five hundred male inmates of Long Island, and will be modern in every respect, to the extent that rooms, or cubicles, will be provided for each two male inmates housed in this new building.

Various other much-needed improvements, made under W. P. A. auspices and otherwise, have been consummated at Long Island during the year, and it is significant to note that these improvements, totalling about a quarter of a million dollars, were financed without resorting to the issuance of either long or short term debt.

PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

The main activities of this Department have been discussed under another heading. This report, however, would not be complete unless reference was made to the adoption of the Food Stamp Plan in Boston. Under the Welfare Department, this plan began operations on November 14th. I believe that the benefits which will flow from this plan more than justify the effort which was made to obtain it for our city. The plan as now operating will help in restoring a normal buying power to people who are in need; it will increase retail sales within our city; it will provide farmers with greater markets for their surplus crops; and will permit the distribution of those surpluses through the normal wholesale and retail channels, thus preserving rather than upsetting the accepted economic order.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

This department has continued to maintain the high standard of the parks and playgrounds of our city. In recent years, this department has considerably broadened its activities, so much so that it may be safely said that the all-year round recreation and athletic activities of this department are unsurpassed by any large city in the country. The recreational programs of the Park Department attracted over a million spectators during the year, and were participated in by thousands of boys and girls of all ages. Boston, at no stupendous cost, continues to maintain its traditions as a center for health-giving and recreational opportunities.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The deficit resulting from the operation of the East Boston Ferry has again been reduced. In three years, this deficit has been reduced eighty thousand dollars.

With the aid of W. P. A., approximately thirty miles of roadways were surfaced during the year, including thirty-two newly accepted streets. With the same character of assistance, approximately eleven thousand linear feet of sanitary sewers and twenty-eight thousand feet of surface drains were installed during the year.

The installation of fifteen thousand feet of forty-eight-inch steel water pipe running from South Huntington avenue to Arlington square will be completed in the early fall. This has been an outstanding W. P. A. project, in that all of the pipe, valued at fifteen dollars per foot, is furnished by the W. P. A. I doubt that there has ever been in our city a permanent improvement of this magnitude at such a low cost to our taxpayers.

During the year, several streets were widened by the inexpensive expedient of narrowing sidewalks; traffic islands were constructed in numerous streets, thus reducing traffic hazards; additional bridges were given high curbing protection; and commenced late in the year was a much-needed pedestrian overpass on Old Colony avenue at Old Harbor Village.

The achievement of the Public Works Department in removing two hundred and twenty tons of debris from the streets after the Legion parade of last fall, with the result that the streets were substantially free of debris at seven o'clock the next morning, is worthy of particular mention.

REAL ESTATE DIVISION.

During the year, the rentals from foreclosed real estate exceeded the expenses of this Division by over ten thousand dollars. In addition to this income, the Division sold, in the manner provided by law, seventy-nine parcels of foreclosed property for a total of one hundred and fifteen thousand five hundred and ninety-one dollars ($115,591). This Division is functioning smoothly, and is gradually getting back into taxpaying hands much of the property which the city was forced to take over as owner because of nonpayment of taxes.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

This Department continues to perform its duties in a meritorious and skillful manner. Its efficiency is reflected in the following comparison of expenditures: In the three years prior to 1938, the average yearly expenditures of this Department for alterations and repairs was over a million dollars. For the past three years, the average expenditures have been slightly over seven hundred thousand dollars annually, a consistently remarkable saving.

The Department is now engaged in the construction of a four-room school building in the Moss Hill section of Jamaica Plain, the cost of which will be met by existing balances, thus avoiding additions to our debt structure or tax levy.

In discussing these miscellaneous activities of various departments, we might continue indefinitely to recount more or less worthwhile accomplishments, but to do so would entail considerable time. Sufficient be it for me to close this résumé of departmental activities with a word of praise for a department official. In the two previous years, I have singled out the officials of the Schoolhouse and Building Departments for the excellent results achieved. This year, I accord the City Collector and his assistants my unstinted personal and official recognition of the outstanding record made by that department. I am proud of the City Collector of Boston, and his assistants, who have made this record possible.

Miscellaneous.

SNOW.

The St. Valentine's Day's snowstorm of last year was, in many respects, one of the worst, if not the worst, snowstorm in the recent history of the city. It was a storm of unpredicted severity, and extremely costly to both business establishments and the city government. Blizzards and snowstorms in this area are a constant challenge to city governments. To meet that challenge as well as possible, I appointed during the year a Snow Removal Committee of competent city officials. The report of this committee has been made public and I shall not now refer to its details. I am rather confident, however, that the results of this study and the new system of snow removal to be placed in operation will enable us to meet, as well as humanly possible, the yearly winter challenge of the skies. The new system, plus more authentic weather reports from the newly established Weather Bureau in our city, should provide us with better protection against these beautiful, but unwelcome, winter visitations.

Boston Elevated Railway Company.

During the early part of last year, there was considerable discussion relative to the operation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company. Because of the political complications attendant on a discussion of this matter, I was convinced that a study of the entire question by a competant, non-political body would be desirable. Therefore, under my auspices and with the aid and cooperation of the Finance Commission, a study is being made of the distribution of the receipts of the Boston Elevated Railway Company from car-riders. The purpose of this study is to ascertain if the charges have been made strictly in accordance with the provisions of the statute which authorized public control, and with due regard to the established principles of trustee management and commonly accepted methods of public utility accounting. I expect that within a short time this undertaking will have progressed to the point where it will be shown either that the large contribution annually by the taxpayers to meet the company deficit has been fully justified or that changes in the procedure of the Trustees will have to be made in order to avoid continuation of the large, yearly contribution of this city.

Conventions.

During the year, our city increased in prestige as one of the leading convention cities of the country. The largest convention held in the city was, of course, the American Legion Convention. A few facts concerning that great convention are worth setting down in the record. The Legion parade, which climaxed the Convention, was perhaps the greatest and best in the history of that splendid organization. Twelve to thirteen hours were required for the parade to pass a given point. Between two and three million persons were spectators at this great exhibition. Approximately three hundred thousand persons, including Legionnaires, delegates, and their friends converged on our city for the Legion festivities and business. It is estimated that fifteen million dollars was circulated in and around our city because of the Convention. The many activities during Legion week, religious and otherwise, were of such a nature as to cause this convention to be a memorable one in the minds of all who live in this community. Held as it was, at a time when patriotic fervor was at its height, I am happy to say that it was the generous opinion of Legionnaires themselves that the Convention held in our city was the best in the long history of the organization. So delighted were Legion officials with the success of the past Convention, that there is a possibility that precedent will be broken and in five years we may again have the honor to be hosts to the American Legion and its Auxiliary.

Housing.

Four of the eight housing projects included in the Boston Housing Authority program with the cooperation of the Federal, State and City Governments have become a reality during the past year. The projects located in Charlestown and at Lenox street have been substantially completed, and tenants are now moving in. The other two projects, located in South Boston and the Mission Hill Section of Roxbury, are nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy in the early spring. To make way for the 3,291 new dwellings in these first four projects, the Authority demolished 2,934 sub-standard dwelling units, thus ridding the city of four blighted areas. Before undertaking the demolition of these structures, it was necessary for the Authority to assist in the rehousing of 2,320 families.

In 1941, the Authority will undertake the construction of four additional projects, with approximately 2,148 new dwelling units, to be located in the South End, East Boston, and in the Heath street and Orchard park sections of Roxbury. These projects will replace approximately 1,800 sub-standard dwelling units formerly or presently occupied by 1,591 families.

The Port of Boston.

I am particularly pleased that His Excellency the Governor, in his recent inaugural message, volunteered to place the resources of the State Department of Public Works in cooperation with our own Port Authority in order that the Port of Boston might be enabled to compete successfully for the commerce of the world. There are many obstacles in the way of a better Port of Boston, but these obstacles will be far less formidable if we have the help and assistance of the State Government. Our own Port Authority has done valiant work in protecting the interests of our Port, but the improvements which are necessary, such as additional pier facilities, cannot be attempted without the full and generous cooperation of the State.

Conclusion.

Our city government in the past year, and during the previous two years, has made definite strides forward. Our financial structure is strengthened, and our machinery of government is better managed and better operated. We have attempted, with some success, I believe, to conduct the municipal government as efficiently and economically as can be done under all the circumstances which make management of the people's government an intricate and unrelenting job. We have steered the city government away from the dangers that threatened; we have neither temporized nor played politics at the expense of the people; we have done our best under extremely trying conditions; we have kept faith with the people of our city.

Like every other large city, we are faced with a multitude of problems, some of past vintage, and others of current age. The meeting of those problems is an absorbing and difficult task. Their solution is not, and cannot be found in magic formulas, nor in hastily conceived and effortless short-cuts. As in almost every other field of endeavor, progress and achievement in municipal goverment is possible only after unstinted effort, strict adherence to sound policies and principles, and constant care and watchfulness. If we continue, and we so intend, to persevere in the course we have chosen, we may possibly risk some loss of transitory political popularity, but we most certainly will produce results of lasting and enduring benefit, for which the citizens of our city will not fail to show the commensurate appreciation.

In the year ahead we have much work to do. I ask now for the aid of all who have a love for this city in order that success may crown our efforts. We shall seek legislation of various sorts, some of which have been mentioned today, some not referred to. The recent inaugural message of His Excellency the Governor encourages me to believe that during this year we shall get a full measure of cooperation from the State government. A better Boston means a better Commonwealth, and a better Commonwealth means a better nation. We have many problems of magnitude. They can be broken down, and some entirely solved, if we get the understanding, the cooperation and the assistance of all public and private agencies, of business, and the public itself. We have made progress toward a better city. The opportunity for greater progress is ahead. If we present a united, determined front we can clear the road of the obstacles to greater progress and provide a better city for your children and mine.

Before I conclude, I wish to express my gratitude for the assistance rendered the city government in the past three years by the officials of the State government, the Legislature, county officials, school officials, the Boston Finance Commission and the various civic organizations. Their cooperation has been extremely helpful to me on many occasions. Finally, let me express my deep personal gratitude to the members of the City Council, before me here today in this Council Chamber. Our relations, I am happy to say, have been, on the whole, very pleasant, and we have worked together in a common purpose with little friction, and with much mutual understanding and appreciation.

In closing, may I venture this thought. We are all citizens of the city of Boston, and citizens too of a great nation, the United States of America. As citizens of this great country we enjoy a freedom which is in danger of disappearing from the world. We are living in a period when our modern civilization may be snuffed out, and substituted in its place the inhuman, barbaric rule of might, backed up by the sword. God grant that this may never happen in our world, and that these United States continue to be a haven of freedom and liberty. Let us, in all humility, thank God that we are Americans, and let us beseech Him that we shall deserve His guidance and His help in preserving and protecting this — the greatest government ever conceived in the mind of man.

THE NOISE NUISANCE.

That city officials are serious about eliminating noise is noted from studies of new anti-noise ordinances enacted by a growing number of municipalities listed in the "United States Municipal News," bulletin of the American Municipal Association and the United States Conference of Mayors. Among the more important of these cities are Philadelphia, Gary, Ind., Louisville, New York and Boston.

VETO OF NOISE ORDINANCE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 27, 1940.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen, I return herewith without my signature and disapproved the ordinance adopted by your Honorable Body on December 16, 1940, dealing with unnecessary noises.

I am in entire sympathy with the movement to reduce the noise nuisance but it is necessary to recognize that it is a matter of considerable difficulty to establish a dividing line, between those noises which have become more or less unavoidable in the present stage of our civilization and noises which may definitely be termed unnecessary.

While the proposed ordinance has valuable features its preamble prohibits noise of such character, intensity and duration as to be detrimental to the life or health of any individual. Any noise whatever might well come within such a definition and a prohibition in such extreme terms is in my opinion neither enforceable nor within the power of the Mayor and City Council.

In addition the proposed ordinance is open to several legal objections stated in the accompanying letter of the Corporation Counsel, and it apparently was drafted without due consideration of the existing laws and ordinances.

For the reasons set forth, therefore, I am impelled to veto the proposed ordinance.

The subject of noise abatement is well worth further investigation and in this connection the attention of the City Council might well be directed to the valuable report submitted in 1932 by the special noise commission headed by Dr. Henry A. Christian.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, December 26, 1940.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I am returning herewith the proposed anti-noise ordinance passed in the City Council on December 16, 1940. This ordinance was sent to the Law Department on December 19, 1940, for consideration and report. The matter should receive your Honor's attention on or before December 31, 1940.

The proposed ordinance follows very closely the anti-noise ordinance of New York City, adopted in 1936. Administrative Code, sec. 435-5.0. In fact, with not material differences, it is the same as the New York City Ordinance.

I should like to call to your Honor's attention the following matters in connection with the proposed ordinance.

(I) Certain portions of the proposed ordinance treat with matters already covered by existing ordinances, as below set forth, and either duplicate or differently treat such matters.

Subsection 1 of the proposed ordinance deals with the sounding of automobile horns, etc. This same subject is expressly dealt with in Ordinances, 1936, c. 2. The sounding of automobile horns and the making of other noise near hospitals is dealt with in Ordinances, 1925, c. 39, s. 92, as amended by Ordinances, 1936, c. 2.

Subsection 2 of the proposed ordinance deals with the playing of radios, etc. The same subject is expressly dealt with in Ordinances, 1931, c. 4.

Subsection 3 of the proposed ordinance deals with the keeping of animals. The same subject is expressly dealt with in Ordinances, 1925 c. 39, s. 91.

Subsecton 8 of the proposed ordinance deals, with the making of noise near institutions, including hospitals. As above noted, this same subject is dealt with in Ordinances, 1925, c. 39, s. 92, as amended by Ordinances, 1936, c. 2.

It would seem appropriate that in adopting a new ordinance covering or related to subjects dealt with in existing ordinances, consideration be given to correlation of the new ordinances with those which have previously been enacted. In the absence of such careful and unified treatment, confusion must inevitably result. In the interest of clarity, uniformity, and enabling citizens to understand the law, the extent to which a new ordinance is intended to repeal or alter a pre-existing enactment ought not to be left to interpretation but should be specifically expressed. A recodification of the whole field of noise regulation may be thought in the city's interest.

(II) Certain portions of the proposed ordinance treat with matters which are the subject of legislative enactment by the General Court.

Subsection 7 of the proposed ordinance deals with the erection and demolition of buildings and provides for a permit by the Commissioner of Police if the work is to be done other than between 7 a. m. and 6 p. m. on week days. St. 1912, c. 713, provides that permits for the construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings may be issued by the Building Commissioner. It may be that the legislature intended that the power to issue building permits should vest only in the Building Commissioner. Even if further study should reveal that the legislative intent was not to this effect, your Honor will wish to consider whether as an administrative policy the jurisdiction over the granting of building permits should be lodged in more than one official.

Subsection 1 of the proposed ordinance deals with the sounding of automobile horns and the making by automobiles of unreasonably loud and harsh sounds. G. L. (Ter. Ed.), c. 90, s. 16 prohibits the sounding of a bell, horn, etc., so as to make a harsh, objectionable or unnecessary noise, by any automobile in a thickly settled or business district, and further prohibits the making by any motor vehicle of any unnecessary noises at any time. Consideration must be given to the question of whether the legislature by this statute intended to preempt the field of rule-making as to motor vehicle noise. As a part of a program involving the correlation of all the city's existing anti-noise ordinances with the proposed new enactment, the validity of Ordinances, 1936, c. 2 (above referred to) should be studied in the light of G. L. (Ter. Ed.), c. 90, s. 16. It is, of course, true that cities are empowered to make "by-laws, not repugnant to law, as they may judge most conducive to their welfare . . . for . . . preserving peace . . . and maintaining their internal police." G. L. (Ter. Ed.), c. 40, s. 21. But it is also true that action by a city under authority of the section just quoted must relate to its purely internal affairs and may not infringe upon a field completely taken over by the state.

(III) The attention of your Honor is also directed to certain very sweeping provisions of the proposed ordinance. For example, in subsection 1 of the proposed ordinances, the creation of "any unreasonably loud or harsh sound" is a violation of the ordinance, punishable by fine or imprisonment. No standard or limitation is set up within which a citizen may be certain he is not breaking the law. The actual enforcement of such an unlimited enactment might result in harassment of citizens in the use of their property and the enjoyment of their liberty. The police power is, and of course must be, very broad. But the police power is not unlimited, especially when it comes into conflict with great constitutional rights of citizens to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

(IV) Your Honor may recall that in 1931 a Noise Commission, under the chairmanship of Dr. Henry A. Christian, made a considerable study of the noise problems of the city. That Commission had before it the report of the New York Noise Abatement Commission (1930). If a recodification of the existing ordinances and their correlation with the material covered by the proposed new ordinance should be made, the report of that Commission might at the same time be given consideration.

Sincerely yours,
ROBERT CUTLER,
Corporation Counsel.

"Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to find a suitable location in Ward 20 where welfare recipients may be able to purchase food stamps under the new Stamp Plan."

The plan in the issuance of Food Stamps has been to use the district offices or suitable locations as near to them as possible for purposes of stamp distribution. Because of the fact that the stamp purchase has to be made only once a week, we feel from an administrative viewpoint and from a cost viewpoint that it would be impossible to open stamp offices in the various wards of the city.

Mayor of Boston.
Attention of Mr. William T. Doyle.

Dear Sir,—This department has received your communication with enclosed copy of an order from the City Council, dated November 18, 1940, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a stamp distributing station, in connection with the new Stamp Plan arrangement, in the Health Unit, South Boston, or in some other location in Ward 7."

The plan in the issuance of Food Stamps has been to use the district offices or suitable locations as near to them as possible for purposes of stamp distribution. Because of the fact that the stamp purchase has to be made only once a week, we feel from an administrative viewpoint and from a cost viewpoint that it would be impossible to open stamp offices in the various wards of the city.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM G. O'HARE, Secretary.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the chairman of the Park Department relative to your order of December 16, 1940, concerning the flooding for skating purposes the following playgrounds in Ward 18 and to install lights for the convenience of the skaters: Norfolk street; Almont street; Wood avenue; Smith Field; Readville Playground; Wright Golf Course.

Park Department, December 20, 1940.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of December 20 with inclosure, order of the City Council concerning the flooding for skating purposes of the following playgrounds in Ward 18 and to install lights for the convenience of the skaters: Norfolk street, Almont street, Wood avenue, Smith Field, Readville Playground and George Wright Golf Course.

Please be informed that all playgrounds in Ward 18 have been flooded for the past three weeks, with the exception of Wood avenue. The water has been flowing into the Wood Avenue Playground for three weeks but through a 3-inch water main, as that is the only facility we have for flooding this area.

There are good bodies of water on Norfolk street, Almont street, Smith Field and Wright Golf Course.

Readville Playground has never been flooded. It has a sandy soil and is not graded for flooding purposes. With the coming of cold weather there will be good skating on all other playgrounds.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

William T. Doyle,
Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of December 20 with inclosure, City Council order concerning the erection of a toboggan slide in Marine Park, South Boston.

I regret exceedingly to inform you that I have no money available for this purpose. Furthermore, it is necessary that there should be at least a 10 per cent grade in order that we may erect a natural toboggan shute.

There is an area adjacent to the Aquarium where we allow children of the district to coast, and that is the only hill in Marine Park.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Traffic Commission, December 13, 1940.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—This is to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated November 25, 1940, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Traffic Commissioner to consider the advisability of installing a pedestrian light at the traffic circle at Pond street and the Arborway, Ward 19, when same is erected."

As stated in the above Council order, the Park Department has begun construction of a scheme of traffic islands of which the center piece is a distorted traffic circle in the intersection of Arborway, Francis Parkman Drive, Jamaicaway, Pond street and Prince street.

It is expected that, when this construction is completed, pedestrian-crossing of this area will be less hazardous than at present. However, we have discussed the suggestion contained in the Council order with the chairman of the Park Department, William P. Long, and he has stated that he will view the area with the engineers of this commission to determine the feasibility of adopting the suggestion.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

CLEANING OF WARD 10 STREETS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange either for the temporary transfer from some other city yard, or for the temporary hire of a sufficient number of men to clean the streets in Ward 10.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include in his budget for 1941 a sum sufficient to purchase a new street-sweeping machine for use in the Ward 10 district.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, while I have no criticism to make of the Public Works Commissioner, who is hampered by the condition existing at the present time, I do wish to say that the streets in Ward10 are in a deplorable condition, especially since the cut of a month ago in the W. P. A. employees. As a result, a deplorable increase in filth conditions of our streets is noticeable throughout the entire district. For that reason, an additional number of men should be supplied either to our yard or transferred from some other city yard to Ward 10. I understand that we have out there at the present time only one street-cleaning machine, which is out of kilter for four or five days each week. The complaints of residents of the district are entirely justified, and I think this is the proper time for the Commissioner of Public Works, now that the budget is being prepared, to make some allocation of funds, for cleaning machines and men, to take care of Ward 10 during the coming year. We have street-cleaning machines in other sections of the city. I do not ask for partiality, but certainly the people of Ward 10 are entitled to the same consideration as the people of other sections. We are taxpayers and should have our streets kept in as good condition as streets in other parts of the city. I understand that there have been a reduction of 4,000 welfare recipients which means a saving to the city pay rolls of $1,250,000 for the year. I trust that funds will be provided to meet existing conditions and that something will be done to keep the streets of Boston, especially in Ward 10, in a condition creditable to the city district.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

MORE MEN IN SANITARY DIVISION.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately assign more men to the Sanitary Division of the Public Works Department in Ward 3.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I heartily agree with the previous order offered by the Councilor from Ward 10 (Coun. Carey) and wish to bring to the attention and to the minds of the members of this Body what has transpired in my district during the past Christmas holidays. I am not casting any reflections on his Honor the Mayor or the Commissioner of Public Works, who are doing the best they possibly can under the circumstances. For the work they have done I admire them. Nevertheless, the streets of my district, Ward 3, have been during the recent holidays in a very deplorable condition. We were greeted for Christmas with the sight of a miserable lot of cans containing ashes, swill and all kinds of rubbish on our streets, which should have been collected on Monday, but was there up to twelve o'clock Tuesday night and later. I kept the telephone wires hot trying to get somebody to come down there and clean up the mess. That is probably one of the principal reasons why I have been suffering from a severe cold and have just come from a sick bed. I feel, therefore, even if it does mean the expenditure of additional money by the city, there should be more men assigned to the Sanitary Division of the Public Works Department in Ward 3, to take care of the condition from which we have been suffering. Of course, we are trying to keep down expenses and to reduce taxes in every reasonable and possible way. We are cooperating in doing everything we can in the interest of the taxpayers of the City of Boston. But I, for one, claim that when we are dealing with the Sanitary Division, money should not be spared to see that that division functions in a proper way; eliminating such conditions as those with which we have been recently confronted in my ward at Christmastime, with swill and refuse in the middle of our streets and boys and girls and older people suffering from the mess; getting all sorts of stuff into their eyes and being confronted everywhere with all sorts of filth. There is a saying I have known since a child, that to be poor is not a sin, but to be unclean is. There must be some means by which money can be provided to meet this situation. Let us get rid of that condition. People in my ward unavoidably have to suffer from some home conditions which people in certain other sections do not have to meet. That is through no fault of their own, but perhaps in part on account of their financial condition. It is partly, no doubt, because of old, ancient buildings that are not as well equipped as they might be to meet present health conditions. But I do not intend to let the people of my district continue to suffer from such deplorable conditions as existed in my ward this past Christmas week. Those conditions will have to be eliminated. You might go into some of the homes there and not find an Oriental rug, a Frigidaire or new furniture. You may find a bathroom with no bath or shower facilities. But if you go into any of those homes you will see that, although they may not have Oriental rugs, Frigidaires or new furniture, and although they may not have bathrooms that contain bathing and shower facilities, there is cleanliness, because that is one of the things which keeps up America, which keeps our youth in good physical condition. But certainly these conditions I refer to must be eliminated. I have made complaint time and time again, and been confronted with the answer that, "Where we have welfare workers, how can we expect those individuals to do the work that is expected of the ordinary employee who is hired for that sort of thing?" But we are confronted, as I say, with these conditions that are not bearable. Certainly our streets cannot be allowed to remain in any such condition. We got in touch with the Mayor on Christmas night and a team was sent down there, with one man and a driver, and I had one of my own men help, trying to put the streets in decent condition. That man and the driver and the man I furnished worked until three o'clock in the morning trying to straighten things out. A young girl came into my office and said to me, "Councilor, I have lived here since I was born. Friends of mine are coming in from out of town, and they will be greeted by this swill outside my door." I tell you, it was heartbreaking to hear that young girl carry on. And so I say to you, gentlemen, let us now resolve that for 1941 the City of Boston shall be known as the cleanest city throughout America. I know that his Honor the Mayor is interested in seeing that our streets are clean, as he is interested in the Food Stamp Plan, looking to a proper supply of food for our people. We know that he spoke over the radio on that question. Yes, we need that extra food for the protection of the health of our people, and I also maintain that we need cleanliness; need to protect our children who are forced to play in the streets. They have no areas where they may exercise, so that they will grow up with good physique and mental capacity, sound minds in sound bodies. I trust, therefore, that this Council will go on record as resolving that for 1941 we are going to see that the streets of Boston are kept clean.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I wonder if you or the Councilor from Ward 3 can inform me whether his district is under contract in this matter, or whether the city does the work.

President GALVIN—It is under the city.

Coun. FISH—Yes, it seems to me that it is under the city. If it is any consolation to the two previous Councilors who have spoken upon this matter, I will say that the same conditions to which they have referred in their ward exist in Dorchester. I have had numerous complaints in the last two weeks that there has not been a street out our way cleaned since the leaves started falling off the trees. Since we are now being deprived of the services that our people have been getting, I believe it is imperative that we should increase the personnel of the Sanitary Division.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, I want to go along with the Councilors from Ward 3, Ward 16 and Ward 10, in objecting to the condition of the streets in the Ward 14 district of Boston. I think in the Ward 14 district of Boston, as in the other parts of Dorchester district, ashes and garbage are now being collected under contract with Coleman Brothers Contracting Company, and, like the Councilor from Ward 16 (Coun. Fish), I have received many complaints during the last year relative to the collection of ashes and garbage. I don't know what the Coleman Brothers Contracting Company are doing in the other wards where they have contracts to collect ashes and garbage, but I know that in my ward they are not collecting their ashes and garbage on a regular schedule, as provided for in the contract with the City of Boston. I have been informed that it is cheaper for the city to issue a contract for this type of service than to have the Sanitary Division of the Public Works Department do this work. If a contractor neglects to collect ashes and garbage, in accordance with the terms of his contract, I question whether the city is accomplishing anything that will benefit the citizens in giving out these contracts. I have been informed that Coleman Brothers are receiving approximately $150,000 a year for collecting ashes and garbage in the Dorchester district, and I have received scores of letters from residents of my ward to the effect that their ashes and garbage have been allowed to accumulate for weeks and weeks, with boxes and barrels standing on the sidewalks while waiting for collections by that concern. I would like to know what Coleman Brothers are doing, anyway, in return for the money that they receive, and I trust that the Public Works Department will get in contact with them and find out definitely what they are doing in the way of collection. It is a serious condition of affairs today, something that involves not only the convenience but the health of the community. We have ashes and garbage accumulating to the extent that it is a menace to the health of the community. If Coleman Brothers cannot do the work, let us do it. We certainly can do it much better.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I move to amend the order by adding, after the words "Ward 3," the words "and elsewhere in the City of Boston." I think that what has been said applies not only to conditions in Ward 3, but to conditions in other districts of the city. I know it applies to certain parts of my district. It is a very serious and important subject, and, I think, one that should be very carefully considered in drawing up the budget for the coming year. There is not only the sanitary question that arises from the accumulation of ashes and garbage, but there is also a great deal of trouble from rats, who breed and thrive on the garbage that is left out. I think we all realize the menace from rats from their biting children and that sort of thing, and the general nuisance and menace to health conditions that they cause. I trust that the order will pass by a unanimous vote.

Coun. Shattuck's amendment was adopted, and the question came on the passage of the order as amended.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, this is not a question of lack of efficiency in the Sanitary Department. We cannot blame the Public Works Commissioner, because he is handicapped in the present situation by reason of the fact that he is no longer getting assistance from those on welfare, who have been performing many of the regular functions of the Sanitary Division in the way of cleaning up the ashes and garbage in the streets. I know that the Public Works Commissioner has been doing everything within his power to take care of this situation. I have called upon him many times during the past month complaining to him of certain conditions in the alleys in my district, and I know that he has done everything he could to take care of the situation, but has been handicapped with an undermanned force. I am sure that the Public Works Commissioner will do everything in his power to take care of the situation, but we must cooperate with him and give him the additional means that he must have to carry on this work. The gentleman from Ward 5 (Coun. Shattuck) speaks about rats and other conditions which have arisen because of the failure to regularly collect the refuse in our city. The rat condition in certain sections is terrible. Rats can be seen rushing through the yards and feeding on the refuse that has been allowed to accumulate for weeks, and these animals are a menace to the health of the city. If there is one department of the city which particularly should be provided with ample means for carrying on such work, it is the Sanitary Division of the Public Works Department. It is one of the most important divisions in our municipal government, and I trust that his Honor the Mayor will see that proper provisions are made in the new budget to take care of this situation.

The order as amended was passed under suspension of the rule.

OIL FARM NEAR COLUMBIA STATION.

Coun. WICKES and HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the City Council in writing an explanation as to the delay in arriving at a decision regarding the petition of the Ocean Terminal Company, to erect a 40,000,000-gallon gasoline and oil farm on the shore of the old Calf Pasture, along Mile road, near Columbia Station of the Boston Elevated.

Be it further ordered, That the said Board be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit their decision regarding the above matter to the City Council if a decision has been reached.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, some time ago there was a meeting held in this Council Chamber protesting the erection of a 40,000,000-gallon gasoline and oil farm on Mile road. Several hundred interested citizens of the Dorchester district, including clergymen, public-spirited members of the Dorchester-All-Together-Movement and other organizations, and a splendid representation of elected public officials, were present to register their vigorous protests against the Ocean Terminal Company, who was the petitioner in this matter. The Dorchester-All-Together-Movement through its own efforts, and through the medium of the splendid cooperation of the Dorchester "Argus News," has been an invaluable instrument in sponsoring the wishes of Dorchester residents in its efforts to keep this issue constantly before the attention of his Honor the Mayor, I wish to emphasize the fact that an issue such as this present issue, or any issue which vitally concerns the interest of 220,000 residents, and of such a large area as Dorchester, is in no danger of being a forgotten issue while we have the cooperation of such an organization and newspaper, and while I represent my district, Ward 17.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, as stated by the Councilor, we had a meeting here and a large number of the people of Dorchester, interested citizens, opposed this thing very strenuously. We thought that the Board of Street Commissioners would immediately render a decision throwing the thing out, but I have contacted them many times, and up to today they have not given a decision. This is something that will menace the beaches of the City of Boston, in Dorchester and South Boston, and that will endanger the health of the people. It will be a tremendous fire menace. We know the danger that comes from the storage of oil in large quantities, that it is a tremendous fire menace and a threat to life, and there is certainly a chance that it might blow up a part of Dorchester and South Boston. We realize also the menace from lightning, that there have been 150 cases throughout the country at different times where very bad fires and explosions have resulted from lightning. I think we all feel that the Street Commissioners should have given a decision against this proposition before this. But the thing has gone on from month to month until today, and no action apparently has been taken by the Board. We have felt that we should not push the matter too much, but a good deal of time has gone by and we have heard nothing from the Commission. I believe that they should have thrown it out immediately, and I certainly would like to see them take some definite action this week.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, as a representative of many of the people of Dorchester, I was present at the hearing referred to, and I believe enough time has elapsed for the Board to have given thorough consideration to the matter and to have arrived at a decision. I trust that they will act immediately.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, like the Councilor from Ward 16 (Coun. Fish), I also was present at the hearing, and I also was surprised that they did not throw the petition out immediately after the hearing. I am certainly surprised that the members of the Board have not arrived at a decision up to this late date, and I certainly trust, now that we have brought it to their attention in this order, they will throw the thing out.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

AUTOMATIC SIGNALS, WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include in his budget for 1941 a sum sufficient to provide for the installation of automatic traffic signals at the following locations in Ward 13:

Savin Hill avenue and Dorchester avenue; Quincy street and Blue Hill avenue; Crescent avenue and Dorchester avenue.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, all the members of the City Council year after year have asked for traffic lights in their various districts. That is true not only of myself but of the other members of this Body. We have passed order after order only to be told that the City of Boston cannot provide any money for the purpose. And so the result has been, in spite of all the accidents that we have had in the city because of lack of traffic lights, the thing has gone on, and in spite of every conceivable effort to get such lights in our sections we are still without them. So far our efforts have been without avail. I feel, with the budget coming in next month, that the Mayor should include in it at least $100,000 for traffic lights in various districts. We have not had any money appropriated for the purpose for the last ten years. In the mean time, because of the lack of traffic lights, pedestrians in different sections of Boston have been exposed to all the hazards of automobile traffic, particularly at such locations as Savin Hill avenue and Dorchester avenue, Quincy street and Blue Hill avenue, and Crescent avenue and Dorchester avenue. I trust that this order will be passed, and that something will be done about it, that the Mayor will see that money for traffic lights is included in the budget for next year.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, Savin Hill avenue and Dorchester avenue are also in my ward, Ward 15, and I will have to go along with the Councilor from Ward 13 (Coun. Hutchinson). This is one of the most dangerous sections in Boston. There have been a lot of fatal accidents there. I know that in my third term in the City Council they were trying to put in traffic lights in Old Harbor Village, and I then pointed out the fact that Savin Hill avenue and Dorchester avenue was the fifth most dangerous crossing in the City of Boston. And so I also say at this time that money should be appropriated so that the danger at this and other crossings may be eliminated.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, I agree with the other councilors who have spoken with regard to the importance and necessity for additional traffic lights in the City of Boston. Since I became a member of this Body I have repeatedly tried to have traffic lights at Gallivan Boulevard and Washington street. I am not entirely familiar with some other dangerous points which other members may know about, where they desire to have lights, but I do know that at the corner of Gallivan Boulevard and Washington street is one of the most dangerous places in Massachusetts. If you happen to be there at a busy time, particularly on a rainy day, you will sometimes breathe a thousand times a minute for fear that somebody is going to be killed, because it is an extremely dangerous place. Now I am coming down to something very important. I have had conferences with the Mayor several times in regard to traffic lights. He promised me back in April that traffic lights would be furnished at that spot after November 15. He repeated his promise in June and in August, saying, "You will get the traffic lights after November 15, 1940." Being well aware how quickly money can be allocated, transferred and spent, I did not lose any time. I went in to see the Mayor again on November 16, after the promised time had elapsed, and was then told that I could not have the traffic lights, that there wasn't any money for them. As I have sat here as a member of this Body, I have noticed that there always seems to be money for certain purposes, but there does not seem to be money for traffic lights, which would help remove the continual danger to people's lives at bad crossings, such as Gallivan Boulevard and Washington street. I certainly hope, therefore, that in 1941, money will be available for traffic lights at Gallivan Boulevard and Washington street. I trust that something definite will be done, because I shall no longer believe in vague promises of this kind to John Wickes, a member of the City Council from Ward 17. I am no longer taking those promises.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, this appears to be a Dorchester day. I hope if and when money is provided for this purpose, as Ward 16 also has places where there is this threat to life through lack of traffic lights, that something will be done in that ward.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ARC LIGHT, SUDAN STREET, WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the installation of an arc light in front of No. 34 Sudan street, Ward 13.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LICENSES.

Coun. FISH, for the Committee on Licenses, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Winthrop Transportation Company, Inc., for license to operate from Winthrop line to Haymarket square (referred March 11) — that no further action is necessary.

Report on petition of Winthrop Transportation Company, Inc., for license to operate between Winthrop line and South Ferry (referred March 11) — that no further action is necessary.

Report on petition of Rapid Transit, Inc., for license to operate from Winthrop line to Haymarket square (referred March 18) — that no further action is necessary.

Report on petition of Warwick Coach Lines, Inc., for license to operate between Winthrop line and Orient Heights (referred March 11) — that no further action is necessary.

Report on petition of Modern Bus Lines for license to operate, between Boston-Dedham line at Spring street to Forest Hills Elevated station — that no further action is necessary.

The question came on the acceptance of the reports.

Coun. FISH — Mr. President, these are five petitions referring to Winthrop bus transportation, which was taken care of when we granted the permit, I think, to the Winthrop Transportation Company on another route. Therefore, so far as these five petitions are concerned, there is no further action necessary. The other petitioner, the Modern Bus Company, withdrew its petition.

The report was accepted.

2. Report on petition of Kendall Goodwin for driveway opening at 719 Washington street (referred April 1) — that license ought not to be granted.

Coun. FISH — Mr. President, so that the Council may know why that particular petition was rejected, the purpose of the proposed sidewalk opening was for a gas station, the permit for which was denied. So there is no necessity now for a sidewalk opening.

The report was accepted, and petition given leave to withdraw.

EXTERMINATION OF RODENT LIFE.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to sponsor a W. P. A. project for the purpose of exterminating the rodent life which exists in alleys, freight yards and other sections in Boston.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I recall that the gentleman from Ward 5 (Coun. Shattuck) mentioned the fact that the accumulation of swill and rubbish attracts thousands of rats and creates breeding places for rodents, to such an extent that I have been surprised at conditions of that kind that actually exist in Boston, I know of many places in our city, Mr. President, where there are so many rats that a cat is actually afraid to roam around in such places! (Laughter.) That may sound odd, but it is a positive fact. Physicians have told me about dangerous conditions that exist in some of our alleys because of this sort of thing. I know housewives are afraid to go into their yards in the evening because of the existence of rodent life. It is a very serious situation. I understand that many districts in our metropolitan area have adopted measures to exterminate rodent life in their communities, but I don't know of any similar move in the City of Boston. With this condition of affairs existing in our city, I honestly believe something should be done, and I know of no better way to deal with the matter than through a W. P. A. project for the purpose of exterminating rodent life which exists in alleys, freight yards and other sections in Boston. It will also be important to educate people in means of dealing with this matter. So I trust that the Health Commissioner will give this order serious consideration.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make arrangements for the resurfacing of Washington street, Ward 17, between Harvard street and Codman square, as soon as conditions will permit.

ADDITIONAL PERMANENT ASSISTANT REGISTRARS.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Election Commissioners, be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisibility of adding forty additional permanent assistant registrars of voters to personnel of that department.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, the Election Department of the City of Boston has not increased its personnel in the last ten years. It is certainly time that additional personnel was placed on the pay roll of the department. The assistant registrars in the department, through retirement, death and otherwise, have been brought to a lower level than it was in 1900, and since then other sections of the City of Boston have been added to Boston proper and the duties of the department have immensely increased. Additional work has also been placed on the department since that time,—such as the recent service registry, social security, the issuance of certificates to those leaving the country or going elsewhere. I can recall a year ago when a member of the Municipal Research Bureau came here and advocated a reduction of the men in that department, where, as I say, there are already fewer men employed in 1940 than there were in 1903. It must be evident to everybody that the increase in the size of our city and the additional functions that have been taken on by the department that more men are needed. I know that is so from my personal experience, working there for two and one half years, and having had occasion to discover that the men in that department are probably worked harder than in any other department of the city. They are under continual pressure from January 1 to December 31. And, as I say, the work is increasing all the time. Under recent legislation, for example, it will be necessary for every man who desires to be retained on the voting list to sign a card in the department to that effect between June 1, 1940, and December 1, 1943. Because of all these duties more men will be needed in that department. I have gone along as far as any member on matters of economy for the city. I have never given any consideration to increases in any department where they were not necessary. But I have in mind the position taken by the Municipal Research Bureau, through Mr. Loeffler, in favor of cutting the present force, in spite of all the work that the men there have to do. He simply read that out of a book somewhere and evidently did not know that the department had the smallest personnel accredited to any similar department in the country. He did not know that the personnel was less than it was in 1903, and he did not know about the enormous additions that have been made to the duties and the work of the department. But, entirely without such knowledge, and simply because he happened to get that idea from some source, he advocated reducing the personnel in that under-manned department. Of course, that was characteristic of the criticisms that his association make, and they are always demanding more efficiency from already undermanned departments. I trust that the personnel may be increased as suggested in this order. I believe there should be at least forty men added to the assistant registrars. I might say, also, that according to law there should be a similar number of Republicans and Democrats, and they must be taken from the list. I know that there are more Republicans on the lists working down there than Democrats. I think it is high time that the number should be equalized. It is certainly time that more men should be placed there to relieve the over-worked men now in the department. I believe forty is not too many, and I trust that the Mayor will take steps to remedy the present situation.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

MOTORIZED SPRINKLER AND SWEEPERS.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconsider the advisability of including in the 1941 budget a motorized sprinkler and sweepers, Ward 3.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, the reason why I have introduced this order is the same reason that has actuated me in introducing other similar orders during the past year. At the time of the hearing this year before the Budget Committee it was stated by the Commissioner of Public Works that there was sufficient money in the appropriation to buy two sprinklers, to sprinkle water on the streets and to lay the dust during the summer months. But evidently up to the present time nothing has come of it. So I am putting in this order to refresh the memory of the Commissioner, letting him know that in our district we really do need a sprinkler in the summertime, and that there is needed in our ward a sweeper, as is probably the case in other wards throughout the City of Boston, something that will clean the streets, because it is noticeable that men with brooms and shovels do not clean the middle of the streets. By having the proper equipment we could make sure that our streets in Boston would be much cleaner in the year 1941.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EXTRA COMPENSATION TO W. P. A. WORKERS.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MERRITT THOMPSON,
Collector of Taxes of the City of Boston.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

CINCINNATI'S NEW SPORTS FIELD.

Cincinnati's outstanding recreational event of the past year has been the opening of its 200-acre Airport Sports Field —an instantaneous success. Although far from completion and lacking in many necessary facilities, it is already paying its own way. American City Magazine.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 33. SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1941. NO. 3

BOSTON'S REVENUE PRODUCING DEPARTMENTS ARE UNDERGOING RENOVATING PROCESSES THAT FORECAST MANY SAVINGS AND GREATER EFFICIENCY AS THE RESULT OF A STUDY BY AN ADVISORY COMMITTEE OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS WHO WERE REQUESTED TO UNDERTAKE THE TASK BY MAYOR TOBIN — REPORTS COMPILED AND PRESENTED THE MAYOR AFTER MANY HOURS DEVOTED TO EFFORT COMPILED AND MADE PUBLIC — MAYOR TOBIN EXPRESSES GRATITUDE TO PUBLIC-SPIRITED MEN WHO SHARED IN WORK AS VOLUNTARY CIVIC CONTRIBUTION TO BOSTON.

Mayor Tobin has received from the members of the Advisory Committee of Certified Public Accountants a compilation of the reports of the various sub-committees of the Advisory Committee, and as a result of their recommendations these revenue departments are undergoing changes that will modernize methods, save revenues and simplify the handling of their work on what might be termed a "streamlined" basis. The compilation includes reports of the practices and procedures established by the various revenue departments of the city as a result of surveys and recommendations made that are predicted to become of great benefit to the city. In presenting the work of the committee the Mayor expressed his gratitude to all for their contribution to the work. The Advisory Committee is made up of representatives of sixteen accounting firms in Boston which began functioning in July, 1939.

A statement summarizing the achievements has been issued by the Mayor's office as follows:

Revenue producing departments of the City of Boston are undergoing a streamlining process, in accordance with recommendations made by the Advisory Committee of Certified Public Accountants which, at the request of Mayor Tobin, made a survey of the accounting practices and office procedures of those departments and also of the Assessing Department. The committee's findings have been published as a public document.

Acting on the suggestion of Leo T. Foster, director of the Municipal Survey Committee, Mayor Tobin called together a group of twenty accountants in July, 1939. On hearing his plan, the group organized as a committee, with Charles F. Rittenhouse as chairman, and agreed to serve voluntarily and without recompense. The various accountants surveyed nineteen departments, giving, gratuitously, an aggregate of four hundred days of service.

Recommendations in Effect.

In the majority of the departments that were surveyed the committee's recommendations have been placed in effect. In the Assessing Department, where a number of changes were suggested, a further study is being made by the Municipal Survey Committee. This is in line with the statement by the accountants to the effect that "our general scrutiny prompts the belief that considerable improvement could be effected in methods and procedures by making an intensive study of all work handled in the department. We believe the size of the department and the multiplicity of details handled makes such a step advisable."

Recommendations in that department that were branded as urgent were: Adequate records of all parcels of property in the city to make sure that all property is accounted for and all taxable property included in tax records; improved control over valuations and determination of taxes to make sure that all taxable property is properly taxed; simplification of records and procedures to reduce clerical detail, eliminate errors and improve the control, both external and internal, over revenue; reorganization of the internal routine procedures, dividing the work along more definite lines so that the present overlapping of functions may be eliminated; simplified and improved abatement procedure and control mechanism.

Stress is laid upon satisfactory relations with the public in this department and on the fact that in many cases the Collector's Department now bears the brunt of complaints resulting from errors in assessment and computation of tax bills.

In connection with the City Hospital, these recommendations are made: That a Social Service admitting unit of five or six workers be installed to interview all house patients; that an additional employee in the billing and collecting department be assigned to contact house patients classified as able to pay, before such patients are discharged from the hospital; that a follow-up system be used in the cases of applicants for X-ray and other services in the Out-Patient Department who are unable to pay in advance but who have admitted ability or willingness to pay; that applicants in the Out-Patient Department, other than the needy poor, be charged a fee of 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children for each consultation or treatment not at present covered by a special charge.

BOSTON'S REVENUE.

In addition, it is urged that procedures be established to determine more definitely at the time of admittance to the hospital, or shortly thereafter, which house patients are able to pay, and to expedite reasonably prompt collection of the charges. Additional clerks are recommended in the settlement clerk's department so as to avoid loss of revenue through the outlawing of claims by the City against the Commonwealth and various cities and towns, the accountants having been informed that that department is unable to bring its work in that line up to date.

In surveying the Licensing Board, the Advisory Committee recommended that in the case of licenses applied for but not taken out, the Board furnish the police with a list of unpaid licenses at the end of each month, so that a check can be made to learn if liquor is being sold on the premises mentioned in the license application without proper credentials having been issued.

Those who made up the Advisory Committee are: Arthur W. Yardley of Boyden, Yardley & Guay; Clinton W. Bennett of Cooley & Marvin; Norman H. S. Vincent of Robert Douglas & Co.; John J. FitzGerald; Abraham J. Godes; Thomas V. Barb of Haskins & Sells; Francis P. Kirk; Maurice M. Lindsay; Charles C. Hornbostel of Lybrand, Ross Brothers & Montgomery; Frank J. ANNUAL ADDRESS OF HONORABLE MAURICE J. TOBIN.

Mayor TOBIN—Councilor Shattuck, City Clerk, honored members of the City Council, and citizens:

In the conduct and operation of this city government, there is an abundance of activities which merit more than just passing comment, and others which, owing to the exigencies of the times, require more or less free discussion. To give space and time to all matters of civic interest would entail the creation of a much too voluminous document. There is, however, one subject-matter of intense interest to which it is necessary to give particular attention, and that is the financial status of our city government. If, therefore, it would appear that I pass too quickly or too lightly over some features of municipal government, it is solely because a comprehensive discussion of our financial situation is of primary importance, transcending all else. Our financial condition is the axis upon which the wheels of municipal government turn, and unless we can report that this essential part of the machinery of city government is performing smoothly and progressively, all other references to accomplishments, so called, would be empty in meaning and rather presumptuous in fact.

It is with some satisfaction, therefore, that I present the following account of the financial status of our city government.

Finances.

In the year just closed, as in the two previous years, we have continued to make substantial progress towards the goal of rehabilitating the city's finances. We are growing in financial strength and security. We have not yet reached the point where our financial structure is free of all defects and all weaknesses, but we are constantly making solid progress toward that enviable condition.

It is my belief that the policy we adopted at the beginning of this administration, to avoid all but most necessary expenditures, should be continued. The adoption of that policy has begun to bear fruit. Our financial picture shows definite improvement. Our credit is infinitely better. Our financial foundations have been cemented and strengthened. Our rating and reputation for sound municipal government has been enhanced. Our future as a municipality is far brighter and far more secure than it was in former years. We cannot, it is true, point to accomplishments in the form of ornate monuments of stone and marble, but we can, in all sincerity, point to the best accomplishment within our power to achieve — a sound and a solvent city government.

Maintenance Expenses and Debt.

In three years we have reduced our maintenance expenses for the operation of the city government over two million dollars, and were it not for factors over which we have little, if any, control, that reduction would have resulted in a one dollar and a half reduction in the tax rate.

During the past year, the total outstanding indebtedness of the city has been reduced five million three hundred thousand dollars ($5,300,000) and this reduction over a two-year period is more than nine millions of dollars. This reduction has been made, if you will, at the risk of some transitory political popularity but, on the other hand, it has served to release the pressure on one of the vital arteries of the city government, and has contributed in no small measure to our better financial standing.

Collections.

In the year just passed, over seventy-nine per cent of the taxes assessed in 1940 were collected. This represents an improvement of about two per cent over the collection record of 1939, and is the best percentage of collections to be established in any year since 1931. It is interesting, as a comparison, to note that in the six years preceding this administration, the average percentage of current tax collections was seventy-two per cent. Of the collections made prior to interest date, the best record over a period of twenty-one years has been attained. This splendid record of collections needs no further comment other than to state that the prompt and efficient collection of taxes is one of the prime requisites to a stable financial condition.

Surplus.

Although the accounts of the city for the year 1940 are still open, I am advised that when closed the financial records will reveal that total operating cash receipts for the year have exceeded expenditures for all operating purposes. In other words, it can be stated definitely that the city will close its books for 1940 with a surplus, thus making possible a further reduction in the accumulated cash deficit of the city. While it is impossible at this time to state definitely the amount of the surplus, I am informed that if the city had received from the Commonwealth the full amount of reimbursement for Welfare disbursements to which it was entitled, the surplus for 1940 would approximate two million dollars. Under existing procedure it is impossible for our Department of Public Welfare to obtain from the Commonwealth the full amount of outstanding obligations as represented by departmental billings. Reimbursement by the Commonwealth is made, on the average, eighteen to twenty months after commencement of relief payments by the city. It is unfortunate that such a delay should exist, since it means that the city must engage in extensive temporary borrowings in order to provide for the relief of needy persons in whose support the State is required to share.

Water Income.

The Water Division of the Public Works Department, for the third consecutive year, has produced a surplus of income over expenses. In the seven years preceding this administration, the expenditures of this Division exceeded receipts from water rates. This unsatisfactory condition was corrected in the years 1938 and 1939, and I am advised that for the year 1940 this Division will close its books with a surplus of four hundred thousand dollars. This surplus will be utilized, as it was during the past two years, for the reduction of the amount to be provided in the 1941 tax levy for debt requirements.

Sumner Tunnel.

Since the date of the opening of the Sumner Traffic Tunnel, this under-water highway has not produced sufficient income to meet the debt and operating charges of the Tunnel and its accompanying approaches and street widenings. The financial year just passed discloses a deficit of approximately three hundred and eight thousand dollars ($308,000). In the three years this administration has been in office, the annual deficit has been reduced almost one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000). In addition fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) has been received by the city from the State Highway Fund. I am exceedingly hopeful that we shall have further success in the reduction of this deficit. In addition to our efforts to lower the deficit of the Sumner Tunnel, it is our intention to again seek legislation during the present year providing for a continuance of payments from the State Highway Fund. In view of the fact that the Sumner Tunnel is acknowledged to be a vital link in the highway system of the State, and in view of the fact that seventy per cent of the users of the Tunnel reside outside the limits of the city of Boston, I believe it to be eminently equitable and just that a generous allocation of monies from the State Highway Fund be provided for the upkeep of the Tunnel. With the allocation from the State, I am happy to report that in three years we have reduced the deficit of the Sumner Tunnel approximately forty per cent, thus lessening, to a marked degree, the Tunnel deficit burden which is assessed on all the taxpayers of our city.

Metropolitan District.

The present administration has consistently opposed the authorization of additional expenditures by the Metropolitan District Commission, not because these expenditures might be termed unnecessary, but solely on the ground that until there is a more equitable distribution of the costs of the Metropolitan District no further capital outlays should be made for Metropolitan improvements. Impartial surveys are in agreement that the city of Boston and its taxpayers bear a disproportionate share of the costs of the Metropolitan District, and that an adjustment of these costs should be made. The present distribution arrangement of Metropolitan costs has been in existence for many years. It is extremely difficult to effect changes in that arrangement, especially when any worthwhile change would involve a shifting of our excess burden to other communities, or to the State itself. However, in the present year, legislation obtained by the city will be effective which will transfer to the State Highway Fund possibly five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) of Metropolitan charges. This reduction in the costs of the Metropolitan District will be reflected in lowered assessments on our city. I am hopeful that this legislation is the first of a series of steps which will eventually relieve our city of considerable of the present burden it carries for Metropolitan District expenses.

Relief and W. P. A. Costs.

In the three-year period 1938 to 1940, borrowings to the extent of fifteen million dollars were made for relief and W. P. A. purposes. In the three-year period prior to 1938, corresponding loans were issued to the extent of twenty-one million dollars. The policy of issuing loans of this character for current running expenses has continued since 1933. It is, admittedly, not the most acceptable financial policy to pursue, but yet, to entirely discontinue this practice would result in a forbidding rise in the tax rate. There is much to be said, also, against assessing the full cost of abnormal relief and W. P. A. charges on the annual tax bill, and there is considerable more to be said on the question of special revenues for relief purposes only. Unless definite recognition is given to the growing belief that relief and the costs thereof is not entirely a local question, or a burden to be borne locally, and unless some provision is made to more equitably distribute these extraordinary requirements, I am compelled to the belief that relief loans are preferable to a prohibitory tax rise, keeping in mind, however, that the use of this expedient, in the absence of other aid, be gradually dispensed with. Later in this discussion, I shall refer more specifically to the relief situation as it now exists. At this point, merely let me add that the relief burden continues to be the one financial obstacle to a strictly pay-as-you-go policy, and this obstacle, combined with the revenue losses because of the tremendous recession in real property values in our city, will continue to plague responsible municipal officials until such time as our general tax structure is remodelled and reinforced.

A recent tabulation indicates that the number of cases on general relief, which includes dependent aid, aid to dependent children, and old age assistance is thirty-one thousand three hundred and forty-seven (31,347). This total is about one thousand one hundred and fifty cases (1,150) less than at this time last year, but still remains about three thousand (3,000) more than the total in 1938.

During the year, the peak load of relief cases was reached late in July. Since that time, there has been a perceptible and welcome shrinkage in the numbers receiving relief. Assignments to W. P. A. and increased employment because of the defense program are the main factors responsible for this shrinkage.

Appropriations of more than nine million dollars ($9,000,000) out of taxes, and loans of two million six hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($2,650,000) were made available to carry the relief burden in the Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments during the year. In addition to this sum, three million four hundred and twenty thousand dollars ($3,420,000) received as Federal grants for aid to dependent children and old age assistance was received and expended, making a grand total of expenditures for general relief in the Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments of more than fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000) for the year 1940. When it is realized that this expenditure is greater than the expenditures of the Police, Fire, Hospital and Library Departments combined, we can begin to visualize what a serious financial load of relief expenditures are on the city government.

It is the duty of this city, and every city or town, to care for its citizens who are the victims of one form of misfortune or another. Our city recognizes that duty to a liberal degree. We do not permit, and shall not permit, any worthy person in this city to be cold, or hungry, or without proper means of shelter. To do otherwise would be to defy the laws of this Commonwealth, but even more than that, defy the command of the Almighty that we care for our brother man who is heavily burdened.

In previous paragraphs I have made mention of the necessity, as I view it, that this problem of relief be considered in its true light as one not local in character, and from all indications, not of temporary duration. I will not again go into that question, but I merely wish to reiterate what was said by me this time last year to this effect, first, that relief is a permanent problem; second, it must be recognized that local governments cannot continue to carry its full burden; third, where the depression has hit the hardest, relief costs are the highest; and fourth, that this is a common burden to be shared by all in equal measure, even though that sharing means the erasure of community boundaries.

Before leaving this subject, may I say that I am hopeful that the decline in relief cases may continue. If it does, and even though that decline be a temporary one because of defense activity, nevertheless, it will produce a salutary effect on the finances of our city.

Closely related to the subject of relief are the activities under the Works Projects Administration, commonly referred to as the W. P. A. During the year just closed, the city government provided over two million two hundred thousand dollars ($2,200,000) by loan appropriations for the purchase of supplies, material and equipment in order that an average of twenty thousand (20,000) W. P. A. employees be gainfully employed on projects sponsored by the city of Boston.

The outstanding accomplishment of permanence and size is, of course, the extension of the Huntington Avenue Subway. This extension will be completed and in operation about February first of this year. During the year, an average of eighteen hundred W. P. A. employees found work on this project on a three-shift basis.

In almost every city department, there is an assignment of W. P. A. employees engaged on projects which are, in the main, of permanent value to the city. Under a later heading I shall refer to some of these projects and some of the results obtained. It is unquestionable that much work performed under W. P. A. auspices would have been delayed, or perhaps never attempted because of financial stringency. Whatever the city government has expended on projects of this kind has been money spent for a triple purpose; first, it has relieved welfare requirements; second, it has provided gainful employment to able-bodied, self-respecting men and women; and third, it has enabled our city to initiate projects of utility and value which otherwise might be left undone. I shall continue to closely cooperate with the Federal government in order that our city and its citizens may profit to the fullest extent from this worthwhile agency of the national government.

Real Property Taxes.

In the year 1930 the assessed valuation of real estate in the City of Boston was one billion eight hundred twenty-seven million four hundred sixty thousand six hundred dollars ($1,827,460,600). In the year 1940, the assessed valuation of real estate was one billion three hundred sixty-two million one hundred thirty-one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,362,131,500), a reduction in eleven years of four hundred sixty-five million three hundred twenty-nine thousand one hundred dollars ($465,329,100). In the same eleven years the appropriations for public welfare purposes increased from approximately three million dollars ($3,000,000) to fourteen million five hundred thousand dollars ($14,500,000). Both of these changes are chargeable in great part to the depression.

The reduction in real estate valuations alone, applied to the 1930 scale of expenditures, would require an increase of ten dollars over the tax rate of 1930, and the increase in public welfare expenditures would add perhaps eight dollars more, bringing the tax rate which was thirty dollars and eighty cents ($30.80) in 1930 to near fifty dollars ($50) per thousand. However, with various forms of state assistance, by an increase in the ordinary revenue of the city, by meeting a portion of the public welfare expenses by loans, and by a reduction of some five million dollars ($5,000,000) in the appropriations for the ordinary maintenance of the city and school departments outside of public welfare, the tax rate has been kept down to the 1940 figure of forty dollars and sixty cents.

It should be noted that the assessed value of all real estate in Boston in 1940 is more than thirty million dollars less than it was twenty years ago, in 1920.

No one can deny that an annual tax of four per cent on real estate is unduly burdensome, but let us recount the steps by which this burden has been imposed. In 1916, intangible personal property was removed from local taxation. The city of Boston immediately lost the local taxes on one hundred sixty million dollars' ($160,000,000) worth of property. In 1919, tangible personal property of corporations, other than machinery, was removed from local taxation. In 1924, bank stock was removed from local taxation. In 1936, corporation machinery was removed from local taxation, and the basis of distribution of corporation taxes was changed.

The net result of these changes was that Boston received in 1940 but three million five hundred fifty-nine thousand eight hundred forty-one dollars and twenty-four cents ($3,559,841.24) as its share of the income tax, and but seven hundred eighty-nine thousand three hundred seventy-four dollars and fifty-seven cents ($789,374.57) as its share of the corporation tax, whereas if these changes had not been made, the valuation of personal property, tangible and intangible, which reasonably could have been taxed in this city is conservatively estimated at three hundred millions of dollars ($300,000,000). In place of the proceeds from the taxation of this property, which at a rate of thirty-five dollars a thousand would amount to ten million five hundred thousand dollars ($10,500,000), the city received in 1940 as its share of the income and corporation taxes four million three hundred and forty-nine thousand two hundred and fifteen dollars and eighty-one cents ($4,349,215.81). The additional burden, of necessity, falls upon real estate.

Whether or not these changes in the methods of taxation were warranted or justifiable, the fact remains that the result has been to leave real estate as practically the only source from which the revenue can be obtained for the municipal activities. The contributions from time to time from the State, the resort to borrowing to meet current expenses, are but temporary palliatives and are unsound in theory and practice.

The situation must be met squarely and some solution arrived at that will be other than temporary. The broadening of the tax base is imperative, and, as I have previously remarked, the whole general tax structure remodelled and reinforced. Measures for that purpose ought to receive the support of every element in the community who, notwithstanding their special interests, should realize that a continuance of the present conditions means a continuance of uncertain municipal financing, which might well lead to financial chaos or even financial disaster.

At present and for some time past there has been a crying need for a national conference on taxation. In many fields there is an overlapping of Federal, State and local taxes. As a result of the tremendous increase in Federal appropriations for preparedness, it is natural to expect a greater aggravation of this overlapping as a result of new Federal Tax Laws. I am going to strongly urge the calling of a national tax conference of Federal, State and local officials for the purpose of allocating definite fields of taxation to each of the three branches of government.

Rehabilitation.

It is my strong conviction that the time has come in the life of our city when every cooperative effort must be lent to the problem of preserving our city and protecting it from further decay, and from further decentralization. If this problem is not immediately recognized, and if it is longer ignored, the time may not be far distant when its solution will be a discouraging impossibility. It is not the fortunes of the City of Boston alone which are concerned in the rehabilitation of our city. There is far more involved in this question than the future of the City of Boston itself. This is a problem apparently local in its being, but state-wide in its magnitude and implications.

Boston, like most large cities, has ceased to grow in population. Surrounding us on all sides are cities and towns whose population rate is increasing, and who have not only been attracting our residents, but who have also taken from us some of our industries and commercial establishments. As these surrounding communities gain in population and commercial possibilities, the central city, which is Boston, continues to struggle to retain its place as a large business and residential center. This trend away from the central city has manifold results of a serious nature to our city. There is, to name but a few, the loss of employment to our citizens; loss of sales and business to our commercial establishments; loss of taxable properties to the city government; increase in vacant properties; increase in demolitions; increase in slum areas.

The situation as I have outlined it is not peculiar to Boston. Nearly all of the large cities in the United States have been affected by these same elements of decentralization; many of them more seriously than Boston. It is part of a trend that is national in its scope and admittedly is due to economic reasons rather then governmental.

One of the primary reasons why this administration has been reluctant to obligate our city to large expenditures, is because of the realization that Boston, in and of itself, cannot raise the level of its expenditures in the face of the fundamental changes which are taking place. As matters now stand, there is some basis to the claim that our city, shrinking in population, is maintaining extensive and expensive services not justified by either the size of the city or the promises for the future. That, however, is an argumentative matter. There is no good argument, conversely, to the statement that we must give less thought to expansion of those services and some thought to their reduction.

The changes which have taken place in our city, and which can be observed by the most casual inspection, have not been sudden changes. Ten years ago they were discernible and their results were foreseen. Ten years ago they were recognized as serious in their magnitude and possibility. Today, they have become even more serious, and we can foresee that unless prompt measures are taken the contagion will spread until virtual decay and destruction of the whole city has taken place. It is my opinion that we can no longer, with any degree of safety, delay the taking of immediate steps to prevent further encroachment of the destructive germs which have been eating at the very vitals of our city. A metropolitan city of over two million population is not an immediate possibility. The antagonisms that must be appeased and the traditions that must be broken down before the attainment of that goal would take too long a time.

There is, however, an immediate avenue open to us, and that is the adoption of a program of highway improvements for our city, in conjunction with a program for off-street parking facilities. There is under consideration at this moment by a Conference Committee on Traffic, plans for highway and parking improvements in our city which are very extensive in scope. Their program will be presented to the incoming Legislature with the hope and the expectation that authority will be given, and funds provided, so that this first essential to a newer and better Boston may be commenced without delay. Unless we can, as a start, relieve the traffic congestion which exists within our city, and unless we can provide the facilities for business terminals and parking of motor vehicles, we shall make no progress in the rehabilitation of Boston.

In connection with this subject-matter, I have appointed an Advisory Committee on Community Rehabilitation to work in conjunction with the enlarged City Planning Board, for the purpose of making a study of a limited number of specific areas so that some physically and financially sound plan for their rehabilitation may be found. In addition to this, we have succeeded in obtaining the active participation of seventeen joint local planning committees throughout the city in this study. I am confident that the results will be of great value to our city.

Closely allied with the study just mentioned, is the appraisal now going on of the Zoning Law as it applies to Boston. This law has been in effect for sixteen years. It needs clarification, amendment, and new provisions in order that the law may be effective in exerting a stabilizing influence on real property values throughout our city.

I have spoken at some length on this subject of rehabilitation because I believe it to be a subject of great fundamental importance. The very future of our city is at stake unless we realize its importance, unless we act immediately, and unless we get the cooperation of every agency in our city which has faith in Boston and hope for its future.

Municipal Survey Committee and Various Departmental Activities.

Survey Committee.—The Municipal Survey Committee continues to perform valuable work in diverse fields of endeavor, and continues to justify its existence as a worthwhile adjunct to city government. The results of the Committee's efforts are such, in my opinion, as to entitle it to the commendation of public officials and taxpayers alike.

Not the least important of the activities of the Survey Committee is the encouragement and assistance given to concerns which explore the Boston territory for possible sites for business locations. The time-consuming nature of the duties of Mayor preclude that official from doing much more than making the initial contact with the individuals who might establish a new business in our city. The actual work, the presentation of arguments favorable to the city, the advice and the assistance which must be given in order that smoke might arise from chimneys, jobs created, and new sources of taxation made available, must remain to be performed by some capable city official or agency. I am happy to say that our Survey Committee is performing this service in a manner which leaves little to be desired.

During the past year, in constant communicaton with me and with full cooperation of various city departments, the Survey Committee has coordinated the efforts of the Collecting and Law Departments in the collection of delinquent taxes; has assisted in bringing about the installation of a new switchboard at the City Hospital which will result in greatly improved service at no additional cost to the city; has continued its studies toward the mechanization of certain procedures in the Assessing Department; has assisted the Penal Institutions Department in reviving certain industries at Deer Island to provide occupations for inmates at that correctional institution; has cooperated with the Street Laying-Out Department in the setting up of a system for improved control over parking spaces; has made surveys of all laundry equipment in control of various departments, with the possibility in view that all city laundry work might be done at the modern City Hospital laundry; has cooperated with the Traffic Department on traffic problems; and has worked in conjunction with the Advisory Committee of Certified Public Accountants which group, has, without charge to the city, made an illuminating survey of eighteen revenue-producing departments of the city, to the ultimate profit of the city.

The most notable activity of the Committee during the year has been its cooperation with the Supply Department in the installation of an inventory control of consumable materials for the City Hospital and Sanatorium, the Long Island Hospital, Deer Island House of Correction, and the Suffolk County Jail. Under this system there will be a much more effective control of supplies and materials in the various institutions of the city, and it will hereafter be possible, in those departments at least, for the Supply Department to exercise a practical control over the purchase and use of consumable supplies. During the present year, it is planned to include all divisions of the Public Works Department in the inventory control system. The initiation of inventory control in city government has been a long-awaited improvement. The merits of this system and the savings made possible by its adoption justify the efforts expended in its installation. It is still another step toward placing our municipal government on a sound business basis.

Fire Department.

The most forward-looking step in many years has been taken in the Fire Department by the formation of the Volunteer Civilian Auxiliary Fire Force. Modelled after the London Auxiliary Brigade, this volunteer organization is being trained not only in the field of fire fighting, but also to be prepared and available for any national defense emergencies, or any local emergencies such as blizzards, hurricanes or earthquakes. Boston was the first city in the country to organize such a force, and our activities in this respect have been widely publicized and widely copied in many of the cities of the country.

I am extremely happy to report that the National Board of Fire Underwriters has placed Boston first, among the largest thirteen cities, on the basis of Fire Department activities and fire protection resources. Our Fire Department is efficiently and expertly directed, and competently manned.

Hospital and Health Departments.

The activities of these two departments are too numerous to mention at this time. Suffice it is for me to state that their constant care and watchfulness over the health of our citizens permits our city to enjoy an enviable reputation in the field of public health.

Institutions Department.

During the year a new men's dormitory was erected at the Long Island Hospital at a cost of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars. This was made necessary because of the fact that three buildings leased by the city from the United States Government were needed by the government in connection with its harbor defense program. The new building will provide quarters for almost five hundred male inmates of Long Island, and will be modern in every respect, to the extent that rooms, or cubicles, will be provided for each two male inmates housed in this new building.

Various other much-needed improvements, made under W. P. A. auspices and otherwise, have been consummated at Long Island during the year, and it is significant to note that these improvements, totalling about a quarter of a million dollars, were financed without resorting to the issuance of either long or short term debt.

Public Welfare Department.

The main activities of this Department have been discussed under another heading. This report, however, would not be complete unless reference was made to the adoption of the Food Stamp Plan in Boston. Under the Welfare Department, this plan began operations on November 14th. I believe that the benefits which will flow from this plan more than justify the effort which was made to obtain it for our city. The plan as now operating will help in restoring a normal buying power to people who are in need; it will increase retail sales within our city; it will provide farmers with greater markets for their surplus crops; and will permit the distribution of those surpluses through the normal wholesale and retail channels, thus preserving rather than upsetting the accepted economic order.

Park Department.

This Department has continued to maintain the high standard of the parks and playgrounds of our city. In recent years, this Department has considerably broadened its activities, so much so that it may be safely said that the all-year round recreation and athletic activities of this Department are unsurpassed by any large city in the country. The recreational programs of the Park Department attracted over a million spectators during the year, and were participated in by thousands of boys and girls of all ages. Boston, at no stupendous cost, continues to maintain its traditions as a center for health-giving and recreational opportunities.

Public Works Department.

The deficit resulting from the operation of the East Boston Ferry has again been reduced. In three years, this deficit has been reduced eighty thousand dollars.

With the aid of W. P. A., approximately thirty miles of roadways were surfaced during the year, including thirty-two newly accepted streets. With the same character of assistance, approximately eleven thousand linear feet of sanitary sewers and twenty-eight thousand feet of surface drains were installed during the year.

The installation of fifteen thousand feet of forty-eight-inch steel water pipe running from South Huntington avenue to Arlington square will be completed in the early fall. This has been an outstanding W. P. A. project, in that all of the pipe, valued at fifteen dollars per foot, is furnished by the W. P. A. I doubt that there has ever been in our city a permanent improvement of this magnitude at such a low cost to our taxpayers.

During the year, several streets were widened by the inexpensive expedient of narrowing sidewalks; traffic islands were constructed in numerous streets, thus reducing traffic hazards; additional bridges were given high curbing protection; and commenced late in the year was a much-needed pedestrian overpass on Old Colony avenue at Old Harbor Village.

The achievement of the Public Works Department in removing two hundred and twenty tons of debris from the streets after the Legion parade of last fall, with the result that the streets were substantially free of debris at seven o'clock the next morning, is worthy of particular mention.

Real Estate Division.

During the year, the rentals from foreclosed real estate exceeded the expenses of this Division by over ten thousand dollars. In addition to this income, the Division sold, in the manner provided by law, seventy-nine parcels of foreclosed property for a total of one hundred and fifteen thousand five hundred and ninety-one dollars ($115,591). This Division is functioning smoothly, and is gradually getting back into taxpaying hands much of the property which the city was forced to take over as owner because of nonpayment of taxes.

School Buildings Department.

This Department continues to perform its duties in a meritorious and skillful manner. Its efficiency is reflected in the following comparison of expenditures: In the three years prior to 1938, the average yearly expenditures of this Department for alterations and repairs was over a million dollars. For the past three years, the average expenditures have been slightly over seven hundred thousand dollars annually, a consistently remarkable saving.

The Department is now engaged in the construction of a four-room school building in the Moss Hill section of Jamaica Plain, the cost of which will be met by existing balances, thus avoiding additions to our debt structure or tax levy.

In discussing these miscellaneous activities of various departments, we might continue indefinitely to recount more or less worthwhile accomplishments, but to do so would entail considerable time. Sufficient be it for me to close this résumé of departmental activities with a word of praise for a department official. In the two previous years, I have singled out the officials of the Schoolhouse and Building Departments for the excellent results achieved. This year, I accord the City Collector and his assistants my unstinted personal and official recognition of the outstanding record made by that department. I am proud of the City Collector of Boston, and his assistants, who have made this record possible.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Snow.

The St. Valentine's Day snowstorm of last year was, in many respects, one of the worst, if not the worst, snowstorm in the recent history of the city. It was a storm of unpredicted severity, and extremely costly to both business establishments and the city government. Blizzards and snowstorms in this area are a constant challenge to city governments. To meet that challenge as well as possible, I appointed during the year a Snow Removal Committee of competent city officials. The report of this committee has been made public and I shall not now refer to its details. I am rather confident, however, that the results of this study and the new system of snow removal to be placed in operation will enable us to meet, as well as humanly possible, the yearly winter challenge of the skies. The new system, plus more authentic weather reports from the newly established Weather Bureau in our city, should provide us with better protection against these beautiful, but unwelcome, winter visitations.

Boston Elevated Railway Company.

During the early part of last year, there was considerable discussion relative to the operation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company. Because of the political complications attendant on a discussion of this matter, I was convinced that a study of the entire question by a competent, non-political body would be desirable. Therefore, under my auspices and with the aid and cooperation of the Finance Commission, a study is being made of the distribution of the receipts of the Boston Elevated Railway Company from car-riders. The purpose of this study is to ascertain if the charges have been made strictly in accordance with the provisions of the statute which authorized public control, and with due regard to the established principles of trustee management and commonly accepted methods of public utility accounting. I expect that within a short time this undertaking will have progressed to the point where it will be shown either that the large contribution annually by the taxpayers to meet the company deficit has been fully justified or that changes in the procedure of the Trustees will have to be made in order to avoid continuation of the large, yearly contribution of this city.

Conventions.

During the year, our city increased in prestige as one of the leading convention cities of the country. The largest convention held in the city was, of course, the American Legion Convention. A few facts concerning that great convention are worth setting down in the record. The Legion parade, which climaxed the Convention, was perhaps the greatest and best in the history of that splendid organization. Twelve to thirteen hours were required for the parade to pass a given point. Between two and three million persons were spectators at this great exhibition. Approximately three hundred thousand persons, including Legionnaires, delegates, and their friends converged on our city for the Legion festivities and business. It is estimated that fifteen million dollars was circulated in and around our city because of the Convention. The many activities during Legion week, religious and otherwise, were of such a nature as to cause this convention to be a memorable one in the minds of all who live in this community. Held as it was, at a time when patriotic fervor was at its height, I am happy to say that it was the generous opinion of Legionnaires themselves that the Convention held in our city was the best in the long history of the organization. So delighted were Legion officials with the success of the past Convention, that there is a possibility that precedent will be broken and in five years we may again have the honor to be hosts to the American Legion and its Auxiliary.

Housing.

Four of the eight housing projects included in the Boston Housing Authority program with the cooperation of the Federal, State and City Governments have become a reality during the past year. The projects located in Charlestown and at Lenox street have been substantially completed, and tenants are now moving in. The other two projects, located in South Boston and the Mission Hill Section of Roxbury, are nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy in the early spring. To make way for the 3,291 new dwellings in these first four projects, the Authority demolished 2,934 sub-standard dwelling units, thus ridding the city of four blighted areas. Before undertaking the demolition of these structures, it was necessary for the Authority to assist in the rehousing of 2,320, families.

In 1941, the Authority will undertake the construction of four additional projects, with approximately 2,148 new dwelling units, to be located in the South End, East Boston, and in the Heath street and Orchard park sections of Roxbury. These projects will replace approximately 1,800 sub-standard dwellings units formerly or presently occupied by 1,591 families.

The Port of Boston.

I am particularly pleased that His Excellency the Governor, in his recent inaugural message volunteered to place the resources of the State Department of Public Works in cooperation with our own Port Authority in order that the Port of Boston might be enabled to compete successfully for the commerce of the world. There are many obstacles in the way of a better Port of Boston but these obstacles will be far less formidable if we have the help and assistance of the State Government. Our own Port Authority has done valiant work in protecting the interests of our Port, but the improvements which are necessary, such as additional pier facilities, cannot be attempted without the full and generous cooperation of the State.

CONCLUSION.

Our city government in the past year, and during the previous two years, has made definite strides forward. Our financial structure is strengthened, and our machinery of government is better managed and better operated. We have attempted, with some success, I believe, to conduct the municipal government as efficiently and economically as can be done under all the circumstances which make management of the people's government an intricate and unrelenting job. We have steered the city government away from the dangers that threatened; we have neither temporized nor played politics at the expense of the people; we have done our best under extremely trying conditions; we have kept faith with the people of our city.

Like every other large city, we are faced with a multitude of problems, some of past vintage, and others of current age. The meeting of those problems is an absorbing and difficult task. Their solution is not, and cannot be found in magic formulas, nor in hastily conceived and effortless short-cuts. As in almost every other field of endeavor, progress and achievement in municipal government is possible only after unstinted effort, strict adherence to sound policies and principles, and constant care and watchfulness. If we continue, and we so intend, to persevere in the course we have chosen, we may possibly risk some loss of transitory political popularity, but we most certainly will produce results of lasting and enduring benefit, for which the citizens of our city will not fail to show the commensurate appreciation.

In the year ahead we have much work to do. I ask now for the aid of all who have a love for this city in order that success may crown our efforts We shall seek legislation of various sorts, some of which have been mentioned today, some not referred to. The recent inaugural message of His Excellency the Governor encourages me to believe that during this year we shall get a full measure of co-operation from the State government. A better Boston means a better Commonwealth, and a better Commonwealth means a better nation. We have many problems of magnitude. They can be broken down, and some entirely solved, if we get the understanding, the cooperation and the assistance of all public and private agencies, of business, and the public itself. We have made progress toward a better city. The opportunity for greater progress is ahead. If we present a united, determined front we can clear the road of the obstacles to greater progress and provide a better city for your children and mine.

Before I conclude, I wish to express my gratitude for the assistance rendered the city government in the past three years by the officials of the State government, the Legislature, county officials, school officials, the Boston Finance Commission and the various civic organizations. Their cooperation has been extremely helpful to me on many occasions. Finally, let me express my deep personal gratitude to the members of the City Council, before me here today in this Council Chamber. Our relations, I am happy to say, have been, on the whole, very pleasant, and we have worked together in a common purpose with little friction, and with much mutual understanding and appreciation.

In closing, may I venture this thought. We are all citizens of the city of Boston, and citizens too of a great nation, the United States of America. As citizens of this great country we enjoy a freedom which is in danger of disappearing from the world. We are living in a period when our modern civilization may be snuffed out, and substituted in its place the inhuman, barbaric rule of might, backed up by the sword. God grant that this may never happen in our world, and that these United States continue to be a haven of freedom and liberty. Let us, in all humility, thank God that we are Americans, and let us beseech Him that we shall deserve His guidance and His help in preserving and protecting this — the greatest government ever conceived in the mind of man.

The Mayor began his address at 2.45 p. m. and concluded at 3.34 p. m. amid applause.

After the withdrawal from the chamber of his Honor the Mayor, Chairman SHATTUCK said:

The Council will take a five-minute recess.

(The Council recess from 3.35 to 3.45 p. m., and was called to order by Coun. HURLEY, second senior member of the Council.)

Coun. HURLEY—The Council will be in order.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I move that we now proceed to the election of a President of the City Council for the year 1941.

The motion was carried.

Chairman HURLEY—The clerk will now call the roll and each member of the Council, when his name is called will announce his preference.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman HURLEY—The gentleman is out of order but may proceed in the absence of any objection.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. Chairman, I simply desire to nominate Henry L. Shattuck for the presidency of the Boston City Council. I feel, and I know many other members of this Body feel, that Mr. Shattuck is a man of high repute in this honored city of ours, a man who has served as treasurer of Harvard College, who has served as House Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature, a man who has served in this Honorable Body for eight years and is splendidly qualified and equipped for the honorable office of president of the Boston City Council. I pray that the members of this Body disregard the attitude that has been shown on many other occasions when the question of electing a president of the Body has come before us. The City Charter declares this Body to be a non-partisan body, and as such we should in selecting a president not be governed by the fact that a man is a Democrat or a Republican. Such a feeling is contrary to the intent and purpose of this municipal government of ours, and we should not elect a president on political grounds. We should simply endeavor to select a man who is well qualified for the position, a man who as president will reflect honor and credit on the Body. I suggest, therefore, that Henry L. Shattuck is a man well qualified to hold this office, and a man whom I sincerely trust the members of the Body will vote for as president. Disregard the political angle, which does not exist under our charter in this municipal government of ours, and give consideration to Mr. Shattuck, a fine gentleman, who is entitled to hold this honorable office.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman HURLEY—The Chair hears no objection.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. Chairman, this year some members of the Council have again urged me to be a candidate for the presidency, stating that if I were a candidate they would vote for me. Last year I was similarly urged, but I did not become a candidate. I personally appreciate the feelings of those who would like to vote for me as president of the Council this year, those who would cast their votes for me if I were a candidate. I shall always appreciate their loyalty to me, but this year I am not a candidate for the presidency, and I ask them to vote for some other member of the Council.

Chairman HURLEY—The clerk will call the roll, and members, when their names are reached, will announce their preference.

The clerk called the roll, and members responded, with the following result:

For Henry L. Shattuck — Coun. Carey, Chase and Linehan — 3.

For D. F. Sullivan — Coun. Coffey — 1.

For William J. Galvin — Coun. Englert, Fish, Galvin, Goode, Gottlieb, Hurley, Hutchinson, Kelly, Langan, Lyons, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor, Ward, Wickes — 17.

Before the result was announced, Coun. Coffey changed his vote from D. F. Sullivan to William J. Galvin, the result then standing three for Henry L. Shattuck and eighteen for William J. Galvin, Coun. Galvin being thereupon declared elected President of the Council for the year 1941. (Applause.)

The Chair appointed Coun. Coffey and M. H. Sullivan a committee to escort the newly-elected President to the chair, and they performed the duty assigned, amid applause.

President GALVIN, on taking the chair, said: I want to thank the members of the Boston City Council for the confidence they have shown in me by electing me President of the Body for 1941. I assure the members of the Council that I will be fair and impartial throughout the entire year on every question or problem that comes before the Council. I want to thank you very much. (Applause.)

ISSUANCE OF TEMPORARY NOTES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 6, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the City Auditor. In accordance with the recommendation contained therein I submit an order providing for the issuance in anticipation of the revenue receipts of the year 1941 of temporary notes in an amount not to exceed $40,000,000. I respectfully recommend consideration and adoption of this order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

January 6, 1941.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—It is customary to submit to the City Council at its first meeting in the new year an order authorizing the issuance as needed during the year of temporary loans in anticipation of revenue receipts. I respectfully recommend that an order in this amount be submitted to the City Council for consideration and adoption.

Respectfully,
CHARLES J. FOX, City Auditor.

The said city treasurer is hereby further authorized to renew or refund any such notes issued for a shorter period than one year, under the provisions of section 17 of chapter 44 of the General Laws.

FREE DENTAL CLINICS FOR ADULTS.

Coun. GOTTLIEB offered the following:

Whereas, A recent survey of dental clinics in the City of Boston available to the general public indicates that there is no existing free adult dental service to the residents of Boston; and

Whereas, The dental clinics now available to children are wholly inadequate; and

Whereas, Recent statistics compiled by the medical staffs of the Boston Draft Board prove that bad teeth have been the chief factor in most rejections; and

Whereas, The welfare allowances to the needy residents of Boston do not provide for the care of teeth; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council recommends an immediate conference of the Boston Health Commission and the trustees of the George Robert White Fund to be called by his Honor the Mayor for the purpose of planning and establishing free adult dental clinics in the City of Boston and to further enlarge present facilities for free dental service to the children of Boston.

The question came on the passage of the resolution.

Coun. GOTTLIEB.— Mr. President, I can think of no better way to start the New Year in this Council than to continue along the lines I have pursued in the past year, urging the Mayor, through orders and resolutions I have presented, to take steps looking to the establishment of more and better clinics providing for dental and medical care for the citizens of Boston. I have been amazed and astounded that in a city of the size of Boston there is no existing free adult dental clinic. In other words, there is no way in which adults may receive welfare aid at any free adult dental clinic in this city. We have in the city various hospitals and clinics that provide dental services, but these hospitals and clinics have always charged a fee for that type of service. The welfare budget does not provide a sufficient sum for dental care. There is barely sufficient money for food, shelter and clothing. I have in the past year urged the establishment of more baby clinics and other health centers in the Dorchester district, in Ward 14 and in the rest of the City of Boston. The resolution I have offered today does not deal with any particular section of the city. I would, however, like to point out to the members of the Body that in the Ward 14 district of the city, which today is the city's largest voting district, there is neither a dental, a baby nor a health clinic, nor a municipal gymnasium. I believe there has been enough agitation along this line not only from the people of my district, but the people of the entire City of Boston, an agitation which has manifested itself time and time again through resolutions presented to the Body asking the Mayor of this city as well as the trustees of the George Robert White Fund, to lead to something to alleviate the situation. I trust that the members will pass this resolution, and that the Mayor will call an early conference which will include the Health Commissioner and the trustees of the George Robert White Fund, so that immediate action may be taken to establish a free dental clinic and to consider the question of more health centers in our city.

The resolution was passed, under suspension of the rule.

STREET LIGHTING CONDITIONS, BEACON STREET.

Coun. WARD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of street lighting conditions along Beacon street, from number 2500 to Cleveland Circle, with a view to installing whatever arc lights may be necessary in this area.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ANNUITY TO ALICE M. STEVENS.

Coun. WARD offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the payment of an annuity of one thousand dollars to Alice M. Stevens, widow of Thomas J. Stevens, a member of the Fire Department, who was killed in the performance of his duty, provided that said legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CENSORSHIP OF SHOW AT WILBUR THEATRE.

Coun. WARD offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Censor be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately investigate the show now playing at the Wilbur Theatre.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I realize how futile it is at times to stand up in a Body of this kind and criticize any show or play in the City of Boston, or any other place, with a hope of having something indecent corrected. But when you receive, as I have, six complaints of what the complainants consider a rotten show in the Wilbur Theater, so rotten that they feel that not only should the City Censor have closed it up, but that the police should arrest the persons responsible for giving shows of that type to Boston, with a strong suggestion that the people responsible for it should be brought into court and action taken so that the people of our city may view decent shows in the future, certainly something should be done about it. If the people of New York wish to have this kind of show, let them keep it there and not send it to this city. I trust that the City Censor will immediately investigate this matter at the theater and will immediately close the rotten show there. I remember a short time ago one of the finest organizations in Boston, the Volunteers of America, were interested in providing a show for the benefit of old folks, to raise money to help them, and they suggested that the Majestic Theater, also a theater run by the Shuberts, might be willing to assist in putting on the show, for the purpose of bringing sunshine into the lives of some of these old people in the City of Boston. But the theater people insisted that they would have to pay for it. So we owe those people nothing, and in spite of that fact they are proceeding to put on these shows, which are really a crime, in the City of Boston.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I feel that in this present hour the people of Boston are entitled to legitimate entertainment, something that will give them a chance to relax and enjoy themselves in a proper way in these troublous times. But I think we all feel that what the people of Boston need is legitimate and decent entertainment. I don't know anything about the contents of the play which is at the Wilbur at the present time. I remember reading about it before it came to Boston, and I remember something to the effect that when it came here it was a play of such a type that it would certainly have to be cleaned up before being presented to our people. Whatever statements I make, however, are made without any personal knowledge of the play, except what we hear. But I do feel, in view of what we have heard, that there is something wrong about this play, that it seems to be an offence to human decency. This is in line with what I objected to myself awhile ago in advertising pictures that were put up in certain parts of the town, setting forth what was offered in certain burlesque shows, and which were certainly an offence to the moral sense of our people, particularly when you consider that they were exposed in places where they could be seen not only by adults but by the younger generation. I attribute much of that sort of thing to the burlesque houses in Boston, which are creating a civic stench. There are more burlesque houses in Boston than in any other city in the country of similar population, and the fact that this sort of thing has been allowed in this city is certainly a distinct reflection on the people of Boston. During the Christmas season, when people were takng little children around in the department store section of the city, they were confronted by this sort of thing, this indecency and menace to the public morals openly posted in our streets where it could be seen not only by older people but by the children. The children of Charlestown, Roxbury, South Boston and other sections, as they went about the streets, were confronted with these pornographic pictures. I think it is time that that sort of thing should be banished from our city. I don't know what power there may be to do so under the law at present; if there is not, the law is inadequate and should be amended. The Mayor should delegate the Corporation Counsel to petition the Legislature so that we may have more power, if it is necessary, to clean up this immoral theater situation in Boston. As I say, I don't know the contents of the play that Councilor Ward has referred to today. But I did, as I have said, have occasion some weeks ago to take up this question of pornographic advertising by some of the burlesque theaters in our city, and if the law at present does not give us a remedy, does not cover the situation, certainly some action should be immediately taken that will do so. I would suggest that certainly the police have the right to enter these theaters and clean them up, and I trust that it will be done. It is time to do it, in the interest of decency, and certainly for the protection of the young, and I hope that this order which has been presented will be the first step in the way of definite action in that regard.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL, DORCHESTER.

Coun. WICKES, FISH, GOTTLIEB, KELLY and HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of constructing an emergency hospital in some convenient location in the Dorchester district, either with W. P. A. funds or from the income of the George Robert White Fund.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

NOTIFICATION OF LEGISLATIVE HEARINGS.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That the legislative agent for the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to notify the members of the City Council of the existence of any bill or bills pending before the Legislature which pertain to the Council now or at any time in the future, and the date of the hearing of said bill or bills.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO WELFARE WORKERS IN SANITARY DIVISION.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of the Public Welfare Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to credit each welfare recipient assigned to work, for his assistance in the Sanitary Division of the Public Works Department, with $5 for each day's work performed.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, what has prompted me is—what I explained to the Body last week—the condition of the streets of the City of Boston, having in mind the way they were left during the Christmas holidays. From time to time in the past year, when the occasion has arisen, I have found myself confronted with the same situation and the same difficulty. I have had several conversations with the yard foreman of the Sanitary Division and also with some of the men on aid who have been working for the division, and I think it is agreed by all that many of the welfare workers who have been working on the streets have been putting in a hard day's work in the Sanitary Division and should receive more pay for it than they have been receiving. When I say that they should receive more pay I don't mean that the welfare workers are not now working faithfully in the Sanitary Division for the compensation they receive, but I do feel that if these people on welfare were given a decent day's pay for a good day's work, such as would be received by anybody else, they would be very much encouraged and would feel that they were getting fair play. I think with that encouragement they would put in even greater effort and that our streets would be kept cleaner in the year to come. We have individuals today on welfare, working for the Sanitary Division of the city, receiving, say, $10 a week for five days' work, which is equivalent to but $2 a day. Of course, you or I or anybody else cannot be expected to do the same hard, honest, sincere and faithful work, when we realize that we are not getting anything like as much as the other fellow who is doing the same work but who does not happen to be on the welfare roll; and certainly when men get but $10 a week for a five-day week, they find it very difficult to support and shelter their families and themselves. Therefore, I say, in order to start the New Year right, those individuals who are doing the same work as the ordinary person employed by the City of Boston, who is receiving $5 a day, should be put on a similar financial basis. If, therefore, these welfare workers in the Sanitary Division are given this encouragement and incentive, I am sure that, recognizing the fact that they are being treated in a human way, they will eliminate such conditions as have faced us in our streets in the Christmas holidays. I think, carrying out this idea, we will have no trouble during the year in our Sanitary Division through unclean streets. I trust, Mr. President, that the order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NAMING OF STREETS FOR WORLD WAR VETERANS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to name one street or way in the new Mission Hill housing area in honor of Martin Huban, late veteran of the World War, and to name one street or way in the same housing area in honor of Henry F. Horadan, also a late veteran of the World War.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EXTERMINATION OF RODENT LIFE.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council on the following matter at his earliest opportunity:

What means has the Health Commissioner taken to exterminate the rodent life in Boston?

Has the Health Commissioner endeavored to educate the public as to the best means of combatting this nuisance and health menace?

Will the Health Commissioner sponsor a W. P. A. project for the purpose of exterminating rodent life in alleys, freight yards and elsewhere in Boston?

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, over a year ago I introduced an order somewhat similar requesting the Health Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, to sponsor a W. P. A. project to rid Boston of rodent life. At that time the former Health Commissioner said that it would not be practical to have W. P. A. men endeavoring to capture these rats and thus reduce the rodent life because of the peculiar characteristics of the rats, hiding in buildings and so on, that it would be an almost impossible task, therefore, to check this rodent life in Boston. Now, I am from Missouri. I cannot conceive of anything that is more important in our municipal life than to tackle this problem, getting down to brass tacks and organizing the necessary man power, backed by the proper educational resources to educate the public, thus eliminating this public threat. I cannot conceive why some good should not come from the suggestions we adopted in this Body last week, requesting the Health Commissioner to sponsor a W. P. A. project to exterminate rodent life in this city. You and I know, Mr. President, that we have had many W. P. A. projects that have not really contributed anything to the City of Boston in the employment of idle men. Conditions have got to a point in this city, so far as rats are concerned, that are really impossible. I have looked into this matter on many occasions, and I think I know something about conditions not only in my own section, but in other parts of the city. I contend that rodent life is one of our great menaces, and it is a disgrace that the Health Commissioner does not take steps to deal with the situation. It is my honest belief that the Health Commissioner can render much good by dealing drastically with this terrible situation that exists in this city, and I say that the people of Boston have a right to demand a strong effort on the part of our municipal government to rid Boston of this sort of life. Doctors have requested the Health Commissioner to do something in the matter, and there have been broadcasts over the radio and publicity in the newspapers; and I myself have received many letters telling me that I am right, letters from fathers and mothers stating that their children have been bitten by rats. I know that the subject is not a very pleasant one, but it is a matter that should be taken hold of. Certainly, where we have this menace and nuisance in our city some means should be adopted of ridding the city of this pest. It is something that the Health Commissioner should properly take an active part in. The presence of these rats in large numbers in different parts of our city frightens people. Women are afraid to be alone in their houses or to go into their back yards. The situation in our alleys, freight yards and other places, not only in my section but in other sections of the city, is a constant menace. I say that the people of this city are entitled to some protection, and I trust that the time will come when our Health Commissioner will fall in line with the health officers of other municipalities in America in taking radica action on the matter.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, at this time I don't think it is proper to load too much upon our Health Commissioner in this way. In the first place, it seems to me that the people of the Back Bay, people represented by our colleague, should themselves take proper steps to help eliminate this rat menace. If the people of the Back Bay keep up their properties, there will not be the trouble there that there is today. It is really up to the people themselves. Why should we in West Roxbury, or in other sections of Boston, have to help pay because the people of the Back Bay want us to keep a few mice out? I think they should do it themselves. We don't have this trouble. I think the Health Commissioner is doing a swell job, and that it is not fair to impose this work on him at this time. I believe the order should be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, I agree with the remarks that have just been made by the Councilor from West Roxbury, in all fairness to our Health Commissioner, a man who I believe is doing a fine job here in Boston during the short space of time he has held office. And may I say that if we delve into this situation of menaces to health we may find that more attention should be paid to humanity, that that would do more good in this city than to spend money in the way proposed.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I believe the gentleman from Roslindale is in error when he intimates that the only rodent life that exists in Boston is in the Back Bay. There are many sections of Boston that are infested with this rat nuisance, many of the congested areas of the city where the people are not so fortunate as those who live in Roslindale and West Roxbury. I think the congested areas of the West End, North End, South End and Back Bay, and intown Boston generally, have to suffer from a situation that may not exist to the same extent in the outlying communities. Our homes are built more closely together; our conditions are more congested. We do not have the beautiful parkways that the people in the outlying sections of Boston have—although I may add that we in the intown areas are heavy taxpayers, that we pay a large proportion of the tax levy of this city, expanded to a great extent in other sections, and that we have a right to look to our municipal government for relief from such a menace as exists in our sections in this rodent life. We have in the Back Bay and in the downtown sections, for example, warehouses and storehouses for food and other supplies; we have freight yards, narrow alleys and other areas that particularly attract rodent life, and in that way we face a menace that the outlying sections do not have to contend with. The outlying sections have their problems, and we contribute materially to their relief, and in all fairness they owe something to the people of the intown areas, in dealing with our problems. We have many areas that are overrun with rats, as I have pointed out, and there are the Boston and Albany and the New York Central track areas which afford a natural breeding place for these rodents, with the conditions that exist there. I am asking for a remedy for a condition that exists and threatens the citizens of my district, as well as the citizens of other downtown sections of Boston, and I ask the members of the Council to help us to meet this menace. It is a terrible menace. I can assure the gentleman from Roslindale and other members in outlying sections that in the congested downtown areas the people are up in arms in regard to this matter. It is a terrible situation.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

SUFFICIENT NUMBER OF ASH BARRELS.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to send out letters recommending to the property owners that they have sufficient ash barrels or containers in order that the streets of Boston may be kept clean and that the refuse will be properly collected.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, before putting this order in I had a conversation with the Public Works Commissioner, who informed me that some of the fault for improper collection of refuse lies with the property owners, who do not have a sufficient supply of ash barrels or containers. I agree with that in part, and therefore I am requesting that the Public Works Commissioner send out notices recommending to the property owners that they have sufficient ash barrels or containers so that the streets of Boston may be kept clean and that the refuse will be properly collected. If such a plan is carried out, the City of Boston will be much cleaner in the year 1941. I know that if such a request is properly made of property owners, they will work in cooperation with the city in trying to make the City of Boston one of the cleanest cities in the United States.

The order was passed, under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned on motion of Coun. RUSSO at 5.09 p. m., to meet on Monday, January 13, 1941, at 2 p. m.

CORRECTION.

Through oversight, the following was inadvertently omitted from the remarks of Coun. Linehan under the heading "Criticism of League of Women Voters," at the bottom of the first column on page 463 of the Council Minutes, under date of December 16, 1940, following the words "Personally, on this matter, I believe that Miss McSweeney and the League of Women Voters are wrong":

"The statements in the newspaper, by the way, are credited to Miss McSweeney and not to the entire membership of the Boston League of Women Voters. She is, of course, entitled to her own personal opinion, but I am certain that it is her opinion and not the opinion of all the members, because I am sure that several members of the League, who are constituents of mine, in fact, one of them is in the gallery at this time,—do not agree with Miss McSweeney. As a matter of fact, not all of the principles or objectives of the League are approved by all of the members, any more than everything passed in this Body is passed unanimously. There are many things which the League sponsors and advocates which I in the past have voted for, and probably will sponsor in the future, when the opportunity presents itself. Their organization, like many others, has its proper place in our form of government. Let us at least listen politely to what the members have to say."

Chairman: The Chair wishes to announce that we have finished all of the appointments that are going in tonight. We have been trying to decide what action we would take on the petition of the junior elementary group. We have before us three different plans. We did not have a full membership of the Committe at our conference and after some discussion as to which plan we would accept, it was the consensus of opinion that we should have another meeting on Friday night.

To that meeting we will invite representatives of the junior elementary group to sit in with the Committee, so that we may adopt the plan that will be most acceptable as well as the best plan We will make our decision after we have the advice of the junior elementary teachers.

We will give the junior elementaries a conference with the School Committee on Friday afternoon. We will have the plans there and will take action immediately after the conclusion of the conference.

Will the committee that is present be your executive committee?

Miss Lynch: We will have the Board of Directors.

Chairman: Does the Board of Directors comprise girls from various places on the list?

Miss Lynch: Yes. Some of the first fifty and some of the second fifty.

Mr. Lee: Does the Board of Directors comprise girls from the examined list?

Miss Lynch: No.

Chairman: It should comprise girls on the examined list, too, because some of your members are on the examined list.

Mr. Lee: Wouldn't it be well to have some from the examined list with them?

It was then explained that certain girls who are on both lists are on the Board of Directors.

TRAINING FOR INDUSTRY

(Following the transaction of routine business, Mr. Norton announced that Hon. John F. Fitzgerald was present and desired to address the School Committee).

Mr. Fitzgerald: Good evening, everybody. As long as I am given the opportunity to talk here tonight by the School Committee, I hope that you young ladies will listen very carefully, because the things that I am going to say are pretty serious about the situation in Boston and particularly in regard to the teaching in the schools, because we are at a point where in my opinion we have to do ever so much more than we are doing at present.

The President of the United States yesterday made rather a cryptic statement, saying that if the world is in existence he would be back again at Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia.

It was guessing, on his part, but at the same time, coming from the President of the United States who undoubtedly knows more about world conditions than any man in the United States, it is pretty significant.

On top of that we had the statement from Mr. Knudsen the other day that we must do infinitely more work than we are doing in production lines and, unless we are on the job, we are going to be met with very serious consequences within a very short time. It is my opinion that the people of Boston, generally speaking, are not at all awake to world-wide conditions and to what our duties are under those particular circumstances.

I came over here rather hurriedly after a very busy day with the Electoral College, of which I am a member. As it took us about all our time, I made a rather hurried call through my good friend Mr. Norton and fortunately I was able to get this time.

In tonight's Globe there is a special article by Louis M. Lyons, in which he tells about what the Pratt & Whitney people are doing in Hartford. Representatives of school systems sought the co-operation of the Pratt & Whitney Company to learn their training methods, but there were none from Boston or from the Massachusetts

State Department of Education.

Having in mind what President Roosevelt said and what President Knudsen said, it made me believe that it was my duty to appear before the School Committee and discuss this situation.

I suppose you are familiar with the fact that my last act as Mayor of the city of Boston was to establish the Trade School. I got the Franklin Institute established, after a very stiff fight against Matthews and other interests whose point of view I could not get except that they did not like the idea of associating education with trades. But I won out and we got the Franklin Institute.

As to the Wentworth Institute I had the good fortune when I was a young fellow in the North End, to know Mr. Wentworth. He was in the marble industry when I went to the Common Council. When he died he left a large amount of money to the Wentworth Institute.

I changed the course at Mechanic Arts High School, and it was a hard fight, because the then Head Master was insisting on sending boys from Mechanic Arts High School to Technology. I went over there one day because of one of the boys who could not get in. I asked how many boys were denied admission and I said I thought the school was intended for boys who did not have particular capacity for academic studies.

At about that time there was an appropriation pending for $600,000, and I said to Mr. Storrow, then Chairman of the School Committee. "You do not get a dollar until you change that school's curriculum so that dirty hands will be given a chance." I don't know what happened, but I won out.

I was instrumental in bringing Mr. Dyer here, because he knew trades and knew trade instruction. I could talk for hours upon this subject.

We are up against a crucial situation in the United States today, and I do not think that Boston is doing its duty. And that is the reason I am up here tonight.

When there are these opportunities in Pratt & Whitney's to get boys in, and practically all of the school departments are represented except Boston and Massachusetts, I felt it was my duty to come over here tonight and put this thing before you.

Chairman: May I see that paper?

[Mr. Fitzgerald hands paper to the Chairman.]

Mr. Fitzgerald: I am on the Boston Port Authority We need training very much for our boys if this city is to be alive. We need boys trained to become seamen.

We have had a Nautical School in this state which has had a hard time keeping alive, notwithstanding that our situation on the ocean gives us the best opportunity in the world to get the commerce of the world. In proportion to our situation and our potentialities, we have the least influence of any community in the world in merchandising throughout the world.

As a member of the Boston Port Authority I have been ashamed on going over to the Massachusetts Nautical Ship in the last half dozen years at graduation, to find perhaps one Boston boy among the graduates. They come from New Bedford, they come from Haverhill; they come from Springfield and all those other places in proper numerical proportion, except from Boston which lies on the ocean as you know nearer Europe and nearer South America than any other part of the country.

We expect to double the capacity of the Boston Navy Yard. We do not know where we are going to get the mechanics. Possession has already been taken of a building in South Boston for a repair shop, because Boston is the point of the North Atlantic Coast where vessels must seek shelter if we get into any trouble.

Your first duty here in this community at the present time is to prepare boys to know seamanship, to know mechanics, to know how to repair vessels. The great need in the world today is ships, ships and more ships.

Due to a Boston boy, Joseph P. Kennedy, we have an Act which gives us the opportunity to build hundreds of thousands of tons of shipping.

Great Britain is on its last resources. I was told the other day that there are 350 ships in Halifax waiting to go across, but they have no ships to guide them. Ships are scarce

There should be a greater interest in Boston in training boys in the schools for these jobs, in training them in the merchandising of our products and our resources, in a city that at one time led the world in shipping.

It makes men like myself, and others with whom I am associated on the Boston Port Authority, rather sick to think of the proposition that we are opening up the Navy Yard and find it is necessary to seek mechanics in every part of the United States except Boston, and Massachusetts, and this part of the country. There is one of the evidences that I produced here tonight, that statement from Louis M. Lyons, where several school departments sought the co-operation of Pratt & Whitney. And Pratt & Whitney was started by a Boston boy who graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is now the confidential adviser of the President of the United States. When he graduated 15 or 20 years ago there was no atmosphere for machine projects here, and he went to Hartford.

If any of these young ladies were asked what is Hartford noted for, they would say that it is noted for insurance. Today, through the brains and the initiative of this boy who at one time lived in Winchester, Hartford has $750,000,000 worth of orders for aircraft engines, and they are looking to every part of the United States to furnish mechanics. When I was at the meeting of the New England Council about a month ago, they told me that at Hartford they had an M. I. T. Club of 300 members, most of them getting high salaries building engines down in Hartford. Here where they were graduated, there is no atmosphere at all. Occasionally there will be a shop making some small machine parts. That is the atmosphere I find in Boston.

I am not here to find fault with the School Committee, because I know the members of the School Committee and I am very fond of the present Superintendent of Schools and the men who have been associated with the Boston schools all the time that I have known anything about the life of this city.

I am bothered when the President of the United States makes the statement that he made yesterday, when Mr. Knudsen says you should get on the job, and I realize how little we are doing here in preparing boys and in taking advantage of the opportunity to give mechanical training, so that every one of those boys with the power inherent in him, can be 100 per cent able to give himself to this situation that the President says confronts us.

I think something more should be done by the Boston School Committee than is being done at the present time. I think something more should be done by the State Department of Education upon the matter, than they are doing at the present time. I do not know what difficulties we may get into. It may be over night. It may be three or four months from now. We are dealing with a power that has never been equalled since God made the earth. I am speaking of this man who has control of affairs in Europe.

My opinion is that it is the duty of every individual in Boston, particularly those who have any power, to so organize this city that every bit of energy and initiative that each one of us possesses shall be put to work 100 per cent.

That is my story.

Mr. Lee: As a matter of information I would like to enumerate twelve things that we are doing, Mr. Fitzgerald, which I think feed into all the things you are speaking of. It is not adequate but it is feeding. It is important to have the public know of these things and to get Mr. Fitzgerald's suggestions for further steps.

No. 1: We have proposed a new Trade School and a new Mechanic Arts High School, and the particulars are being studied.

Mr. Fitzgerald: We want it now. I don't know what you are thinking about doing in the future. I want it now

Mr. Lee: I would like to proceed and enumerate what we are doing.

I am not always successful in getting my proposals reported on by the Board of Superintendents as promptly as I should like, but I think the blame may not be theirs, as they have not a full Board. One member has been sick and they are short-handed.

No. 2: We opened up an Evening Opportunity School this year where the unemployed fellow may go in the evening and learn a paying job.

No. 3: We have written to the graduates who left school in 1932, to find what they are doing, how they are doing, what they are receiving, for whom they are working. whether the schools gave them what they wanted, or whether the schools failed to give them what they wanted. When we have that survey completed we will have an occupational and educational panorama.

No. 4: In regard to the Port, we have sent memorials to you saying that we were 100 per cent back of the Port.

On my own hook, as it was not a School Committee function, I taught a thousand youngsters to sail on the Charles River. Even at Annapolis, American midshipmen must learn to sail a boat.

The Metropolitan District Commission is putting on a big program to teach thousands how to sail.

Mr. Fitzgerald: Hitler will have the world by the time those fellows get to be sailors.

Mr. Lee: About all you can do is to develop from where you are.

Mr. Fitzgerald: You have to be interested in the schools. I don't want to waste your time. I would like to see some interest in training by the masters of the schools.

Mr. Lee: I have only gone through about three points. I still have nine ahead of me.

Mr. Fitzgerald: I hope they are better than those.

Mr. Lee: If you want to say that you do not want a Trade School, say it openly.

Mr. Fitzgerald: That is what I came here to get.

Mr Lee: Don't find fault if you are proceeding to get it.

No. 5: We found that the courses set up by the Federal Government to train mechanics for the Navy Yard and the arsenals were taking men who could not be trained in a short space of time, and we wrote to the Federal authorities and asked them to take men from sources other than the WPA, to take men from Mechanic Arts High School and Trade School, and give them the necessary special experience so that they could come out qualified for the work they had to do. As a result, the ruling was changed, and 50 per cent of the men they are taking are not just WPA men but men who have gained a mechanical background in Mechanic Arts High School and our Trade School.

Mr. Fitzgerald: I went to Washington on that myself six months ago.

Mr. Lee: No. 6: Tonight we voted to put another highly qualified man, to whom we are having to give an especially attractive salary, to help out the man in our school system who is in charge of training these people for defense industries.

No. 7: We are the first school system in the United States to realize that youngsters must understand how this industrial world works and to start courses in economics. Half of these courses have already begun and the other half will start after January 1 in the upper five grades of the Boston schools, so that the youngsters will get a sense of the way that this business world hangs together.

No. 8: More than that, we have started an activity to acquaint the youngsters in the schools with the personal biographies of Boston business, so that they will understand how the big industries of Boston grew up, when they grew up, who their leaders were, what they looked like, what customers they were selling to, what raw materials they were dealing in. And this will be a personal, human, warm thing. They will understand and know something about the leading citizens of Boston, not as they would know their neighbors in a small town, but they will know something about the leading citizens which are the corporations, companies and partnerships that are carrying on the business of Boston, who made it the city that it became and who will continue to keep it going.

An attempt is being made to personalize the employment picture.

No. 9: We are also trying to use our shops for mechanical training from eight o'clock in the morning until five at night, not confining their use to the school day from nine to three. That is in some of the schools and we are attempting to see if we can start that in all the schools.

No. 10: We are the beneficiaries of a report gotten up by Mr. Owen Young's committee, called "What the High Schools Ought to Teach," which echoes many of the points that you have brought out. It has just come off the press. I have copies of it here. I will be glad to give you one and will be glad to give one to each of the members of the School Committee and the Board of Superintendents, so that we can get a summarization along the lines that you speak of.

No. 11: Since I have been on the Committee we have opened a Vocational High and Opportunity School to further give our youngsters a chance to equip themselves for our industries and commerce before they leave school.

No. 12: Within the year we have combined departments that deal with the adjustment of students as individuals, into a single department, temporarily called the "Bureau of Child Accounting," so as to get the liveliest possible leadership in adjusting the youngster's outlook to the business world that lies ahead of him.

We want to do anything further that we can do. I have listed more than half a dozen steps which we have taken, which feed right down the channel which you feel is so crucial and as to which I thoroughly agree with you.

Mr. Fitzgerald: Those things are all right, and I want to commend Mr. Lee for a lot of things that he has done. The situation that we are faced with is immediate and, as I said before, Mr. Knudsen says you have to go faster. I do not think it ought to be the policy of the School Committee to wait upon these things until they develop.

Chairman: May I interrupt to say, Mr. Fitzgerald, that we have tried to keep pace.

We are now in the schools, both day and evening, training apprentices for the Navy Yard.

Mr. Fitzgerald: How many hours a day?

Chairman: At the Mechanic Arts High School, we are running from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until midnight. At Boston Trade School East Boston High School, Hyde Park High School, and South Boston High School, we are running from 10.30 at night until 7.30 in the morning on defense programs. In addition, we are operating the usual evening school classes, and classes on evenings and on Saturday mornings for apprentices and journeymen.

Mr. Fitzgerald: I understand there are 1200 boys trying to get into Trade School. What is being done for those boys?

Chairman: We are now studying a plan for an addition to the Trade School.

Mr. Fitzgerald: Pratt & Whitney are willing to take them in and other organizations are in need of mechanics.

Superintendent: At Pratt & Whitney boys must be 18 to be admitted.

Chairman: It may be that all of our boys are employed. About 98 per cent of our Trade School graduates have received employment.

Mr. Fitzgerald: What about the 1200 who are trying to get into Trade Schools and other schools where you have not got the accommodations for them? This thing has to be immediate, because Hitler is moving all the time.

Chairman: We have been trying to go ahead as fast as we can.

Mr. Fitzgerald: That may be so but it is not a good thing to be aware of the fact—as I am and probably you are—that the Charlestown Navy Yard, the Watertown Arsenal and the Fore River Shipyard are full of automobiles that come from every state in the union. One state other than Massachusetts has more than a hundred mechanics employed in these yards, because they cannot find the men in Boston.

Mr. Norton: Mr. Fitzgerald, the School Committee, I am sure, wants you to feel that they will always be glad to hear from you. The budget is coming before us in the next couple of weeks, and any suggestions that you may offer will be gratefully received.

There is no one on the Committee who has fought harder for what you stand for than this same Joe Lee here. (Applause.)

Mr. Fitzgerald: I appreciate that fact.

This will be of interest to some of the young girls here who are looking for positions. You cannot keep the schools going unless you get the tax money, and the tax rate in Boston is $41.50, with $50,000,000 borrowed in the last seven years to keep it down, as against $26 and $27, and the average less than $30 in the big cities of the country.

The part of the city that has given the bulk of the tax money as long as I can remember has dropped back $450,000,000 in the last five years. This is something that school teachers should absorb better than somebody else.

There is an opinion that the valuation of the City may be reduced, through rulings of the Appellate Tax Board at the State House, which will result in a drop of at least $200,000,000 more, which will mean a $60 tax rate in Boston.

Industrial employment in Boston has dropped from 89,000 persons industrially employed in 1928 to 54,000 persons industrially employed, a drop of 40 per cent in Boston in twelve years.

With the other members of the Boston Port Authority, for the last six years I have been trying to build up the commerce of Boston, to get young men interested in trade with other countries. In that section of the city adjacent to the wharves, the buildings are falling down and you cannot give them away.

From the last statistics that I got in connection with exports from this country, representing about a billon and a half dollars, New York did 83 per cent, and Boston, a city that at one time led the world in shipping, did one per cent. Mr. Norton is familiar with these figures. New York had 83 times the exports of the port of Boston.

As to the South American trade, which I tried to help when I was in the Mayor's office, New York exported 75 per cent and Boston exported 3/10 of one per cent.

I had intended to interest my friends among the school teachers —and I have some of my best friends teaching in the Boston schools—in those figures in the last half-dozen years, and in the commerce of this city. I have pointed to the fact that Boston owed its growth to its commerce and to the ambition of its men to seek business in different parts of the world. I am giving you the figures that exist in this city now and I am looking for you to follow.

That is why I am so interested in trade instruction. With Technology, the Franklin Institute, the Wentworth Institute, and the Boston Trade School, I cannot understand why Hartford, an insurance center, should have $750,000,000 worth of airplane contracts and we should have none. And they are trying to get our boys, and boys from all over the country to go down there and learn to do this work.

It is a big problem and it cannot be solved by a man who is in his 78th year, fighting alone and carrying the flag.

Mr. Norton: I wonder if we might have from the stenographer a copy of Mayor Fitzgerald's remarks and Mr. Lee's remarks.

Mr. Fitzgerald: Nobody has been more friendly than I have been. It was on my initiative that the school teachers got their permanent setting and their permanent increase.

I cannot think of those figures I have given you now, but you can imagine the significance of one per cent of exports as compared with New York's 83 per cent and 3-10 of one per cent to South America, together with your industrial employees dropping off 40 per cent in the last 15 years, and then to witness this thing tonight. (Referring to article in the Boston Globe by Louis M. Lyons.) They had representatives at Pratt & Whitney from all around here except from Boston and the Massachusetts Department of Education under Mr. Downey.

Chairman: We always know, Mr. Fitzgerald, when you appear before us that you are here to do some good for the city of Boston.

Mr. Fitzgerald: I hope so. Thank you.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF CONSTRUCTION

A communication was received from the Superintendent of Construction, Department of School Buildings, under date of Dec. 20, 1940, submitting his annual report for the year ending Dec. 31, 1939, and calling attention to pages 6 to 19, inclusive, which show in detail the activities of the Department during the financial year 1939.

Mr. Mahar pointed out that during the years 1936 and 1937 the expenditures in this Department amounted to $2,099,929.85 for the two years.

During 1938 and 1939 under his administration, the expenditures amounted to $1,389 993.34 for these two years, or a reduction in expenditures and saving to the taxpayers of the City of Boston for this period of $709,936.51.

The communication was placed on file and the report accepted.

Chairman: I want to say that the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings in the last three years has done a remarkably fine job, and I know every member of the School Committee wishes to express his appreciation of the work they have done in cutting down our expenses.

Mr. Norton: Mr. Mahar, the Superintendent of Construction, is one of the finest in the employ of the City and has done a remarkable job, as well as Mr. Dazzi, Mr. Baxter, and Mr. William Lee, who have done splendid work.

ELECTION OF COMMISSIONER OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The Chairman announced that the term of office of William L. Baxter, Commissioner of School Buildings and the School Committee's representative on that Board, expired Dec. 1, 1940. The election of a Commissioner is, therefore, now in order.

A roll call being ordered, the members voted as follows:

For WILLIAM L. BAXTER — Messrs. Lee, McDevitt, Norton, Sullivan, and White—5.

The Chairman declared William L. Baxter unanimously elected Commissioner of School Buildings for a period of three years, ending Dec. 1, 1943.

REDUCTION IN QUOTA OF PUPILS IN GRADES II AND III

The Chairman stated the question was on acceptance of the recommendation of the Board of Superintendents for the reduction in quota of pupils to a teacher in Grades II and III to thirty-five, to correspond with the present quota in Grade I.

A roll call being ordered, the recommendation was adopted by the following vote:

YEAS — Messrs. Lee, McDevitt, Norton, Sullivan, and White.

Question then came on the passage of an amendment to Section 291, paragraph 5 of the regulations, to carry into effect the recommendation of the Board of Superintendents for reduction in quota of pupils in Grades II and III, the amendment in question being as follows:

ORDERED, That the regulations are hereby amended as follows:

Section 291, paragraph 5. Strike out the seventh and eighth lines and substitute in place thereof the following:

Grades I, II, and III 35
Grades IV, V, and VI 42

Mr. Lee: May I comment on my vote there, so it will not be misleading to anybody.

We voted for a change in the pupil numbers to a class room, which I am in favor of. Later we will have to vote on an item in the budget that will implement that, in other words, which will give us money to pay teachers appointed to meet that new quota rule. I am not making any commitment as to what my view might be on that. I am convinced in my own mind that this initial change will mean some appointments, which are well warranted, and it means fewer pupils to a teacher, which is a good educational step. But the number of pupils is falling off so fast in the elementary schools that after this year there will not be any appointments beyond the initial number of 23 that might be appointed now by virtue of this new pupil quota. When it comes time to fix the salary schedules I want to bring up and discuss the possibility of not giving those 23 necessarily the indefinite privilege of going up on the increment ladder and leaving those who are not within that group to stand at the foot of that ladder, in fact, to stand at $900 a year apiece for the next 15 or 20 years.

I would like to consider a distribution of the salaries paid which might raise those below these 23 to a higher amount than $900 a year, and might not give the full benefit of increments to those within this group of 23 who may be appointed under this reduced pupil quota to meet the class room needs. I want to make the point that in establishing that lowest salary—whether these teachers go up the subsequent rungs or not—when the time comes to establish that first rung salary—I want to question whether we want to make that first rung higher and then reduce the number of future increments.

It always seemed to me that this system of giving increments over twelve years to young women teaching in our schools is a deliberate deterrent to their indulging the prospect of matrimony, which is no idle phrase, because only 15 per cent of the girls who were graduated from Teachers College in the ten years prior to 1937 got married. Anyone can see that that is an unusually low proportion, and it can only be explained by the fact that we deliberately set these increments so that the girl does not benefit in her early years of teaching work, after which she might get married more readily,—since the full force of the salary benefit does not become effective until the teacher has stayed in the school system a long time in this city: and it is an inducement, as it were, not to be home builders but to be professional women.

I think we can get good teachers by making high the initial amount we give teachers and not run up in a reverse cascade a salary adjustment which serves to take the very best of our Boston women from the role which they would so well fill as mothers of families.

I have often thought that our talk about the sacredness of the home does not mean very much in the Boston schools, because, first, in the Home and School Associations I think the parents too often have the impression that they are treated as serfs and no-account people and that their capacity as parents and home makers does not amount to much. In fixing these salary schedules we have not considered the home situation.

A last and incidental benefit of starting with a high salary which would stay fixed or of allowing women to marry and keep on teaching, preferably letting the increment system go on but allowing them to teach after marriage, would be that many of our 3000 women teachers would get married, which would leave more vacancies in our school system, as they would soon find themselves absorbed with home problems.

As we have had a great surplus of graduates from Teachers College in recent years, it would be a nice thing from the point of view of the younger women if there was a more rapid turnover by reason of marriage and by not setting up a fence in a teacher's mind against marriage, but saying that marriage does not prohibit their coming back to teach.

In taking up the budget I would like to discuss whether we will change the schedule of salaries and whether or not we will permit married teachers. I think it is a bad form of race suicide the way we are doing now.

ACTING ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Mr. Norton: On account of the fact that the School Committee and the School Department at the present time are faced with preparations for an emergency throughout our country and all our executives are burdened with new forms of work and due to the fact that we have a certain amount of illness among our higher executives, I move at this time that we appoint as acting assistant superintendent of the Boston School System, the present headmaster of Hyde Park High School, who is recognized throughout the system as an outstanding school man, Dennis C. Haley.

Mr. Lee: I would like to ask Mr. Norton if he would sketch for us some of the qualifications which he thinks make Mr. Haley an outstanding man for the position.

Mr. Norton: First, Mr. Haley is one of the youngest headmasters in the city. He has age in his favor, as the best years of his life can still be given to the Boston School System.

Secondly, he is acknowledged by all of the masters, all the school executives and all of the teachers, 2,500 of whom he personally taught, to be an outstanding school man.

Third, he has aggressiveness and executive capacity; he is a liberal; he has the interest of modern education at heart and, in my estimation, will fill the bill as well as any other individual in the city.

I was interested in getting a vocational man, and at the Hyde Park High School we have a multitude of vocational subjects which are handled under his supervision. In short, these are a few of the attributes of one who is considered by every member of this Board and every school executive as one of the outstanding men that the Boston School System has produced in the last two or three decades.

Mr. Lee: I would like to comment that I brought up before the Committee the desirability of adding another member to our Board of Superintendents. My thought had been primarily that we should not allow any bottleneck in the progress of our school system to occur by reason of the Board of Superintendents being short-handed.

There are something like 12 reports now pending before the Board of Superintendents and they have been pending for some months, on such questions as a new Mechanic Arts High School, a new trade school, or an extension of that kind of vocational work. There is pending a report on my proposal for more course content and more practical operation in government and politics as well as the question of salary adjustments for those coming into the system for the first time.

That is the reason I think we need to have as complete a group as possible to do the research and help on the facilitation of matters as immediate and as complicated as that. I think Mr. Haley is very well qualified.

Mr. Norton: It is understood that there is to be no increase in salary, that he comes in as an acting assistant superintendent at his present salary until there is a vacancy in the present Board.

Chairman: Is that the complete motion?

Mr. Norton: That is the complete motion.

Chairman. Is that motion seconded?

Mr. McDevitt: I second the motion.

Mr. Lee: On the nomination of Mr. Haley as acting assistant superintendent?

Mr. McDevitt: Yes.

Mr. Sullivan: Mr. Norton has said "until there is a vacancy in the present Board." Just what does he mean by that?

Mr. Norton: We have to settle amongst ourselves whether the Board of Superintendents shall remain at four or be increased to five, later on.

Mr. Sullivan: I would like the Secretary to read the provision relative to the votes necessary to elect an assistant superintendent.

Secretary: A majority of the Committee for the election, and in the month of April.

A roll call was ordered on Mr. Norton's motion, as follows:

ORDERED, That Dennis C. Haley, Head Master, Hyde Park High School, is hereby appointed Acting Assistant Superintendent of Schools, without change of salary until there is a vacancy on the Board of Superintendents, said appointment to take effect Jan. 2, 1941.

The order passed by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. Lee, McDevitt, and Norton—3.

NAYS—Messrs. Sullivan and White—2.

Chairman: So that there shall be no misunderstanding about my vote, I would state that it is not because I do not agree that Mr. Haley is a very capable man. To that I agree.

In the past two years I have felt that in the administrative office here four assistant superintendents were sufficient, and on two occasions I have voted not to fill the two existing vacancies, and I have voted to strike from the budget the amount necessary to provide another assistant superintendent.

I had another plan to which the Committee will give further study, whereby we might have more efficiency and better service by the appointment of district superintendents selected from the outstanding headmasters in various districts, serving without an increase in salary but co-operating in their district with the Board of Superintendents.

My vote "No" is principally against the appointment of a fifth assistant superintendent.

Mr. Sullivan: I would like to say that I think an excellent man has been nominated as acting assistant superintendent tonight. Like the Chairman, I thought we should consider carefully the question of whether we should add to our administrative staff at present. I do not think there has been sufficient study to determine whether our School Department is utilizing to the greatest possible extent those below the rank of assistant superintendent in working out facts for the Board of Superintendents, and I question whether we would build up the work of the Board by adding another member to the group deliberations around the table.

SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT CONSTRUCTION ON THE INCREASE.

Owing to the economic conditions prevailing during the past year, there was but a relatively small volume of sewage treatment plant construction. Within recent months, however, there has been a decided impetus to new construction of this type growing out of the Public Works Administration allotments. Nearly 700 cities have received allotments of funds from the P. W. A. for sewerage or sewage treatment, involving an aggregate expenditure of well over $200,000,000.

REPORT OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE MUNICIPAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU FOR 1940.

The following is a brief report on the activities of the Municipal Employment Bureau:

The Employment Bureau, located at 25 Church street, was instituted under the late former Mayor Andrew J. Peters, October 7, 1921. It was then known as the Employment Committee and has been carried on up to the present time as the Municipal Employment Bureau.

The purpose of the Bureau is to relieve unemployment and give gainful work to applicants, male and female, who are resident citizens of Boston, also to help relieve the terrific costs of welfare and relief in our city. The Bureau serves all branches of business and industry, with no charge to employer or applicant.

We have made placements in every known line of work from shine boy, pin boy, clerks, stenographers, skilled mechanics, and up the line to placing accountants.

We are here to help every citizen of Boston that applies for work with no favoritism shown regardless of race, creed, color or party lines and to give prompt, efficient service that will satisfy.

The cost of operating this Bureau under the previous administration at the close of the business year 1937, was over $29,000 as compared with a running cost of around $18,000 at the present time.

Many thousands of dollars are saved yearly through the efforts of this Bureau by placing men and women at gainful work, helping them to pay taxes of all kinds and also keeping them away from applying for welfare and relief. The placements made here help immeasurably to keep down the tax rate in our city in which our Mayor, Hon. Maurice J. Tobin, is vitally interested in doing.

Since January 6, 1938, to December 31, 1940, or in three years, over 29,000 persons have filed applications at this Bureau. The total placements over this period have been 10,303; total male placements, 7,587; total female placements, 2,716; 2,886 of the total were placed permanently, approximately one third of the total placements. The total number of placements also runs a little better than one third of the total number filing here.

The present defense program has not helped a great deal in so far as general business and industry are concerned in Metropolitan Boston. We have not had any special calls from any source to put on groups of men or women. The camps being erected, shipyards, plane and mechanical shops require skilled mechanics and at present there is a shortage of this kind of worker. I believe it will take a year or more before there is a general pick-up of business and industry here. That will come when the money from those employed in defense work starts on its way to the retail stores and general commodity places. This money earned by those people will eventually help cause a general pick-up in all branches of business and industry here in Boston.

I submit this report to the general public of Boston so that they may know what has gone on at the Employment Bureau at 25 Church street during the administration of Hon. Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor of Boston.

Respectfully yours,

STEPHEN J. HUGHES,
Director of Employment.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon January 16 the Mayor approved a contract with Frank J. Jacobs Company for doing work as indicated in the following letter from the Commissioner of Public Works:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.
BOSTON, January 2, 1941.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—On April 26, 1940, a contract was awarded to Frank J. Jacobs Company for earth excavation, etc., in the West Roxbury district for the Water Division of this department.

The work as provided in the original contract, in so far as the amount of the contract is concerned, has been completed. There is, however, some work of the type provided in the contract to be done at this time. There would be no advantage, in my opinion, in publicly advertising for bids, as the prices for which the Frank J. Jacobs Company are doing the work are reasonable, the work of the contractor has been very satisfactory, and for those reasons I feel that it would be to the best interests of the city to allow that company to do the work for the prices submitted by them under competitive bidding.

I therefore respectfully request that you allow this department to issue, without publicly advertising for bids, so-called service orders to the Frank J. Jacobs Company for doing the same type of work as provided in the original contract based on the itemized prices of the contract, with the understanding that the total of all such service orders will be less than $2,000.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 1.

I. 1941 COMMUNITY FUND CAMPAIGN.

His Honor Mayor Maurice J. Tobin has requested that all city employees participate in the Greater Boston 1941 Community Fund Campaign in order to raise the funds necessary to support more than two hundred hospitals, health and social service agencies which render needed help to 300,000 men, women and children of Greater Boston. It is suggested that employees receiving under $2,500 per annum pledge two days' pay and that employees receiving $2,500 or over pledge two thirds of 1 per cent of their annual salaries to the 1941 Community Fund.

The quota for the Fire Department has been set at $15,700 based on the above schedule of contributions.

Members are at liberty to assign their donations to any of the agencies listed in the booklets issued with this order; otherwise donations will be distributed equally among these agencies by the Budgetary Committee of the Community Fund. If members specify an agency not listed among those in the Community Federation, their pledge cards will not be accepted as contribution to the Community Fund.

Contributions of members of the department will help to keep open the doors of hospitals, dispensaries, children's service agencies and family relief organizations which would be severely handicapped in the good work they are performing without assistance from the Community Fund. Approximately 25,000 unpaid volunteer workers are giving their time as well as their generous subscriptions to this great civic cause.

In order that the sacrifice will not impose a hardship upon the contributors, it has been arranged that the total sum contributed by each individual may be divided into thirty weekly payments beginning January 27, 1941.

The following table is submitted as a guide in making payments.

ANNUAL SALARY.	Total Pledge Based on Two Days' Pay, Seven-Day Week.	Amount of Weekly Installments for Thirty Weeks.

NOTE.— If thirty payments in accordance with the foregoing schedule of installments (third column) do not equal the amount pledged (second column) or amount to more, adjustments can be made on the final payment.

Pledge cards are being distributed to the department today. Company commanders and heads of divisions will personally interview each member under their command, including men on sick and injured leave and ask them to make a contribution. All cards to be made out in duplicate, segregated by companies and are to be returned to the Fire Commissioner on or before Monday, January 20, 1941. Members are requested to place their company number on the upper right-hand corner of the card. In no cases are deductions to be made on the pay roll. Company commanders and heads of divisions, for their own information, will make a list of all who contribute to the Community Fund. Each week on the regular pay day the money donated will be collected from the contributors by company commanders and heads of divisions who will forward the receipts to Headquarters once each week. Miss Mary C. Kelley has been assigned by the commissioner to accept the money and give a receipt for it. Delivery of money at Headquarters should be made on any week day and must be made between the hours of 9 and 11 a. m.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 33. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1941. NO. 5

MAYOR TOBIN SLASHES BUDGET FOR 1941 TO $1,892,462 LESS THAN THAT OF 1940 — HOPE HELD OUT AND PREDICTION FORECAST THAT, WITH FAIR BREAK IN FACTORS BEYOND MAYOR'S CONTROL, TAX RATE WILL BE LOWERED THIS YEAR — DECLARES THAT ACCOMPLISHMENTS HAVE BEEN SECURED AS RESULT OF VIGILANCE CONSTANTLY EXERCISED AND UTMOST RETRENCHMENTS WHEREVER POSSIBLE — WELFARE AND SNOW-REMOVAL BIGGEST SLASHES.

According to the figures submitted to the Council by Mayor Tobin, the budget for this year has been cut $1,892,462. The statement of the Mayor and the budget figures submitted to the Council read as follows:

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, January 27, 1941.

Honorable Council of the City of Boston.

GENTLEMEN,—Section 3 of the amended City Charter of the City of Boston provides that within thirty days of the commencement of the fiscal year the Mayor shall recommend and submit to the City Council his appropriations for maintenance purposes for the current year. Accordingly, I herewith recommend to your Honorable Body the maintenance appropriations for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1941, and ending December 31, 1941, for the city and county departments. There is submitted, in addition, my allowances for the revenue departments of the city which are, as you are aware, self-sustaining and are not provided for from tax collections, but from fees charged for their services. I am happy to say that it is a reduced budget, not by a fortunate turn of events, but through the resourcefulness of the city administrators in their daily duties.

To achieve this reduction in operating costs of the city departments requires constant vigilance, review, and analysis of operations. Each year it becomes increasingly more difficult to submit an appropriation bill which carries us further along the road of retrenchment. In order to be able at the commencement of the fiscal year to submit a smaller budget, it is necessary to institute savings and economies throughout the year, and for me to give constant executive supervision to these policies and practices, and this involves not only attention to the policy in its broadest aspects, but close attention to the detail of the many departments.

In some instances we have been scratching rock bottom, and in other instances in the interest of prudent administration the low level of former years can no longer be retained. The broadest consideration of human need and adequate service in some cases impel an orderly retreat from former low levels. In certain instances, such as in the case of the Planning Board, I feel that a larger appropriation is vitally related to the future welfare of the city. Recent trends in municipal service point to the constant need for growth in certain fields, particularly in the providing of adequate hospitalization for the needy or medically indigent, in preventive health work, and in providing adequate recreation facilities for our children. Notwithstanding these increased demands, I have endeavored to offset them by economies elsewhere with the full knowledge that such a policy would meet with your approval.

The allowances recommended for city departments total $39,090,857.68. This represents a decrease of $1,853,326.43 from the actual expenditures of 1940, and a reduction of $2,271,793.58 from the corresponding appropriations of a year ago. These allowances represent all inclusive and total allowances for the ensuing year. The only variables of any moment are allowances for welfare and for snow removal. In another section of this message I have explained the appropriation for welfare and why I feel this appropriation is adequate. The allowance for snow removal is frankly an arbitrary one. It is considerably lower than the requirements of last year, but then again the St. Valentine's day blizzard of last year was something that only happens in a generation. The allowance, however, is an average based on the requirements of the past ten years. In that period in six of the years sums less than $500,000 were expended annually, while in four of the years the amount required was greater than $500,000.

MAYOR TOBIN SLASHES BUDGET.

Personal Service.

Last year in my message to the City Council I pointed out that, "from the records of the office of the Budget Commissioner it is to be noted that the allowance for Personal Service is the lowest appropriation on a full year salary basis, excepting pay cut years of 1933 and 1934, for city departments since 1928." The current allowances are $345,751.77 below the allowances of last year and $138,598.85 below the actual expenditures, a new low level for reduced costs for the period mentioned. Notwithstanding such reduction, sufficient allowance has been made in the Health, Hospital and Sanatorium Division, as well as the Long Island Hospital, beyond last year's expenditures to provide for any possible increase in their requirements. An increase in the staff of the Planning Board has been made to obtain the services of such technical assistance required for the community rehabilitation project and the preparation of a master plan for the city, including the study of congested areas, street pattern, parks and playgrounds, public building sites, public reservations, zoning, public utilities and pier head lines. An increase in the staff of the Law Department has also been made for the purpose of speeding up the settlement claims of the Welfare Department and the work of the Tax Title Division of this department. It has been necessary to increase the allowance of the Police Department to provide for additional patrolmen appointed during 1940. Provision has been made for step-rate increases for all employees covered by the sliding scale plan. Except as noted, no additional positions have been created in this budget, and all existing vacancies and anticipated retirements which experience indicated could possibly be dropped were eliminated.

Contractual Services.

Pursuant of the policy recommended by the Finance Commission, I have placed under contract several new districts for the removal of waste. The cost of these additional districts is approximately $100,000, which is offset by savings in other departments, resulting in a decrease of $1,397.43 from 1940 expenditures.

Equipment.

The allowance for equipment, while showing a reduction of $7,450.16, includes a larger allowance for the purchase of books for the Public Library. For some time past appropriations for the purchase of books have been below what may have been considered as normal requirements. Because I feel in these times that an enlightened public opinion is fundamental to the accurate functioning of the democratic process, I have allowed this additional appropriation in the hopes that it will be spent in the acquisition of volumes dealing with contemporary problems and conditions. In the other departments provision has been made for a normal replacement of necessary equipment.

Supplies.

The reduction of $28,689.41 may be attributed to the continued close supervision over the purchasing and consumption of departmental and institutional supplies. I have, however made ample provision for possible increases in prices of food, fuel, and medical supplies, which are the major items in this group.

Special Items.

The allowance for Special Items covers expenditures for public welfare, soldiers' relief, non-contributory pensions, and workmen's compensation, and shows a reduction of $1,102,188.77. This reduction is practically entirely in the dependent aid allowance. The high peak load of cases under this item was reached in July of 1940, when the case load was 15,455, with a weekly expenditure of $96,800. By September it had decreased to 14,395, with a weekly expenditure of $90,000, and by late December it was down to 11,643, with a weekly expenditure of $69,000. The allowances on this latter figure establish a reserve covering any possible reversal of the trend, but in view of the increased labor demands in the completion of defense contracts and general improvement in employment conditions, and after a talk with city and state welfare officials, as well as a review of general employment throughout the nation, I feel that what is allowed for welfare should be ample to meet the entire needs for the coming year. I repeat here a statement I have made on many occasions, that whatever may be the number of cases for which the city must provide no worthy person or family, no matter what the cost, will be refused the necessities of life.

Work Relief Program.

The requirements of the Federal Government that sponsors make additional contributions to the maintenance of the work relief program, plus the fact that projects relating to defense activities will require additional expenditures, the continuation of the extensive construction program in the Paving and Sewer Divisions of the Public Works Department, and the continued improvement of the parkways and roadways under the control of the Park Department, make it desirable to continue to appropriate on practically the same scale as heretofore.

Special Appropriations.

The total of the various allowances under this group reflect a net decrease of $431,839.98 from expenditures for 1940. The reduction is due mainly to the decrease in the allowance for snow removal from the 1940 expenditure, and which I have referred to elsewhere. An allowance of $21,000 has been made for reconstruction of streets under chapter 90 of the General Laws, while no allowance was made in 1940. I am again making an allowance of $75,000 for the partial reconstruction of the roof of the Central Library, Copley square. An allowance of $148,323.45 for Sewerage Works is included in this group in accordance with the provisions of section 5 of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936 to meet the amount to be raised by taxation for capital construction in the Sewer Division of the Public Works Department.

In the event there is a balance in the Snow Removal appropriation, it is my intention to transfer this balance to the appropriation for the Reconstruction of the Library Roof, so that all, or another section of this roof may be reconstructed this year.

*Net increase, $21,769.62.

The increase in appropriations over 1940 expenditures in the County departments is mandatory by statute or the result of policies inaugurated by county officials over whom I have no control. The main increase is for Personal Service, and is due to step rates provided under the County Compensation Plan, increases to Probation and Court Officers outside the Plan, mandatory by statute, and full provision for positions which were vacant for the whole or most of last year. There is also an increased allowance for Work Relief Program for W. P. A. projects to be undertaken by the Court House Commission.

Net decrease, $60,904.93.

Although the revenue departments of the city are self-sustaining, for your information there is given above a table in comparative form showing the group distribution.

I have again instituted an allotment budget for the various city and county departments so that control of expenditures will be operative during the deliberations of the budget by your Honorable Body. Allotments have been made for January and February, and additional allotments will be made until the passage of the budget.

The allowances I have recommended provide sufficiently for the continued proper and efficient operation of the city. I expect cooperation of all departments in an economical administration of expenditures.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

PARKS.

Cincinnati has one of the most beautiful park systems in the United States and the public approval of these parks is indicated by the large attendance in all the parks throughout the year.

The total area now under the control of the Park Board is 4,270 acres. Of this, the Public Recreation Commission operates approximately 1,000 acres for supervised and directed play. Important additional acreage has been acquired by the City during the year, including approximately 22 acres purchased on the south side of Columbia Parkway, and 47 acres in College Hill presented as a gift for park purposes by a civic-minded citizen.—Cincinnati City Bulletin.

THE NOISE NUISANCE.

That city officials are serious about eliminating noise is noted from studies of new anti-noise ordinances enacted by a growing number of municipalities listed in the "United States Municipal News," bulletin of the American Municipal Association and the United States Conference of Mayors. Among the more important of these cities are Philadelphia, Gary, Ind., Louisville, New York and Boston.

CONTRACT OF COLEMAN BROTHERS COMPANY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 6, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of December 30, 1940, concerning the continuance of contracting work with the Coleman Brothers Company.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
January 6, 1941.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council on December 30, 1940:

"Whereas, Many residents of the Dorchester district have complained that the Coleman Brothers Construction Company has not rendered efficient service in the collection of ashes and garbage in Dorchester; be it

"Resolved, That the Boston City Council go on record as opposing a further continuance of contracting work with the Coleman Brothers Company in the City of Boston."

As it was my unqualified opinion that the Coleman Brothers Corporation had satisfactorily performed the work required under the provisions of its contract with the City of Boston for collecting and removing garbage and refuse in the Dorchester district in 1940, I recommended to his Honor the Mayor that that corporation be awarded a contract for the same type of work in that district in the current year, without publicly advertising for bids.

I am still of the opinion that the work of the Coleman Brothers Corporation in the Dorchester district in 1940 justified my recommending the awarding of a contract to that corporation in the current year for the work referred to above. On two occasions in 1940 I visited various residents in the Dorchester district for the express purpose of determining whether or not they were receiving satisfactory service, in so far as the collection of garbage and refuse was concerned. In every instance, and I visited approximately twenty residences, the particular person to whom I was talking expressed satisfaction with the work of the Coleman Corporation. Aside from this, however, ordinarily the barometer that I use in determining whether or not a particular contractor is rendering adequate service on work of this type, is the number of complaints that I receive from the councilors representing the particular districts involved. To the best of my knowledge, I received no oral complaints from any of the councilors in the Dorchester district at any time throughout the year regarding unsatisfactory garbage and refuse collection work, and it is a matter of record that I received no written complaints from them relative to this matter.

As stated above, it is my opinion that the Coleman Corporation is carrying out the provisions of its contract in a satisfactory manner and it is also my further opinion that it is one of the few organizations in the city which is capable of doing this type of work in a district as large as Dorchester, in a satisfactory manner.

I would welcome an investigation by an impartial body to determine whether or not the Coleman Brothers Corporation is at the present time and did in the year 1940 perform the collection of garbage and refuse in a satisfactory manner.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—I am acknowledging your memorandum of January 2 with inclosure, order of the City Council that the Park Department clean up dump conditions in the vicinity of Marine Park and Castle Island.

Investigation made by me on Sunday, January 5, shows that conditions there are not imposing. It will be necessary for us to do considerable grading and cleaning up, which work cannot be done at this time of year due to the fact that the material which was dumped there is frozen. When the weather is milder I will have the department forces clean up this area.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

MORE MEN FOR SANITARY DIVISION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 6, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of December 30, 1940, concerning the assignment of more men to the Sanitary Division of the Public Works Department in Ward 3.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
January 6, 1941.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council on December 30, 1940:

"Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately assign more men to the Sanitary Division of the Public Works Department in Ward 3, and elsewhere in the City of Boston."

I presume that the above-referenced order is the result of some dissatisfaction that Councilor

Russo expressed on Christmas Eve with the street cleaning and garbage and refuse services rendered to Ward 3 by this department.

In order to clarify the situation, I wish to take this opportunity to forward the following statement to the City Council with reference to this matter:

On Christmas Eve, at 12 noon, Councilor Russo called me on the telephone and complained of the allegedly dirty conditions of two streets in the West End section of the city. I immediately made arrangements for the assigning to that district of employees of the Highway Division to supplement the regular street cleaning crew, for the purpose of cleaning not only the two streets about which he complained, but all of the streets that it would be possible to clean in the remaining daylight period of three or four hours. That evening, between 10 and 11 o'clock, I received two calls from the councilor, complaining that ashes and garbage were left uncollected on Hale and South Margin streets. This was the first time that he had called this matter to my attention, as his noon call referred specifically to the allegedly dirty conditions of the streets. After receiving his first call on the night of Christmas Eve, I immediately contacted the night street cleaning foreman in the West End district and instructed him to collect the waste material referred to, not only in those two streets, but in any other streets in the district where the barrels were placed on the sidewalk and not collected, during the daytime by the regular crew assigned to this type of work. The barrels were collected and, to the best of my knowledge, no uncollected rubbish barrels remained on the sidewalks on Christmas Day.

I made a personal inspection of the district the day following Christmas and observed that the streets were in a reasonably clean condition and that the only barrels of rubbish that were on the sidewalks were those that were to be collected that day. In order, however, to make certain that there would be no justification for complaints in so far as the cleanliness of the streets was concerned, I ordered all available crews of men from the various district yards of the Highway Division to report to the West End for the purpose of cleaning the streets. At least twelve crews reported, with the result that the streets of that district, on the day following Christmas, were in an exceptionally clean condition. I am reviewing the above incidents in order to show that every courtesy and cooperation were extended to Councilor Russo in the matters referred to, and that under the circumstances the department rendered satisfactory and adequate services.

The West End district receives, in so far as the cleaning of streets and the collection of refuse and garbage are concerned, more service than any other district in the city. It is an impossibility to keep the streets in a clean condition at all times, which is to be expected in a district as highly congested as the West End. The district, however, is not neglected by this department, and we make every effort to keep it in a condition comparable to any other district in the city. One of the great obstacles that we have to overcome in maintaining satisfactory ash and garbage service is the lack of barrels throughout the district. This department has even gone as far as to furnish barrels, free of charge, to some of the residents, and it is our intention to keep up this type of service, if the barrels, as in the past, are made available to us by the various manufacturers in Metropolitan Boston.

The officials of the department recognized in the middle of November that we would be unable to maintain the twice-a-week schedule of garbage and refuse collection in the West End district unless our regular forces were supplemented by the employment of so-called emergency laborers.

That the department did not consider economy in such a vital service is evidenced by the fact that we spent $20,600 for the employment of these so-called emergency laborers in the North, West and South End districts between the middle of November and the end of the year.

On the day on which the above-referenced order was passed in the Council, there was no district in the city where collections had fallen behind schedule. This not only includes districts where the removal work is done by city forces, but also in contract districts. At this writing, there is no district in the city where the collection of waste materials is behind schedule. I feel that this is an excellent record, taking into consideration that at this time of the year the collections, due to the holiday season, are heavier than normal.

The undersigned has always insisted that every effort be made to keep the streets of the city in a clean condition and to maintain the regular schedule of collections of waste material. We have, in my opinion, succeeded in maintaining a high standard for the types of services referred to, although it is impossible to have ideal conditions throughout the city unless we receive the wholehearted cooperation of all the residents. Carelessness, in so far as littering the streets with debris is concerned, and failure on the part of owners of properties to furnish an adequate number of barrels for the storage of garbage and refuse, make it almost impossible for the department to cope satisfactorily, at all times, with the problems referred to in this communication.

In the event that I find it necessary to assign more men to the Sanitary Division in Ward 3 in order to maintain the twice-a-week schedule of ash and garbage collections and to keep the streets in a reasonably clean condition, you may be assured that I shall comply with the provisions of the above-referenced order.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

JUNIOR POLICE CORPS.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN and GOODE offered the following:

Whereas, It has been suggested that the activities of the Police Department be curtailed in so far as the supervision of the Junior Police Corps in the City of Boston is concerned; and

Whereas, Records show that junior delinquency has decreased 20 per cent in the two years this group has operated; and

Whereas, It is one of the most inspiring experiments ever entertained in the field of junior guidance; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the Boston City Council heartily indorse this splendid social experiment and recommend that the Junior Police Corps activities be continued under the supervision of the Police Commissioner.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, I have watched with a great deal of interest the work of the Police Department in juvenile work in bringing along the Junior Corps of the Police Department. On my way back and forth to City Hall I have seen youngsters assisting the police in helping their classmates across busy intersections, and have noticed the extreme pride that these children show in the work that they are doing. I can remember not very long ago when a policeman was not a pleasant sight to the average young child. I can remember when if a policeman put his foot on the sidewalk the cry went up in the neighborhood of "Cheese-it, the cop!" Now that feeling has been broken down by the work of Commissioner Timilty and the Police Department so that when the children pour out of their homes on their way to school, the first one they look for is the policeman, and when he appears on the sidewalk they cry, "There is my friend, the police officer." So I hope that this Body will see fit to support this movement, encourage this splendid work, encourage the officers to continue in this worthwhile help to the city.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I have not engaged in any controversy with the Finance Commission for the past two years. I read with interest their report of a few days ago relative to the junior police in Boston. I have a high respect for the membership of the Finance Commission as it is at present constituted, but I think there may be a very legitimate difference of opinion on any matter affecting the best interests of the City of Boston. I realize full well the Finance Commission may view it from the financial standpoint, and that view may differ from the standpoint of police efficiency, but I feel I have the same interest in the youngsters of the city as the police officers have. I read that only seventeen officers have been guiding the destinies of these several thousand children throughout the city, assisting them on matters of everyday activity, assisting them in the social phases of the life of these children. I feel that for the police with seventeen officers to have done such excellent work is to the lasting credit of the department. I feel the expenditures involved have been minute, and I feel the expenditures have been warranted in view of the social benefits that have been the result of the junior police. I feel the efficiency of the department has been enhanced and augmented as a result of the fact that social agencies throughout the city, probation officers in the municipal courts, report that junior delinquency has abated to a substantial extent since the introduction by Commissioner Timilty of the junior police of Boston. I have a personal interest in the junior police as one who has personally seen the benefits that have occurred in that splendid organization. Every man in this Body has read during the past week of the death of Officer Stephen Harrigan, one of the seventeen officers delegated to assist these youngsters, one of the seventeen officers in charge of the junior police of Boston. Personally, I attended the funeral of that very estimable officer last Thursday morning. I saw two thousand of the flower of Boston's childhood pouring into the church to witness the last rites for him who had done so much for the young boyhood of Boston. I saw two of these youngsters walk down to the front of the church and there place the city and national flags. As I looked at one of these youngsters placing the flags there, I recalled how some few months ago I saw that very officer with about two hundred of these young boys, and he was explaining to them the meaning of the city motto: "As God was with our fathers, so may He be with us." I thought very vividly of that when I saw those young boys place that same emblem near the remains of that splendid officer last Thursday. I saw him two months ago inculcating into these very boys who came there to pay tribute to him the reverence they should feel for God and Country. I feel it is a lasting loss to the City of Boston to lose a man of this type who has done so much for the youth of this city as did Officer Stephen Harrigan. I feel the work he has done must remain, and that the junior police of Boston must survive; that any expenditure that will aid them to survive is well warranted. I think the Boston press which has with unanimity granted support to the junior police should be thanked and given an expression of approval by the Boston City Council for their splendid effort to retain this very worthwhile organization. I know as the years go by the junior police will well warrant the expenditure of any funds to make these boys better citizens and to make this city a better place in which to live.

Coun. TAYLOR—I have heard the remarks of the two previous councilors pertaining to this resolution. I know it is a subject of some controversy throughout the City of Boston, and I do not think it is fair to the rest of the councilors to have them placed on record, either in favor or against, until further study or opportunity for study can be given to the rest of us. I am sure I don't know anything against this particular outfit. So far as I know, I think they have done a lot of good for the community, but, nevertheless, there may be phases which we do not thoroughly understand, and before we place ourselves on record, I think we ought to delve into it thoroughly before we place our stamp of approval on it hastily, as we have done many times in the past. I therefore move that the matter be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, this order reads that this is one of the most inspiring experiments ever attempted in the field of junior guidance and the records show that junior delinquency has decreased 20 per cent in two years. I can see no conflict with the paper from which this resolution has been virtually copied. The Boston Post editorially this morning stated that junior delinquency has decreased 20 per cent; probation officers of the five Boston municipal courts who restrict themselves to the guidance of juniors have come out in overwhelming approval of the junior police. I can see no difficulty in indorsing and recommending this to the public as a great social experiment. Naturally, the experiment may not be complete in all points. As an experiment it has not yet reached its final and ultimate conclusion, but I think the record of the past few years, so far as junior delinquency in Boston is concerned, has been a lasting tribute to the efforts of the Police Commissioner. I think the records, so far as five municipal courts of Boston are concerned, stand out as concrete proof of the lasting effort of the Boston Junior Police Corps. I think the Boston City Council should go on record with unanimous approval of such a worthwhile social experiment. Take Hallowe'en, for example, each year they have their own party at the local stations. Virtually every householder knows that the lamp across the street is not broken because the boys are up at the station enjoying themselves. Look at the social benefits so far as Christmas is concerned. During the past few years, it is well known to every member of this Council that we have been having a depression. In my ward hundreds would not have had a toy. They might have hung up their stockings and received nothing in them, but the Boston police, through their Christmas parties, have taken care of the children in this respect. The billboards on the highways of this municipality say, "If you have a job that a boy can fill, call the Boston Police Headquarters." Helping these boys to establish themselves in an economic sense is very important to the well-being of the community. It helps them to bring a few dollars into the household. I have stood up here many times, but I have never stood up in favor of any matter that I favor so heartily as the junior police, and I ask unanimous indorsement from every member of this Council, each one of the twenty-two members, in indorsing the Boston Junior Police under Commissioner Timilty.

Coun. FISH—It is not often that I disagree with the councilor from Ward 12, but I do in this instance. My purpose in arising is that the Boston Post editorial has been referred to, just picking out excerpts from it. I have the editorial here, and ask permission to put it in the record.

President GALVIN—There will be no objection, and it will be placed in the record.

"JUNIOR POLICE CORPS.

"There has been a great deal of discussion, pro and con, about the merits of the Finance Commission's recommendation that the Junior Police Corps should be abolished. Most of the discussion has revealed a general disagreement with the recommendation.

"In fact, it would appear that the Finance Commission has made a serious error in viewing the position of the junior corps and its value to the community.

"In pointing out that seventeen officers are trying to lead 170,000 boys in guidance work that social agencies have found effective only when ten to twenty boys are assigned to one adult leader, the commission is unconsciously paying a splendid and quite unusual tribute to the seventeen officers.

"If they can accomplish what they have accomplished despite their lack of numbers and despite their lack of training in social work, the possibilities of good with an increased number of leaders are limitless.

"Almost on the day the commission's recommendation was made public, there was a demonstration of the way in which the police had handled their relations with the junior corps.

"The funeral of one of the seventeen officers engaged in the work, Stephen A. Harrigan, was held in Brighton. More than 2,000 children stood along the sidewalks to pay tribute to a man who was their friend and leader.

"The criticisms offered by social and settlement workers have been far wide of the mark, also. The organized programme of such workers and their agencies are valuable. But no one can claim that they touch all phases of the juvenile problem in a big city.

"The fact is that such organized youth agencies have a limited appeal. Beyond their reach are thousands of boys who are eager for membership in the junior corps.

"One settlement worker expressed the professional attitude by saying, 'Giving a boy a badge won't keep him out of trouble.'

"But it will. That is just the point, and the motive behind the junior police is based on that psychological fact. Many boys shy away from organized social activities, but are proud to wear the badge of the junior police and live up to the principles that the badge represents.

"Records show that juvenile delinquency has decreased 20 per cent in the two years the junior corps has been operating. What caused such a decrease if it was not the junior corps?

"It is more than likely that a similar system of junior police activities will be introduced by police departments in many other cities, for the success of the Boston junior corps has become known throughout the country.

"It is one of the most inspiring experiments ever undertaken in the field of juvenile guidance, and is the envy of other communities.

"There is no finer work than aiding in the development of boys into upright citizens. The future of the city and the nation depends upon the type of citizen that comes out of the younger generation of today

"If the Junior Police Corps can assist in that work — and it has shown that it can — it is worth support. More than that, it is worth encouragement.")

Coun. FISH—Before sitting down, I would say this—that I disagree with Councilor Taylor, and I see no advantage in this going to the Executive Committee. I think the Council, as Councilors Sullivan and Goode have stated, without hesitation should indorse this movement 100 per cent.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, I also want to disagree with Councilor Taylor. This movement is one of the greatest things for property owners in the city. It is one of the greatest things for young boys, and I know it certainly takes a load off the shoulders of the police officers when they can control these boys. They take them different nights during the week, and they learn different sorts of music, learn to play different sorts of musical instruments. They take them on Saturdays to the Blue Hills to a camp down there where they enjoy outdoor life and they are out of trouble. I think the city has spent very little money, and I think whatever money they spend is worth it to the poeple of Boston.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I don't want to be misunderstood on this. I have not recorded myself against it, but I do say this, that in the past too often this Council has had resolutions before it, and without giving them any consideration whatever, has passed them as a matter of course, and lo! and behold, we pick up a newspaper during the following week and see some editorial regarding our stupidity in passing such an order. I have no doubt that the order of Councilor Goode and Sulllivan is perhaps for the best interests of everybody in the city. I do not argue that. I think there is no immediate rush in placing our stamp of approval on it. Let those of the Council who have not had an opportunity to study it, do so, so that we may give an intelligent expression here instead of just this cursory expression of trying to let another fellow's order go through. I think it is unwise. There is no harm in delay, one week's delay, so we can discuss it in executive. It will not hurt the order, but will allow those who have not already had the opportunity to study this proposition time to do so, so that we may give an honest expression on it.

The question came on Coun. Taylor's motion to refer to the Executive Committee. The motion was lost. The question came on the passage of the order, and the order was passed.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENT.

The Chair called up No. 2 on the calander, under finished business, viz.:

2. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor January 6, 1941, of Thomas W. Dand, to be a Weigher of Goods.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Hutchinson and Carey. The appointment was confirmed, yeas 17, nays 0.

FLOOD LIGHT, ARMY BASE ENTRANCE.

Coun. SCANNELL and GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a flood light at the entrance to the Army Base on Summer Street Extension.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

NAMING OF AIRPLANE CARRIER "BUNKER HILL."

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Secretary of the Navy, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to name the proposed new airplane carrier the "Bunker Hill."

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MUNICIPAL STADIUM.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston be recorded in favor of the passage of legislation permitting the City of Boston to borrow, outside the limit of indebtedness, for the purpose of constructing a municipal stadium, provided that such legislation contains a referendum to the Mayor and the City Council of the City of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Later in the session Coun. SHATTUCK moved a reconsideration of the vote on the above resolve.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I move reconsideration of the order to borrow outside of the debt limit for a stadium. I make that motion because we do not have enough facts as to the cost of the stadium nor do we have any facts before us as to what use it would have and what revenue, if any, would be derived from it. A number of large cities have built stadiums in the past which have proved to be white elephants. I do not believe we ought to ask the Mayor to go into an enterprise of this kind, and add hundreds of thousands of dollars to the debt of the city without knowing what the need is and where we are going, and whether there would be any revenue or whether there would be an annual recurring deficit, as I believe is probable. If reconsideration prevails, I shall move reference to the Executive Committee, at which hearing competent persons can be called to give us the facts.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, as the councilor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor) well said a few moments ago, there are many orders that go through this Council in rapid stride, and here is another one. Last year I advocated the construction of gymnasiums out of the White Fund money and also voted for other propositions, such as health units, dental clinics, and so forth, which we all know are needed by the people of this city. On this particular question of a stadium, perhaps it isn't very popular for a gentleman from South Boston to get up and oppose it. I am not going particularly to oppose it, but will say this much that I had occasion to get some information from the city of Cleveland which has one of these municipal stadiums and according to their report of last year, if I remember correctly, it ran into a deficit of $53,000 after all revenue had been considered. Now, there is certainly nothing presented in this Council to show that the white elephant which we may get here will be any different from the one in Cleveland. I haven't had any figures on any of the other stadiums throughout the country, but I believe if they were all compiled and put together you would find that there is not one stadium in the country which is a paying proposition. I feel every member of the Council should first give plenty of consideration before one million of the taxpayers' money is spent, — not of the George Robert White Fund money which is from a philanthropic organization, but this would be out of purely city money. I say, let us hesitate. Let us go into executive and get some facts from other cities. I personally will bring in facts concerning the city of Cleveland, and see if what I say is right, that they lost $53,000 last year alone. They have not come into the black yet. It has been in the red every year. To be sure, we have had a wonderful football team in Boston College, but we have also got Fenway Park and Braves Field, and, if I recollect correctly, also the Harvard Stadium. I took in six or seven football games, including two at Boston College, and I never saw one of the fields overflowing. Now, certainly, I do not see why next year or years from now on we are going to find the situation any different here in Boston. You may be going to have Fenway Park and Braves Field without any football games, perhaps, I say perhaps, because I do not believe there are going to be many games held in Boston where you can fill a huge stadium such as one would be which cost $1,000,000. I say our parks at the present time are adequate, parks from which we are receiving taxes, and we are not going to receive any taxes from a municipal stadium. That is another thing. It costs $53,000 of the city of Cleveland's money to maintain that proposition. That does not allow for taxes. You can see where you are going to lose Fenway Park and Braves Field. If they do not have increased revenue, they might find themselves in difficulty in regard to paying taxes which they are called upon to pay. As I say, and as the councilor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor) said, let us be a little careful and do not pass these popular orders simply because they are popular. Let us give it a little study when we are going to pay a million of the taxpayers' money. I say, let us do that, even though it may not be popular with certain individuals in this city. I hope this question of reconsideration will prevail, and if so, I will go along with the vote to refer it to the Executive Committee, so that we may have an intelligent presentation of the facts.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—I feel that to spend this money for a stadium at this time, with every ward in the city needing traffic lights, and the city not appropriating any money for traffic lights, is unwise. We should certainly hold up a thing like this at least till we get traffic lights.

Coun. CHASE—The councilor from Dorchester who has just spoken touched upon a very vital question that the people of Boston are interested in, mainly, the necessity for traffic lights. I am in full accord with what he has just stated, and I honestly believe the City of Boston is more in need of traffic lights than it is in need of a municipal stadium. With that in mind I intend to go along and support the councilor on his motion.

Coun. LYONS—I really couldn't let it go by without saying a word or two relative to this order, referring to Councilor Taylor as having something constructive and saying that we should vote for something constructive. The councilor and myself made a personal investigation of the Tulane Stadium at New Orleans, and I think Councilor Taylor will agree that if it were not for the stadium New Orleans would not be heard of. Twelve or fourteen years ago we did not have Legion conventions here until we saw fit to have hotels erected adequate to provide sleeping quarters for those who would come to Boston. We have the hotels and the capacity here now to hold these conventions. The reason we never had any big games in Boston was because we never had a stadium to hold the people. If you look over the City of Boston school records, you will find out what they pay to the Red Sox and Braves Field each year. I did not go to the Harvard Stadium this year. I don't think I saw the Georgetown game. Holy Cross game the same way. We couldn't use the Harvard Stadium anyhow, but it is a nice gesture on the President's part to present this order. Last week, when the Chamber of Commerce gave a banquet to Boston College, I listened to them, and they are in favor of it. The head of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce advocated that we build a stadium here. Now, I am in favor of a stadium here. It should be given some thought. I know Councilor Taylor will confirm me in saying that he and I and Mr. Green and a few more went over the books of Tulane Stadium and saw what it paid to New Orleans.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I do not feel too sure of what I say, but I listened to a broadcast by one of these first commentators named Jim Britt, and I think he said one evening that the New Orleans stadium was not simply a municipal stadium. There were private interests. In New Orleans if that stadium was not a paying proposition the taxpayers would not be the losers.

The question came on reconsideration, and the order was referred to the Executive Committee.

BURIAL OF POOR AND INDIGENT PERSONS.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Welfare Department and the Old Age Assistance Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to fully comply with chapter 465 of the Acts of 1938 (An Act Relative to the Payment of Cities and Towns for the Expenses of the Funeral and Burial of Certain Poor and Indigent Persons).

Coun. CHASE—Mr. Chairman, as I understand it, the Welfare Division of the City of Boston today is paying only $20 for burial expenses of people on the welfare rolls. That, Mr. Chairman, is a violation of the law, inasmuch as chapter 465 of the Acts of 1938 provides that all cities and towns in Massachusetts shall pay $100 for burial expenses of their poor. Now, Mr. Chairman, chapter 465 of the Acts of 1938 reads: "Chapter 117 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 18, as amended, the following new section: Section 18a. In case of the decease of a poor and indigent person over the age of twelve years, the town liable for his burial shall pay for the expense of the funeral and burial of such person the sum of one hundred dollars." I want you to know, Mr. Chairman, the Legislature inserted the word "shall", which is mandatory. Now, how the City of Boston can avoid that law and pay only $20 for the cost of burial of the poor is beyond me. I understand the cities and towns all around Metropolitan Boston are complying with the law and paying $100. Furthermore, I understand that this particular law enables the old age assistance department to pay $100 to the old age people. Today they are only paying $75. As I have said before on the floor of the Council, if we have laws enacted by the Legislature, we should live up to those laws. It was the intent and purpose of the Legislature in passing this law to protect the poor of the Commonwealth and insure the poor of a decent Christian burial. I know that you will agree with me that no person can secure a decent, Christian burial for $20. I personally do not think his Honor the Mayor is aware of these circumstances. I think the Overseers of the Public Welfare are doing this thing on their own, and I trust that in the future, with the aid of his Honor the Mayor, the Overseers of the Public Welfare will make every effort to see that the poor of Boston are buried in the manner which the Legislature of Massachusetts prescribed, and that is that funeral expenses shall be limited to not less than $100.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I move that the matter be referred to the Welfare Committee.

The order was referred to the Committee on Public Welfare.

TRANSFER OF EAST BOSTON AIRPORT.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Whereas, The Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in his inaugural address of 1941 recommended that the Commonwealth take over the East Boston Airport; therefore be it

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston, in meeting assembled, hereby opposes the transfer of the East Boston Airport to the Commonwealth, unless the City of Boston is reimbursed for all expenditures since 1928, which is estimated at $2,750,000.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, his Excellency Governor Leverett Saltonstall in his inaugural address recommended that the state take over the East Boston Airport. Since the problem of reimbursement was not considered it is safe to assume that the city would stand to lose two and three quarter millions of dollars. Since 1928 the City of Boston has expended this sum on the Airport for land, construction, salaries, maintenance and purchase of W. P. A. materials. This two and three quarter millions of dollars represents a portion of the tax rate paid by citizens of Boston since 1928. Such a sum of money should be paid back to Boston if the Commonwealth is sincere and honest. I hope, Mr. President, that the members of the Council will approve this resolution.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, the three millions or so we have spent there have already been lost. That is, we have never got any interest on it, and there is no prospect we ever will get any interest on it, nor will we ever get the principal back. It seems to me the question is, What are we going to lose in the future if we continue to hold the Airport? There are other large expenditures that are being considered. The receipts, I think, are only about enough to cover the actual operating expenses, that is, the people employed there, and a few repairs. If further improvements involving large expense are to be made, and the City of Boston is requested to meet those costs, the Airport, so far as the city is concerned, is a liability and not an asset. I think we should determine more clearly whether the Airport is an asset or a liability. If it is a liability, it would be much better to let the state have it, even though we do not collect anything for the money we have already spent on it. I move that this matter also be referred to the Executive Committee, to find out whether this Airport is a liability or an asset.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

ABATEMENT OF POLL TAX TO VOLUNTEERS FOR SERVICE.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to abate the poll tax of any volunteer or draftee during the period of his service in the United States Armed Forces.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I offer this order because Commissioner Long who is in charge of the taxes for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts seems unwilling to abate the taxes of anybody, regardless of who he is. His interest is in slapping on more taxes, particularly on those unable to pay them. I have in mind the sales tax. Now, referring to these young men who because they volunteer or are drafted into the United States Army are forced to spend a year of their life away from their home city, I think it is unfair tha. during that time they are to be assessed any poll tax. Now, the Board of Assessors has the power to abate this tax, and I think this would be a noble gesture on the part of the Mayor and the City of Boston. The least we can do is abate the poll taxes of these volunteers or draftees into the United States Army.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FREE ADULT DENTAL SERVICE.

Coun. GOTTLIEB offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Health be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide free adult dental service at each of the existing health stations in the City of Boston; and be it further

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Health be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, to confer with the trustees of the George Robert White Fund relative to the installation of free adult dental clinics in White Fund Units now existing in the City of Boston; and be it further

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, in conjunction with the trustees of the George Robert White Fund and the Commissioner of Public Health, provide for the erection of a suitable White Fund Unit, or health station, or municipal building in the Ward 14 district of the City of Boston, said building to provide free adult dental service to residents of Boston; and be it further Ordered, That said free adult dental service be granted to those residents of Boston who are receiving dependent aid, aid to dependent children, old age assistance, soldiers' relief, or W. P. A. assistance.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, time and time again orders of similar nature have been passed by this Body, whether submitted by myself or my colleagues, asking for health centers and dental clinics in areas of the City of Boston where they are much needed. It was interesting to me to listen to the debate in the Council Chamber on the merits or demerits of a municipal stadium. I think it is far more important and necessary at this particular time to consider the urgent need of health centers and dental clinics in the City of Boston today. The obstacle which has presented itself against the erection of free adult dental clinics, as well as health centers, in the City of Boston has been either the erection by the City of Boston and the attendant heavy costs plus the maintenance of the building, or in cases where the trustees of the White Fund might see fit to erect the building out of White funds, then the question of maintenance by the City of Boston has always been the barrier. I feel that this order, if acted upon by the Mayor in collaboration with the Health Commissioner and the trustees of the George Robert White Fund, could solve all these problems which prevent the erection of dental clinics and health centers. We have in the City of Boston today various White Fund units, which under the direction of the Health Department of the City of Boston also provide for child health conferences on certain days of the week. Some of these child health centers sponsored by our Health Department are housed in White Fund Units. Others are in municipal buildings, or other buildings which are available in various districts. For example, there is a child health center which has conferences two days a week, meeting in the court house in the Allston-Brighton district. There is a child health conference held in the Charlestown health unit. There is another child health conference held in the Codman Square Library building, and this building is entirely inadequate for this purpose. There is a child health conference held in the municipal building on Columbia road. Going to other districts we find that the Health Department of the City of Boston has been able to cooperate effectively with the White Fund Trustees and utilize buildings of the George Robert White Fund for the purpose of the child health conferences and for the purpose of treating children who are brought by their mothers to these units. There is no good reason why the White Fund units could not also be utilized for free adult dental clinics, to be established in various parts and districts of the City of Boston. I think it is a poor commentary on the obligations and responsibilities of a city of this size when we realize that in the entire City of Boston no person can receive adult dental care without a charge therefor. I have in this order limited this type of service to the group of people who are receiving either welfare aid, aid to dependent children, old age assistance, soldiers' relief or W. P. A. assistance. In this category we have about 50,000 residents in the City of Boston who will never be able to have their teeth attended to if clinics of this type are not established in the city. Before we consider for a single minute the erection of a municipal stadium, which is a nice dream but an expensive dream, we ought to do something for the poor and needy of Boston. This is an excellent chance for the Mayor of Boston to start something which is vitally important and which, if it is set up as provided for in this order, would be of minor expense and yet so beneficial to the citizens and residents of Boston. I urge the passage of this order and immediate action by the Mayor.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH, PRESS AND ASSEMBLY.

Coun. GOTTLIEB offered the following:

Whereas, Recent Supreme Court decisions have specifically invalidated any and all municipal or state legislation or ordinances restricting or prohibiting the free exercise of rights granted by the Constitution of the United States; and

Whereas, It is the intent of the Boston City Council to safeguard the right to freedom of press, speech, and right of assembly; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the Boston City Council the necessary amendments to the Revised Ordinances of 1925, chapter 39, sections 36, 37 and 41, so that said ordinances, as amended, will safeguard the right of freedom of speech, press, and assembly.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, during the last year or two the Supreme Court has decided that the city ordinances which prohibit or abridge in any way the rights of freedom of speech or press or freedom of assembly are unconstitutional. In the particular case which I refer to, there was a Worcester ordinance which prohibited the distribution of handbills on the streets of the City of Worcester. This case went to the United States Supreme Court, which held that this particular city ordinance was invalid, as a curtailment of constitutional rights guaranteed by our United States Constitution and our State Constitution. We have on our own statute books here in the City of Boston ordinances which also prohibit the distribution of show cards, placards or handbills, except within certain limitations. I feel in light of this Supreme Court decision that ordinances of this type now on our statute books are unconstitutional. I quote as an illustration Revised Ordinances of 1925 of the City of Boston, chapter 39, section 37, which states:

"No person shall, while on foot in any street, carry and display any showcard, placard, or sign, except in accordance with a permit from the commissioner of public works; and no person having the care or control of any vehicle used principally for advertising purposes shall permit such vehicle to travel in any of the public streets of the city proper, north and east of Massachusetts avenue, except in accordance with a permit from the commissioner of public works."

I question the present validity of this ordinance, and that is the reason for the order. We have another section, section 41 of the same chapter 39, which states that

"No person shall throw or sweep into, or place or drop and suffer to remain in, any street . . . or distribute to persons on a street, handbills, cards, circulars, or papers of any kind except newspapers."

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, on a point of information. If I am not mistaken, didn't his Honor the Mayor, subsequent to this Supreme Court decision, file an order with this Council asking for the repeal of these particular sections and they were so repealed?

President GALVIN—It was filed late in 1939, and the Council didn't have time to act.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—I believe up to the present time these ordinances have not been repealed.

President GALVIN—That is so.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—I think enough time has elapsed so that these ordinances should be altered or amended or repealed so they will conform to existing laws as set down by our United States Supreme Court. There are other ordinances referred to in my order which are also a fit and proper subject for consideration, which should undoubtedly be repealed. I give as an illustration the fact that during the past year, in accordance with other ordinances, the Police Department of the City of Boston did arrest some people for violation of these sections, and when those cases came before a justice of the Boston Municipal Court and the United States Supreme Court decision was referred to the judge for consideration, he dismissed those cases. Now, as the ordinances stand today, people are liable to arrest, and those cases would have no standing in court. Therefore I feel that some action should be taken immediately by our Corporation Counsel to change these existing ordinances.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—The Mayor submitted an order, as Councilor Taylor said. What happened to that? Didn't the Council pass that?

President GALVIN—It came in here late in 1939, and the Council did not have time to act on it. It has not been submitted since.

AMENDMENT TO BUILDING LAWS.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

An Ordinance Concerning the Building Department.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 7 of chapter 10 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 is hereby amended by adding thereto the following words: "Or any person serving more than ten years as a building inspector for the city of Boston may on his retirement and on recommendation of the building commissioner receive from said license board a license covering all classes, required to supervise construction, etc. Said license to be in effect during good behavior and without payment of any fees."

Coun. TAYLOR—On a point of information, Mr. President, I think there was a similar order referred last year, and passed by this Council.

President GALVIN—It is referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

Coun. FISH—The councilor from Ward 12 is right. I happened to be over at the Building Department this morning, and the Building Commissioner asked if I would resubmit the order because he didn't know what happened to the one that came in last year.

RESURFACING OF VICTOR STREET, WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Victor street, Ward 13, and install sidewalks thereon, as a W. P. A. project.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LIGHT AT BIRD AND VIRGINIA STREETS, WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install an electric street light near junction of Bird and Virginia streets, Dorchester, in Ward 13.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF LIGHTING CONDITIONS, BUTLER STREET, DORCHESTER.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey in regard to the lighting conditions on Butler street, Dorchester, at the entrance to the elevated station, Ward 17.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING WARD 17 STREETS.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Whitfield street, Ward 17, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Norwell street, Ward 17, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

SYMPATHY TO FAMILY OF JOSEPH D. HURLEY.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby extends its heartfelt sympathy and condolence to the family of Joseph D. Hurley, late General Manager of the Boston Post, in its sad bereavement.

Coun. LANGAN—I am asking the members of the Council to join in this resolution in memory of a man who came up from the very humblest of positions, that of cub reporter, on the Boston Post, and rose to a position of trust and a position in which he was efficient, namely, that of general manager of one of our great metropolitan dailies.

The resolution was unanimously passed.

INCREASE OF PERSONNEL, MASSACHUSETTS STATE EMPLOYMENT SERVICE.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the Massachusetts State Employment Service be requested to augment its personnel in the Boston offices, inasmuch as Boston applicants for W. P. A. employment have been hindered and impeded in the matter of certification as the result of inadequate forces employed at that office.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, this resolution in no wise is a reflection against the state administration. The great body of the people of Massachusetts and the present Governor are to be complimented upon his recent message taking cognizance of the present financial situation in Boston. It is neither meant to be a reflection on the personnel or administration of Massachusetts Unemployment Service. I know the substantial work of the people in that office in view of the fact that I served in a similar capacity to this when the work was formerly done by the United States Department of Labor. However, I feel at the present time in the Massachusetts State Unemployment Service there is an inadequacy of personnel. I have it unofficially from the State W. P. A. office at 600 Washington street that the quota in Boston is much under what is permissible. We have not reached our quota on W. P. A. employment for the past several months. This is due not at all to the Federal officials, nor due to the Boston certification officers coming under the jurisdication of the city. Today I have here an affidavit from a student at Boston University Law School who on December 1st visited the office of the Massachusetts State Unemployment Service to get a number, a step preparatory to certification from W. P. A. He states in the affidavit his various endeavors to become certified by the Beacon street officers of the State Unemployment Service. He recounts his several visits to that office for that purpose, and he states it took him one month and three days before he was able to be certified, because of the large number of people who attended that office for a similar purpose. He made approximately nine visits, and on each occasion he was told to come back, and accordingly was deprived of the possibility of a month's wages on W. P. A. He is a young man alone in the world and striving to finance an education and to survive. I think it would be well worthwhile if the Massachusetts State Unemployment Service should take cognizance of the request of the Boston City Council which is desirous of taking as many people off welfare and placing them on W. P. A. rolls as possible. This resolve requests them to give consideration to adding to the personnel in order to facilitate certification of applicants for W. P. A. in that way. I hope it meets with the unanimous approval of this Council, and will be forwarded immediately to those authorities.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

THE NEXT MEETING.

Coun. D. H. SULLIVAN moved that when the Council adjourn it be to meet on Monday, January 27. Passed.

Adjourned at 4 p. m. to meet on Monday, January 27, 1941, at 2 p. m.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Jan. 6, 1941

The meeting for organization of the School Committee of the City of Boston for the current municipal year was held in the Administration Building, 15 Beacon Street, at 5:58 o'clock P. M., the Chairman presiding.

Present: Messrs. Lee, McDevitt, Norton, Sullivan, and White.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Frederick R. Sullivan, the senior member.

Mr. Sullivan stated that under the provisions of Chapter 479 of the Acts of 1924—An Act Providing for Biennial Elections in the City of Boston, etc.—the membership of the School Committee for the year 1941 is the same as that for the year 1940; namely, Mr. Joseph Lee, Mr. Daniel J. McDevitt Mr. Clement A. Norton, Mr. Frederick R. Sullivan, and Mr. Joseph C. White.

Mr. Sullivan: The first meeting of the year of the School Committee is held for the purpose of organization of the body. I am presiding as Chairman pro tempore, being the member whose original election is of the earliest date. The first business before the Committee will be the election of a chairman.

ELECTION OF CHAIRMAN

The Committee proceeded to the election of a Chairman, and the Secretary was directed to call the roll.

Mr. Lee: Being called on first it is my privilege to make the opening nomination speech.

It is by no means unusual in the School Committee to have the chairman succeed himself. Some members have served as chairman for one term and some have served two or more terms.

From having served with Mr. White for a year, I think his administration has been excellent. He has had an attitude that has brought new ideas and suggestions forward from any member of the Committee, an attitude that has allowed the best ideas to come to the top.

For that reason I would like to nominate Mr. White for reelection as chairman of the School Committee.

On roll call, the members respectively voted as follows:

For JOSEPH C. WHITE—Messrs. Lee. McDevitt, Norton, and Sullivan—4.

NOT VOTING—Mr. White—1.

The Chair declared Joseph C. White elected Chairman. Mr. White assumed the Chair.

Chairman: At the outset the Chair would like to express his deep appreciation of the action of the Committee which has re-elected him chairman of the School Committee for 1941.

This Committee has proved itself in one year one of the most outstanding and most progressive that this city has had and that has been due to the make-up of the Committee. Over a period of a year, every single member has tried to do what in his opinion was for the best interests of the school children of Boston, the teachers and the administrative officers, in order to make this a fine, outstanding organization. That has been recognized not only among the employees generally by the teachers and by the pupils and their parents, but by the press as well. Only two weeks ago an editorial in the Boston Sunday Post stated that this Committee was one of the most outstanding committees in the history of the city. That editorial is not merely a recognition by the press but, to my mind, reflects the attitude of the thousands of taxpayers and the parents of the school children of Boston. I feel that this coming year in its achievements will equal what we have done in the past.

I want to express my appreciation to every single member of this organization for his or her cooperation and interest, in my own behalf and in behalf of every member of the School Committee, all of whom feel as I do.

We have one report before the Committee that I would like to mention, a report from the Board of Apportionment on the question of an extension of our Mechanic Arts High School or the building of a new Mechanic Arts High School, and also a Trade School. That report of the Board of Apportionment is now before us but this being the organization meeting, it seemed advisable to hold the report for a conference to be held some night this week. At that time we will act on the recommendations submitted. Whatever action we take will be reached this week and the Legislature will be notified if provision for new accommodations is to be sought.

LEASING OF ELIZABETH PEABODY SCHOOL

The following preamble and order were offered:

WHEREAS, The Elizabeth Peabody School, Poplar Street, is now vacant and not in actual use for school purposes, it is hereby ORDERED, That the City Council is hereby requested to authorize the School Committee, in the name of the City, to lease to Navy Yard Chapter No. 17, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, the Elizabeth Peabody School, such occupancy to be discontinued at the will of the School Committee.

The preamble was adopted and the order passed by unanimous vote.

The Secretary stated that the building will also house the William L. Harris Post 196, American Legion; and the Navy Post 297, American Legion.

Mr. Lee: In regard to that order, I think frequently the Legion Posts take quite a hand in recreation for their sons and daughters.

As the West End, where the Elizabeth Peabody School is located, no longer has adult recreation rooms for those over sixteen, I would like to have it borne in mind and made a matter of record here, that after the Posts are in there, they might be able to work in a couple of their rooms for a WPA adult recreation project, which would not only help their members who might come in, but would help the community which is now without adult recreation rooms.

TEMPORARY ASSISTANCE

On motion, it was

ORDERED, That during the current financial year the Superintendent is hereby authorized to employ such temporary and emergency secretaries and clerical assistants, in the schools as he may deem advisable.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That during the current financial year the Secretary is hereby authorized to employ such temporary assistance in the offices of the Superintendent-Secretary, and at such compensation as she may deem advisable.

WHAT THE HIGH SCHOOLS OUGHT TO TEACH

Mr. Lee: At these organization meetings I like to spend a moment looking around the horizon at what we have done and at what the future holds in front of us. This year there is a particular contribution which I should like to bring to the attention of the School Committee here in the form of a report from the American Council on Education. I think it is fortunate that we all seem to be in step. That is to say, the Boston School Committee, in the new courses in economics in the last five grades, have perhaps set a pace for leadership for other parts of the country. In our job survey, which is now complete, we have taken another forward step in surveying our job panorama.

This report on What the High Schools Ought to Teach, gotten out by the American Council on Education, and including educational councils all over the country, has a particularly good message which I think would help focus the lines that we are working on.

The American Council on Education is composed of the National Education Association, the Catholic Education Association and the American Association of School Superintendents, which includes school systems of over 200,000, as well as all state departments of education in the 48 states. They appointed a sub-committee called the American Youth Commission, of which Mr. Owen D. Young of New York is chairman, and Henry I. Harriman of Boston is vice-chairman. This sub-committee included, among others, Dr. John Studebaker, Commissioner of Education in Washington, D. C.

This report makes several excellent points along lines on which we have been working, that I would like to bring to the Committee's attention and perhaps make it the basis of a particular study by the Board of Superintendents as it might apply to our system.

This report by the American Youth Commission and other co-operating organizations, on What the High Schools Ought to Teach, begins by paying a tribute to the State of Massachusetts for the work in this state back in 1906 in creating a special State Board of Education which was charged by the Legislature with the duty of establishing Trade Schools for the preparation of skilled workers. Later, vocational education became a recognized phase of public school programs of instruction in other parts of the country.

However in the field of social studies this report, called What the High Schools Ought to Teach, says, "The secondary schools and colleges are attempting, as they never did before, to prepare young people for an understanding of the problems of organized society. Since many prospective citizens do not continue their education beyond the secondary schools, it seems evident that instruction regarding society cannot be postponed to the period of college attendance. If the general populace is to be intelligent about the problems which confront communities and the nation there must be instruction in the secondary schools with respect to those issues."

Skipping through here further, following a reference to the fact that for some pupils pre-professional courses are appropriate and for others, courses which prepare for the highly skilled trades, the report states that even for pupils of these two classes it can be said that much less is done than should be done by way of preparing them for intelligent citizenship and for the duties of home life.

Referring to education as a whole and not to this school system:

"The present curriculum must be described as inappropriate because of its emphasis on items that do not accord with the ability or the outlook on the future of the majority of the pupils."

On the question of how the curriculum would be changed, it states:

"If, for example, it is agreed that all pupils need to pursue social studies and that only a few need to take a shop course in metal work, if it is agreed that all pupils should know something about biology because of the relation of this science to personal health and that only a few pupils need advanced mathematical physics, then the way may be opened to provide the advantages of a secondary school education adjusted to * * recognizing social studies and biology as elements of general education, and shop courses and mathematical physics as elements of special education."

READING

It gives quite a bit of attention to the question of reading and stresses the need of a continuation of the instructon in reading:

"Instruction in reading begins in the elementary school and is the most important single branch of elementary education. The mistake has long been made in secondary schools of assuming that pupils are not in need of post-elementary instruction in reading. * * *

"Many pupils are unable to read silently with efficiency because their habits of reading are habits of oral reading and are so firmly fixed that they are slow, clumsy readers. It frequently happens that pupils fail in such subjects as history and science, not because they lack ability to master the facts covered in these subjects, but because they are so incompetent in their reading that they cannot keep up with the assignments that are given them."

It points out that there is such a thing as learning to read fast when you are looking for some particular fact or reference, and our history books hold the reader down to minute attention because so much is condensed into a single sentence.

"The book is a compact body of factual statements which does not invite or permit fluent reading. Every sentence must be studied analytically. In mastering the contents of the ordinary textbook in history, the pupil cultivates habits of intellectual procedure which may prevent him throughout life from undertaking the type of reading which is appropriate for most of the materials which he will encounter in books and magazines.

"Not only is this so, but in most of the recitations which the pupil attends the teachers show ingenuity in torturing the subject studied by asking all kinds of questions which train the pupil in the most deliberate and minute dissection of what he has read. The result is that whenever a pupil takes up a book he begins to ramble in his thinking, indulging in all kinds of speculation as to the possible questions that one might raise. Pupils begin to think that it requires from three to six months to read through a book. * *

"The reader must know how to use the last part of a paragraph to make intelligible the first part The teacher who helps pupils learn to read properly is often contributing more to the intellectual progress of the pupil than the teacher who insists on excessive analysis and complete mastery of detail. * *

"They (the pupils) need to learn how to distinguish between different types of reading materials and appropriate methods of dealing with these different types. They need to know, for example, how to look through a book of reference for a single desired fact. They need to know how to be critical of the testimony presented by a biased writer. They need to know what to do when a statement which is important, but not fully understood, must be supplemented by further inquiry and reading of other sources of information. * * *

"At the present time an enormous amount of teaching effort is devoted to policing learners and making sure on one day that they have read and analyzed minutely the assignments that were given them the day before. If pupils once gained the idea that they are themselves responsible for their own intellectual progress through the proper use of recorded experience, a great burden would be lifted off the schools. The whole structure of the program would be changed. Pupils would devour with avidity reading materials that they now never encounter because they believe that they have done their full duty if they slavishly follow the assigned lesson requirements. * * *

"Good literature fails to be appreciated and enjoyed because of the analytical treatment that the best books receive in secondary school class rooms."

WORK

Then it stresses a thought somewhat new to me, that work should be made a more important part of the school training. Of course we have the co-operative courses. This report points out that in the old days the school systems prescribed training in occupations and training in reading:

"It is an interesting historical fact that the early educational laws of the American colonies explicitly provided that parents should give their children training in some useful occupation. This prescription was made on the double ground that work is advantageous to the individual and essential to the prosperity of the community. In the same law which prescribed training in occupations, parents were enjoined to give instruction in reading. It was comparatively easy to institutionalize the instruction in reading. A teacher could teach reading to a class. Work, on the other hand, especially productive manual work, was not readily conducted in the class room. Furthermore, parents were able, especially in agricultural occupations and in many of the simpler crafts, to teach work habits without seriously interrupting their own activities. So it came to pass that, for a long time, parents supervised the training of children in work while they left to teachers the education of children in the so-called three R's."

Speaking of Federal Youth Work Projects, such as the CCC and NYA:

"It has given to a great many young people the training that they need in work habits. It has cultivated confidence and morale where the school failed to equip many of its pupils to face the realities of practical life. * *

"The transition from dependent childhood into independent, self-supporting adulthood is always an important and difficult process for the individual."

You get their enthusiasm in courses on how to work, if that is part of the procedure.

The report points out that, "A great many young workers do not know that the ability to accept criticism from a foreman and to profit from his criticism are essential to success in a trade. That is a point that has long been overlooked."

TEACHING OF ADMINISTRATION

Another interesting portion of the report has to do with the teaching of administration:

"In the future the pattern of life of most individuals will be complex; it will be characterized by many human associations; by increasing co-operation. Most of us have to work with and for people, to serve their needs, to direct them, or to be directed by them. Moreover, general principles of administration, whether employed by a government, a large corporation, a small farmer, or a household manager, are much the same. A knowledge of these general principles widely diffused among the citizenry would contribute much to the orderly processes of human living. * *

"Administration basically is the examination of orders received, the infusion of zest into a personnel, the co-ordination of efforts, and the control of execution. On the proper exercise of the function of administration depends the success of any undertaking, be it great or small, of a public or private character."

CURRICULUM ADJUSTMENT

On how to make changes in the existing curriculum to incorporate these points, it goes into the question of mathematics and into the question of foreign languages, stating that many children stumble over mathematics, especially in the ninth and tenth grades, and get a set-back in school. It is suggested that mathematicians may be able to impart the essentials of mathematical reasoning without going into too many technical refinements and precise techniques which simply discourage the student.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

On the subject of foreign languages it says:

"Instruction in foreign languages is another topic on which it is very difficult to secure agreement between specialists in these languages and advocates of general education. Teachers of foreign languages make many claims for their subjects. They say that no young person ever has any clear idea of the structure of language until he has studied some language other than his vernacular. Pupils need to understand the languages of other nations, it is said, in order to gain a sympathetic understanding of strange cultures. If these statements and other claims of language teachers are accepted, and foreign languages continue to consume the time that has been traditionally given to them in the past, it will be very difficult to build up a program of general education to include the new courses that have been recommended as desirable.

"Here again certain recent experiments seem to show the way out of the situation. Why not serve directly, through a course in general language, the chief needs that are presented by advocates of foreign languages, without attempting to secure that slender and doubtful degree of mastery that is the only outcome for most pupils of the present courses in these languages."

This boiling down of languages into a general course of several different languages might result in bringing out the cultural aspects of them and give a grounding in them without taking more of the pupil's time than is warranted by the benefit received.

CONCLUSION

I have copies of that report, Mr. Chairman. What I have said and read outlines the main points or the points that seem to me the pressing ones. It speaks of English composition as being something like our English reading, too exacting and not sufficiently in keeping with the child's life and interests.

It definitely emphasizes social studies preparing for citizenship, of learning to read so you can go through things quickly and enjoyably as well as just reading a textbook and being questioned on each sentence, and it stresses the need of getting more work experience into the school system so that the child can make more gradually the transition from school into the daily world, which we do beautifully in our co-operative courses and perhaps fail to do in our academic courses.

I would suggest a definite report on this from the Board of Superintendents.

Chairman: You mean to refer your statements now to the Board of Superintendents?

Mr. Lee: Yes.

Superintendent: I have already referred that publication to the High School Headmasters Association and I think they have purchased copies of the document for study.

Chairman: We will subsequently be given a report on it by the Association?

Superintendent: It is a question whether you want to ask them definitely to make a report to us and through us to you, or whether you want the Board of Superintendents to study this.

Mr. Lee: Particularly with reference to learning to read, work habits and social studies, the points seem so well taken that I would like to see a report come through to the Board of Superintendents.

Chairman: We will refer it to the Board of Superintendents.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE YEAR

Mr. Norton: This being the first meeting of the new year, I think it is well, as a matter of record, to make two or three observations as to what we have accomplished in one year.

Senator Norris tells us after a lifetime in Washington, that he could put his accomplishments on a small card. Yet there are many students of the National Congress who feel that Senator Norris is the No. 1 man, from the standpoint of accomplishment. With his 30 years of service he emphasizes that at the end of a year the contributions of a legislative body are relatively small. However, this Committee, during the past year, has accomplished some things, and I think those things should be enumerated at this time as a matter of record.

One of them—and the thing that I am very proud of—is the free meals for younger children, due to the beneficence of the Federal Government. For the first time in history they came into the Boston schools with food for hungry children We have these free meals in half a dozen schools. That was one of the efforts made by this Committee during the past year. Eventually we hope to have these free lunches in every school where there is a hungry stomach.

Before this Committee for a long span of years we have had this question of temporary elementary teachers, and it has been a complex question. After a survey of the factors involved, there have been experts who said that there was nothing that could be done. Those men were honest in their opinion. There were others who felt that if a number of potentialities and imponderables were eliminated, something could be done. According to the teachers themselves, this Committee has gone further and has perhaps accomplished more in arriving at an equitable conclusion to the problem of the temporary elementary teachers, than has been the case in any similar fiscal year since this problem first evolved many years ago. That is the second accomplishment.

A third accomplishment is that we have opened our Conferences to the public. All our business is public. Every cent that is spent by the School Committee belongs to every man, woman and child in this city. There is nothing that we do but what is public business, and this Committee has seen to it that at our Conferences, particularly those having to do with the budget and the expenditure of money, there are representatives of the parents, the teachers, the press and the taxpayers. They are all welcome and they have been there during the past fiscal year as never before.

I think that is a very good and healthy sign, and I think it is something to talk about.

The last observation I would like to make about the accomplishments of the past fiscal year relates to the appointment of an acting assistant superintendent, an outstanding individual that we all agreed was outstanding, and he was appointed with a minimum of controversy and discussion. His appointment augurs well for the future of our school system. I think that is an accomplishment. Rather than drag it out, meeting after meeting, and vote by vote, we had an amicable discussion upstairs lasting about an hour and settled that very important question for the future of our schools and the children involved.

So, I think, Mr. Chairman, that at the first meeting of the year it is well to review what I consider the important accomplishments of this Committee during the past year. At the end of the year 1941, 1942 and 1943, if we are living, I hope we will be able to point to as great accomplishments as those that we are able to mention this evening.

INCREASED OPPORTUNITIES FOR AIRPLANE MECHANICS

One more suggestion, and it is a matter I suggested to the Superintendent: At a recent meeting we had a former Mayor of Boston tell us about the Pratt & Whitney aviation engine plant at East Hartford, Connecticut. It would seem that under the circumstances we should immediately dispatch somebody from the Boston School System to that plant, to find what if any possibility there is of connecting our boys with that system of instruction and that employment. To protect ourselves and to show that we are at least interested, someone should go to that plant at East Hartford, the greatest manufacturing establishment in the world for aviation engines. There were articles in the Boston Globe to the effect that Pratt & Whitney were looking for boys and young men to train for this important industry. We may have a few boys in Boston who could qualify there. If there is anything that the officials of the School Department can do to assist our boys to get into this industry, I am sure we should connect with that phase of it. At least we should have a report from some responsible official relative to the suggestion of the former Mayor with regard to the Pratt & Whitney aviation engine plant.

I think some suggestion should be made to the national defense officials at Washington that a survey be made of the northeastern section of this country with a view to establishing at the East Boston Airport a school for the training of aviation mechanics. In various sections of the country I understand the Federal Government is considering the establishment of these schools for aviation mechanics. The establishment of such a school at the East Boston Airport would be a tremendous help, not only to the boys of Boston but those of this section of the state.

I am encouraged to make that suggestion after going to the Boston Trade School and looking at the eighty young men studying mechanics in the basement, when 8000 would like to get in. It is something that seems to be beyond the potentials of the school system of Boston. Surrounding cities and towns are also interested in this type of instruction and the Federal Government is interested. With aviation such an important matter as it is, it seems to me that our East Boston Airport offers great possibilities for establishing a Federal Government school for the training of aviation mechanics. Somebody connected with our School Department might suggest that possibility to the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, or the National Defense Commission, and someone from our School Department might visit Washington with a view to contacting the officials specifically in charge of that phase of the problem throughout the country.

Superintendent: The article that appeared in one of the Boston papers where specific reference was made to Boston, was not quite accurate. I made it my business to take that matter up with the Head Master of the Boston Trade School. There are five members of last year's graduating class already employed in the Pratt & Whitney plant at East Hartford. Twenty-three young men graduated from the Airplane Service Department of the Boston Trade School in June, 1940.

Of this group, one graduate is attending Northeastern University; five are employed at Pratt & Whitney Company at East Hartford; two are employed at Vought-Sikorsky Company, a subsidiary of Pratt & Whitney; five are employed at Glenn-Martin Aircraft Company at Baltimore; three are employed at Wiggins Airport, Norwood; three are employed at Boston and Maine Airlines, East Boston Airport; and two are in the Air Corps, United States Navy. Of former classes, there are twenty-three graduates who are employed in the Pratt & Whitney Company at the present time. One graduate of the class of 1933 is Engineering Officer of the Pan-American Clipper, which operates between New York and Lisbon.

The man in charge of the Airplane Service Department at the Boston Trade School has visited the East Hartford plant for the purpose of placing our boys, and that practice, which has been in effect over a period of years, will be continued.

The establishment of a Federal school here is one that will have to be studied carefully.

Mr. Norton: I think the aviation instructor at the Boston Trade School should give us something in writing to include in our records. He or someone connected with that work should be the liaison officer between our School Department and organizations such as the one at the Pratt & Whitney plant.

Superintendent: If there had been a conference of th School Committee prior to this meeting I should have read that report into the record. I did call the attention of the Chairman of the School Committee to that report. I will present it at the next Conference.

Mr. Lee: We might set some machinery in motion on that matter of a Federal school for airplane mechanics. Couldn't we ask Mr Gould to have somebody contact Mr. Small, of the State Department of Education, and have some recommendation for bringing it to the attention of the officials at Washington?

Superintendent: Mr. Downey has already taken that up with Mr. Small. When you have your Conference this week I think we will have something definite.

Mr. Norton: The Federal Government is stepping into these activities. As a matter of fact, they are doing so much that it is beyond our ken at present.

At Boston Trade School, where there are 80 boys studying, the youngsters who are not enrolled in the course are so interested that they are peeking in the windows. There you see a small number devoted to airplane instruction, where we ought to have the whole building devoted to this mechanical instruction and forget, for the time being, paperhanging and bricklaying. The tempo of the demand has been so increased that it seems to me we should step along with it if we can.

I understand that southern California has a Federal school for aviation mechanics. It may be that climatic conditions in that part of the country call for that school. It has been suggested by certain war department officials that since Boston is the northeastern headquarters for the country, so far as the Army is concerned, and as we have that beautiful airport, there is a possibility of expanding it to three times its size. If we had someone at Washington every day, preaching the story that Boston wants a Federal school to take care of the youngsters in this part of the country, we might get something. Then again, we might not. At the same time, we would not lose anything.

LOWERED COST OF MILK FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Just one more suggestion. There are 10,000 children in the New York public schools at present being serviced with a one-cent bottle of milk a day. The Federal Government is doing that. I want somebody here in the Boston School Department to ask if it is not possible for us to buy that milk at a cent a bottle, so that thousands of hungry youngsters in our schools may receive the benefit of it.

Mr. Lee: As treasurer of this milk fund I have conferred with Alexander Sullivan and Dr. Keenan, and we have gotten the price of milk down to two cents. That is 100 per cent higher than in New York. We thought we were going to have to pay 3¼ or 3¾ cents.

Dr. Gillis, who looked into this matter, is only able to state that the Federal Surplus Commodity Administration seems to be more lenient toward New York than to Boston.

Mr. Norton: Can we find out first definitely how many children are getting a bottle of milk for one cent in New York now? Secondly, with that information, let us memorialize every Congressman from Greater Boston and our United States Senators to give the hungry children of Boston the benefit of that one cent milk. You would be surprised how much a little initiative in the right place would start things going today. We have everything to gain and nothing to lose by a little activity along these lines.

WHAT THE HIGH SCHOOLS OUGHT TO TEACH.

Mr. Lee: I notice a summarizing paragraph in this report on What the High Schools Ought to Teach, that I did not read.

"Reading and labor, which are specifically recommended in preceding sections for all young people, are units in a program of secondary education which can be made to supplement each other very advantageously. The laborer who is a competent reader has in his possession an ability which will help him to maintain himself as a continually developing individual. The reader who knows how to work and has experienced the satisfaction which comes from productive labor will have an outlook on the world which is likely to save him from the danger of formal repetitions of verbal formulas. He will be a realist at the same time that he seeks the guidance which comes through sharing the experiences of the race."

A final sentence—which I skipped before—I think is of value. It is to the effect that "problems of community life . . . economics, politics," as part of the school curriculum, have "only recently been given a permanent place."

Superintendent: There is one chapter that is devoted to guidance and there is quite an extensive discussion of the subject there.

Mr. Lee: Yes, there is.

Superintendent: That should be included in your summary.

Mr. Lee: In dealing with the transition from dependent childhood into independent adulthood, this published report particularly stresses the need of teacher-help toward the pupil. It does so also by saying that "The schools ought to be prepared to describe in perfectly explicit terms what a young person is capable of doing, and ought to stand by him with advice and assistance until he finds a place in the adult world. If this statement is accepted as defining the relation of the schools to their products the schools become at once factors in the social order of a type far more important and influential than they are now, when, for the most part, they merely turn out graduates and abandon them to the hard chances of modern life. * *

"It is equally certain that generation after generation is passing through these schools and coming out grossly unprepared to face the demands of modern life."

A number of these cemeteries are no longer available to the public for interments. In 1937 there were 2.075 interments in these cemeteries, or 77 more than in 1936. STATE REFERENDA RESULTS, 1936.

A question of public policy "Shall the Representative in the General Court from this district be instructed to vote in favor of amending the State Constitution for the purpose of limiting the amount of taxes, for all purposes, which may be legally levied against any real estate within the Commonwealth to a sum not exceeding $25 for each one thousand dollars of assessed valuation?" was voted on by only a portion of the Representative Districts. In Boston, six districts did not vote on it.

The totals for the districts and parts of districts, including Boston districts, were 310,715 in favor; 113,594 against and 203,277 blanks. For Boston alone, the totals for the sixteen districts that voted were 114,184 in favor; 46,689 against and 79,827 blanks.

In Boston, there were three referenda on sales of alcoholic beverages.

First, "Shall licenses be granted in this city for the sale therein of all alcoholic beverages (whiskey, rum, gin, malt beverages, wines and all other alcoholic beverages)?" Totals, 190,353 in favor, 45,402 against and 84,732 blanks.

Second, "Shall licenses be granted in this city for the sale therein of wines and malt beverages (wines and beer, ale and all other malt beverages)?" Totals, 185,213 in favor, 40,164 against and 95,110 blanks.

Third, "Shall licenses be granted in this city for the sale therein of all alcoholic beverages in packages, so called, not to be drunk on the premises?" Totals, 187,877 in favor, 37,139 against and 95,471 blanks.

STATE VALUATIONS IN 1937.

Total assessed value of real estate on January 1, 1937, in the thirty-nine cities and 316 towns of Massachusetts, $5,742,-161,541 ($18,194,654 less than on January 1, 1936), of which 65.62 per cent applied to buildings and 34.38 per cent to land; of personalty, $525,039,493; aggregate valuation, $6,267,201,034 (2.74 per cent decrease from 1936), on which the total tax was $222,184,422. To raise this amount of taxes on the property assessed at a uniform rate throughout the State would have required a tax rate of $35.45+ on $1,000 valuation. Boston's valuation, $1,590,544,700, equal to 25.38 per cent of total valuation in the State.

VOTE FOR PRESIDENT IN BOSTON, NOVEMBER 3, 1936.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 33. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1941. NO. 6

HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY EXTENSION READY FOR FORMAL OPENING AND PASSENGER SERVICE ON SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 16 — MAYOR TOBIN, CITY OFFICIALS AND PROMINENT CITIZENS TAKEN ON PREVIEW TOUR ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON, LOUD IN PRAISE OF ACCOMPLISHMENT — PROJECT COMPLETED AT COST OF $7,125,937 IS ONE OF MAJOR FEATURES OF MAYOR TOBIN'S ADMINISTRATION — PROJECT GAVE WORK TO 2,800 CITIZENS WHEN AT PEAK, WITH $4,824,542 PAID FOR LABOR — UNDERPASS CONNECTING STILL TO BE COMPLETED.

When the Huntington Avenue Subway Extension is opened, as it is now planned, on Sunday, February 16, there will have been completed the second largest W. P. A. project in the history of the Works Progress Administration. This project is exceeded in size only by the LaGuardia Airport in New York. The preview of the new extension was taken by Mayor Tobin and city and public officials and a number of prominent citizens on Friday, February 7.

In connection with the building of this extension of the Subway system a number of interesting facts are to be noted. That the extension has been built is largely due to the activity and the foresight of Mayor Maurice J. Tobin. The cost of the work is estimated at $7,125,937, of which the City of Boston paid $1,930,535, and out of the W. P. A. funds, the balance of $5,195,402 was secured. Of the total sum $4,824,542 was paid to laborers. When the employment was at its peak there were 2,800 persons at work on the project, with a normal complement of 2,100 regularly being used, under a staff of 100 foremen and supervisors. In order that the work might be completed in the allotted time the project was operated for most of the time under a three-shift plan.

Upon taking office Mayor Tobin undertook to put into force a plan for the extension of the subway to an outbound terminal near the Opera House. As a result of his efforts work was started on October 8, 1937, and has been advanced to its completion within the specified time allotted for the work. In addition to the extension itself plans have been made and work begun on an underpass which will cost about $300,000, in order to make the extension of easy access to the public. This latter part will not be completed before the middle of the summer, it is estimated. This underpass will carry the traffic beneath Massachusetts avenue, and will be in the middle of Huntington avenue, with two subway tubes, one at either side of the pass.

The subway extension is less than a mile in length. It starts from a point approximately at Copley Station, runs along Boylston street, makes a left turn into Exeter street, then turns right onto Huntington avenue. There are but two stations, Mechanics and Symphony.

Difficulties Encountered.

At Exeter street it was necessary to carry the subway beneath the tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad. This was done by means of an open cut and by supporting the railroad tracks on steel girders, each 50 feet in length. Also it was necessary to relocate one of the five principal water mains that run into Boston. The Transit Commission engineers, not daring to risk leaving it in its former location for fear of a break in the 42-inch pipe, laid a new line through Irvington, St. Botolph and Gainsborough streets, and connected each end without serious interruption to the water service. They also relocated the same pipe line on Huntington avenue, laying it beneath the sidewalk from Gainsborough street to Opera place. It was also necessary to relocate several sewers and to build a 6-foot syphon sewer at Gainsborough street and Huntington avenue, to carry the sewage flow under the subway.

When the extension is opened, all street car tracks will be removed from Boylston street and Huntington avenue. The incline at Arlington street will be filled in, Copley square will be rearranged and beautified, and Huntington avenue will be given a central separation strip, new paving, trees, etc.

In connection with the opening on February 16, unless a severe snowstorm should interfere, the Boston Elevated Railway Company will halt its Huntington avenue service at 8 p. m. on Saturday, the 15th, and will have buses to transport passengers past the shuttle point, in both directions. To complete the connection, workmen will have to remove 240 heavy steel beams which support the present roadway of Huntington avenue over the incline leading to the subway at the Opera House end. This work will require use of cranes. When it is completed, the El will join the tracks and it is expected that public service will be in operation by Sunday afternoon.

Accidents Were Few.

Despite the many hazards there were few accidents, none serious, and the only fatality occurred when an outsider climbed over one of the safety fences, fell and was killed. Representatives of many trades were employed. One reason for the excellent accident record was that W. P. A. officials arranged for a physical examination of all men reporting for work. This was done by three doctors and four first-aid men. All those physically unfit were weeded out. In case of injury, victims were treated immediately by the doctors employed at the project and then taken to a hospital, if necessary. This system gave control of lost-time accident cases.

Every detail and specification of the work was worked out in the offices of the Boston Transit Commission, under the auspices of which the subway extension was built. The commission is headed by Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, whose associates are Daniel P. McGillicuddy and Daniel J. O'Connell. The chief engineer of the Transit Commission is Wilbur W. Davis.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hill looking down on the shipteeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

MAYOR TOBIN OFFICIATED AT LAYING OF KEEL OF STEEL FERRYBOAT, FIRST SHIP TO BE BUILT IN BOSTON IN MORE THAN TWO DECADES.

At 11 o'clock on Friday, February 7, Mayor Tobin took part in the laying of the keel of a 180-foot steel ferryboat to be built by the General Ship and Engine Works, on Border street, East Boston. It will be the first time in more than a quarter-century that the Chief Executive of Boston has taken part in such a ceremony within the city limits and this will be the first large commercial craft to be constructed, from the keel up, in Boston, since the World War.

Mayor Tobin has a special interest in the building of this vessel for it was due to his efforts that the company was able to acquire the yard. The city had taken it over as tax title property a year ago last August. In his effort to improve conditions for the Port of Boston, the Mayor put through the deal that gives the General Ship and Engine Company one of the best building sites on the waterfront, at a point directly opposite the Navy Yard. Recently, in Washington, Mayor Tobin urged Federal officials to grant as many defence contracts as possible to the smaller shipyards in Boston. There are several other tracts unused at present along the East Boston shore where vessels of all sizes could be constructed.

The present East Boston job will give employment to 350 men. The ferryboat is being constructed for the General Motors Corporation which will install one of its diesel-electric power plants and turn the completed craft over to a company that operates ferry service between New York City and Weehawken, New Jersey. The local company is also doing work for the United States Navy at its East Boston yard and has plans whereby ten launching ways can be laid side by side for mass production in case contracts are awarded.

When Mayor Tobin officiated at the keel laying on Friday he was on historic ground, for the yard was formerly one in which Donald McKay built the famous clipper ships, such as "Flying Cloud," "Star of the Sea," "Great Republic," etc. In excavating for the present ways, workmen uncovered the timbers of one of the old McKay launchings ways, built about 1850. The piles and timbers were so sound that they were left in place and form a part of the present launching ways.

The hull of the new ferryboat will be electric welded, without use of rivets, and complete control of engines and rudder will be from the pilot house. The cost will be $285,000. The General Ship and Engine Company gained fame last year by cutting the steel hull of the Lake Champlain ferryboat "Chateauguay" into twenty sections at Burlington, Vermont, transporting them on flat cars to Lakeport, New Hampshire, and there joining them again to create the "Mt. Washington, 2d," to replace the famous old "Lake Winnepesaukee" excursion boat that had burned.

Carl C. Hedblom is president of the company, Byron C. Hedblom, vice president, Miss June Hedblom the treasurer, and Ralph Christiansen the superintendent.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

BOSTON, January 14, 1941.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—I respectfully request your approval to the award of a trucking contract, without advertising, for the financial year 1941. The contractor for the year 1940 was the firm of P. A. Milan, Inc., 111–113 Central street, Boston, Mass. This company is bonded and licensed being registered with the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities and will furnish Public Liability insurance and Workmen's Compensation certificates. This company has the equipment to do the various kinds of work required by this department and has given in the past perfect satisfaction in every respect.

During the beginning of 1940, notwithstanding the rise in the cost of labor, the concern signed a contract for the same prices furnished this department in 1939. While the question of a contract is now pending this concern has agreed to furnish the same prices as per the 1940 contract. The unit prices are as follows:

1½-ton covered truck, $1.90 per hour.
2½-ton covered truck, $2.15 per hour.
3-ton covered truck, $2.25 per hour.
5-ton covered truck, $2.65 per hour.
1½-ton dump truck, $1.90 per hour.

The hourly rate specified above includes upkeep of equipment, gasoline, oil, and provides in addition to one chauffeur a helper for each truck.

I do not know what effect the National Defense Program will have this coming year in its demand for trucks and truckmen or whether or not I shall be able to receive competitive bids on this type of work. From the above I am therefore of the opinion that no advantage to the city would accrue by advertising this contract.

I am asking the approval of your Honor to this award. Pending your decision in the matter the P. A. Milan Company has agreed to render the same service at the same prices as outlined in the 1940 contract.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES J. MAHAR,
Superintendent of Construction.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, January 13, 1941.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,— Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising, to the Nutters System, Inc., 64 Eliot street, Boston, for rental of trucks to the Public Welfare Department, as needed, during the period from January 1, 1941, to December 31, 1941, inclusive, as follows:

Rental of 2½-ton trucks, without operators, furnishing of fuel, approximately 160 hours per month, at the rate of 95 cents per hour, $152, estimated cost for twelve months, $1,824.

Rental of 1½-ton trucks, without operators, furnishing of fuel, approximately 100 hours per month, at the rate of 50 cents per hour, $50, estimated cost for twelve months, $600.

Approximate amount of contract, $2,424.

The above prices are so low that nothing would be gained by publicly advertising.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN A. BREEN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising, to Remington-Rand, Inc., Buffalo, New York, for furnishing to the Collecting Department tabulating machine services comprising the use of machine devices and equipment, together with the advice and counsel of its staff in applying said system to the work of the Collecting Department and, if requested, furnish cards, supplies and accessories for use in this system.

These machines and equipment cannot be purchased outright from Remington-Rand, Inc., but are secured by means of a rental charge for a certain period, based on the various items listed below, said period being for the year ending December 31, 1941. This particular equipment has been in use in the Collecting Department for the last several years and has proved satisfactory for its use. The equipment to be rented consists of the following:

	Monthly Rental.

1 Model 20 sorter (90)	40
1 interpreter (90)	85
4 automatic key punches with verifying attachment at $23 each	92
1 automatic verifying machine	30
Total	$522

The city, acting by the superintendent, may make substitutions of equipment of a similar nature in any of the above items and may add new items thereto; provided, however, that the maximum amount to be paid by the city monthly for everything furnished or performed by the contractor hereunder shall in no event exceed $700.

The Walter Reed Corporation has been granted an extension of the time for completion of the contract for filling and grading a part of Martin M. Lomasney Park, Nashua street, City Proper, and other incidental work to prepare area for snow dump, dated November 20, 1940, from December 20, 1940, to January 20, 1941, thirty-one days. This extension is occasioned by unsuitable weather conditions and unforeseen obstacles encountered during the progress of the work.

Walter H. Ellis & Son Company have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for constructing a snow dump wharf, North Ferry, Boston, from January 20, 1941, to February 3, 1941. MAYOR NAMES COMMITTEE ON PARKING SITUATION.

On February 3 Mayor Tobin issued the following statement:

Today I am appointing a committee of five men to study the parking situation in the City of Boston.

A. Lawrence Lowell, of Boston.

Philip T. Desmond, Engineer, Traffic Commission.

Joseph F. Timilty, Police Commissioner.

Phillips Ketchum, of Natick, Vice Chairman of the Municipal Research Bureau.

Fred Hamlin, of Melrose, New England Manager of the A. A. A.

From 1928 to 1939 the number of automobiles, buses and motor trucks entering the downtown area has increased from 170,000 to 280,000. In 1939 there was a 5 per cent increase in the registration of cars. In 1940 a 7 per cent increase and in 1941 it is conservative to estimate that at least a 10 per cent increase in registration will result.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 3.

I. Federal Income Tax.

Report slips on Federal Income Taxes for the year 1940 are being distributed today. These slips are to be filled out in duplicate by members who come under the following classifications:

Members who were single as of January 1, 1940, and whose annual salary amounted to $800 or more during 1940; members who were married as of January 1, 1940, and whose annual salary amounted to $2,000 or more during 1940.

On each of the two copies made out by a member coming under the foregoing classifications there should be written or typed on the top line, the name and home address of the member. The company to which the signer was attached on December 31, 1940, is to be placed in the upper right-hand corner of the sheets. A member filling out these forms shall place a cross in one of the boxes in the left-hand column to signify whether or not he was married or single in 1940.

If a member has received his entire basic salary during 1940 without any deductions for suspension, sickness or other cause (contributions to the Boston Retirement Fund are not classed as deductions) or has received no overtime, sliding scale increase or other addition in pay, he should place the amount of his basic salary in the left-hand column above the boxes in this column.

For example: A deputy chief who has suffered no loss or received no increase in salary during 1940, would write the amount of $4,500 in the left-hand column; a district chief would write $4,000; a captain, $2,700; a lieutenant, $2,500; a private, $2,100, etc.

Members who have suffered loss of salary, received overtime or an increase in salary during 1940 shall not place any salary amount in the left-hand column. This will be done at Headquarters.

The original slip is to be returned to Headquarters on or before Friday, January 31, 1941; the duplicate is to be retained by the individual. When making returns each company's forms shall be kept separate either by clips or elastic bands.

In addition to filling out Form 1099 as directed in this order, it will be necessary for members who do so to file an Income Tax blank with the Internal Revenue Service of the Treasury Department in Boston. This return must be filed on or before March 15, 1941. Income Tax blanks are available at the Internal Revenue Office, Post Office Building, Boston.

Extra slips have been sent to each district in the event that more are needed by companies.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 557.

The Trial Board, consisting of Captains Grace, Daley and Donovan, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Timothy J. Wallace, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, charging him with leaving the city without permission and conduct unbecoming an officer, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty as charged. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Timothy J. Wallace perform 105 hours of punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILITY,
Police Commissioner.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Building Commissioner to raze the following structures as fire menaces or nuisances:

Due to the structually unsafe condition of the abandoned fire station at 440 and 442 Harrison avenue, Ward 3, owned by the City of Boston.

Due to the structually unsafe condition of the building at 8 Lovis street, Ward 6, owned by the estate of Annie McBreen

To prevent the actual collapse of the walls of buildings at 7 and 9 Genesee street, Ward 3, John Cavanagh & Son were ordered to install the necessary shores to have the buildings remain in place until they were razed at a cost of $150, for taking down, cleaning up, and removing all shoring materials from the premises.

During the past year the actual collapse of the rear walls of 20 and 22 Newcomb street necessitated emergency action to secure remaining portions of the buildings from total collapse and to protect the two buildings adjoining at 18 and 24 Newcomb street. Consequently, John Cavanagh & Son were ordered to install the necessary shores to have the buildings remain in place until they were razed, at a rental of the shores at the rate of $25 per month, for two months, and for the cost of taking down, cleaning up, and removing all shoring materials from the premises in the amount of $100, total amount, $150.

To raze the building at 7 Gray street, Ward 2.

EXTRA EMPLOYMENT FOR SNOW REMOVAL.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Public Works Commissioner:

BOSTON, January 31, 1941.

To the Mayor of Boston.

The snow storm of January 24 necessitated the following emergency employments to supplement the work of the department forces in the clearing of streets, effective from January 24, and charged to Snow Removal, as follows:

1,578 laborers from $\frac{1}{8}$ of a day to $5\frac{1}{2}$ days at $5 a day; 16 foremen from $3\frac{5}{8}$ days to $4\frac{1}{2}$ days at $8 a day; 31 subforemen from $2\frac{1}{4}$ days to $4\frac{7}{8}$ days at $6 a day; 19 supervisors from $2\frac{5}{8}$ days to $4\frac{1}{8}$ days at $5 a day; 8 clerks from $3\frac{3}{8}$ days to $4\frac{1}{8}$ days at $5 a day; 22 chauffeurs from 1 day to $4\frac{1}{8}$ days at $6 a day; 15 loader operators from $1\frac{3}{8}$ days to $4\frac{1}{8}$ days at $8 a day; 7 hoisting engineers from $1\frac{3}{8}$ days to $4\frac{1}{8}$ days at $8 to $11 a day; 3 blacksmiths from $1\frac{1}{8}$ days to $4\frac{1}{4}$ days at $6 a day; 4 tractor operators from 1 day to $4\frac{1}{8}$ days at $6 to $8 a day; 291 checkers from $\frac{7}{8}$ of a day to $6\frac{1}{4}$ days at $6 a day.

THE MUNICIPAL WATER-WORKS TREND.

In 1800 there was but one municipally-owned water-works plant in the United States. Now there are 7,853 municipally-owned installations, or 72.8 per cent of the entire number. In the United States there are ninety-four cities of over 100,000 population. All but eleven of these own their water works. Municipal plants serve 96.1 per cent of the population of the ninety-four cities, while private plants serve only 3.9 per cent.

BOSTON'S LIABILITY FOR METROPOLITAN DEBT, 1937.

Boston's liability for this contingent debt of the State (i. e., in the form of annual assessments for sinking funds and interest) incurred for Metropolitan parks, sewers, water, etc., was $28,559,995 (net) on July 1, 1937, or $1,283,454 more than in 1936 and $6,473,404 more than in 1927. It is divided thus: Water debt, $25,314,274; Park debt, $904,738; Sewer debt, $1,639,878; Charles River Basin debt, $701,105. The percentages paid by Boston in 1937 were 63.4515 on Water Debt; 48.6623 on most of the Park Debt; 36.25 on most of the Sewer debt, and on Charles River Basin debt the same as on Park debt.

Metropolitan assessments paid by Boston in 1937 amounted to $4,752,277.22, of which 64.23 per cent was for debt requirements and 35.77 for maintenance. Water assessment, $3,282,201 (usually paid from water revenue); park, $786,-974; sewer, $470.545; Charles River Basin, etc., $212,557.

INTERSTATE MUNICIPAL COOPERATION.

At a recent meeting in New York City a new type of interstate municipal cooperation was launched by officials of cities in New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. The plan is based on direct cooperation among officials of a region on pressing problems of local government.

APPROPRIATION FOR DUPLICATING CITY RECORDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 23, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The communication from the City Clerk submitted herewith requests an appropriation of $5,000 for completing the work of duplicating the City of Boston records.

For the reasons advanced therein it seems that this appropriation is reasonable and advisable and I accordingly recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
City Clerk's Office, January 25, 1941.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Last year a preliminary appropriation was provided by the Mayor and City Council to enable me to begin the work of duplicating by the micro-film process those records of the City of Boston of which no copies or duplicates have ever been made.

In some degree this undertaking was experimental, but I am pleased to report that the expenditure of this preliminary appropriation has produced results which are eminently satisfactory.

The cost per page has been greater than I had estimated due to several factors. One was that the normal output per hour was considerably reduced owing to the high standard of clearness and accuracy which I required; and another was that it seemed advisable to obtain both a negative and a positive film while the work was in hand.

If I am granted a further appropriation of $5,000 I am satisfied that it will be sufficient to complete the work on the Boston records and perhaps go some ways towards reproducing the ancient records of the annexed towns, such as Dorchester, Roxbury and Charlestown.

As originally planned, when the work is finished a complete set of duplicates will be stored in the Boston Public Library to provide against the possible destruction of the originals.

In addition, through the very much appreciated cooperation of the Trustees and the Director of the Boston Public Library, the duplicate records are to be made conveniently available to the public on request by reproducing the positive films on the reading machines at the Library Building.

The records which I propose to duplicate are constantly consulted by historians, antiquarians, genealogists and attorneys, under conditions which, to say the least, do little credit to the City of Boston. Up to the present time it has seemed impossible to improve those conditions except by the construction of a new City Hall, or a Hall of Records, at a prohibitive expense.

The situation can now be remedied by the expenditure of the comparatively small sum of $5,000, which is requested herein.

Yours respectfully,
W. J. DOYLE, City Clerk.

Ordered, That the sum of five thousand dollars be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended by the City Clerk as a special appropriation for the Care and Preservation of Old Records and Historic Papers; said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Referred to Executive Committee.

ANNUAL BUDGET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 27, 1941.

Honorable Council of the City of Boston.

Gentlemen,—Section 3 of the amended City Charter of the City of Boston provides that within thirty days of the commencement of the fiscal year the Mayor shall recommend and submit to the City Council his appropriations for maintenance purposes for the current year. Accordingly, I herewith recommend to your Honorable Body the maintenance appropriations for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1941, and ending December 31, 1941, for the city and county departments. There is submitted, in addition, my allowances for the revenue departments of the city which are, as you are aware, self-sustaining and are not provided for from tax collections, but from fees charged for their services. I am happy to say that it is a reduced budget, not by a fortunate turn of events, but through the resourcefulness of the city administrators in their daily duties. To achieve this reduction in operating costs of the city departments requires constant vigilance, review, and analysis of operations. Each year it becomes increasingly more difficult to submit an appropriation bill which carries us further along the road of retrenchment. In order to be able at the commencement of the fiscal year to submit a smaller budget, it is necessary to institute savings and economies throughout the year, and for me to give constant executive supervision to these policies and practices, and this involves not only attention to the policy in its broadest aspects, but close attention to the detail of the many departments. In some instances we have been scratching rock bottom, and in other instances in the interest of prudent administration the low level of former years can no longer be retained. The broadest consideration of human need and adequate service in some cases impel an orderly retreat from former low levels. In certain instances, such as in the case of the Planning Board, I feel that a larger appropriation is vitally related to the future welfare of the city. Recent trends in municipal service point to the constant need for growth in certain fields, particularly in the providing of adequate hospitalization for the needy or medically indigent, in preventive health work, and in providing adequate recreation facilities for our children. Notwithstanding these increased demands, I have endeavored to offset them by economies elsewhere with the full knowledge that such a policy would meet with your approval.

The allowances recommended for city departments total $39,090,857.68. This represents a decrease of $1,853,326.43 from the actual expenditures of 1940, and a reduction of $2,271,793.58 from the corresponding appropriations of a year ago. These allowances represent all inclusive and total allowances for the ensuing year. The only variables of any moment are allowances for welfare and for snow removal. In another section of this message I have explained the appropriation for welfare and why I feel this appropriation is adequate. The allowance for snow removal is frankly an arbitrary one. It is considerably lower than the requirements of last year, but then again the St. Valentine's day blizzard of last year was something that only happens in a generation. The allowance, however, is an average based on the requirements of the past ten years. In that period in six of the years sums less than $500,000 were expended annually, while in four of the years the amount required was greater than $500,000.

Personal Service.

Last year in my message to the City Council I pointed out that, "from the records of the office of the Budget Commissioner it is to be noted that the allowance for Personal Service is the lowest appropriation on a full year salary basis, excepting pay cut years of 1933 and 1934, for city departments since 1928." The current allowances are $345,751.77 below the allowances of last year and $138,598.85 below the actual expenditures, a new low level for reduced costs for the period mentioned. Notwithstanding such reduction, sufficient allowance has been made in the Health, Hospital and Sanatorium Division, as well as the Long Island Hospital, beyond last year's expenditures to provide for any possible increase in their requirements. An increase in the staff of the Planning Board has been made to obtain the services of such technical assistance required for the community rehabilitation project and the preparation of a master plan for the city, including the study of congested areas, street pattern, parks and playgrounds, public building sites, public reservations, zoning, public utilities and pier head lines. An increase in the staff of the Law Department has also been made for the purpose of speeding up the settlement claims of the Welfare Department and the work of the Tax Title Division of this department. It has been necessary to increase the allowance of the Police Department to provide for additional patrolmen appointed during 1940. Provision has been made for step-rate increases for all employees covered by the sliding scale plan. Except as noted, no additional positions have been created in this budget, and all existing vacancies and anticipated retirements which experience indicated could possibly be dropped were eliminated.

Contractual Services.

Pursuant to the policy recommended by the Finance Commission, I have placed under contract several new districts for the removal of waste. The cost of these additional districts is approximately $100,000, which is offset by savings in other departments, resulting in a decrease of $1,397.43 from 1940 expenditures.

Equipment.

The allowance for equipment, while showing a reduction of $7,450.16, includes a larger allowance for the purchase of books for the Public Library. For some time past appropriations for the purchase of books have been below what may have been considered as normal requirements. Because I feel in these times that an enlightened public opinion is fundamental to the accurate functioning of the democratic process, I have allowed this additional appropriation in the hopes that it will be spent in the acquisition of volumes dealing with contemporary problems and conditions. In the other departments provision has been made for a normal replacement of necessary equipment.

Supplies.

The reduction of $28,689.41 may be attributed to the continued close supervision over the purchasing and consumption of departmental and institutional supplies. I have, however, made ample provision for possible increases in prices of food, fuel, and medical supplies, which are the major items in this group.

Special Items.

The allowance for Special Items covers expenditures for public welfare, soldiers' relief, non-contributory pensions, and workmen's compensation, and shows a reduction of $1,102,188 77. This reduction is practically entirely in the dependent aid allowance. The high peak load of cases under this item was reached in July of 1940, when the case load was 15,455, with a weekly expenditure of $96,800. By September it had decreased to 14,395, with a weekly expenditure of $90,000, and by late December it was down to 11,643, with a weekly expenditure of $69,000. The allowances on this latter figure establish a reserve covering any possible reversal of the trend, but in view of the increased labor demands in the completion of defense contracts and general improvement in employment conditions, and after a talk with city and state welfare officials, as well as a review of general employment throughout the nation, I feel that what is allowed for welfare should be ample to meet the entire needs for the coming year. I repeat here a statement I have made on many occasions, that whatever may be the number of cases for which the city must provide, no worthy person or family, no matter what the cost, will be refused the necessities of life.

Work Relief Program.

The requirements of the Federal Government that sponsors make additional contributions to the maintenance of the work relief program, plus the fact that projects relating to defense activities will require additional expenditures, the continuation of the extensive construction program in the Paving and Sewer Divisions of the Public Works Department, and the continued improvement of the parkways and roadways under the control of the Park Department, make it desirable to continue to appropriate on practically the same scale as heretofore.

Special Appropriations.

The total of the various allowances under this group reflect a net decrease of $431,839.98 from expenditures for 1940. The reduction is due mainly to the decrease in the allowance for snow removal from the 1940 expenditure, and which I have referred to elsewhere. An allowance of $21,000 has been made for reconstruction of streets under chapter 90 of the General Laws, while no allowance was made in 1940. I am again making an allowance of $75,000 for the partial reconstruction of the roof of the Central Library, Copley square. In the event there is a balance in the Snow Removal appropriation, it is my intention to transfer this balance to the appropriation for the Reconstruction of the Library Roof, so that all or another section of this roof may be reconstructed this year. An allowance of $148,323.45 for Sewerage Works is included in this group in accordance with the provisions of section 5 of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936, to meet the amount to be raised by taxation for capital construction in the Sewer Division of the Public Works Department.

* Increase.

The increase in appropriations over 1940 expenditures in the county departments is mandatory by statute or the result of policies inaugurated by county officials over whom I have no control. The main increase is for Personal Service, and is due to step rates provided under the County Compensation Plan, increases to Probation and Court Officers outside the Plan, mandatory by statute, and full provision for positions which were vacant for the whole or most of last year. There is also an increased allowance for Work Relief Program for W. P. A. projects to be undertaken by the Court House Commission.

Although the revenue departments of the city are self-sustaining, for your information there is given above a table in comparative form showing the group distribution.

I have again instituted an allotment budget for the various city and county departments, so that control of expenditures will be operative during the deliberations of the budget by your Honorable Body. Allotments have been made for January and February, and additional allotments will be made until the passage of the budget.

The allowances I have recommended provide sufficiently for the continued proper and efficient operation of the city. I expect cooperation of all departments in an economical administration of expenditures.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

COMMUNICATION FROM POLICE COMMISSIONER RE JUNIOR POLICE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Police Department, January 22, 1941.

Mr. Wilfred J. Doyle,
City Clerk, Boston.

My dear Mr. Doyle,—I wish to express to the honorable members of the City Council, through you, my most sincere appreciation of the action taken by them in adopting the resolution submitted by Councilors M. H. Sullivan and Goode with reference to the good work accomplished by the Boston Junior Police Corps.

Since the inauguration of the Junior Police Corps it has been possible to give hundreds of youngsters throughout the city a summer vacation amid wholesome surroundings and to provide a number of activities of interest to growing boys which, ordinarily, they would not have the opportunity to enjoy.

It has been my experience that a great deal of good can be accomplished along these lines, and, of course, I am very much gratified that the purposes for which the Corps was established have the approval and support of the Honorable City Council.

Very truly yours,
JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

Placed on file.

MINORS' LICENSES.

Applications for minors' licenses were received from seventy-eight newsboys and six bootblacks. Applications granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; permits granted under usual conditions.

ELECTION OF CITY CLERK.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Council now proceed to the election of a City Clerk, to serve for the term of three years beginning with the first Monday in February, 1941, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

The order was passed.

Assistant City Clerk Hynes called the roll, each member responding as his name was called, all the members present (nineteen) voted for Wilfred J. Doyle, and he was elected to be City Clerk. (Applause.)

Chairman SHATTUCK—The Chair will state that Mr. Doyle wishes to extend his thanks to the Council for their very substantial expression of appreciation.

MAKING OF MARCH 17 A LEGAL HOLIDAY.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of House Bill No. 389, providing that Evacuation Day, March 17, be made a legal holiday in the County of Suffolk and that all public offices be closed on that day.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF SNOW FROM SIDEWALKS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to instruct the captains in the various divisions to enforce the ordinances with reference to the removal of snow from sidewalks, particularly in front of vacant lots, throughout the city.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I have in mind several lots of privately owned vacant land in Ward 10, and a similar situation no doubt exists throughout the city, where the owners of this private property neglect to clear the snow from the adjacent sidewalks. The failure to clear these sidewalks makes it very dangerous for those who, under the existing conditions, still use these walks, but there are many pedestrians who either will not, because of the dangerous conditions, or cannot use such sidewalk, and instead use the abutting highway, at the peril of their lives. There is absolutely no reason why the owners of these vacant lots should be granted any privilege not extended to other owners, and in view of the large amount of snow now on these sidewalks I request that this order be dispatched immediately to the Police Commissioner with the request that necessary action be taken at once by him and by the various division captains.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REGISTRATION FOR SNOW WORKERS.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for another day of registration for snow workers in order that those citizens of Boston who were not aware of the new system, or were unable to take advantage of it, may register.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, my reason for introducing this order is that it has been called to my attention by a number of citizens of Boston that they were not aware of this new system and that, therefore, they failed to register. As a matter of fact, several people have approached me and told me that they were not even in the city during the week of registration and that, therefore, they had no opportunity to take advantage of it. One of the boys happened to be a member of the National Guard, who went down to Camp Hulen in Texas, where he was honorably discharged because of some physical imperfection; and I presume that there are many citizens of Boston who today would like to take advantage of this registration and to work on removal of snow, but who, for one reason or another, are not registered. I believe other members of the Council will agree with me that the Public Works Commissioner should hold one more day for registration it would be quite helpful to those not already registered.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, I think the order offered by the councilor from Ward 4 is a very worthy one. I think the recent snowstorm has demonstrated that the registration of snow-removal workers is to the advantage of all concerned. In my particular district, I feel that the foreman of the paving yard, Mr. Farren, and his assistant, Mr. Donnelly, should receive the commendation of this Body. As a whole, a very efficient job has been done in my district, except that, unfortunately, in one section, Mattapan square, the work was let out this year on contract for removal of snow. I don't know what system is used, but I understand that the contractors were notified in this case on Friday evening, to be prepared to remove the snow, and I know that the city yards in other sections did remove snow, but in the section supposed to be covered by the contractors, business was considerably hampered through failure to remove the snow. In fact, churchgoers in the immediate neighborhood were held up and delayed considerably in that part of the district. I feel that some penalty should be exacted from the contractor who failed in that respect, and if it is found that he lacks equipment or is unable to carry out the contract, the Public Works Commissioner should see that the removal of the snow is done by somebody else. Commissioner Hyland is to be congratulated on the efficiency of the public employees, who did a very commendable job, and it is unfortunate that there is not greater control over contractors who have fallen down on their snow-removal contracts.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I heartily agree with the order that has been presented by the councilor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase). I heartily agree with his suggestion that the commissioner should be asked, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the reopening of registration of snow-removal workers. In connection with this last snowstorm I think I am not exaggerating when I say that fifty individuals came to me, men who had not become registered and who therefore were unable to help on snow removal. I do feel that more than one day may be necessary, that one day will not be sufficient to give time to those who are anxious to work on snow removal and who wish to be registered. So I feel that the order should be amended to read "day or days."

The amendment was adopted, and the order as amended was passed under suspension of the rule.

HEROISM OF COUNCILOR JOHN C. WICKES.

Coun. GOODE, HURLEY and FISH offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in regular meeting assembled, desires to commend City Councilor John C. Wickes of Ward 17 for an outstanding act of heroism in which he rescued from drowning at Muddy river on March 7, 1940, two Roxbury boys, Henry and Elliot Gillard, aged eleven and nine years respectively. The Boston City Council congratulates Councilor Wickes on the award to him by the Massachusetts Humane Society of its medal, and also upon the outstanding distinction encumbent upon his receipt of the Carnegie Bronze Medal Award.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be presented to City Councilor John C. Wickes of Ward 17.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President and fellow members of this Honorable Body, I wish to thank you all at the present time for this expression of congratulation, but I am sure that if any one of you had been confronted with the same situation, you would have acted in a manner that would have reflected credit on this Honorable Body.

The resolution was adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

SNOW DUMPING, WILLIAM CARTER PLAYGROUND.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor instruct the Commissioner of Public Works and the Park Commissioner to stop contractors from dumping snow in the William Carter Playground, Columbus avenue, Ward 9.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, last year I introduced a similar order, requesting that there be no more snow dumped by contractors in the William Carter Playground. The dumping of snow not only stops the children from skating there during the season, but it also ruins the ballfield for the coming summer. We all know that the playground is in a deplorable condition as the result of tractors and trucks going over it when they are dumping snow. Within the past three weeks I introduced an order asking the Public Works Commissioner to instruct contractors not to dump snow on the William Carter Playground, but this morning a snow contractor started dumping snow there, and apparently no notice is being paid to the protest I have made as representing the citizens of the district. Twenty or twenty-five from that area have asked me to protest. I assured the people last year that there would be absolutely no more snow dumping on the William Carter Playground, and I hope the Mayor will use the power of his office to see to it that, no matter what the cost is, dumping shall be done in some other place, that there will be no more snow dumping on this playground.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EXTENSION OF FIVE-CENT FARE LIMIT.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN and HURLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to extend to the terminal entrance the present five-cent fare limit on all bus and car lines entering the Dudley street terminal.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LEASE OF ELIZABETH PEABODY SCHOOL.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be, and hereby is, authorized to lease to the Navy Yard Chapter No. 17, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, the Elizabeth Peabody School on Poplar street, Ward 3, upon such terms and conditions as the said Committee may deem advisable.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LARGER APARTMENTS IN HOUSING UNITS.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the officials of the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider changes in the plans for apartments in housing units to be erected in the Orchard Park and South End districts of Ward 8, —to make available to the residents of these districts apartments with a sufficient number of rooms to accommodate large families.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LIGHTING CONDITIONS, SOUTH END.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the street lighting conditions in the South End section of Ward 8, and arrange for additional lighting facilities.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC CONDITIONS, HARRISON AVENUE AND DEDHAM STREET.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the traffic conditions in the immediate vicinity of Harrison avenue and Dedham street, and to arrange for the installation of additional signs for the protection of children crossing at this intersection.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INDORSEMENT OF HOUSE BILL 287.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of House Bill 287, entitled, "An Act Creating a Port of Boston Reconstruction Commission and Defining Its Powers and Duties."

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INDORSEMENT OF SENATE BILL 173.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of Senate Bill 173, entitled, "An Act Establishing in the Department of Public Safety a Division of Marine Safety, Pilotage and Salvage."

Passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF VACANT FACTORIES FOR INSTRUCTION IN TRADES.

Coun. GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the W. P. A. or N. Y. A. authorities to make a survey of the vacant factories and shops in Readville, Hyde Park, Mattapan and other sections of Boston with a view to equipping this vacant space with the necessary machinery to instruct the youth of the city in trades necessary to national defense.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, I read with considerable interest in the Boston Post this morning that the National Youth Administration was sending 200 or 300 young men up to Eastport, Maine, for instruction in essential trades connected with the national defense. In my travels throughout the city I have found many places, especially in my own district, places in Readville, Hyde Park and Mattapan, reminiscent of the times when they were factory districts, which are now vacant and which could afford space that could be utilized for this work. I hope, therefore, that the National Youth Administration and the W. P. A. authorities will investigate the situation and see if such places could not be obtained and equipped with machinery, so that the young men of Boston who are anxious to learn trades will have the opportunity to be employed in that way in the national defense. In that way, not only those in the National Youth Administration, but those under the W. P. A.— men who perhaps might be beyond the age where they could be called upon for ordinary service — would be enabled to learn a trade and, when the emergency is over, would be fitted for work in different lines. I sincerely trust that the Body will see fit to pass the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PIPE MAINS USED FOR INFLAMMABLE FLUIDS.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, inform the City Council whether or not the contemplated laying of pipe mains under our public streets, lanes, or highways, for the purpose of wholesale distributing of gasoline, oils, and other inflammable fluids, must have the approval of both the Mayor and City Council of the City of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MODERNIZING OF CERTAIN BRIDGES.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That in the opinion of the City Council sufficient funds be provided immediately to modernize the Northern Avenue and Summer Street Bridges across the Fort Point Channel.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I have a newspaper clipping here with the heading "Demands Bridges be Modernized." I submit this clipping in connection with the order I have offered.

(The clipping, from the Boston Post of January 15, 1941, is as follows:

"DEMANDS BRIDGES BE MODERNIZED.

"A demand that Boston's obsolete bridges be modernized was voiced yesterday by Frank S. Davis, manager of the Maritime Association, after he had received many complaints from shipping interests, in consequence of breakdowns at the Northern Avenue and Summer Street Drawbridges across Fort Point Channel Monday night, which caused a delay of twelve hours to vessels operating in that area. Repairs were finally effected yesterday. The steamer 'Corozal', whose departure was held up twelve hours, put to sea yesterday morning. Several tugs were caught between the bridges and had to remain during Monday night.")

Although this is a small article, it suggests a measure of real interest and importance to the City of Boston. Briefly, in our city we have to consider the demands of land and water business or commerce. It is necessary, in considering our business interests in Boston, particularly in times like these, to consider them both from a land and water point of view. We have already given a lot of attention to the problem, even though some of us may not have gone quite to the extent of favoring the $19,000,000 proposed for a highway, most of which, I believe, is to relieve the banks of merchandise tied up with their bonds. Certainly something must be done with reference to our port business. We have a good port, the easiest to get into of any port on the coast. At one time it was of as much importance from a European point of view as the port of New York is today. We have a good Port Authority, composed of men who willingly give their time and energy. I believe our port business should be always on the upgrade, particularly when business, generally is on the upgrade. On the contrary, however, we have already lost one after another of our large shipping companies, and it looks as if we were going to lose more as the months progress. I don't think an expenditure of two million would be too much to modernize these bridges, which apparently are structurally defective, and if they go entirely out of commission it is going to cost us an immense volume of business. I think an expenditure to modernize these bridges, as suggested in my order, would be a wise expenditure, and I trust that the order will pass the Council.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CHANGES IN WATER RATES.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That, acting under authority of section 22, chapter 27, of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, the Commissioner of Public Works, with the approval of the Mayor, affect the following changes in the Water Division:

1. A reduction of 25 per cent in the present water rates.
2. Reduce present $10 minimum charge to $7.50.
3. Those on minimum rates and who do not consume the number of feet allowed in that charge shall be credited for unused balance.

Ordered, That the Mayor consider the advisability of crediting on succeeding water bills any accumulated profits now on hand or which may be collected in the future for water consumption.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, briefly, in these two orders I have not only suggested a reduction of 25 per cent in water rates, but I have also recommended that any surplus that there may be on hand, which has not been previously allocated be credited to people on their next water bill. After all, we are not in business to sell water at a profit It is the duty of the City of Boston to supply water at cost, although I wish now to commend Mayor Tobin, who has in the past three years put this division of the Department of Public Works on a better than paying basis For three years we have shown a 25 per cent profit on water. I believe that if we maintain the same rate for the next year it is reasonable to assume that we are again going to receive the 25 per cent profit. I don't think we should be doing that, and I am merely bringing the matter to the attention of his Honor the Mayor, as I know that he in his fairness will give it due consideration.

The orders were referred to the Executive Committee.

ADDITIONAL MAN ON ONE-MAN CARS.

Coun. HURLEY and D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to assign an additional man to act as conductor on all cars, now one-man operated, during the rush hours of the morning and evening.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, last Tuesday I attended a meeting at the Roxbury Board of Trade, presided over by my colleague Dan Sullivan. It was called for the purpose of devising plans to relieve congestion in the Roxbury retail district. We had as a guest speaker there Mr. Philip Desmond, representing the City Traffic Department, and also a gentleman representing Mr. Dana of the Boston Elevated. One of the questions asked of the gentleman who appeared for the Elevated was asked by Judge Frankland W. Miles,—Why the Elevated did not during rush hours have cars manned by two men, a motorman and a conductor? The gentleman representing the Elevated said that that was put into effect in the interest of economy. There was also brought out the number of fatal accidents to children jumping on the backs of the cars and attempting to crawl in the windows, and then jumping off and getting in the path of automobiles, thereby being killed or maimed. We realize, of course, that economy is a big problem for a large corporation like the Boston Elevated, but there is also the problem of dealing with traffic congestion. I have at various meetings of the Council brought up questions concerning traffic congestion in Boston and have always been deeply interested in anything that would eliminate such congestion. From my own observation I have come to the conclusion that the two greatest things causing traffic congestion in Boston are cruising taxicabs that go around in busy hours up and down and around our busy throoughfares, cruising at four or five miles an hour, seeking fares. While they are doing that other means of transportation behind them are tied down to the same rate of speed, four or five miles an hour. That is one serious cause of traffic congestion. Another serious cause which I have continually observed comes from the one-man cars. I have observed them, for example, making a car stop while the man in charge is making change for thirty or forty people boarding the car. Where people don't have a ten-cent piece, the man has to make change. The car, which on one of these occasions, we will say, is at Southampton street, then proceeds to Northampton street, and there another large group from the City Hospital has to be dealt with, and the same procedure ensues, the man taking money from one individual and making change for another, while the car is kept at a standstill. While it remains at a standstill the traffic following the car is also at a standstill. The streets are narrow, and it is impossible to pass while one of these cars is taking on or letting off passengers. So it means that in the business hours all forms of traffic are at a standstill while such cars of the Boston Elevated are making these stops. I think in the interest of economy, not only of the Elevated but of the car-riders, the people of Boston, it would be well to consult with the trustees of the Elevated Railway and ask them, in the interest of the people of Boston and the interest of traffic efficiency, if this system cannot be done away with. After all, the people are paying the Elevated deficit of two and a half million dollars a year and, I believe, are entitled to very much-needed relief from this dangerous practice of the one-man cars in Boston during rush hours. I know that a lot of orders introduced in this Body deal with purely routine matters, but this seems to me extremely important, and I sincerely hope that the suggestion which was made at the meeting of the Roxbury Board of Trade last Tuesday will be given serious consideration, not only for the relief of traffic congestion in Boston but to remove the threat to children's lives and limbs caused by the present mode of operation of one-man cars in Boston.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, while much that the councilor has said, particularly as to traffic congestion caused by the present operation of one-man street cars, is true, I have in mind another thing. It is true that Boston taxpayers pay the bill when there is a deficit, and we do have a deficit every year ranging from two million dollars upwards. I realize, of course, as we all do, that that is a great burden upon our citizens, and I realize, of course, that the present method of operating one-man cars under traffic conditions as they exist in our city brings about additional hardship. I think, however, that this matter can be reached in another way, without increasing the expense of the City of Boston in order to pay an additional amount to the stockholders of the Boston Elevated Railway. I have something different in mind that I think will relieve the situation and save money to the City of Boston. We have a law saying that motor vehicles cannot pass street cars on the left. There is some question, in actual operation, whether it is dangerous to public safety to pass street cars on the left, because in the city of Providence, which has received the safety traffic medal for many years, automobiles are allowed to pass street cars on the left. I would suggest, therefore, instead of putting this matter to vote immediately in the Body, that some consideration should be given to that question of allowing motor cars to pass street cars on the left, and I would suggest in that connection that this matter be referred to the Committee on Public Safety. I would make that motion.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, I disagree with my colleague on the question of added expense. I say that there is another side to be considered—the delay to the people in getting to and from their destination, and the injury to business, resulting from the delay at present in one-man car operation. I say that one-man cars take a longer time to make trips than two-man cars, and that that delay more than makes up for the added expense of the additional man on the car. I am talking about service to the people of the City of Boston, and I am very much interested in giving that proper service and in removing this serious cause of traffic congestion. I am sure that this serious trouble at present can be stopped by having an additional man on the car, particularly in the busy hours of the day; and with two men on the car you will avoid the present trouble that comes from children climbing on the rear and trying to get into windows and then jumping down in front of automobile traffic.

The order was referred to the Committee on Public Safety.

ARC LIGHT, WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install an arc light at the corner of Belfort and Auckland streets, Ward 13.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EIGHTEEN-MONTH RULE FOR W. P. A. WORKERS.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up with the W. P. A. officials in Washington the matter of abolishing the so-called eighteen-month rule, which requires that W. P. A. workers be laid off for a period of thirty days following eighteen months of continuous employment.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF CERTAIN CAR AND BUS LINES.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the service on the Broadway-North Station and the City Point-Dudley Street lines with a view to improving the service on these lines.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, this seems to be Boston Elevated day! I simply wish to say that this concerns something very important to my district. The conditions over there are terrible. We have 45,000 people along the City Point line, in South Boston, who frequently have to wait thirty or forty minutes for a street car, coming from work. I hope, therefore, that something can be done, through his Honor the Mayor, taking this up with the trustees of the Elevated, so that the people in my ward will be able to get better service.

On motion of Coun. LINEHAN the order was amended by inserting after the words "Broadway-North Station and the City Point-Dudley Street" the words "and Bay View Bus," and as amended the order was passed under suspension of the rule.

TOBOGGAN CHUTE, BOSTON COMMON.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the construction of a toboggan chute on Soldiers Memorial Hill on Boston Common and also to improve the facilities for sled coasting.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the children in the in-town wards of Boston do not have the facilities for sled coasting and other winter sports that the children in the outside sections of Boston have. The people in the in-town areas live in very congested districts, with the result that children using the streets for coasting are in constant jeopardy. As a matter of fact, many fathers and mothers forbid their children from enjoying that great sport in in-town Boston. Coasting in the in-town areas is a constant menace to traffic and a constant source of danger to the children themselves. I believe, therefore, that something of this kind should be done to avoid the present menace from automobile traffic. As a matter of fact, Boston Common nearly 200 years ago, in the Revolutionary period, was used as a coasting center by the children of Boston, and it is a matter of history, as told in our school books, that the schoolboys of Boston protested en masse to the British general in charge of the troops in occupation here against a regulation prohibiting the boys from coasting on the Common. Now, this is not a revolutionary period, and we have no traffic considerations in connection with the use of Soldiers Memorial Hill on the Common for coasting. I believe that the Park Commissioner can construct toboggan chutes so that the children in the down-town areas of Boston can use that hill for coasting and can enjoy that old-fashioned winter sport.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. CHASE the members voted at 3.22 p. m. to go into executive session. The members reassembled and were called to order by President GALVIN at 4.25 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. SHATTUCK, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) appropriating $5,000 to be expended by City Clerk for Care and Preservation of Old Records and Historic Papers, said sum to be charged to Contingent Fund—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

2. Report on petition (referred today) of Mildred Davenport for children under fifteen years of age to appear at Recital Hall, February 14—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

3. Report on resolution (referred January 13) approving proposed legislation to authorize the city to borrow outside debt limit for purpose of constructing a municipal stadium, said legislation to contain referendum to Mayor and Council—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the resolution.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, I might say at the outset that I think today we have seen something in executive session which I believe will be commented upon editorially by many of the newspapers in this city as an attempted waste of a million dollars of the taxpayers' money, because this particular resolution asks the Legislature to give the Mayor and City Council the right to borrow one million dollars above the debt limit to be spent on a municipal stadium. Before we pass on this, let me right here in the open refer to some figures from other municipal stadiums in cities that may well be compared with this city. I would refer, for instance, to the municipal stadium in the city of Cleveland. About three weeks ago I had a pamphlet showing what it cost the city of Cleveland just this last year to maintain the municipal stadium. It cost the taxpayers of Cleveland $53,000 to make up the deficit that arose from maintaining that particular political white elephant. I call it a white elephant when it is run at a loss. There are some departments in this city which perhaps we can say should exist, even though they are run at a loss, due to their benefit to the health of the citizens of Boston. But in this particular case we have something that is not going to benefit the health of the people of Boston. It is not going to help build the body of one child in this city. Why do I say that? Because a municipal stadium is supposed to be run as a commercial enterprise at a profit, and from the very nature of things a stadium cannot be run at a profit. And not only can it not be run at a profit, but it does not meet any of the needs of the young people in our community. The fact that these stadiums cannot be run at a profit is shown by the experience in other parts of the country, in Cleveland and in other places. We know something about stadiums ourselves, at Columbus Park and elsewhere, and we know that no profit is to be expected from them and that they do not answer any of the needs of our young people in the way of recreation. They are simply show places, and if you look into the matter you will be surprised to find how many accommodations there are already to meet the needs of this city in that respect. A report was made on improvements to be built from the income of the George Robert White Fund, prepared for the City Planning Board and published in 1937, quite recently, through the Massachusetts Institute of Technology School of Architecture. In the conclusions and recommendations of that report, near the end, it says:

"Of the activities considered in Table I, there is but one for which a city stadium would fill a real need, the present and future considered,—football. While football would perhaps rank highest among the uses, a stadium would be used for this purpose but a dozen times a year."

And may I refer you to one of the finest stadiums in the country, the Harvard Stadium, in our nearby city of Cambridge, or, more properly, in Brighton, in our own city. There has not been a single event there since 1931 when that stadium, which is supposed to accommodate 61,000, has really been filled to capacity. And speaking of football audiences, let us go back to the past year, when Boston College had perhaps the finest football team in its history, and when it, therefore, attracted unusual crowds. If my recollection serves me right, there was one game at Fenway Park, which seats 40,000, and I believe there was room for about 5,000 additional spectators. I remember another game, a game attracting very unusual interest, some years ago, at the Harvard Stadium, between Stanford University of the West Coast and nearby Dartmouth College, a game that should have attracted people from all over New England and from other parts of the country, and I believe there were not more than 22,000 who witnessed that famous intersectional game. I might also refer to the Boston College-Holy Cross game, where there were 20,000-odd spectators. And, of course, for any ordinary occasion the available stadiums at the present time are nowhere nearly filled. Where the local football teams do not run above the average, are what you might call minor teams, as has been the case almost every year, there are invariably plenty of unused seats. With Boston College's last football team, they could probably sell out Fenway Park, but that would not have been the case with the Boston College football teams of the last ten years, and in the case of the 1940 team, perhaps the best team in the country, at its Holy Cross game in Fenway Park, there were probably 4,000 extra available seats. Therefore, I stand here not favoring a stadium, but favoring some of the many recreational opportunities that will help the children of Boston. I might refer in that connection to a gymnasium that we had for years in South Boston, and which was taken away from us with the understanding that it would be later replaced, and it never has been replaced. Gymnasiums and other recreational facilities will be of real value to our youngsters and our older people. We have had a good deal of discussion of things that can be done through the George Robert White Fund. There is from time to time money in that fund which many of us would like to get our hands on, to spend for the benefit of the children. That is the important thing. There are also other needs of our citizens that are much more important than a stadium. The gentleman from Ward 13 (Coun. Hutchinson) and other members of this Body want traffic lights in their sections. There are many such things appealing to the twenty-two members of this Council. We cannot get them, because the city is not in condition to furnish the money for traffic lights. We all know that they would cost half a million or more for different wards, and the city is not in a position to spend $500,000 or $1,000,000 on traffic lights at this time. The gentleman from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor), the gentleman from Ward 14 (Coun. Gottlieb), the gentleman from Ward 13 (Coun. Hutchinson), the gentleman from Ward 6 (Coun. Scannell), the gentleman from Ward 7, myself, and I believe the gentleman from Ward 3 (Coun. Russo), adding also the gentleman from Ward 2 (Coun. Galvin), want increased health facilities in their districts, but they did not ask that the money be raised from the taxpayers. They asked to have it spent out of the White Fund, so that the taxpayers would not be compelled to pay the cost for different projects which people in the different districts well need. There are plenty of things, Mr. President, that come ahead of a municipal stadium. As I have already said, information came to me two weeks ago that the city of Cleveland spent last year $53,000 to make up the deficit on its stadium. I think Cleveland is a pretty good city to compare with Boston, in climate, type of people, and everything else.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman if he feels that he can compare the sportsmanship of the City of Boston with that of Cleveland, after what happened in the baseball game out there a year ago?

Coun. LINEHAN—Well, Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Brighton is just drawing a red herring across the trail. We are not talking of the red-blooded sporting life of Boston as compared with that of Cleveland. What I am interested in is not the sport fans of Boston, but the children of Boston, who will have no use for that stadium that some gentlemen in this Council are trying to get. Now, I have in my hand what I consider a very good newspaper article. I am not going to mention the name of the gentleman who wrote it, although many of the members here know his name, and I think many here will agree with him. Of course, I realize that many newspaper men would favor a stadium, because it affords better writing material. There is not much writing material in youngsters going to South Boston or other places and simply indulging in their ordinary sports. But if we have a big game it draws a large crowd, and that gives the newspaper men something to write about. But, gentlemen, God knows we are going to have plenty of trouble from the taxpayers of Boston and the entire Commonwealth before the present war emergency is over. A short while ago members of Congress and others agreed to remove restrictions on the debt limit of the United States, so that they could raise the taxes to a considerably higher figure. But the burden of the present debt, added to what it is going to be, totaling sixty-five billion dollars or more, is something that the taxpayers of today and their children and grandchildren will have to meet in the future. The City of Boston was already in pretty bad condition until the present Mayor took the chair, and in the last few years he has reduced the debt by millions. Are we going to say to him, "You have done a wonderful job, but we want another million dollars for this stadium?" I say that this is simply another debt burden added to what the administration will have to carry and he should not be placed in the position of being accused of spending this million dollars for this purpose when it is not needed as other things sponsored by many members of the Council are needed. We need play areas, all are agreed; we need grassed areas, so that those playing on our play areas will not be injured when they fall on the rough, stony ground. We need health units. If we can get the funds, those are things that should be constructed. We need gymnasiums. South Boston has had a gymnasium in the past, and needs one now. Twenty years ago we had a gymnasium, but the Mayor at that time took it away, and promised that we would get a new one. We have not, however, received it up to the present time. The members of the civic organization over there asked the Mayor the question before election, "Would you favor a gymnasium for our district?" But he very courageously, although it may not have been a smart thing politically, perhaps, at that time declined to make that promise. I sincerely trust, however, that we can get it from the White Fund, or perhaps through W. P. A. I don't ask it out of the taxpayers. Now, I started to read this article by this particular newspaper man. It will not take much time. I have fought for gymnasiums and other health and recreational centers since I have been in public life, and I certainly hope that we over there will be able to get a gymnasium, with the cooperation of the present members of the Body, through the White Fund, of which his Honor the Mayor and the President of this Body are trustees. But, coming to this article, which I would like to read for the benefit of members who favor a municipal stadium:

"I think it would be just as well if law were left out of the Municipal Stadium debate. Mr. White's will was so written that to all intents and purposes the city could use the money for just about anything it wanted to build or erect. I don't think the people favoring a stadium strengthen their argument by saying, 'The money can't be used for a gymnasium or for playgrounds,' any more than I think the people opposed to a stadium are getting anywhere by arguing that the money can't be used for that purpose. Leave the law out of this, and I'm still 'agin' the stadium for the very simple reason that I don't think we need it. Maybe I'm old fashioned, but I've been brought up to believe that building and buying things you don't need is extravagant, and that essentials come before luxuries."

And I assume by essentials he means such things as health units, playing areas, recreational centers, gymnasiums, clinics, traffic lights, and so forth.

"Until such time as Boston is a lot better fixed in more essential facilities, I don't think we ought to squander White Fund money on a luxury such as a stadium."

That is, the White Fund money simply represents the original investment, and the cost to the taxpayers later is for maintenance. The original investment will not cost the taxpayers a cent.

"One other broad point I'd like to make, and that is this: I don't think the sports and recreational facilities are to be reckoned by seating capacities and gate receipts. The athletes come first, and the athletes are the guys on the field, not the guys sitting in seats watching them. All you need for sports and recreation is a plot of ground, maybe a little grass and a fence here and there. The seats, the turnstiles and the box offices have nothing to do with sport. That comes under the head of promotion, money making and business."

And if it can be shown that a stadium is a money-making proposition, you can rest assured that it will be built through private funds. Certainly, it must be admitted that a stadium under private management can be more efficiently run than under municipal management. So if there is any prospect of making money out of a stadium, you can rest assured that private capital will pay for it.

"If we're going to spend the White Fund money for recreation — and there are plenty of other ways it can be spent — let's spend it on active participants—the kids, the athletes, the contestants—and not on the spectators, the grandstand managers and the second-guessers. I'd rather have ten football fields with no seats at all than one football field surrounded by 60,000 seats. Particularly since Boston already has plenty of seats—more of them empty than full."

Now, I will close, with this reminder. We have merely to look at the situation in the city of Baltimore and the city of Cleveland, and I think that the City of Boston resembles both of those municipalities. There was a large deficit on the stadiums in both of those cities in 1940. To make up that deficit in Cleveland cost the taxpayers at least $53,000, the difference between maintenance and revenue. I say to the members of the Body, protect the taxpayers of Boston. Don't pass this order, because I realize, having been a member of the Legislature, that if they feel that we, representing the City of Boston, want to spend this money in this way, they will be inclined to adopt the old home rule principle, and to say, "Let the city run itself." Well, up to the time of Mayor Tobin's administration it was run very poorly, but since his administration the expense has been cut down many millions of dollars. I certainly hope that the record the Mayor has made will not be spoiled by our taking action that may result in the expenditure of another million dollars by the city for something that is not needed.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, there is no question in my mind that the councilor from South Boston is absolutely sincere in what he has said, but I think he has lost sight of the issue before us. As I recall it, there is a resolution presented to us which requests that the Legislature give the City of Boston authority to expend a million dollars for this particular purpose outside the debt limit. The reason why that particular resolution is before the Council is that the rules of the State Senate and House of Representatives require the passage of such an order or resolution, signed by the Council and the Mayor, in order that the proposed bill may be given a hearing during this annual session. If it is not passed, we now having biennial sessions, the bill will not come before the Legislature for a period of two years. That is the reason why it is before us.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Coun. TAYLOR—Yes, Mr. President.

Coun. SHATTUCK—I would like to ask whether the gentleman knows why that rule was passed by the Legislature?

Coun. TAYLOR—I must confess ignorance, Mr. President.

Coun. SHATTUCK—If he does not know, Mr. President, would he like me to tell him why it was passed?

Coun. TAYLOR—After I get through. I might say that the Republicans pass so many rules at the Legislature that it is hard for us to tell sometimes why they pass them.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Well, Mr. President, if the gentleman wishes I can explain.

Coun. TAYLOR—Since the Council must pass this resolution, Mr. President, in order that the matter may be given a hearing before the Legislature, I trust that the resolution will pass at this time. The councilor from South Boston has very eloquently and forcefully pleaded the cause of the children. There is no councilor in the Body, however, who is not just as much interested in looking out for the welfare and building up the physiques of children of the city as he is. I have the same feeling with regard to the children of my district, but, unfortunately, owing to lack of funds, they cannot secure the things they should have. I personally at the present time, if the Legislature gave us the authority asked for in this resolution before the Council today, with the information and facts I have before me, honestly believe that I probably would vote against a bill to spend the money. That is my honest opinion today. I don't know all the facts. We have not had the proper authorities before us to give us the facts. If I were in possession of all the facts, I might change my mind. I might make another suggestion to the Council. When this matter comes before the Legislature, it would be an easy matter for anybody who wishes to oppose this, to get some Representative or Senator — and it is not a hard thing to do — to put in an amendment of the particular bill, and in that amendment say that the City of Boston will have the authority to expend the million dollars for play areas in different sections of the city.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield?

Coun. TAYLOR—Yes, Mr. President, for a question.

Coun. LINEHAN—On that matter I would like to say just this——

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I thought the gentleman wished to ask me a question.

Coun. LINEHAN—There is going to be a question.

Coun. TAYLOR—Well, if the gentleman is going to make a speech, I would like first to finish my remarks.

Coun. LINEHAN—I am going to give you some information.

Coun. TAYLOR—Of course, I am always glad to receive information, but I repeat that such an amendment could be added in the Legislature, making the money available for play areas. We all desire play areas at the present time in our different districts, but we cannot get them, and the reason is very simple. There is no money. Under an amendment, the gentleman from South Boston might even get his gymnasium. But we are getting a little ahead of our time. The Legislature only, in any event, gives us the authority to act on such a measure, and the matter then has to come again before the City Council and his Honor the Mayor. The Mayor and City Council can then, at the proper time, after action is taken by the Legislature, decide whether a stadium is a thing that we wish. Personally, today I am against it. I don't know what my position will be when the proper time comes. I may be convinced that it is just the thing we need, that it will be a fine thing for the city. The member has made a statement in regard to the municipal stadium in Cleveland. What he says may or may not be so. In any event, the situation in Cleveland might not control. The question might be asked in regard to the Rose Bowl, in California. I dare say that they make money there on the shows they give. I might say that I happened to be in New Orleans recently and found the hotels jammed to capacity, it being almost impossible to get accommodations anywhere, and there is no question but what the city did a fine business. Sometimes a city may spend out some money, and if you simply look at it in that way there is a loss; but when you consider the money that, as a result of such an occasion, is put into the pocketbooks of the merchants and is spread among thousands of people in private employment, it is a different question. This might be a thing, that even if the city did spend out a certain amount, might bring thousands to our constituents. After all, a city is run for the benefit of the public, and not for profit of the city itself. That is not the intention in anything of this kind. And so I say, while directly there might seem to be a deficit to the city, in the end there might be a benefit to the business men and others, and that side of the question certainly has to be considered. We spend thousands and thousands to get conventions to come here. In the case of the Democratic Convention in the city of Chicago, I understand that the city spent $100,000 or $200,000. Why did the city spend that money? In order to bring people into the city and to give the merchants, hotelkeepers and others a chance to make some money. I think the councilor from South Boston is absolutely sincere, and on the facts as I have them today I might vote with him. But I don't think we should be influenced in our action in this Body by narrow considerations. I think we should be progressive. Other cities have made a success of these stadiums, and I think that we might do the same. At least, it is a matter that we should seriously consider.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I did not intend to speak on this matter, but the gentleman from South Boston has practically invited me to do so. I want to make it clear that I am not the father of this bill. I have had occasion to look somewhat into these matters as far as the George Robert White Fund is concerned, and the fact seems to be that the money from that fund must not be spent upon matters for which the city itself has responsibility and which it must take care of itself. There are certain things connected with the health and welfare of the city for which the city itself has responsibility, and which it must take care of. So money cannot be taken from the White Fund, as I understand it, for the erection of a playground. If it could be I would be the first member to try to avail myself of it, obtaining such areas for the children of my district. But the intent of the George Robert White Fund was not to spend money on programs that the city had a moral obligation to take care of itself. That, I believe, is stipulated in the George Robert White will.

Coun. CHASE—Will you yield for a question?

Coun. WARD—Yes.

Coun. CHASE—Do you happen to know the exact wording of the George Robert White will in that respect?

Coun. WARD—I would suggest that Mr. Doyle be asked to explain that. I could not do it. But the idea was, as I understand it, that the money was not to be expended on any project which the city itself had a moral obligation to take care of. When I favored a stadium, I thought the erection of a municipal stadium for the City of Boston was not something within the obligation of the taxpayers to pay for, that it would have to come out of a fund similar to the funds provided under the George Robert White will. But, getting back to our powers here, we haven't any say as to the George Robert White fund expenditures, whether a million should be provided from that fund for this purpose or not, and we would have no more chance to get the million than Wendell Willkie has to declare war while he is in Europe. The Board of Trustees of the Fund is made up of five members, of whom our President is one, and his Honor the Mayor has a controlling voice. If any of us want a gymnasium, a municipal building or anything else, we can go to the Mayor and the other members of that Board with the possible backing of any civic organizations that may be interested in the welfare of the people in one thing or another. But we are powerless in this matter. We are as powerless, as I say, as Wendell Willkie would be to declare war tomorrow. Everybody knows that. Once we vote the budget appropriations, we can adjourn sine die until a year from now. We will then have no further say in the finances of the city. I would suggest, however, that we take a chance and invite some of the sporting editors connected with our papers—Burt Whitman, Dan Egan, Bill Cunningham, Jack Conway, and Vic Jones—and sit down with them here in City Hall, and then possibly bring the matter to the attention of the Mayor or the Legislature.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, do you suppose that those gentlemen can show us that this would be a paying proposition? What do they know in that respect more than we do?

Coun. WARD—I think they are much closer to the actual problem than we are. They certainly ought to know something more about it than we do.

Coun. CAREY—About spending the taxpayers' money?

Coun. WARD—We are not talking about spending the taxpayers' money.

Coun. CAREY—That is what this resolution would mean, if it is taken up at the Legislature under the resolution as offered.

Coun. WARD—I would answer the gentleman from Roxbury by saying that if the Legislature gives the City Council the permission to spend this million dollars for a municipal stadium we should have a gold plaque made of the result of that action and placed in front of City Hall. There is as much chance of our getting the million dollars for this purpose as there is of my being Secretary of the Navy tomorrow.

Coun. CAREY—Then, what is the sense of passing the resolution? I don't think we should do it. Why is it before us at all?

Coun. WARD—It is a silly, ridiculous resolution. I grant you that.

Coun. CAREY—Let us vote it down, if it is ridiculous, not have our time taken up with it. Why even debate it?

Coun. WARD—Well, I was invited to speak. The speaker from South Boston directing his remarks at me, and I thought he must be referring to me. Therefore I got up and answered him. I feel that certainly we will not get the money for this purpose. The order is ridiculous. I think the idea of constructing a municipal stadium with White Fund money is ridiculous. We should try to confine ourselves to the duties to which we are supposed to attend under the charter, which are very, very slim.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, I disagree with the gentleman from Brighton (Coun. Ward) that this is a worthless resolution. I am very much in favor of the resolution asking the Legislature to enable us to pass an order providing a million dollars for a municipal stadium. I think also that we are laying too much stress on Boston College individual games. We all appreciate the fact that Boston College had the best football team in the country, and that would probably have something to do with filling the stadium at different times in the year. I am one of the small business men of Boston, and I think a municipal stadium would be a great thing for the business men and for the City of Boston. I agree with Bill Cunningham, Dan Egan and others connected with sports that this would be a good thing to advertise Boston throughout the country and in doing so and attracting people to Boston you would be doing a fine thing for the business men of Boston. It is not alone a question of football. We have climate here, going from extremely hot to extremely cold, and advantage can be taken of that fact to have not only summer but winter sports. This is not entirely a matter of football or baseball, but also of attracting conventions here and having not only summer but winter sports on a large scale. I am quite sure that if this were put on referendum to the people of Boston, they would vote in favor of a municipal stadium by a large majority. Of course, we should have play areas, too. We are all in favor of play areas for the children. But these play areas should be paid for out of taxes. They do not bring people to the city. There are too many things that are driving people out of Boston today, conditions over which we have had no control up to the present time, but I surely think a stadium such as is proposed would be a splendid thing for Boston. It could be used in connection, as I say, with winter and summer sports, and also conventions and large enterprises which we wish to attract, bringing in people from all over the country. I had the pleasure of being at New Orleans at the Sugar Bowl game, and the people there were convinced that if it were not for the stadium business would not have been as good as it was. The crowds that came there during the game were larger than even the Mardi Gras crowd. It is not only Boston College crowds we would look for, but there would be an inducement to encourage many things that we cannot have in Boston today. We are told that the baseball park will answer the purpose, but it would not accommodate crowds such as we might have for football and other events. Not only that, but a baseball park is not laid out for football games or for other purposes, such as you could use a stadium for. Baseball parks are not laid out for other enterprises than baseball games. I hope, therefore, that this Council will go on record as asking the Legislature for the privilege of borrowing a million dollars for this purpose, and I feel quite sure that if it is passed and accepted by the City of Boston, we will have no deficit but that the stadium will be the means of bringing millions and millions in revenue to the city.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I was a member of the Legislature when the rule was adopted under which special legislation affecting a city or town cannot be considered by the Legislature unless the Mayor and City Council of the city and the selectmen of the town, whichever the governing body is, ask for it. The reason for that was that the Legislature was being flooded with bills from private interests asking that the city or town be given the right to borrow for this, that or the other purpose, outside its debt limit, and many of the things asked for were things that the inhabitants of the cities and towns in question did not want to do. The time of the Legislature was taken up, and the docket was cluttered with bills that would not get to first base. But they all had to be given a hearing, and time was wasted. So the Legislature passed the rule, saying that such bills would not be considered unless the city or town really wanted them, as shown by the vote of the Mayor and the City Council, or of the Board of Selectmen. The idea was to put an end to bills that were not really wanted, but were asked for with the idea that they could be killed afterwards. It is better, in such cases, that they should be killed in the first place. If there is any doubt about a matter of this kind — and the gentleman from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor) has himself suggested that he is in doubt upon this matter, until he gets further information — it is better not to request it in the first place. In that way we shall be fair and honest with ourselves. Let us first consider whether we really want this or not, and we should also consider whether a million dollars could not be better spent for other purposes — traffic lights, play areas, many things in which the people of our city are vitally interested. There are so many things we want, so many things that would be desirable, so many things that would be for the benefit of all the people, without price, that it seems to me ridiculous to spend the money of all the people for things that nobody can use unless they have the price.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, after listening to those for and against I am somewhat puzzled myself. I would be inclined today to vote for the resolution, although I will not say how I might vote if we were given the right by the Legislature to act under it. Of course, in the meantime I would get more information. However, this might mislead the Legislature. Although I hold no brief for them, I would suggest that before we pass upon it we get fuller information. After all, this is the first day we have discussed it, and I think we should get more information so that we can vote intelligently. For that reason, I would ask that it be placed on the table for two weeks.

The motion to assign for two weeks was declared lost. Coun. FISH doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

The motion to assign for two weeks was carried, yeas 10, nays 7:

Yeas—Coun. Englert, Fish, Galvin, Goode, Hurley, Hutchinson, Lyons, Scannell, Taylor, Ward—10.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Coffey, Linehan, Russo, Shattuck, D. F. Sullivan—7.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. LYONS, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

Report on ordinance (referred December 9, 1940) concerning restrictions on park frontages—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; ordinance passed.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. ENGLERT, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of January.

Report accepted; said order passed.

PENSION TO WIDOW OF W. EVERETT GRADY.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation authorizing payment of a pension to the widow of W. Everett Grady, a former employee of Suffolk County, provided that such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and the City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LEASE TO JOHN F. MAHONEY ROXBURY POST.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be authorized to lease such portion as he may deem advisable of the unused quarters of Engine 12 on Dudley street to the John F. Mahoney Roxbury Post, No. 457, V. F. W., for a nominal sum for a term not exceeding five years.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, the passage of this order will be very much in the interest of the John F. Mahoney Roxbury Post 457, Veterans of Foreign Wars. They are at the present time located in a school building on Winthrop street in Roxbury. The building is old, small, and inadequate to take care of the needs of the Post. At the present time this building of Engine 12 on Dudley street is being vacated by Engine Company 12, which is being consolidated with another engine company. A part of this old building of Engine 12 is being used at present for painting fire apparatus, but the latter part of this month or the first of next month the engine house is to be vacated for the new building, and the apparatus painting activity is also to be moved to another building. That will leave vacant room that could well be used by the John F. Mahoney Roxbury Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and I sincerely trust that such use may be made of a part of this present Engine 12 building.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS, WARD 18.

Coun. GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to reconstruct Blake street, Ward 18, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Ruskindale road, Chester street, Sunnyside street and Prescott street, Ward 18, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct sidewalks on both sides of Austin street, Ward 18, with a black bituminous mixture, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

BUS SERVICE, HYDE PARK.

Coun. GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a bus service in the Corriganville and Fairmount sections of Hyde Park at a nominal fare with transfer privilege.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, the Corriganville and Fairmount sections of Hyde Park are probably two of the largest sections in the district, and they are the farthest removed from the center of Boston. At the present time residents in one of the sections very close to the Milton line find that they are deprived of transportation to the nearest car line. It is a matter of two miles walk to Mattapan square from my present residence, for instance, and we feel that the Boston Elevated should establish the required bus service.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INVITATIONS RE MUNICIPAL STADIUM PROJECT.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the sports writers of all Boston newspapers be invited to the executive session of the next meeting of the City Council to present their views relative to the erection of a municipal stadium in Boston, and that the Clerk of Committees be instructed to forward invitations to all Boston newspaper editors, columnists, radio sports commentators and sports writers for that purpose.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I would move to amend the order by including an invitation also to the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers and to the Boston Taxpayers League.

President GALVIN—The order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

Adjourned at 5.25 p. m., on motion of Coun. ENGLERT, to meet on Monday, February 3, 1941, at 2 p. m.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 33. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1941. NO. 7

MAYOR TOBIN PREDICTS THAT POLAND WILL RISE AGAIN TO HER RIGHTFUL PLACE AMONG PEOPLES OF THE EARTH AND URGES AMERICANS TO DO ALL IN POWER TO AID IN THAT ACCOMPLISHMENT — DELIVERS RADIO ADDRESS IN TRIBUTE TO GENERAL KOSCIUSKO, GREAT PATRIOT AND SOLDIER-STATESMAN, ON OCCASION OF OBSERVANCE OF 195TH ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH — TELLS OF PLACE HELD BY LIBERTY-LOVING PATRIOT WHO DID SO MUCH TO AID AMERICA IN HER EARLY STRUGGLE TO ACHIEVE INDEPENDENCE — HAS SPECIAL NICHE IN HEARTS OF ALL BOSTON.

The following is Mayor Tobin's radio address, during the Kosciusko program, over Station WMEX, 7.30 p. m., Wednesday, February 12:

My Fellow Americans.

I welcome the opportunity to pay my small tribute to a patriot and one of the greatest men in the long history of the Polish race, General Thaddeus Kosciusko, soldier and statesman. This is the 195th anniversary of his birth.

If he were alive today, what would his thoughts be? His native country crucified and dismembered by a tyrannical aggressor, its people reduced to practical slavery and that national independence for which he planned and fought trampled under foot. It is a dark hour for much of the world. It is dark, indeed, for suffering Poland. America, alone, cannot bring about the rescue of that stricken country but we can do our part by upholding the arms of those countries that are fighting aggression and in doing so we can show the dictators that America wants no dealings with their kind. Poland did not surrender. She went down fighting — fighting against overwhelming odds and to the last cartridge and the last man. It was one of the glorious pages in the glorious history of a people who have always maintained their nationalism and who have always made independence their goal.

With that heritage there can be no doubt but that Poland will rise again and once more assume her rightful place among the peoples of the earth. And nothing that America can do, no aid that America can give, should be withheld when the time comes that it is needed to reestablish Poland, for General Kosciusko long ago made us his and Poland's debtors when he gave ten years of his life to the cause of American independence and to the creation of this country as we know it. He crossed the ocean to take up arms in our behalf when the Revolution broke out and remained at our side long after the final battle had been won.

In Hearts of Americans.

His memory will always be green in the hearts of true Americans, and especially in the hearts of the people of Boston, where freedom and liberty for America had their inception. That love of national independence he displayed is ingrained in the very fiber of his countrymen. It is a racial attribute that never can be eradicated and that is the chief reason for my belief that we of this generation will again see Poland restored to her proper place.

If ever a people merited the good will of the entire world it is the people of Poland, whose fortitude, courage and adherence to ideals have set a shining example. Like we of America they are guided by the star of liberty and freedom.

It was that sympathy for those who were willing to lay down their lives for liberty that impelled the great Kosciusko to give his aid to the American colonies in their struggle. He offered his services as an engineer and a soldier. He it was who whipped into shape that army of raw, untrained men who turned back the forces of England. Kosciusko and his fellow-Pole, Pulaski, gave Washington's raw recruits the important elements of discipline, organization and military tactics.

The American victory at Saratoga, the erection of fortifications at Philadelphia and the work he did at West Point are important links in the chain that binds him to the heart of Americans.

It is fitting to pay tribute, also, to the Polish men and women who have become citizens of our land and who have set patterns of industry, loyalty, genius and willingness to work that can be held up to all other nations. In Massachusetts they are among the best farmers we have. In science, literature and the arts they have contributed important things. They are good citizens, with all that the term implies.

And we who are enjoying the fruits of the toil and the genius of the great Kosciusko should never forget to be thankful that we are Americans. No sacrifice can be too great to show our appreciation of this land of ours and the opportunities and blessings it bestows. Above all, we must be unified in the present crisis. It is no time for serious divisions along our front. We must stand together to uphold American ideals and American traditions and by doing so we will be aiding the just cause which, please God, will soon restore stricken Poland. I thank you.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hill looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

NO COST CONTROL FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

American cities on the whole may be clean housekeepers, but they don't know how much it is costing them to be clean or whether they are spending too much. Only a few cities are able to report accurately the unit cost of removing garbage and other refuse and of cleaning streets, according to the Public Administration Service of Chicago, Ill., which further reports that at least 90 per cent of the cities in this country have no cost control over this service.

SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT CONSTRUCTION ON THE INCREASE.

Owing to the economic conditions prevailing during the past year, there was but a relatively small volume of sewage treatment plant construction. Within recent months, however, there has been a decided impetus to new construction of this type growing out of the Public Works Administration allotments. Nearly 700 cities have received allotments of funds from the P. W. A. for sewerage or sewage treatment, involving an aggregate expenditure of well over $200,000,000.

RECEIPTS OF MILK IN BOSTON BY RAIL. STATISTICS FOR YEAR 1937.

Total, 201,115,222 quarts (including 21,533,437 quarts of cream) or 190,884,037 by the Boston & Maine Railroad; 9,304,589 by New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad; 926,596 by Boston & Albany Railroad.

The said total exceeds that of 1936 by 2,233,863, but is 35,786,309 below the receipts in 1931 which was the highest on record.

The receipts in 1937 of the Boston & Albany Railroad are the lowest on record for that railroad.

The maximum receipts of milk and also of cream in 1937 were in August; the minimum in February.

PITTSBURGH'S TRAFFIC SAFETY RECORD.

Pittsburgh has been adjudged the safest city in the United States in 1932, and the second safest in 1933 and 1934 among cities with populations over 500,000. Registrations in the city increased 4.4 per cent, gasoline consumption 7.7 per cent. In 1935, despite a 2.4 per cent decrease in traffic volume, adult fatalities increased 30 per cent, total fatalities 24 per cent, as compared with 1934.

TOBOGGAN SLIDE, BOSTON COMMON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the chairman of the Park Department relative to your order of January 27, 1941, concerning the construction of a toboggan chute on Soldiers' Memorial Hill on Boston Common and the improving of the facilities for sled coasting.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, January 30, 1941.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of January 29 with inclosure, order of the City Council in regard to a toboggan chute and coasting facilities on Boston Common.

Please be informed that the toboggan chute has been up for the past three weeks and is being used considerably. Our men have been so busy clearing away snow that it has been impossible to attend to the chute the way we would like to. Also, there is a W. P. A. project at the base of the hill which causes an opening that cannot be filled in at the present time.

It is very inadvisable to allow coasting on the walks. Every time we have allowed it there has been an accident and in one case, a death.

The chutes will be cared for immediately, so the children can enjoy them.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

I regret to advise you that I can see no immediate necessity for the installation of an arc light at this location.

CHANGING NAME OF BLUE HILL AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the chairman of the Board of Street Commissioners relative to your order of June 24, 1940, concerning the changing of the name of Blue Hill avenue to Louis D. Brandeis Boulevard.

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department.
February 3, 1941.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Your Honor,—I am returning herewith the order of the City Council passed June 24, 1940, requesting action by this Board on changing the name of Blue Hill avenue to Louis D. Brandeis Boulevard. This request has been given careful consideration.

The Board of Street Commissioners does not look with favor on any proposition to change the name of Blue Hill avenue.

A copy of a communication from William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer of this department, in regard to the matter, is attached hereto.

Very truly yours,
JOHN A. DONOGHUE, Chairman.

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department,
January 29, 1941.

Mr. John A. Donoghue, Chairman, Board of Street Commissioners.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith communication from Councilor Gottlieb et al., relative to changing the name of Blue Hill avenue to Louis D. Brandeis Boulevard. Personally, I do not believe in changing the name of any public street, unless it is absolutely necessary. Blue Hill avenue is a very old street, that section of it from Warren street to the Milton line was opened and constructed by the Brush Hill Turnpike Corporation in 1805 and called Brush Hill Turnpike. Their franchise was relinquished by proprietors of the corporation in October, 1856.

It was named by the city authorities Blue Hill avenue, October 25, 1870, as the way leading to the Blue Hills and has retained that name since; aside from that, however, the Board of Street Commissioners has always thought it best not to name streets after men still living, unless they happened to be clergymen, and then very seldom.

As an admirer of Louis D. Brandeis, I suggest that he be honored, in what I consider a far more suitable way, and can think of no better way than having his name carved in stone over the entrance to some public school. The character of streets change, what is considered a desirable location today, the next generation may frown on, but a public school, although it may be located in a run-down neighborhood, still remains a monument to the man it is named for and adds character to the neighborhood. I understand there have been but two schools named after men while they were still living, one after Thomas N. Hart and one after Patrick A. Collins, and this was done as a token of deep respect.

Why not name a third after Louis D. Brandeis, while he is still with us?

Some years ago, I signed a petition to have the school on Wellington Hill named in honor of Solomon Lewenberg, because I knew him as a boy, a good hard-working boy and had watched him climb to fame. I can well understand the feeling of pride, which the family he left behind must experience when they gaze on that schoolhouse and realize it is a lasting monument to their father.

Very truly yours.
WILLIAM J. SULLIVAN, Chief Engineer.

MOSQUITO CONTROL APPROPRIATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I have received notice from the secretary of the State Reclamation Board that under the provisions of section 4 of chapter 112 of the Acts of 1931, the Board has fixed the amount of money to be raised and appropriated by Boston for the maintenance of mosquito control works during 1941 at $250.

To meet this certification, I submit herewith an order providing for the appropriation of the required sum from the Contingent Fund, and respectfully recommend its adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) be, and hereby is, appropriated for the purpose of maintaining, during the year 1941, the mosquito control works as estimated and certified to by the State Reclamation Board, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 112, Acts of 1931, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund, when made.

REPAIRS TO SARATOGA STREET BRIDGE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of a communication from the Commissioner of Public Works in which he calls attention to the necessity for repairs to the Saratoga Street Bridge, East Boston. This bridge crosses the right of way of the property of the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railroad, now defunct.

In order that this bridge may be repaired to insure the safety and security of the public and in order that those repairs may be made by the proper authority and the cost thereof rightly assessed, it is necessary for the City of Boston to apply to the Department of Public Utilities for a hearing relative to this subject matter.

I am therefore submitting herewith an order providing that the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston apply for such hearing and I respectfully recommend adoption of the order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department.
January 15, 1941.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—The so-called Saratoga Street Bridge, East Boston, that crosses the right-of-way of the property of the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railroad Company near the intersection of Bennington street, is owned entirely by the now defunct above-referenced Railroad Company, with the exception of the wearing surface, which is owned and maintained by this department.

The structure, however, is in such a condition at the present time as to necessitate the making of repairs to it. The department has no responsibility in the matter, however, and, in view of this, I took it up with the Corporation Counsel, for the purpose of determining just how we should proceed in order to have the necessary repairs made, thereby putting the bridge in a safe condition for the passage of motor vehicles.

The same condition obtains with reference to the Everett Street Bridge, East Boston, which also crosses the right-of-way of the Narrow Gauge Railroad, and is owned entirely by that company.

At the time that I discussed the above-referenced matters with the Corporation Counsel, I also talked with him about the so-called Broadway Bridge, which crosses the tracks of the Boston and Albany Railroad near the intersection of Albany street, City Proper. This latter-referenced bridge is in such a condition as to necessitate extensive repair work or the reconstruction of the entire structure.

I have been informed by the Corporation Counsel that, in substance, it will be necessary for the City of Boston to apply to the Department of Public Utilities for a hearing relative to these matters, in order that that body might determine, in the case of the Saratoga and the Everett Street Bridges, the responsibilty for repairing the structures, and, in the case of the Broadway Bridge, the apportionment of the cost of repairing or reconstructing the existing structure. Orders have been prepared by the Corporation Counsel, for the approval of the City Council, with reference to these matters.

I respectfully recommend, therefore, that the inclosed orders be transmitted to the City Council, for the approval of that Body, as it will be necessary for the Corporation Counsel to secure such an approval before instituting proceedings with the Department of Public Utilities.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Whereas, In the opinion of this Council it is necessary for the security and convenience of the public that:

Saratoga Street Bridge carrying Saratoga street, a public way, over and crossing the railroad of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad Company (title to said railroad property being at present time in Charles A. Collins et al., trustees of First Narrow Gauge Trust), be repaired; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston be instructed to apply to the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for said department to take action in regard to such repairs in said Saratoga Street Bridge, under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-nine and chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Laws, as most recently amended, and under any other appropriate statutory provisions.

Whereas, In the opinion of this Council it is necessary for the security and convenience of the public that:

Everett Street Bridge carrying Everett street, a public way, over and crossing the railroad of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad Company (title to said railroad property being at present time in Charles A. Collins et al., trustees of First Narrow Gauge Trust), be repaired; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston be instructed to apply to the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for said department to take action in regard to such repairs in said Everett Street Bridge, under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-nine and chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Laws, as most recently amended, and under any other appropriate statutory provisions.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of a communication from the Board of Street Commissioners which informs me of the contemplated widening of Parsons street, Brighton. This improvement will necessitate alterations and structural changes in the railroad bridge on said street.

Under the General Laws of the Commonwealth it is necessary that before such structural changes may be made in the bridge a hearing be held by the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth.

I am, therefore, inclosing herewith an order providing for the Corporation Counsel of Boston to seek such a hearing as required by law.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Your Honor,—The Board of Street Commissioners has under consideration a proposed widening of Parsons street, Brighton district, between Electric avenue and a point north of the tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad. This improvement will necessitate the alteration and a structural change in the railroad bridge on said street. Under chapters 159 and 160 of the General Laws as most recently amended, it will be necessary for the City Council to pass an order instructing the Corporation Counsel to apply to the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth for said department to take action on said alteration and structural change.

The board respectfully asks that the City Council be requested, through your Honor, to pass the inclosed order.

Respectfully,
JOHN A. DONOGHUE, Chairman.

Whereas, The Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston intend to make a public improvement through the passage of an order of said board providing for the laying out, widening and construction of Parsons street, Brighton, as a public highway, between Electric avenue and a point north of the railroad tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad Company; and

Whereas, Said railroad tracks cross said Parsons street, a public highway in the City of Boston, by means of an overhead bridge; and

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston be instructed to apply to the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for said department to take action on such alteration and structural change in said railroad bridge, under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-nine and chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Laws as most recently amended.

SALE OF HOUSING PROJECT TO FEDERAL WORKS AGENCY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1941.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith copy of letter from John A. Breen, chairman of the Boston Housing Authority, relating to the agreement to sell Project Mass. 2-2 to the Federal Works Agency, the development of a new low-rent housing project in South Boston, and the entering into an agreement between the City and the Federal Works Agency, providing for the acceptance by the city of the sum of 15 per cent of shelter rent collected in lieu of taxes for the furnishing of the usual public services.

I also transmit herewith two orders, (1) amending the existing Cooperation Agreement between the City and the Authority; and (2) authorizing the acceptance, in lieu of taxes, of 15 per cent of the shelter rent collected from persons engaged in national defense activities, so long as Project Mass. 2-2 is owned by the Federal Government.

I recommend the prompt consideration and adoption by you of the accompanying orders.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Housing Authority,
February 3, 1941.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—This Authority has completed negotiations with the United States Housing Authority whereby Project No. Mass. 2-2 located in South Boston and bounded substantially by East Eighth street, Old Harbor street, Old Colony avenue and Dorchester street, will be sold to the Federal Works Agency to provide dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, and whereby a new project, also located in South Boston and bounded substantially by B street, West Seventh street, C street, Baxter street, D street and West Broadway, will be developed as a low-rent housing project with the assistance of the United States Housing Authority.

Because the rents to be paid by defense workers will be higher than those paid by families who would be living in Project Mass. 2-2 if it were operated as a low-rent housing project, the Federal Works Agency is agreeable to paying an amount equal to 15 per cent of the shelter rent collected as payments in lieu of taxes, as distinguished from 4½ per cent of the shelter rent collected payable to the city in connection with low-rent housing projects.

In view of the foregoing, I recommend that your Honor submit to the City Council for prompt passage orders, (1) excluding Project Mass. 2-2 from the provisions of the existing Cooperation Agreement between the City and the Authority, so long as this project is not owned by this Authority; and (2) authorizing the acceptance of the foregoing sum of 15 per cent of the shelter rent collected in connection with the use of such project to provide dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, as payment for the usual municipal services rendered by the city.

No amendment will be needed to the Cooperation Agreement to permit the development of the new proposed South Boston project.

Respectfully,
JOHN A. BREEN, Chairman.

Ordered, That the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized, for and in behalf of the city, to enter into an agreement with the administrator of the Federal Works Agency of the United States of America that so long as the housing development situated in the South Boston district of the city and bounded substantially by East Eighth street, Old Harbor street, Old Colony avenue and Dorchester street, and known as Development No. Mass. 2-2, is owned by the United States of America and used to provide dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, the city will accept annual payments in lieu of taxes in an amount equal to 15 per cent of the shelter rent collected for such dwellings during the year for which said payments in lieu of taxes are made, and that said development and the tenants thereof will be furnished all the usual public services such as education, police and fire protection, garbage and trash removal, street maintenance, repair and lighting, public recreational and health facilities, general governmental facilities and other services and facilities of the same character as those customarily furnished without charge to other dwellings and inhabitants of the city.

Ordered, That the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized, for and in behalf of the city, to execute and deliver the following amendment to the Cooperation Agreement between the City and the Boston Housing Authority, dated as of October 25, 1938, and amended as of December 11, 1939, in the following form:

Amendment to the Cooperation Agreement, as Amended, Between the City of Boston, Massachusetts, and the Boston Housing Authority.

The Cooperation Agreement between the City of Boston, Massachusetts, and the Boston Housing Authority, dated as of October 25, 1938, and amended by Amendment to the Cooperation Agreement, dated as of December 11, 1939, is hereby further amended by striking out the period at the end of the first sentence of sub-paragraph (d) of paragraph 1 thereof, and inserting in place thereof the following:

"; provided that neither the term 'Projects' nor the term 'Project', as used in this Agreement, shall include the housing development situated in the South Boston District of the City and bounded substantially by East Eighth Street, Old Harbor Street, Old Colony Avenue and Dorchester Street, and known as Development No. Mass. 2-2, or any part or parts thereof, so long as legal or equitable title to said development, or said part or parts thereof, is not vested in the Authority"

so that said first sentence of sub-paragraph (d) of paragraph 1 of said Cooperation Agreement, as so amended, shall read as follows:

"(d) The term 'Projects' as used in this Agreement shall mean any low-rent housing projects having a aggregate development cost of not in excess of Fifty Million Dollars ($50,000,000) now or hereafter undertaken within the City by the Authority with respect to which a contract or contracts for Federal Annual Contributions have been made, or will be made with the United States Housing Authority; provided that neither the term 'Projects' nor the term 'Project', as used in this Agreement, shall include the housing development situated in the South Boston District of the City and bounded substantially by East Eighth Street, Old Harbor Street, Old Colony Avenue and Dorchester Street, and known as Development No. Mass. 2-2, or any part or parts thereof, so long as legal or equitable title to said deveopment, or said part or parts thereof, is not vested in the Authority."

PURCHASE OF LAND FROM PARK DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the Corporation Counsel in which it is stated that the Boston Housing Authority is desirous of purchasing a parcel of land comprising about 3,500 square feet, now the property of the Park Department. This land is located at Columbia road, Old Colony avenue and Preble street at the site of the new traffic circle. It is the remains of a larger parcel of land once used by the Park Department as a District Yard of that department. It is no longer needed for park purposes. The Housing Authority has offered to purchase the land for the sum of $3,500 and will be used by that Authority in the further development and beautification of the South Boston Housing Project.

I am in accord with the sale of this property to the Housing Authority, as it is no longer needed for park purposes, and I recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, January 29, 1941.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I am in receipt of the following departmental communication from William P. Long, Chairman, Board of Park Commissioners, dated January 27, 1941, relative to the sale to the Boston Housing Authority of Park Department property situated at the corner of Preble Street and Columbia road, South Boston.

"The land located at the corner of Preble street and Columbia road, South Boston, formerly used by this department as our South Boston district yard, is no longer needed for public purposes. As the Boston Housing Authority desires to acquire same for the new South Boston housing development, this department offers no objection."

I am informed by a memorandum addressed to this office under date of June 21, 1940, from Lewis H. Weinstein, General Counsel, Boston Housing Authority, that:

"Mr. John A. Breen, Chairman of the Authority, has advised me that the sum of $3,500 as purchase price is agreeable to the Authority, to the Commissioners of the Park Department, and to the Mayor."

An examination conducted by this office discloses that:

1. This parcel of land contains approximately 3,452 square feet of land and is the remainder of a parcel of land containing approximately 25,000 square feet of land acquired for park purposes through eminent domain proceedings in 1897.

2. The major portion of this parcel of land was utilized in the laying out and construction of the roadway and circle of the traffic circle at Columbia road, Old Colony avenue and Preble street, Boston.

3. The assessed valuation of this parcel is 3,452 square feet at 50 cents, $1,726.

I inclose herewith an order to be introduced in, together with a letter of transmittal to, the City Council, if the same meet with your Honor's approval, authorizing the sale and conveyance of the said parcel of land to the Boston Housing Authority for the sum of $3,500.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT CUTLER,
Corporation Counsel.

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner of a certain parcel of land situated on the northerly side of Columbia road, on the easterly side of Old Colony avenue, northerly of the traffic circle at Columbia road, Old Colony avenue and Preble street and is adjacent to land of the Boston Housing Authority. The said parcel of land, hereinafter described was acquired for pubic park purposes by an eminent domain taking dated June 9, 1897, recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 2449, page 418; and

Whereas, The Boston Housing Authority is desirous of acquiring the said parcel of land for the development of its South Boston housing project; now, therefore, it is hereby

The said parcel of land is bounded and described as follows:

Northeasterly by land of the Boston Housing Authority, two hundred eighteen and 40-100 (218.40) feet; southerly by land of the City of Boston, by two measurements, twenty-one and 30-100 (21.30) feet on a curve of fourteen and 7-100 (14.07) feet radius and one hundred nineteen and 66-100 (119.66) feet on a curve of one hundred fifty-five (155) feet radius; southwesterly by other land of the City of Boston, ninety-nine and 71-100 (99.71) feet on a curve of sixty-two and 16-100 (62.16) feet radius, containing three thousand four hundred fifty-two (3,452) square feet of land, more or less. All of said measurements are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Park Department, Plan of Columbia Road, Near Preble Street, South Boston, Scale 1 Inch Equals 30 Feet, John J. COURTESY BY DEPARTMENT SUBORDINATES.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to issue a notice to all department heads of the City of Boston advising them to insist that their subordinates extend every courtesy and consideration to people requiring information or aid from a city department.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Council, I have been receiving lately a great many complaints from various people who have found it necessary to go to some of the departments in City Hall, as well as some outside the City Hall, and who have claimed that they were not treated with courtesy and consideration. I realize, of course, that we cannot believe everything we are told, and that there is only one way to obtain information about such things, and that is to find out for yourself, to get the evidence first-hand. I had a young lady and gentleman call on me about a week ago, who needed fuel oil and food. I had no money to give these young people to buy food, as I had done many times from my own salary, so I wrote a note and told them to take it down to the Hancock street welfare office in Dorchester and see if they could not be taken care of. I knew that they needed this aid, and so I wrote a note for the young lady to take down to the Hancock street, Dorchester, welfare office, saying that I hoped that they would cut the red tape, that this help was very much needed. I knew that they needed whatever help they could get. Well, they took the note down there and Miss Haley—everybody in Dorchester knows of her meanness—looked at the note and said, "It makes no difference whether a note comes from this City Councilor or any City Councilor. We don't pay any attention to them." So this report came to me on Monday. I had already received several similar complaints, and when the young lady called on me I said that I would see if I could get some satisfaction. So I decided to take matters into my own hands and get some first-hand information as to how needy Dorchester persons really are handled at the Hancock street office. Therefore, I told the couple to meet me at the welfare office the next morning at 10.30, and I dressed so that they would not recognize me. I put on old clothes, a coat that was torn at the back, put on an old hat, and didn't shave for two days, left my shirt open at the neck, and put on an old tie that I found in the cellar. I went into the welfare office and got into line behind this couple who were trying to get food and fuel. There were a lot of people there. I stood in line with everybody else for two hours, and nobody paid any particular attention to me. What I saw and heard confirmed the complaints that I had received previous to my going there. I certainly heard and saw enough. One of the young women there would come out and say to a poor, old man or woman, "Stop leaning against the wall; stand up straight. Stop talking,—where do you think you are?" They would tell us to stop talking, to be quiet, and to get away from the wall. Well, I did it, like everybody else; took it and said nothing. But I had my ears open in every direction. I heard one of the women there ask a woman with two little children, "Why weren't you home when you were called on the other day by an investigator?" The woman protested that she had not known that the investigator was to call at her home, that there were times when she had to go out, and she did not expect a call from the investigator. Well, she was told that she was expected to be home when the investigator called. The woman asked, "Am I expected to be there every morning and afternoon waiting for such a person to call, without knowing when she is coming?" "Yes, if you want aid, you will have to be in your home when they call and visit you." Well, I heard a lot of similar things. Finally, the time came for my young friend to go in and see Miss Haley. I had known this young woman for a number of years. So when the door opened and the girl walked in, I walked in along with her, turning a little to one side so that I would not be recognized, and keeping my head down. "Well," the attendant said, "Who are you?" I said, "Well, I am just McCarthy from down Freeport street, and I know this young woman." Well, she turned around and looked at me closely and said, "Aren't you a Councilor?" Then I said, "Yes, I am Councilor Wickes, and I know this young couple, and I am interested in them," that I had come along to find out how the thing stood. At first I listened politely and meekly to this woman employee, until she evidently misunderstod my attitude and became very forcible in her talk. Finally, I had to sit on her, and, needless to say, she pulled in her horns. I told her what the public had a right to expect of people in her position and other employees, that the home owners of this city were paying taxes and had a right to expect decent treatment when they applied to any public agency, that they had a right to at least expect courtesy of city employees; that I was there to protect those people and that I was going to continue to do so. I later had quite a long talk with Miss Kelly, a supervisor, and I thought she was a very nice, charming woman. I don't think she had been aware of the complaints that had been made. I also knew, of course, that if I had gone in the first place to Mr. O'Hare he would perhaps have taken care of it. He might have done so. But I thought the best thing to do was to do what I did, to go myself and see what the facts actually were, and I did so. I have always believed in investigation at first-hand. I certainly hope, Mr. President, that this order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INCIDENT AT CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to conduct a thorough investigation of the circumstances which necessitated the removal of a patient in Surgical 6, on Sunday evening, February 2, 1941, into a private room, as a result of the hostile and threatening attitude of one Doctor Webster toward said patient, on Thursday, January 30, 1941.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, I will read this one, so as to make sure that the facts are correct.

I took a constituent from Ward 17 to the Boston City Hospital on Wednesday, January 29, 1941. This patient was suffering from a physical ailment and was sent to the hospital by his family physician. He arose that morning at seven o'clock. I took him to the hospital at 9.15 a. m. The proper papers were filled out, etc., and a bed was promised him. We waited until two o'clock. All this time, the patient had to stand because of the condition at the base of his spine. Finally, we were told to go to Surgical 6 where a bed had been prepared for him. When we reached Surgical 6, the nurse was about to assign the patient to bed No. 5 when another nurse reminded her that Dr. Andrew Webster was saving that bed for someone else. The nurse told me that he would have to take a cot in the middle of the floor. Gentlemen, those cots are very low, with a thin mattress and with absolutely no privacy. I informed the nurse I had given up a whole day waiting for a bed for the patient. I told the nurse that I would not put a dog in one of those cots. Doctor Webster was contacted and informed that we were in the ward. In a few minutes he came down. He entered and looked us both over, and said to the patient, "Well?" And at the same time ignored me. I reminded him in a gentlemanly way who I was and that I would not permit the patient to be placed in a low, narrow cot. He replied, "That is what the patient is going to get, and like." I differed with him. He informed me that I could take the patient to another service. I told him that was O. K. with me, and I inquired what the procedure was in such a case. He sarcastically sneered at me and said, "Anyway, it is after visiting hours, and you haven't any right in this hospital, you or any City Councilor, and now, you and the patient can get out!" I looked at him, and finally said. "Doctor, do you realize what you are saying? This patient's condition. You know that he has been standing since he arose at seven o'clock this morning. I insist upon this patient being taken care of." I asked him, what he meant by another service? He replied, "I mean you can take him to another hospital." I then said, "Doctor haven't you any heart, or are you a horse doctor?" "Perhaps I am, but I told you," the Doctor replied, "You cheap politician, get out of this institution." I immediately went to Doctor Manary's office. He was out. I spoke to Mrs. Knowles. She made arrangements for the patient to go back to that same service, Surgical 6. To my surprise, I discovered that there were two vacant beds in Surgical 6. Perhaps Doctor Webster was saving the two beds for his friends. On Tuesday morning, Doctor Webster went to the bedside of the patient and said, "Do you know I am a horse doctor? And do you know that I am going to operate on you? And before I do, are you going to apologize to me for the remarks of the councilor" The patient replied, "It is none of my business, and the councilor is able to speak for himself." "Well," the doctor said, "I am going to operate on you whether you apologize or not." The patient informed me that evening that when the Doctor spoke to him that way, he was frightened and became very nervous. Every time the Doctor went by his bed, he gave the patient a sneering look. On Sunday afternoon, I was at the hospital visiting patients. I went to Surgical 6. Doctor Webster was there. He said, "Councilor, you haven't any right in this hospital without a pass. You City Councilors are no different from anyone else, and now get out of here and stay out!" I informed him, that as a City Councilor, it was my duty to visit patients who are in this hospital from my district—I informed him that I intended to perform that duty at any and all times, specially because of the fact that, far from disturbing the patients my efforts could be of invaluable aid to them. I told him that I was surprised at his lack of professional ethics. He said, "Never mind that! I have taken enough from you cheap politicians!" I left the ward and went directly to Doctor Manary's home. He was not there. I left word, with those in charge at the hospital, for Doctor Manary to call me at my home when he returned to the hospital. Upon receiving his call, I told Doctor Manary the whole story. I told Doctor Manary that the patient was afraid the Doctor might do him harm. I would not permit, and will not permit an injustice to any patient at the Boston City Hospital. However, I had to pay the money out of my own pocket in order to engage a private room for the patient. The patient's condition was such that, he was in absolute fear of this Doctor. He begged me to have him transferred. The only alternative was a private room and a change of doctors. Now, gentlemen, a doctor who would say to a patient what Doctor Webster said just before operating, is not fit, in my estimation, to take care of a horse! Doctor Manary told me that Doctor Webster is new at the hospital, and he, Doctor Webster, would, of course, like to change many things there. Doctor Manary admitted, in the presence of two witnesses, that I was right in this matter, and he advised me to take the matter to the Board of Trustees. Considering a recent statement of the Board of Trustees in which they said that the welfare of the patient is of primary importance, I trust that they will take immediate and decisive action in this case.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, in view of what the councilor has said as to what occurred in his presence, upon this and his preceding order, it seems to me that there is a great deal of merit in both orders, and that this is a matter we should take seriously. I, and I think, other members of the Council, have had similar cases brought to our attention, showing the way in which unfortunates, who through no fault of their own have to apply for assistance to some of our departments, are at times treated by employees. The second order brings to my mind an experience that came under my notice in the hospital a short time ago, where a patient, known to me, in critical condition and suffering from asthma—and any of us who have been afflicted with asthma know how serious it can be. In this particular case a lady, a patient there, thought she was going to die, could not get her breath. I was trying to the best of my ability to get some assistance for her, but although there was a bed available at the moment where this patient could lie down, the doctor would not allow it, because he said it was being held for somebody else. He would not trouble himself in the matter at all. I afterwards talked the matter over with Doctor Manary, and he intended to take it up. But I certainly think that the attitude of some of the doctors in cases of this kind is intolerable, and I, for one, get sick and tired through stories I hear, whether they concern the hospital, welfare or any other department. Certainly, citizens of Boston have a right to demand proper courtesy and consideration. Matters of this sort should be brought to public attention, as they occur from time to time, and should be brought to the attention of this Body. Let us not kid ourselves into the idea that everything will go along all right, anyway. When matters of this sort arise, something should be done, and I sincerely trust that some action will be taken on the councilor's order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HEARING RE PROVIDING OF FUNERAL AND BURIAL SERVICES.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the full board of the Boston Overseers of Public Welfare be notified by the Clerk of Committee to appear at a hearing to be conducted by the City Council Committee on Public Welfare at 10.30 a. m., Friday, February 7, 1941, on the matter of providing decent funeral and burial services in accordance with chapter 465 of the Acts of 1938.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, a few weeks ago I introduced an order requesting the trustees of the Public Welfare to comply with chapter 465 of the Acts of 1938, an act of the Legislature which made it mandatory for all welfare boards throughout Massachusetts to pay $100 for the burial of the poor, indigent persons. It is my opinion, Mr. President, that the Board of Overseers of Public Welfare have deliberately violated this law, inasmuch as they have adopted a practice of paying only $20 per burial for the poor and indigent of Boston. I understand that this violation of law has taken place for two consecutive years. It is not merely an overlooking of the law, but a violation of it. There is no family in the City of Boston that would wish to have its nearest of kin buried in the way that the poor and helpless welfare recipients of aid in Boston are buried through the Overseers of Public Welfare. There is not a family in Boston that would not pay out the utmost of its means or go to the extreme, even of mortgaging their homes, to provide a decent Christian burial for their nearest of kin. There is not a family of Boston that would not provide proper funeral services in the church or a wake at their home and proper Christian burial for its dear ones, and I say that the cold-blooded procedure of the Overseers of Public Welfare should be reprimanded by this Body next Friday, or that we should at least find the reason why they have continually violated the law. There seems to be some controversy on the matter. As I understand it, the Overseers of the Poor say that "Chase is wrong; we do not pay $20 for burial. We spent $22 for burial for welfare recipients." Well, whether it is $22 or $32, the fact remains that the law calls for the expenditure of $100 per burial by the cities and towns of Massachusetts in such cases, and it was certainly the intention of the Massachusetts Legislature in passing that act that the poor should be given decent burial services. I don't believe that this was a mere oversight, but I feel that there has been a cold-blooded, deliberate violation of the act, and I think this is a matter that demands careful investigation.

Coun. CAREY—I cannot feel, Mr. President, that Mr. O'Hare is involved in this matter, because, from our experience with him, we all know that we cannot say too good things about him. He is honest, humane and sympathetic. I certainly hope, however, that the councilor's order will be recognized and that we shall have the full board here on Friday, so that the whole thing may be gone into and we can find out who is responsible for this situation.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I believe that there should be an amendment to the order, as we have one or two funeral directors available here, and we might call upon them to see just what services can be afforded for the amount of money that is spent.

Chairman SHATTUCK—The Chair would say that the committee can ask anybody they see fit to appear before them.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CLEARING OF CROSSWALKS.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN and ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appoint a sufficient number of men to clear the crosswalks throughout the City of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HALF FARE FOR CERTAIN JUNIOR ORGANIZATIONS.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to permit all junior organizations such as the Boy Scouts, Junior Police, etc., to have the privilege of half fares while performing officially assigned duties under adequate supervision.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS FOR HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN and W. F. HURLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for medical examinations for all permanent and temporary employees of the Boston City Hospital and the Mattapan Sanatorium.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, my attention was brought to an incident which occurred recently at the City Hospital when one of the wards was quarantined. A recent employee, who worked at this ward only a short time, was transferred to the South Department with a case of scarlet fever. At this time it is not for me to say whether the employee was a carrier, or contracted the disease in the performance of his duty. I am, however, raising the question as to why this employee never received a physical examination before being employed. I was very much surprised to find that in our hospital kitchens, the permanent or temporary employees do not have to undergo medical examinations or periodic inspections. I believe that some years ago there was a rule that all hospital employees had to undergo medical examinations but for some reasons this practice has been abandoned in recent years. I believe that it should be revived for the protection of the patients as well as the employees. May I further add, Mr. President, that an employee in the performance of his duty who contracts any disease that would put him out of work for the rest of his life cannot come under the compensation act, due to a ruling made a month ago by the Supreme Court. I was informed today that there are several bills in the State House that will cover the case of these particular employees who contract various diseases in the performance of their duty, providing compensation for a period of time. I know that the employees of the hospital want something of the sort very much, not only for their own protection, but for the protection of the patients. It is safe to say that such employees should receive a medical examination, and I trust that the order will be passed and that the trustees will carry it out.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO FURTHER SALE OF HOUSING PROJECTS.

Coun. LINEHAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to refrain from selling any more housing projects to the Federal Government for any purpose other than to house families in the low-income group.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, I have been given to understand that the Boston Housing Authority has sold a housing project in my district to the United States Government for the purpose of housing so-called defense workers. I want to point out at this time that the basic idea in these housing projects, at the time when they were inaugurated, as I have understood it, is that they should be used for the lower income people, and not for workers engaged in defense projects, as those people receive in this district, as I have heard, very high wages, and there are plenty of housing accommodations belonging to private citizens in the community which are available to them and for which they are well able to pay. In my opinion there are plenty of private housing facilities available for the defense workers in and about Boston, and those workers are amply able to pay for such facilities. If I am correct in my interpretation of the housing act, and I believe I am, it was passed by Congress for the one purpose of housing families in the low income group, those who at the time were living under inadequate housing conditions. The idea back of the projects, to house the low-income group, is a highly commendable one, and I say that that object should be carried out. But, that having been the object of Congress in passing the act, I feel strongly that that specific object should be carried out; and it certainly is not just to now turn around and build projects of this kind for people who are well able to hire homes in this city that have been built and are owned by private individuals for investment purposes. I hope this is the last time that such an attempt will be made, and that there will not be another attempt to house people outside of the low-income group. I trust that the Boston Housing Authority will see fit to carry out the mandates of Congress and to furnish homes under these projects for families within the lower income group.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I think it is hardly fair for a member of this Body to try to put the other members on record as against what may be the government's wishes in a matter of this sort. The Councilor from South Boston says he hopes there will be no more of these projects sold to the Federal Government, other than to house families in the low-income group. But I don't think it is right for him to try to place the other twenty-one members on record as against what may be the wish of the Federal Government in a matter of this kind.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, the gentleman may speak in just a moment, after I have finished. I wish to say simply this. I do not believe we should be placed on record for the future as unwilling to cooperate in any government emergency that may exist in connection with national defense.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, I am sorry to hear these words from the gentleman from Dorchester, who thinks I am trying to place him on the spot. If I recollect correctly, it was only today that on an order before us in executive session he was trying to place certain members here on the spot. I do not wish by this order to put anybody on the spot. I am merely saying that Congress specifically passed an act for the construction of housing projects, the purpose being to house people in the lower-income group, and I think the taxpayers of the city will be very much disappointed if they see these projects or others in the future used for other purposes, to house people who are not in the lower-income group, and who are well able to rent private housing facilities in this city. Mr. President, I trust that this order may be passed, under suspension of the rule, and I would ordinarily ask for a roll call, but may I ask, on a roll call vote, if those who are called upon have to vote?

Chairman SHATTUCK—The Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, what was the decision of the Chair on that?

Chairman SHATTUCK—The Chair will say that if a member does not want to vote on a roll call he need not vote.

Coun. LINEHAN—Well, Mr. Chairman, I will ask for a rising vote, not for a roll call.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed by a rising vote, 9 to 2.

OPPOSITION TO W. P. A. LAY-OFF.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to prevail upon the members of the Congress of the United States to accomplish the purpose that the provisions of law requiring that all W. P. A. employees be automatically laid off after eighteen consecutive months of service be abrogated.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I have had considerable experience in the year's time I have had the honor of serving in this Council from my ward—and I believe the same experience has been had by all the members of the Body—with the workings of W. P. A. I realize that at the time when the W. P. A. came into existence, it was for the sole purpose of giving employment to any individual who was out of work and who was physically and mentally able to work. We all realize that since then times have changed. In my opinion, the W. P. A. has come to a point where most people believe it is more of a welfare than an employment agency, and that is due to the workings of the red tape, so called, rule by which those who have been on W. P. A. for eighteen consecutive months are automatically laid off for thirty days. But, Mr. President, don't you and I know that it then takes perhaps two, three or four months, even if you are then successful, to get an individual back into the W. P. A. work. Therefore, I say that instead of putting an individual at the end of eighteen months out of work for thirty days and compelling him to apply again if he continues to need the work, as we all agree that in most cases he does, it would be much better to keep him on rather than compelling him to resort to the local welfare agencies in order to receive aid. Even there we have some red tape to go through, and it often takes three or four weeks or more before people may receive aid. So I would suggest that his Honor the Mayor take this matter up, if possible, with members of Congress, with the object of getting through legislation under which these W. P. A. employees will not be automatically laid off after eighteen consecutive months of service, but that instead of laying them off there will be sufficient time to decide whether or not an individual is eligible to continue with the work he is doing. Such action will not only help the individual who needs the work in order to support his family, but at the same time it means a probable reduction in the calls for local assistance to these poor unfortunates, who, through no fault of their own, are placed in this position. I earnestly trust that his Honor the Mayor will do his utmost to see that this may be accomplished. I hope that the order will pass.

The order was passed.

PROPERTY DAMAGE CAUSED BY "LOOPERS."

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation authorizing the city to reimburse persons suffering property damage caused by "loopers," so called; provided that such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, this is another bill that is up in the House of Representatives under Rule 9B of the House. By adopting this order the House can take under advisement legislation to provide reimbursement for private owners who have suffered property damage to their homes through the loopers, so called, in Charlestown in the past two or three years. It is the belief of some people in Charlestown that something should be done in the way of reimbursement for damage caused by loopers to various properties, and they feel that action looking to that end should be taken.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LEASE OF GERMANTOWN SCHOOL.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be hereby authorized to lease to the Silver Star, Chapter 3, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, the Germantown school, upon such terms and conditions as the said committee shall deem advisable.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF VICTORY ROAD WHARF FOR GARBAGE DISPOSAL.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That upon completion of the now existing garbage disposal contract, the Commissioner of Public Works discontinue the use of the wharf, located on Victory road, Dorchester, presently used as a station for the unloading into scows of garbage and other refuse.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PRIVILEGES IN CONNECTION WITH OPERATION OF FIRE ALARM SYSTEM.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appear before the License Committee of the City Council for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not certain privileges now granted by him in connection with the operation of the fire alarm system should be either discontinued or subject to a fee.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 33. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1941. NO. 8

MAYOR TOBIN OPENS NEW HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY TO PUBLIC AFTER DRIVING FINAL SPIKE IN ROADBED — IN SPECIAL BROADCAST DURING CEREMONIES HE RECOUNTS PROGRESS MADE IN SUBWAY EXTENSION BUILDING SINCE THE FIRST SECTION WAS COMPLETED IN 1897 TO PRESENT, AND POINTS TO VALUE OF TUBES TO CITY AS WELL AS BENEFITS TO THOUSANDS DURING AND WITH COMPLETION OF NEWEST SECTION.

Upon the formal opening of the new Huntington Avenue Subway, on Sunday, February 16, after driving the final spike in the road, Mayor Tobin, in a special broadcast to the public, spoke in part as follows:

Good Afternoon, Friends of the Radio Audience.

The city that has the oldest subway in this country now has the newest one. The building of any underground traffic tube is a great engineering feat; in this case it was even more remarkable because of difficulties that had to be overcome, such as supporting the main line tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad, without delay to service, while the subway was built beneath them; the relocating of a long section of one of the five principal water mains that supply downtown Boston, and the relocating of many sewers.

The Huntington Avenue Subway Extension is a project in which I am deeply interested. When I first took office as Mayor, I immediately set in motion the machinery in Washington that brought the Federal financial grant which made it possible to enlarge on plans that had been formulated and to have the work carried out to the extent that gives us the subway that will be publicly opened today.

Employment for Thousands.

Of the estimated cost of $7,125,937, the W. P. A. grant will take care of $5,195,402, leaving the city to pay $1,930,535. Some critics may say that there was no need of spending that amount of money in times such as these, but I want to point out to them that of the total outlay the sum of $4,824,542 will have been expended for labor. In other words, the city gets a much needed improvement, which will be of immense benefit, and at the same time assures nearly $5,000,000 in wages for its working men, all at a cost of less than two millions of dollars. Surely that must be considered a good investment, particularly as there is practically no way of knowing how much this great total of wage money has saved the city in welfare costs.

In addition to the subway, we are to have an underpass by which vehicular traffic in both directions on Huntington avenue will be carried beneath the surface of Massachusetts avenue. That will be completed next summer, and then you will see a remarkable transformation on Huntington avenue. It is to be paved and beautified, with the present street car tracks removed.

Huntington avenue will then become another important artery to permit motorists entering from that side of the city to reach the downtown area more readily. This added accessibility is sure to have a good effect on business. Car tracks will also disappear from Copley square and Boylston street and the subway incline on Boylston street near Arlington street will be a thing of the past.

There will be an uninterrupted traffic flow along Huntington avenue and a far more sightly neighborhood. I feel sure the result will be beneficial to trade and that the merchants and others who cater to the public in that area are going to regain the business they lost during the period of construction. As for those who patronize the subway, they will be interested to know that officials of the Boston Elevated Railway figure that commuters who patronize the new subway in rush hours will save twenty minutes each day, while a trip between the downtown section and the region of the Opera House will be made in ten minutes less time than under the old system of cars at street level.

All this is but one stage of vast traffic improvements that Boston vitally needs. A broad and comprehensive plan is now before the Legislature and if it carries through, Boston will be further modernized with regard to the handling of the ever-growing flood of motor traffic.

Our newest subway was planned in every detail by the Boston Transit Commission, a city body that came into being in 1898, when the old Boylston Street Subway, first of its kind in the country, was built. Since then, the methods used by our Transit Commission in subway buildings have set the pattern for the rest of the world. This latest addition to our system is up to the minute, with all modern features of safety, comfort and appearance.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hill looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

OPENING OF NEW SUBWAY.

CREDIT TO W. P. A. OFFICIALS.

Great credit is also due Administrator Delaney and his staff at W. P. A. headquarters for the efficiency with which the subway was built. It is remarkable that there has not been a single fatal accident among the 2,800 men who have been employed on the project. In fact, there has been no serious mishap of any kind. This has been due in large measure to methods worked out by the local W. P. A. staff by which every applicant for employment had to pass a rigid physical examination, and none who was unfit was taken on. The result was that throughout the more than three years of work every laborer and every mechanic was, at all times, in condition to vie with the many hazards that were daily encountered.

That is the modern way of doing things. It indicates that progress can be made with safety if proper methods are applied.

Within a short time the new subway will be thrown open. I urge all who are listening to visit it. Ride through it and as you do, visualize the difference between the speedy, uninterrupted run and the former trip on the surface, with autos blocking the street cars at cross streets and the necessity of waiting on windy corners for the car to arrive. I am proud of this latest addition to Boston's improvements and I am sure you will be also. Thank you.

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 31 the Mayor approved a contract with the Progressive Iron Works, Inc., for furnishing wrought-iron fence for surface car incline, Huntington Avenue Subway. Bids, opened January 23, were as follows:

P. J. Dinn & Co., $6,534; E. T. Ryan Iron Works, Inc., $5,921; Security Fence Company, $5,756; Brayton-Wilson-Cole Corporation, $5,335; West End Iron Works, $4,977; Progressive Iron Works, Inc., $4,663.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor has approved contracts with several contractors, etc., for furnishing supplies, labor, etc. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

CITY CLERK DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 4, 1941.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your authority is requested to allow me to make a contract, without advertising or inviting proposals, for the micro-filming of records in my custody by the Graphic Microfilm Service, Inc. The records are invaluable and the work to be done requires a high degree of skill and care. This company specializes in this type of work and I see nothing to be gained by advertising or asking for proposals as the essence of this contract is not price but character of service. I am entirely satisfied from the experimental and preliminary work done for me by this company that the results justify a continuance with them in the form of a written contract. The amount of the contract will be between four and five thousand dollars.

Respectfully,
WILFRED J. DOYLE,
City Clerk.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, January 27, 1941.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your approval is respectfully requested for the award of a contract, without advertising, to Mr. Thomas Cavanagh, for caisson work in connection with the W. P. A. project for alterations to Old Gate Lodge Building at Boston City Hospital. The contract price is $3,450, subject to additions to or deductions from, as may be deemed necessary if the required excavations are of greater or lesser depth than specified.

Bids for this work were originally publicly advertised by the Supply Department, and opened on November 14, 1940. As Mr. Cavanagh was the only bidder, the contract was with your approval, awarded to him and he proceeded with the work. It was only when the Law Department refused to approve the contract, that the Supply Department realized that inasmuch as no material was to be purchased under this contract, it was not one coming properly under its jurisdiction, and accordingly turned it over to the Hospital Trustees.

In view of the foregoing facts, and because Mr. Cavanagh has already completed a large part of the work called for in the specifications, the Trustees feel that nothing can be gained by further advertising.

It is therefore strongly recommended that this contract be awarded to Mr. Thomas Cavanagh, in the above mentioned sum, without advertising.

Respectfully yours,

CARL DREYFUS,
President, Board of Trustees.

PARK DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, October 26, 1940.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners your approval is respectfully requested to lease counter space and rooms No. 102 and 115 and a connecting room between these two rooms, in the Administration Building, Boston Airport, to Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., of Kansas City, Missouri, for a period of one year beginning October 1, 1940.

The total square footage of these rooms is 793 feet and T. W. A. is to pay the city at the rate of $2 per square foot per year, or a total rental of $1,586. We are now charging $2 per square foot for all room space rented at the Airport.

This lease will mean additional income to the Airport and we hope it is just a forerunner of further relations with this corporation. It is possible that they may open up air service to the Boston Airport and if this is done, the city will receive much additional revenue.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.
BOSTON, February 7, 1941.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—In 1940, as a result of obtaining publicly advertised bids, a contract was awarded to the lowest bidder, the Appel & O'Toole Company, for earth excavation, etc., in the City Proper, South Boston, East Boston, Charlestown, and Roxbury districts, for the Water Division of this department.

The original contract has terminated, although it will be necessary during the current season to continue this type of work. The Appel & O'Toole Company have agreed to do the same type of work as provided in the original contract, in accordance with the standard specifications of the department and on the basis of the original contract prices. In view of this, I feel that there would be no advantage in advertising for bids at this time, and it is my opinion that it would be to the best interests of the city to allow the Appel & O'Toole Company to continue to do the type of work provided in the original contract.

I therefore respectfully request that you allow this department to issue, without publicly advertising for bids, so called service orders to the Appel & O'Toole Company for doing the same type of work as provided in the original contract, based on the itemized prices of the contract, with the understanding that the total of all such service orders will be less than $2,000.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 560.

Patrolmen Timothy J. O'Keefe and John J. O'Connor, both of Division 4; and Patrolmen Stanley A. Slack and William J. Crowley, both of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, are commended for efficient police duty performed on January 9, 1941, for prompt response to a radio message from the dispatcher that a hold-up was in progress on Shawmut avenue in the South End.

The officers immediately proceeded to the scene and, upon hearing that the man had left, obtained a description of the person who attempted to "hold up" the proprietor of a cafe.

The officers immediately cruised the vicinity and observed and took into custody a man answering the description furnished, who was identified as the party wanted.

The commissioner is pleased and gratified in commending these officers for the prompt response, keen observation, and initiative shown in accomplishing the arrest of this dangerous character, who was also wanted by North Carolina authorities for escape after being convicted of robbery in that state.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 561.

Patrolman Leo G. Hearns of Division 15 is hereby commended for meritorious police work performed in accomplishing the arrest of a "hit-and-run" driver who had struck and seriously injured a boy who was crossing the street in Charlestown on January 22, 1941.

Patrolman Hearns, with but meagre evidence in the way of parts of a broken lens and a piece of broken green metal, after exhausting every available means, by contacting numerous dealers was able to identify the make of a car to which the evidence could be associated and thus the garage to which the offender applied for new parts.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the untiring effort, resoursefulness, and devotion to duty shown by Patrolman Hearns in giving his own time to accomplish the arrest of the offender, who admitted a finding of guilty and was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction by the Charlestown Court.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 562.

The following-named persons are hereby appointed as patrolmen, effective as of Friday, February 14, 1941, at 10 o'clock, a. m., and they are assigned as follows:

Patrolman John W. Englehardt, assigned to Division 19.

Patrolman Jeremiah J. Hegarty, assigned to Division 11.

Patrolman Lawrence J. Mitchell, assigned to Division 9.

Patrolman Lawrence J. McLaughlin, assigned to Division 13.

Patrolman Leonard C. Ricketson, assigned to Division 10.

Patrolman Joseph P. Henry, assigned to Divison 17.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 563.

Madden, attached to the Traffic Division, are commended for meritorious police duty performed in effecting the arrest of three men who attempted to commit an armed holdup of a cafe on Division 4, on September 15, 1940, during which the victim was seriously wounded in the leg.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend these officers for their untiring efforts, initiative and devotion to duty shown in solving this serious crime and the successful conviction of the criminals.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 565.

Sergt. William H. Owen, Patrolmen Coleman T. O'Donnell, Duncan J. MacDonald, James J. Murphy and John J. Dame, all attached to Division 4, are commended for efficient police duty performed in apprehending a man who had severely assaulted a woman with a rock, robbed her and attempted to criminally assault her in an alleyway in the early hours of the morning of December 11, 1940, in the South End.

The commissioner is pleased and gratified to commend these officers for their prompt response to an outside telephone call to the station as well as the initiative shown in pursuing and apprehending this dangerous and vicious criminal, who has been removed from society by a substantial sentence in State Prison.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

INVENTORY CONTROL OF CONSUMABLE MATERIAL AND SUPPLIES.

On February 13 Mayor Tobin issued the following statement:

Definite progress has been made toward the establishment of an Inventory Control of consumable materials and supplies in the Boston City Hospital, Sanatorium, Long Island, Deer Island and the City Jail. A complete report has been submitted by the industrial engineering firm hired by the City of Boston to establish a plan for accomplishing this object.

The installation of this plan is to be made as a W. P. A. project under the supervision of competent engineers. The first step toward this installation has been taken and the initial W. P. A. project has been approved and should be in operation within two weeks.

It is expected that this Inventory Control at the City Hospital will be set up and operating by July 1st of this year unless some unforeseen difficulties arise. It is expected that it will also be operating at Long Island, Deer Island, the Sanatorium, and the City Jail, not later than September 30 of the current year.

LAUNDRY.

The centralization of city laundry work has been the subject of a study by the Survey Committee for more than a year. Experts in laundry work have cooperated with this committee without remuneration and have submitted reports. It appears that they agree on one point only, namely, that some improvement can be made and a consequent saving would result. There is a divergence of opinion as to how such improvements could be accomplished and as to the amount of savings that would ultimately result.

Some have suggested the transferring of equipment from certain departments to others, plus the purchasing of new equipment. Others have suggested the purchase of new equipment, and a third group has suggested that results could be accomplished without the purchase of any equipment at this time.

As a result of these reports the Survey Committee is not in a position to make any definite commitment as to the methods that should be followed. In addition to these conflicting opinions, a Linen Control is being established at the City Hospital. This makes a decision at this time very difficult as the Linen Control will have a definite bearing on the capacity of the City Hospital laundry to absorb other work.

It is evident from our studies that it will be necessary to straighten out the present practices in the various laundries before any definite steps can be made toward the purchase of any new machinery, if necessary, and the absorbing of more work at the City Hospital plant. Nevertheless, some steps have been taken toward improving the laundry situation by the transfer of certain equipment that has been lying idle at North End Park, under the jurisdiction of the Park Department, to Deer Island, where the equipment was admittedly obsolete. This has permitted Deer Island to do other laundry work and also it has taken over the laundry work of the Wayfarer's Lodge which the Welfare Department formerly let out by contract.

MAYOR PLANS TO SAFEGUARD RIGHTS OF ABSENTEE VOTERS IN MILITARY SERVICE.

BOSTON, February 15, 1941.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—Persons absent from their home cities or towns on the day of a State Election were given the right to vote by the Legislature in 1919 by means of absentee ballots, so called, under certain restrictions and by complying with certain formalities.

By later legislation this privilege was extended to the voters in city or town elections in the cities or towns which accepted the provisions of section 103–A of chapter 54 of the General Laws.

This section has not been accepted by the City of Boston. It is probable that a substantial number of Boston voters may be absent from the city at election time in the service of the United States and they should not be under the disadvantage of losing their votes in addition to the other sacrifices they are called upon to make.

Accordingly, I submit herewith an order for the acceptance of the section of the law referred to and recommend its immediate adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That section 103–A of chapter 54 of the General Laws, relating to absentee voting in city elections, be, and hereby is, accepted.

DRAFT OF BROTHERHOOD WEEK STATEMENT BY MAYOR TOBIN.

On February 17 Mayor Tobin issued the following:

We have in this city those who spring from almost every racial or national stock in the world. They adhere to more than one religion. But with all this complexity we are united as citizens in devotion to our country and to our democratic ideals. Our unity is not something forced upon us by governmental authority. It is the unity of free men, a unity of spirit which respects differences of opinion or religious conviction and voluntarily unites for the maintenance of all that, as Americans, we hold dear.

Among our citizens are those who have come from forty-seven different nations. Every living religious faith finds adherents among us. We would not have it otherwise. We are proving in this country that men of many races and religions can live together in friendship and cooperation. We recognize the right to differ in many of our most important convictions as we differ in national origin. But no difference exists between us in our common devotion to American democracy. We are all united today in the cause of national defense, even as we have long espoused the basic American freedoms,—freedom of press, religion, and the right of assembly.

It is thus that I am pleased to join with national and state officials in urging the citizenry of Boston to participate fully in the observance of Brotherhood Week during the week of Washington's Birthday, February 22–28. No greater tribute could be paid the Father of our Country.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Beatrice street, bounded:

Westerly by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown, Groveland street, fifty and 3-100 feet; northerly by the northerly line of Beatrice street, four hundred fifty-two and 74-100 feet; easterly by easement taken March 31, 1936, for sewerage purposes, twenty-eight feet; again northerly by the same, thirty-three feet; again easterly by another part of Beatrice street, twenty-two feet and southerly by the southerly line of said Beatrice street, four hundred eighty-three and 97-100 feet, containing twenty-three thousand three hundred nineteen square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Groveland street, bounded:

Easterly by land hereinbefore described as taken from owners unknown, Beatrice street, fifty and 3-100 feet; southerly by another part of Groveland street, thirty and 3-100 feet; westerly by the same, fifty and 3-100 feet and northerly by the same, thirty and 2-100 feet, containing fifteen hundred and one square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Beatrice street, bounded:

Southerly by easement taken for sewerage purposes March 31, 1938, twenty-one feet; westerly by the same twenty-two and 50-100 feet; northerly by Paula road and by the northerly line of Beatrice street, twenty-five and 71-100 feet and easterly by another part of Beatrice street, twenty-two feet, containing five hundred fourteen square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows:

478 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 471 linear feet of 12-inch pipe surface drain.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on the northerly side of Beatrice street between Groveland street and a point approximately three hundred feet easterly and the abutting lots of land on the southerly side of Beatrice street between Groveland street and a point approximately two hundred sixty feet easterly will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of said lots to the amounts hereinafter respectively set against it, said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Sewerage Works, Plan No. 1252, Beatrice Street, Groveland Street, Dorchester, January 28, 1941, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

ADDITIONAL DAY FOR SNOW WORKERS' REGISTRATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 8, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of January 27, 1941, concerning the arranging for another day or days of registration for snow workers, in order that those citizens of Boston who were not aware of the new system or were unable to take advantage of it may register.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
February 3, 1941.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council on January 27, 1941:

"Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for another day or days of registration for snow workers, in order that those citizens of Boston who were not aware of the new system or were unable to take advantage of it may register."

At the present time there are approximately 8,700 persons registered for emergency snow removal work. Of this number about 1,800 worked during and subsequent to the recent snow storm. Under the circumstances, therefore, there is no necessity at the present time of having additional persons register.

It is my opinion, also, that it is too late in the current winter season to allow persons to register for snow removal work, and, in view of this, I do not feel that it would be advisable to comply with the provisions of the above-referenced order.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY

February 4, 1941.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—Consideration has been given by the Trustees to request of the Boston City Council received with your letter of January 29, for extension to the terminal entrance of the five-cent local fare limit on all car and bus lines operating to the Dudley Street Terminal.

The local fare rides over the entire system were readjusted for the purpose of securing additional revenue and reducing the deficit, and it would not be consistent with the present policy as to length of local fare rides to comply with the request of the Council.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

Public Works Department,
February 3, 1941.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council on January 27, 1941:

"Ordered, That, in the opinion of the City Council, sufficient funds should be provided immediately to modernize the Northern Avenue and Summer Street Bridges across the Fort Point Channel."

It is my opinion that there is no necessity of providing any substantial amounts at this time to make improvements to the above-referenced bridges, as both bridges are in good condition.

I wish to call to your attention at this time that approximately $24,000 was expended last year for repairing the Summer Street Bridge.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

HOUSING UNITS, WARD 8.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 7, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Chairman of the Boston Housing Authority relative to your order of January 27, 1941, concerning the changes in the plans for apartments in housing units to be erected in the Orchard park and South End districts of Ward 8.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Housing Authority.
February 4, 1941.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—This will acknowledge receipt of your communication of January 29, 1941, concerning the City Council order of January 27, 1941:

"That the officials of the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider changes in the plans for apartments in housing units to be erected in the Orchard park and South End districts of Ward 8, to make available to the residents of these districts, apartments with a sufficient number of rooms to accommodate large families."

You are advised that before any determination is made as to the size of dwelling units to be constructed in a housing project, a thorough study is made of all available material that would indicate the sizes of families to be served by the project. Such a study was made of the families to be served by the project proposed in the Orchard park area of Roxbury, and the distribution of the dwelling-unit sizes in the plan was based on that information.

The Authority is endeavoring to serve the larger families, and in so doing, it is worthy to note that the projects of this Authority have a greater proportion of four and five bedroom dwelling units than those of any other authority in the nation.

Respectfully,
JOHN A. BREEN, Chairman.

Office of the Mayor, February 8, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of February 3, 1941, concerning the discontinuance of the use of the wharf located on Victory road, Dorchester, presently used as a station for the unloading, into scows, of garbage and other refuse.

City of Boston,

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council on February 3, 1941:

"Ordered, That upon completion of the now existing garbage disposal contract, the Commissioner of Public Works, discontinue the use of the wharf located on Victory road, Dorchester, presently used as a station for the unloading, into scows, of garbage and other refuse."

The present ten-year disposal contract does not expire until July 1, 1942. Before giving consideration to complying with the provisions of the above-referenced order, it will be necessary to decide on the method of disposition of garbage and refuse materials that the city will adopt at the termination of the present contract. At the present time a committee is being organized to make a study of the disposal problem.

In view of the circumstances, therefore, I am precluded at this writing from taking any action with reference to the above order.

Respectfully yours,

CLEARING OF CROSSWALKS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 10, 1941.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
February 6, 1941.

Willam T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council on February 3, 1941:

"Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appoint a sufficient number of men to clear the crosswalks throughout the City of Boston."

The clearing of snow from all crosswalks within what might be considered a reasonable time after the termination of a particular storm is a problem that it is almost impossible to solve without the city's assuming an enormous expense that would be prohibitive. Subsequent to the last snowstorm, the department used some of its regular employees on main highways and at busy pedestrian intersections for the purpose of clearing the walks and making them reasonably safe and satisfactory for pedestrian passage.

I agree that there is much room for improvement in connection with this type of snow work, and it is my intention, therefore, immediately at the termination of any snowstorms hereafter, to have a special detail of workers assigned to each district paving yard for the purpose of clearing away the snow at the most important crosswalks.

I feel confident that a marked improvement will be noted in connection with the clearing of snow from crosswalks hereafter.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BORROWING FOR CENTRAL TRAFFIC ARTERY.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Resolved, that the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the city to borrow outside the debt limit a sum not exceeding nineteen million four hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of financing the laying out and constructing of a central traffic artery and other related thoroughfare improvements, substantially as set forth in the proposed bill attached to the petition filed in January, 1941, in the General Court by Henry J. Nichols of Boston and others.

Referred to Executive Committee.

DELIVERY OF OIL BY WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare and Superintendent of Supplies be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, when making preparations for the year 1942, for the delivery of oil to recipients of Dependent Aid, Aid to Dependent Children, and Old Age Assistance, to discontinue the practice of arranging for this distribution by contract and instead to permit these recipients to purchase this oil from their local dealers.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I sincerely hope that this order will receive the consideration and favorable action that I believe it is entitled to. I fully realize, of course, that to discontinue the present practice of handling this oil distribution by contract, and instead to permit these recipients to purchase from their local dealers, would be more expensive, but I don't feel that it is fair to penalize these recipients, as is the case under the present system. Complaints constantly keep coming in because of the hardship wrought on these recipients through the delay in delivery. There is nothing worse in this life than being cold and hungry. The over-all allowances being granted these recipients already permits but a bare existence, and when, while awaiting the delivery of oil, they are forced to buy an emergency supply from their local dealer, such purchase means that they must then deny themselves of necessary food or clothing. This is false economy on the part of the city, that certainly works to the inhuman disadvantage of the recipient whom, after all, we are supposed to protect. In this connection, let me say that I have received the following letter from one of my constituents:

"February 7, 1941.

My dear Mr. Carey,—I am writing to you to see if there is not some way in which you can give us people on welfare a chance to right a very poor and mean condition.

We have been receiving a check for fuel each month and find that when we send it to the—— company we wait until they get good and ready to deliver. Last month I gave mine to my own oil man and he gave me oil each day as needed and took very good care of me, and when the check amount runs out he saw that I was taken care of until the next check. This month my check is stamped——and my oil man tells me that as much as he would like to supply me as before he cannot touch the check.

Also the——company want me to get an oil drum so that I can take it in large amounts. Oil drum and stand would cost $3.75, or five cans for twenty-five gallons would cost $3.45, which amount I do not think any person on relief can afford.

Now, these conditions are just a case of monopoly by a big concern who do not care a hoot about us folks on relief once they get that check."

I think that letter speaks for itself. Time and time again I have had complaints from these poor unfortunates, unfortunates through no fault of their own, who through the cold winter months must wait until the contractor gets ready or has a chance to make such deliveries. As I stated earlier, it seems to me, while it might be a little more expensive to permit the distribution of oil by local dealers in the neighborhood, it would ensure prompter delivery in many cases. I believe that this is a matter which, in the interest of humanity, should receive serious consideration. If such action is taken, during this next year oil will be more promptly delivered in many cases by dealers in the locality.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I think the company that the gentleman refers to is the Boston Ice Company. I attempted awhile ago in my district to have local dealers given an opportunity to come in and get the contract for delivery of fuel oil in their neighborhood, because of information I received that the Boston Ice Company was not making deliveries as promptly as it should. If that is true—and I have no reason to doubt it in many parts of this city—local dealers should be permitted to supply the people in their districts. I would like to have this referred to the Executive Committee, and have some of the oil company representatives come in and tell us how they are carrying on their work under these supply contracts.

The order was referred to the Committee on Public Welfare.

TEST OF OPEN-AIR PARKING PERMITS.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to bring up to date the analysis of open-air parking space permits as originally given in the Proceedings of the City Council for Monday, December 19, 1938, as printed in the City Record of January 7, 1939, pages 17–19.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, this is simply an order requesting the Street Commissioners to bring up to date the report on open-air parking spaces made about two years ago and published in the City Record. Since that date many buildings have been demolished, and the land has been opened up for parking spaces. We don't know the extent to which that has been carried on, nor do we have any complete report on parking spaces now available. The passage of this order will give us that information.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF WEST FIRST STREET.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement West First street from Farragut road to D street, and to install granolithic sidewalks thereon.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REINSTATEMENT OF MARY KENEALLY.

Coun. SCANNELL and LINEHAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation for the reinstatement to the office of Clerk of the Civil Court for Civil Business of Suffolk County, of Mary Keneally, provided that such legislation contains a referendum to the Mayor and the City Council.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I would like to ask the circumstances of this proposed reinstatement, whether it has anything to do with the removal of the former clerk, and why he wants the lady reinstated.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, this is a case of a woman retired from the office of the Clerk of the Superior Civil Court under the régime of John Patrick Connolly. It was a forced retirement, and I believe it is now properly up to the Mayor and the City Council to pass this resolution, as it has to go to the Legislature for enactment.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

REINSTATEMENT OF KATHERINE I. LALLY.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Resolved, that the City Council of the City of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation for the reinstatement to the office of Clerk of the Civil Court for Civil Business of Suffolk County, of Katherine I. Lally, provided that such legislation contains a referendum to the Mayor and the City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRANSFER OF HOSPITAL PATIENTS IN ELEVATORS.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to notify those concerned that the practice must be discontinued of permitting passengers to occupy the same elevator with those who are ill and being transferred from one floor to another in wheel chairs and on litters, etc.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, I simply wish to call the existing conditions at the hospital to the attention of this Honorable Body. In my visits to the hospital, covering a long period of time, I have frequently had occasion to use the elevators, and I have observed what has taken place. I have witnessed on many occasions how the elevators have been used, when patients were being moved in the elevators from one part of the hospital to another. In addition to the patients there will frequently be five, six or seven passengers, sometimes boys and girls, sometimes old men and women, who are in the elevators at the same time when the patients are being moved. Only last week I witnessed a very very old lady, who was very sick with flu, and there were seven passengers in the elevator, of whom I was one, with the old lady. That poor woman was somebody's mother, and whoever brought her to the hospital, of course, had to leave her in the accident ward and then go about his business while they took care of her. Well, they took care of her all right. There was an old lady in the elevator, with all those passengers, and some of the passengers didn't look any too healthy, and one who was none too clean was standing over that poor old patient, breathing into her face, while she was lying there in a litter or stretcher. She tried to cover up her face, because she was so embarrassed and, I suppose, afraid of disease. I have talked with many people at the hospital about matters of this kind, and I hope they will be taken care of. On my two visits to the hospital yesterday, I witnessed the same thing. I think it is about time that the Council stood up on its feet and let the trustees and the hospital officials understand that we amount to something. We should cooperate with one another, and see to it that conditions at the hospital are such as not only the doctors would like to have them, but that the hospital is run in the way that the citizens feel that it should be run. I admit that we are not doctors. We have enough lawyers here, however, to take the matter to court, if necessary, and stop this sort of thing. I think it is about time that we should interest ourselves. We should be as much interested in mothers, brothers, sisters or fathers of other people as we would be in the case of our own family, and should do everything possible to see that they are taken care of properly. When patients are brought there with the blood flowing from their veins, they should be immediately looked after, given first aid, even before any memorandum is made concerning them. When there is something the matter with them, they should be immediately taken care of. Of course, we all know very well that one doctor will not talk about another, and I know that a nurse will not talk about another, but I have been to the hospital hundreds of times and witnessed things of this sort that should be corrected, and I think it is an outrage that something is not done about it. While at times we do not like to put our objections on the ground that we are members of the City Council, there are occasions arise when it is incumbent upon us, as representatives of the people, to stand up for those who are not being properly treated and put those people in their place. We are elected by the citizens to see that their wishes in municipal matters are carried out, and when I see the need for it, they are not going to tell me that it is none of my business, but I am going to insist on people who are brought to the hospital immediately getting first aid, medical attention, without any delay or red tape.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, I think that order should be referred to the Committee on Hospitals. I realize that the councilor is conscientious in the ground he takes, but I think we are having too much airing of the City Hospital in this way, and it does not do the hospital any good. I had a case brought to my attention only last week, of a woman who was not a welfare case but who was nearly a welfare case, who came to my home and asked me about the possibility of cashing in an insurance policy in order to receive medical attention. I suggested the Boston City Hospital, and she immediately made the remark that she had heard detrimental things about the hospital. That girl should have been treated at the Boston City Hospital, but her mother was fearful about the hospital on account of the talk that has been going on about it. I don't think this sort of talk is helping the people of my district, people who are in the main poor people and who should, in cases where they need hospital care, go to the City Hospital instead of to private hospitals. I think this is a matter that should be referred to the Committee on Hospitals. We all know about the difficulties that arise in running institutions, difficulties that at times cannot be avoided. Naturally, there will be complaints about any institution, but when such complaints are brought to the attention of our hospital trustees, they can be corrected. I don't believe in airing these things in this way, citing incidents that can be easily enlarged upon when they are made public and can seriously injure the hospital, getting people into the frame of mind that they do not want to go there. I think we all feel that the hospital is well run, that it is a fine hospital, although there may be from time to time, as in all institutions, some little things come up that can be easily corrected. But I had this case brought to my attention where people in my district were prejudiced against the hospital, people who should receive medical attention from our hospital. That is the place for them, and they will be well cared for there. As a matter of fact, people in my district and other parts of Boston, who require medical attention, can be as well or better cared for in our City Hospital than in a private hospital or under private medical care, which they may seek because of these things that are brought to their attention. I trust, therefore, that this matter will be referred to the Committee on Hospitals.

The order was referred to the Committee on Hospitals.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President GALVIN—If there is no objection, the gentleman may proceed.

Coun. WICKES, Mr. President, with all due respect for my friend the councilor from Ward 8, I beg to differ with him. I am firmly convinced, as I have said today and as I have said before, that unless we and every citizen of Boston who is interested calls attention to these things which take place at the City Hospital as it is being run, nothing will ever be done about them. I have many times gone to the people in charge there and been promised that matters would be taken care of, and then nothing has been done. I know, as well as other members here, that when you call up the City Hospital in regard to a patient in whom you are interested, asking how the patient is getting along, the answer will be, "Very well," and perhaps the patient will die that afternoon. You know that sometimes you will go to the hospital and be insulted, and I think it is about time that the citizens of Boston, paying taxes to run the hospital, should be treated with courtesy, as they would be in a private institution. Let me tell you about something that happened to me, to show you that I know what I am talking about. As you know, I received the Carnegie medal for saving some boys from drowning, and let me tell you what happened. This happened to me—it is not hearsay. When another fellow and myself carried those boys to the City Hospital, we were all soaking wet, and one of the boys was unconscious. We met about seven people there, who just stood around, looked and stared. Nobody said, "Can we help you, or do something for you?" No. We had just gone there with the two boys from the scene of the accident. I did not announce myself as the City Councilor from Ward 17, Dorchester, because I did not wish to use any authority, simply going there as any citizen might go. Well, we ourselves carried the two boys to the place where they were to be taken care of, and when we reached that place, going along nearly a quarter of a mile, we found at least eight or nine men and women standing around. Not one of them offered to help us. Nobody said, "What is the trouble? What can we do?" They just stood around. Well, I went ahead and placed one of the boys on a bed, and we were both pretty tired and weak. Finally, as nobody seemed to wake up and show any interest, I said, "I am a member of the City Council, and I want some help in this matter." Then they all ran, and I got some help. But God help the poor man or woman who goes to the Boston City Hospital without any influence, and needs first aid attention. Needless to say, I would not have got any aid if I had not announced the fact that I was a City Councilor. I had not mentioned it before, thinking the mere fact that help was needed there would be enough. I simply say these things so as to show you that I know what I am talking about and it is about time that attention was paid to people who go there and do not show any evidence of authority. What I have stated is the result of my own experience.

VACANCIES IN LENOX STREET HOUSING PROJECT.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take immediate steps to fill the vacant apartments now existing in the new Lenox street housing project.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PLAQUE IN MEMORY OF VETERANS, UNION SQUARE.

Coun. WARD and M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to permit the erection of a bronze plaque on the large circle at Union square, commemorating the memory of the veterans who died in the World War.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RE-EMPLOYMENT PLAN FOR DRAFTEES.

Coun. GOODE offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council does hereby recommend a Defense Re-Employment Plan for all young men called to duty under the National Selective Training and Service Act in the City of Boston, so that these draftees may re-establish themselves in the community and be assured that their jobs will be waiting and that they will receive preference when their tour of active service expires and they have been honorably discharged.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, I am offering this resolution because of the conditions that will be later facing the young men who are now called to duty under the National Selective Training and Service Act. I believe that his Honor the Mayor, as well as the Chamber of Commerce, have pledged themselves to such a program. It is my intention to have a copy of this sent to Congressman John McCormack and to our other representatives in the United States Senate and Congress, in view of what we can all foresee may happen to those young men after they have been honorably discharged from the United States Army. Certainly, we don't wish to have those young men included in the so-called "lost generation." Many of them are graduates of high schools and have entered employment, and after the year is over they may be unemployed for three or four years. Certainly, they should be given a chance to get steady employment, at least of such a character as many of them have been having up to the present time. We should seriously consider their future. I sincerely trust, therefore, that the resolution will be passed.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

CONDUCT OF OFFENSIVE TRADES WITHOUT LICENSE.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appear before the Committee on Licenses, to inform the Council whether or not certain concerns are conducting offensive trades without a license.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DISTRIBUTION OF MILK TO NEEDY.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to find some method of seeing that recipients of free milk have deliveries of milk made to their homes when it is ascertained that said recipients are incapacitated to the extent of being unable to call themselves personally, or through a representative, for the milk.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, it has come to my attention frequently of late and particularly in the last week, that we have a great many aged people receiving surplus milk, but many of whom, because of their illness and physical disability, are unable to go to the milk station and secure the milk. Some of these people have no young persons in their homes, or older persons who could go after the milk. I would suggest that through W. P. A. or Welfare, through some method, people who are unemployed might do this work of securing the milk from the station and taking it to those who are ill and physically disabled. I trust that the order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INCREASE OF WELFARE AID.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to grant welfare aid in the amount of $5.00 per week to single men, or women, now the recipients of $4 per week.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, what has prompted me to put this order in has been my personal experience as a member of the City Council in my district. I have been spoken to many times by residents receiving welfare, single men and women, who were receiving only $4.00 a week, and in order to survive they have asked me if it would not be possible to increase that aid by one dollar a week, due to the fact, as we can all realize, that a single man or woman receiving that $4.00 a week cannot properly live, particularly when you consider that they have to pay as rent approximately $2.00 or $2.25 per week. That leaves them the very small amount of about thirty cents a day for their food, to say nothing of any clothing that they may require, a pair of shoes or something of the sort. Thirty cents a day means for such a poor individual coffee and doughnuts in the morning, coffee and doughnuts at noon, and coffee and doughnuts at night. I realize the efforts that are being made to have the city continue on a pay-as-you-go basis, but I cannot help feeling that these poor individuals, who perhaps have no one else to go to, no friends or relatives, can barely live on $4.00 a week. Therefore, I ask that this order be passed, and that an effort be made to get an increase to $5.00 a week. There may, of course, be some certain cases where such people do receive $5.00 a week, but there are very many more cases where they are receiving only $4.00. I trust, therefore, that this order will pass.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, this is one of the most worthy orders, I believe, that was ever introduced into the Boston City Council. I have had probably several hundred single men and women come to me in the past year and say that they should have at least a dollar a week more so that they could exist. The fact is that many of these people, who have nobody else upon whom they can call for help, are in a very bad way. I trust that the order will pass, and I hope his Honor the Mayor will take some action to see that these people get $5.00 a week.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, I would like to have that order amended so as to take care of married couples with dependents.

President GALVIN—That should be the subject of a separate order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

TABLET IN MEMORY OF PATRICK T. CAMPBELL.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a suitable tablet on the Jeffries Point Branch Library in East Boston in honor of the late Patrick T. Campbell, Superintendent of Boston Public Schools.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUS LINE TO EAST BOSTON HIGH SCHOOL.

Coun. COFFEY order the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a bus line from Orient Heights and Jeffries Point in East Boston to the East Boston High School and return, with a five-cent fare.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPLACING OF EAST BOSTON TREES.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to replace all trees on the streets of East Boston which were blown down by the hurricane of September, 1938.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INSURANCE POLICIES OF OLD AGE ASSISTANCE RECIPIENTS.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Legislative agent for the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to record the Boston City Council as being in favor of the passage of the petition for legislation which will enable recipients of old age assistance to retain their insurance policies even though they were contracted for within five years from the date of making application for old age assistance.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I understand that there is now a petition before the Legislature which seeks to amend the present law so as to enable old age recipients to retain insurance policies, even though taken out within five years of the date of application for old age assistance. I know that every man in the Council feels that the present law is a very harsh one and should be remedied. Only last week I had occasion to hear from a constituent of mine who made application for old age assistance about six weeks ago, and was given assistance by the City of Boston, but was told by the party in charge that he would have to cancel or cash his insurance policy, because the present law would not allow him to retain it and have old age assistance simultaneously. This person about two weeks later was sent to the Boston City Hospital with a grave illness and his wife wanted to continue the old age assistance, but, on account of the illness would probably be called upon to pay expenses which she was financially unable to pay. But the life insurance policy of $300 would be sufficient to pay those expenses, the problem, however, being that if the old age assistance was to be obtained, the insurance policy would have to be dropped. You can readily appreciate what would happen if this person was to die. The poor old lady felt that, in view of the circumstances in the case it would not be well for her to drop the insurance on the life of her husband, and I understand that she dropped the old age assistance in order to retain the life insurance policy. I am sure that every member of the Council is very much in favor of having old age recipients retain their insurance policies, and I am sure that his Honor the Mayor will favor having his legislative agent go to the Legislature and favor the passage of a petition for legislation which will enable recipients of old age assistance to retain their insurance policies, even if contracted for within five years of the date of making application for old age assistance.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF STREET LIGHTING SYSTEM.

Coun. HURLEY and FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the President of the City Council be requested to appoint a committee of five members of the Council to make a survey of the cost and maintenance of the street lighting system in the City of Boston, and to instruct this committee to make a report to the Council as to the advisability of the maintenance of the street lighting system in Boston being placed under the jurisdiction of the Public Works Department.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, about this time every year, just prior to hearings on the budget, we have a number of taxpayers' leagues and organizations asking that some scrubwoman's wages be reduced or that some city laborer be laid off, in the interest of economy. I think that these same gentlemen, if they were to devote the same time and energy that they are giving to such matters, were to go after propositions such as I have indicated in this order, might really accomplish something. I am convinced that the amount paid for our street lighting is excessive, and that perhaps $100,000 a year can be saved on the arc lights of the City of Boston alone. I believe the cost of maintenance and electricity for each light amounts to $75.50 a year, and I think 60 per cent of the cost is charged up to maintenance. When you figure that cost over a period of ten years, you can see that there might be a saving of a million or perhaps a million and a half. There is no question that the cost of maintenance of the lighting companies is greatly diminished as the years go along. For instance, take the poles alone. There are hundreds of pole locations in Boston where poles have been standing twenty-five or thirty years, with practically no cost for the poles. Also, I understand, there has been a considerable decrease in the other costs that go into lighting over the years. There is, therefore, no question whatever in my mind that over the years the City of Boston has spent far more than it should for the lighting of our streets. You see, there is no competition. The city buys electricity from the Edison without any competition. Surely there must be some way in which the city could set up a lighting division in the Department of Public Works, supplying electricity, also putting more people at work and saving a great deal of money to the city. In the old days of arc lighting in Boston, there was a lot spent for labor, maintenance, installing, changing the lamps perhaps two or three times a week; but under the present system a thousand-watt lamp, or such a lamp as we have here in this chamber, all that sort of thing has been done away with, in the progress of the past fifteen or twenty years. Take the lights they have now. Look at those up there in this chamber. The light is turned on and it goes on until it burns out. There is practically very little replacement required. Nobody has to change the light bulbs in this chamber. It is clear, therefore, that there would be a considerable saving in the course of ten or twenty years with the improvement in the bulbs and labor cost and that would mean a considerable reduction in the cost to the City of Boston. Our welfare and other expenses are increasing all the time, and I believe that we should look for these ways to save on the costs of the city. I feel that a large and unnecessary amount is paid to the utility companies. I trust that this committee, if appointed, will act promptly, faithfully, and honestly, in making this survey, and I believe such a survey will result in the saving of a very substantial amount to the city.

The order was passed, and President GALVIN appointed as such committee Councilors Hurley, Taylor, Ward, Fish and Scannell.

STUDY OF TAX TITLE PROPERTY.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of appointing a committee, one or more of whom shall be selected from the Boston City Council, to make a study of unused and tax title property with a view to converting the same into free parking spaces for those doing business in Boston.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President and members of the Council, this order is presented with the knowledge in mind that an emergency condition can only be adequately handled by emergency methods. Business is the life blood of Boston. The streets of Boston are the arteries through which that blood flows. The various congestions resulting from stoppages in vital centers of the system has already threatened the life of business in this city. We should take every step in this emergency to prevent this economic anemia from becoming pernicious. Quincy's business has increased greatly because free parking spaces are offering a cordial invitation to the outsider to come into Quincy and do business and, incidentally, leave their wealth with the merchants of the city who, in turn are well able to pay their taxes and thus left without an excuse for asking for large abatements.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, while we all recognize the fact that the order introduced by the councilor is a very good one, as attempting to deal with traffic conditions, for which something must be done, I do not think that the order at the present time is feasible, due to the fact that there is now pending before the Legislature a bill providing for parking on off-streets. That bill at least seems to offer something in the way of a solution of this problem, and therefore I don't think we should proceed hastily on this matter without having in mind other proposed action dealing with the same subject. It may be that the proposed bill in the Legislature to provide parking spaces on off-streets may be the answer. It is a gigantic proposition, something that cannot be acted upon hastily. It is a matter that must be given thorough study by people of sufficient engineering ability to cope with the proposition. That bill is before the Legislature now, and I don't think this order would be a good substitute for the bill. In view of that fact, I think this order should lie on the table or be referred to some committee, until we see what action is taken by the Legislature on that particular bill. If that bill fails of passage, I think Councilor Wickes' order might then be a good one, to provide space for the people who come here to do business.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, with due respect to Councilor Taylor, I still believe that if a city of the size of Quincy has become progressive and is making a great success out of its parking plan, it would be well for us to at least try it. It might well be that on such a committee there should be a representative of the Chamber of Commerce, with others who are conversant with parking and business problems. Certainly, the business of Quincy has been greatly increased through free parking. You can readily see how that would be. People at Fields Corner, for example, might readily decide to go to Quincy to do their shopping. They would have to go but a short distance, and they would there obtain free parking and stores selling their goods on just about the same basis. You can go, for instance, to the Gilchrist store in Quincy and find the same prices that you would find in Boston. If you go to a big shopping place there, you will find the prices and equipment equal to the best we can afford, and being enabled to park free of charge would be a very important financial consideration. Therefore, I see no reason why such an order as I have offered should be held up. I can see no conflict with any such bill as has been referred to in the Legislature. All I do in this order, anyway, is to request his Honor the Mayor to consider the advisability of appointing a committee, one or more of whom shall be selected from the Boston City Council, to make a study of unused and tax-title property with a view to converting the same into free parking spaces for those doing business in Boston. It is simply a request of the Mayor, and I certainly think it will do no harm to pass the order and get Mayor Tobin's opinion upon it. I trust that it will pass.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, having been a member of the Legislature and knowing how the Republican members up there act in matters concerning the City of Boston, I think by taking such action as is proposed here, it is going to hurt our interests in the matter of legislation this year. We will have before the Legislature, if this should be acted upon favorably, two bills dealing with this traffic situation in Boston, this one and the one that Councilor Taylor refers to. This order proposes traffic areas constructed by the city, in a way that might be considered adverse to out of town areas. I say that when we go up there and talk about doing something for the benefit of the stores of our city, as against those in neighboring towns, through traffic areas and parking areas, we are going to get adverse votes on Beacon Hill. When you talk about getting into Boston, business that is perhaps taken from other places, from other parts of the state, you are inviting adverse action by the Legislature. I hope, therefore, that this matter will be laid on the table.

Coun. WICKES—I am, of course, interested in Boston and frankly so. I hope Boston will become the third largest city in the country instead of the eighth, ninth or tenth, and the only way in which Boston can attain rank of third is by making it a business city. We have to have business, and we have our harbor, which is a part of our business, and which is an important means of bringing business into the city.

Coun. LINEHAN—Does the gentleman realize that in order to get these things through we must have the assistance of other members of the Legislature? It will be simply a matter of waiting a few months, anyway, to see whether action such as is suggested is taken by the Legislature, and if such action is not taken, then something of this nature can be proposed. But I believe we should wait until we see what action is taken upon the other bill.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, I am not asking here that this matter go to the Legislature. I am simply asking that his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of appointing a committee, one or more of whom shall be selected from the Boston City Council, to make a study of unused and tax-title property with a view to converting the same into free parking spaces for those doing business in Boston. It will simply give Mayor Tobin an opportunity to answer "yes" or "no." If he says "no," the matter will not go to the Legislature. I still hope that the order will pass.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I move that all remarks with regard to this matter be expunged from the minutes.

The motion was lost.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I shall be very brief. I believe this is an unnecessary order. The Mayor has already appointed a Traffic Commission that is to study this entire matter, and it promises to be a very effective one, including the Planning Board and others acquainted with this subject. I am sure that they will fully take into consideration this matter of tax-title property that may be converted into parking spaces. I believe, therefore, that the matter should be referred to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President GALVIN—If there is no objection, the gentleman may proceed.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, several months ago, with Councilor Lyons, I presented to this Body an order which, if carried out, I think will remedy parking conditions in the City of Boston, and I have not received an answer from the Traffic Commission. But the Boston Elevated Railway thought enough of that order, when they read it over, to recommend it in connection with relieving parking congestion in their report of last year; also the Chamber of Commerce thought it was a very good idea. But I have not heard anything from the Traffic Commission about it. I will read the order:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested, in conjunction with this Traffic Commission, to consider the advisability of establishing municipal parking spaces in the suburbs of the city adjacent to the rapid transit system of the Boston Elevated Railway Company."

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Coun. SCANNELL—Not at this time, Mr. President. Upon that order I said:

"Mr. President, we all know that our traffic situation in Boston has become very serious, and I am merely presenting this order asking the Mayor with the Traffic Commission to consider the advisability of establishing municipal parking spaces in the suburbs of the city adjacent to the rapid transit system of the Elevated, with the handling of that serious situation in view. The idea is simply to do something which will help relieve traffic conditions in Boston. My idea in connection with these proposed municipal parking places is that we have vacant land here and about the outskirts of Boston, land that in many cases is used simply for dumps, and that it might be possible to provide parking spaces, charging a nominal amount for each parker, say 25 cents. The matter can then be taken up with the Boston Elevated Railway, so that it will give to the customer at that parking space a street railway ticket to and from the parking space, say for 14 cents, which would leave 11 cents to maintain the parking space. That would help traffic conditions in Boston and would also help to reduce the deficit of the Boston Elevated, besides helping people to get in and out of town conveniently. I think the suggestion is a good one, and I hope the Council will pass the order, and that in the very near future we will have a report upon it from the Mayor and the Traffic Commissioner. I believe in this way the traffic situation in Boston might be solved."

I think this is one of the finest orders that has been presented in this Body to relieve the traffic problem in this city.

SURVEY OF REFUGEE CHILDREN IN BOSTON.

Coun. GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston School Committee consider making a survey in the City of Boston to determine how many refugee children are now residing in this city with a view to providing for their education.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, I understand that the Department of Welfare is about to petition the Attorney General for an opinion as to what constitutes a legal residence of a child here in Boston. I have attempted to ascertain from the School Committee how long a child had to be a resident of Boston before he or she could be admitted to the Boston schools, and I had understood that where there was a legal residence the child would be admitted immediately. However, nobody can tell me the status of a refugee child admitted by the immigration officials to this city and his status as a school child. So I believe it would be well for the School Committee to make a survey in Boston, to determine how many refugee children are now residing in this city, with a view to providing for their education. If something is not done, they are apt to become delinquents, and they will be greatly handicapped if they become public charges. It seems to me, therefore, that there should be an immediate solution of the matter.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

APPROVAL OF LEGISLATION FOR HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT.

Coun. LINEHAN offered the following:

REPLY TO ORDER RE MUNICIPAL PARKING SPACES.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Survey Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately forward a reply relative to the order introduced by Councilors Scannell and Lyons on October 21, 1940, relative to municipal parking spaces.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EXTENSION OF HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, be requested to confer with the proper W. P. A. officials in Washington on the matter of extending the Huntington avenue subway to Hyde square, Jamaica Plain, via Roxbury Crossing, through the use of W. P. A. funds.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, the hour is late, and I simply wish to say a few words upon this order. It is similar to the one that I put in two years ago. I think it is generally agreed that the advantages to the city of such an extension would be numerous, and I think the present time is a good time to consider the matter. There is an immense amount of traffic through the section, and in the old days one of the transfer points was in the Roxbury district. Now, with the subway work that has been carried through in this city, it seems to me it is a good time to extend the subway through Roxbury and further to Jamaica Plain. The time has come when such a proposition must be seriously considered, and I trust that the Mayor will look into the matter and see what action can be taken at this time.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF WARD 13 STREETS

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the following streets in Ward 13, as W. P. A. projects: Brook avenue and Ingleside street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF AREA FOR TRAFFIC IMPROVEMENT.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner and other experts be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange to conduct a survey over the area considered in the traffic improvement bill for the Boston City Council.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, as I said the other day, at the Parker House, I think it is only fair and proper that such a survey should be made, and that all the information possible should be available in connection with this traffic question, which is so important to the City of Boston and the taxpayers of Massachusetts. I feel that the City Council of Boston should be given the opportunity to go over these streets considered in connection with this traffic bill and that they should be provided with expert advice on the matter. The matter has been dealt with in the newspapers. As a matter of fact, the newspapers treated it editorially some three weeks before it came before the City Council. I have received some enlightenment from three or four pages, together with the map of the area where the traffic highway is proposed. But I believe we should get much more explicit information on the matter by having a personal survey throughout the streets considered in it. I trust, therefore, that the proponents of the bill will consider my request a reasonable one and arrange some time this week, perhaps, for the City Council to be given this opportunity.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

Adjourned at 5.57 p. m., on motion of Coun LYONS, to meet on Monday, February 17, 1941 at 2 p. m.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 33. SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1941. NO. 9

MAYOR TOBIN PAYS TRIBUTE TO ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ARTILLERY COMPANY AT WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY LUNCHEON — POINTS TO HONORABLE RECORD IN 304 YEARS OF EXISTENCE AND PATRIOTIC CONTRIBUTIONS MEMBERS OF ORGANIZATION TO COUNTRY IN ALL ITS CRISES UNITED STATES HAS FACED — POINTS TO IMPORTANT PART COUNTRY IS PLAYING IN PRESENT WORLD CRISIS AND CALLS ON ALL CITIZENS TO UPHOLD PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS IN OPPOSING DICTATOR INFLUENCES NOW TRYING TO IMPOSE SELVES ON WORLD.

It is an honor to be given the opportunity to break bread with the members of the oldest chartered military organization in the country. For me there is a thrill in realizing that your organization has been in existence for 304 years and that it received its charter 303 years ago. Down through more than three centuries, and within a few years of the length of time that Boston itself has existed, the Ancients have always held together and have always been active. Your members fought, and some of them died, in the wars which founded this country, and they have taken part in every war in our history. That is a matter for pride. It is fitting that, each June, you pay tribute to the memory of Robert Keayne, your founder, for you owe him a debt for having created an organization that holds such a unique place in our country's records.

It speaks well for the Ancients that they have carried on through the most trying times and that even in the changed scene of today the organization flourishes. Time was when you played a vital part in the life of the colony and afterward the city. Today, keeping alive the old traditions is your chief function, except in time of emergency when your membership unfailingly rallies to give all possible aid.

Yours is truly a democratic outfit. I am told that the sole qualification for membership is to be a citizen of the United States. That is the essence of everything in the present critical days. To be an American citizen is to be a patriot, and America needs all our support.

On Historic Ground.

I do not need to remind you that that flag we revere has never been unfurled in a battle waged in support of an unjust or unworthy cause. On the other hand, it has flown over our troops in wars that were carried on to put down aggression and oppression.

On the very spot where we now are, the meetings were held at which were formulated the plans that gave to this country the freedom and independence that is our watchword. Today we are honoring the memory of George Washington, the man who, above all others, made those plans come to fullest realization.

Your brothers of the Ancients fought under him. They served with a great man. He had the attributes of humility, bravery and strategy. He had the perseverance to struggle on in the face of almost unsurmountable difficulties. His genious for leadership made it possible for him to hold together the untrained and largely undisciplined aggregation of men who composed the Army with which he successfully opposed the well-equipped forces sent against him, and his indomitable courage carried him to victory in the war that was necessary before the Mother Country could be brought to realize that her most vigorous offspring had cut the ties.

Washington's guiding star throughout that long struggle doubtless was his belief in the justness of the cause of the American Colonies. America and Great Britain today are friends and allies, but it is no secret that in the days of Washington's greatness the cause of strife was oppression and unfair treatment.

It was a similar situation that made this country take up arms against Spain and to wage the war that liberated Cuba from the yoke of oppression. Again, today, the same situation has arisen. We are called upon to lend our weight to the struggle that three brave nations, Great Britain, Greece and China, are carrying on against aggression and oppression.

United Effort Needed.

There can be no middle course, even though, God forbid, it comes to a point where the force of our armed might must be used. The situation calls for the united effort of all true Americans. It is no time for partisanship or quibbling. Tyrants are at work, trying to impose their will. Our President has taken the stand he deems best. It is up to us to uphold him, for if we show a divided front, if we delay too long in sending the sorely-needed aid, or if by acrimonious debate and accusations we lessen the force of what we are to do, we shall be showing the dictators that America is not one people in this crisis.

Let us follow the examples of Washington, Lincoln and other great Americans who led their country through times of peril. Let us re-dedicate our patriotism, which means our Americanism. Let us make every effort to bring peace to the world once more and to restore good will among men.

You members of the Ancients are in position to help matters greatly. Preach the doctrine of Americanism at every opportunity. Fight the subversive forces that have infiltrated into our citizenship and show to those despots who are bent on enslaving the world that America has no place for their followers or their creeds.

To your organization I wish continued long life and success. It is recorded that the dying request of Captain Keayne, your founder, was that the Artillery Company "May remain and continue still in splendor and esteem, increasing but not declining."

In conclusion, I can do no better than echo that wish.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hill looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, February 17, 1941.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, at 2 p. m., President GALVIN in the chair. Absent, Coun. Kelly and Langan.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

ABSENTEE VOTING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 15, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Persons absent from their home cities or towns on the day of a State Election were given the right to vote by the Legislature in 1919 by means of absentee ballots, so called, under certain restrictions and by complying with certain formalities.

By later legislation this privilege was extended to the voters in city or town elections in the cities or towns which accepted the provisions of Section 103A of chapter 54 of the General Laws.

This section has not been accepted by the City of Boston. It is probable that a substantial number of Boston voters may be absent from the city at election time in the service of the United States and they should not be under the disadvantage of losing their votes in addition to the other sacrifices they are called upon to make.

Accordingly, I submit herewith an order for the acceptance of the section of the law referred to and recommend its immediate adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That section 103-A of chapter 54 of the General Laws, relating to absentee voting in city elections, be and hereby is accepted.

Referred to Executive Committee.

ORDINANCE RE NOISE NUISANCE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 14, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—On December 27, 1940 I vetoed an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body dealing with unnecessary noises, for the reasons that in the form adopted it was open to certain legal objections, and in some respects was not enforceable.

I stated in the accompanying message that I was in entire sympathy with the movement to reduce the noise nuisance, and accordingly, in order that the matter might not be lost sight of, I submit herewith for your consideration a form of ordinance on the subject, which was prepared at my request by the Law Department.

The subject of noise suppression is of great importance and the form of ordinance submitted will establish a foundation for such definite action as the council may deem necessary to take.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Prohibition of Noise Ordinance.

Be it enacted etc.

Section 1. Sections 91 and 92 of chapter 39 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, as amended, and chapter 4 of the Ordinances of 1931 are hereby repealed.

Section 2. Chapter 39 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, as amended, is hereby amended by inserting therein the following sections, to be known as sections 91 and 92:

2. The playing of any radio, phonograph, or any musical instrument or other instrument intended or utililzed so as to reproduce sound, in such a manner or with such volume as to annoy or disturb the quiet, comfort or repose of persons in any dwelling, hotel or other type of residence; provided that any such noise shall be plainly audible at a distance of fifty feet and provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit playing by a band or orchestra in a hall, building, or in the open air.

4. The use of any automobile, motorcycle, street car or other vehicle so out of repair or so loaded or in such manner as to create loud and unnecessary grating, grinding, rattling or other noise; provided that any such noise shall be plainly audible at a distance of one hundred feet.

5. The blowing of any steam whistle attached to any stationary boiler, except to give notice of the time to begin or to stop work or as an alarm or danger signal.

6. The discharge into the open air of the exhaust of any steam engine, stationary internal combustion engine, motor vehicle, motor boat or outboard motor engine, except through a muffler or other device which will effectively prevent loud or explosive noises therefrom.

8. The creation of any excessive noise on any street adjacent to any school, institution of learning, or court while the same is in session, or adjacent to any hospital or church, which unreasonably interferes with the conduct of the foregoing; provided that any such noise shall be plainly audible at a distance of twenty-five feet and provided that a conspicuous warning sign, using appropriate words, has been displayed in such street indicating that the same is a school, hospital, church or court street.

Referred to Committee on Ordinances.

REPAIRS TO BROADWAY BRIDGE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of a communication from the Commissioner of Public Works in which he calls attention to the necessity for repairs to the Broadway Bridge. This bridge crosses the tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad near the intersection of Albany street, City Proper.

In order that this bridge may be repaired to insure the safety and security of the public and in order that those repairs may be made by the proper authority and the cost thereof rightly assessed, it is necessary for the City of Boston to apply to the Department of Public Utilities for a hearing relative to this subject matter.

I am, therefore, submitting herewith an order providing that the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston apply for such hearing and I respectfully recommend adopting of the order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, January 15, 1941.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—The so called Saratoga Street Bridge, East Boston, that crosses the right-of-way of the property of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad Company near the intersection of Bennington street, is owned entirely by the now defunct above-referenced railroad company, with the exception of the wearing surface, which is owned and maintained by this department.

The structure, however, is in such a condition at the present time as to necessitate the making of repairs to it. The department has no responsibility in the matter, however, and, in view of this, I took it up with the Corporation Counsel, for the purpose of determining just how we should proceed in order to have the necessary repairs made, thereby putting the bridge in a safe condition for the passage of motor vehicles.

The same conditon obtains with reference to the Everett Street Bridge, East Boston, which also crosses the right-of-way of the Narrow Gauge Railroad, and is owned entirely by that company.

At the time that I discussed the above-referenced matters with the Corporation Counsel, I also talked with him about the so-called Broadway Bridge, which crosses the tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad near the intersection of Albany street, City Proper. This latter-referenced bridge is in such a condition as to necessitate extensive repair work or the reconstruction of the entire structure.

I have been informed by the Corporation Counsel that, in substance, it will be necessary for the City of Boston to apply to the Department of Public Utilities for a hearing relative to these matters, in order that that body might determine, in the case of the Saratoga and the Everett street bridges, the responsibility for repairing the structures, and, in the case of the Broadway Bridge, the apportionment of the cost of repairing or reconstructing the existing structure. Orders have been prepared by the Corporation Counsel, for the approval of the City Council, with reference to these matters.

I respectfully recommend, therefore, that the inclosed orders be transmitted to the City Council, for the approval of that Body, as it will be necessary for the Corporation Counsel to secure such an approval before instituting proceedings with the Department of Public Utilities.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Whereas, In the opinion of this Council it is necessary for the security and convenience of the public that Broadway Bridge carrying Broadway, a public way, over and crossing the railroad of the Boston & Albany Railroad Company and the railroad of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, be altered and structural changes and repairs be made thereto; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston be instructed to apply to the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for said department to take action in regard to such alterations, structural changes and repairs in said Broadway Bridge, under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-nine and chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Laws, as most recently amended, and under any other appropriate statutory provisions.

Referred to Executive Committee.

TRAFFIC CONDITIONS HARRISON AVENUE AND DEDHAM STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1941.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of January 27, 1941, concerning a survey of the traffic conditions in the immediate vicinity of Harrison avenue and Dedham street, and to arrange for the installation of additional signs for the protection of children crossing at this intersection.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, February 12, 1941.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—This will acknowledge receipt of Council Order dated January 27, 1941, which reads as follows:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the traffic conditions in the immediate vicinity of Harrison avenue and Dedham street, and to arrange for the installation of additional signs for the protection of children crossing at this intersection

It is expected that upon completion of the new fire station at Harrison avenue and Malden street, traffic signals will be installed.

These signals are to have a special pedestrian push-button feature, which we expect will be used a great deal by school children crossing at the intersection. We hope that children will cross at Malden street rather than at Dedham street when these signals are completed.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner

Placed on file.

PLEBESCITE ON TRAFFIC ARTERY.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to order a plebescite on the $19,000,000 super highway, for the purpose of determining whether the citizens are in favor of this expenditure of money.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, a short time ago his Honor the Mayor called the members of the City Council together for a meeting in regard to the expenditure of some $19,400,000 of what he terms the state's money. At any time when we hear of an outright grant of any such sum to the City of Boston by the state, I have always taken it with a grain of salt and have been very suspicious. At the conference the Mayor asked the members if they had any objection to the $19,400,000 being expended to relieve, as he said, traffic conditions in Boston, and asked us to please take it up with him personally and not on the floor of the City Council. I also took that with a grain of salt, I might say. There has been a program, I think, presented to each member of the City Council, embodying a report written up by some gentleman of whom I never heard. This gentleman, named Whitten, claims that this is a very necessary project, and that it is going to relieve the traffic situation in the City of Boston and that it is going to take some six years for completion. If it is going to take six years, I don't see any necessary hurry for the members pushing the order through for the Legislature to act upon. I have considered the matter over the week end and have written a few notes, and I say now that I don't think the project is necessary. Last week we had the Police Commissioner come before us and he told us that as a result of the tagging drive, traffic in the City of Boston had been greatly facilitated. That is one reason why I don't think we need this proposed act at the present time. The Police and Traffic Commissioners also said that 65 per cent of the traffic in the congested area of Boston comes from outside the city. Therefore, I still don't think we should go ahead and spend $19,400,000 for the benefit of those who come from outside the city. Another thing, as far as the good faith of the state is concerned,—at the very moment when we are being told that this money is to be given to the city we have the authorities at the State House objecting to the state taking over the operation and maintenance of the Sumner Tunnel, which is certainly used much more by people outside of the city than by those inside. It does not seem fair or right that the state should object to taking over that tunnel, and at the same time claim to be offering Boston a gift of this $19,400,000, when, as we all know, 65 to 70 per cent of the traffic that goes through the Sumner Tunnel does not originate in the City of Boston. I have been listening for the past year to members of the body objecting to the spending of money out of the White Fund, that is not going to cost the city anything, and probably the argument that will be used here today is that the city does not have to spend anything on this $19,000,000 super highway. Well, I don't know. There is always something in these things that does not appear on the surface. I have been listening here during the past year to members champing on the bit and making statements to the effect that certain things were more necessary than a stadium,—for example, health units, dental clinics, gymnasiums, playgrounds, play areas, traffic lights, and so on, and I have been doing a little beefing myself, because I would like to get for East Boston an open relief station, which we thought at one time we were going to get. I am opposed to this $19,400,000 highway for several reasons. The first is this. It says here in this report, giving a summary of the report of the Committee on Projects Relating to Traffic Arteries, and referring to the Central Artery, that "the central artery embraces land takings." Then it goes on and shows that there are to be land-takings on State street, that "the main bottle neck of the city is at State street." And there is no doubt in my mind that the bankers are going to benefit largely from those land-takings. It will be a repetition of what we had on the old Exchange street widening, and I don't want to be involved, and to have thrown up to me in years to come any such thing here as happened in regard to the Exchange street widening. It certainly looks like a deal made for the bankers of Boston. As I have said, it states here that

"The main bottleneck of the city is at State street, where the long blocks from Atlantic avenue to Commercial street obstruct north and southbound traffic," and the report goes on:

"Providing six new lanes of traffic across State street at this point, together with an elevated motorway, was a fundamental element to the Whitten report as it is on this proposed six-year program."

There again is something that is going to be very nice for some of the bankers who were finding a tough time in the depression to get rid of their property, but if they now get rid of it under a plan of this kind they are going to obtain a very nice profit. The report goes on to say:

"An elevated motorway from Albany street to the tunnel and beyond is desirable at the earliest possible moment."

Of course, it is desirable! They only intend to spend the first year $100,000, but it does not tell us in this report where the land-takings are to be, so that we can find just where the real estate sharks are to come in, and they don't tell us whether properties along the line have been foreclosed by some of the bankers in the past year or two, and don't tell us whether any of the real estate sharks have bought up any of the property the last year or two. Another part:

"Starting at the traffic circle at the Charles street end of the dam, Leverett street and Merrimac street are widened to form a surface thoroughfare from the dam to Haymarket square. At about 1,000 feet from Charles street in the vicinity of Cotting street, the inclines to the Elevated roadway start, continuing along Merrimac street and across the center of the circle at Haymarket square to a double set of ramps on Cross street, between Haymarket square and Hanover street, Cross street necessarily being widened in this section to accommodate these ramps. These ramps at Haymarket square afford service to and from the Elevated structure for traffic in the North Station section and for Charlestown traffic."

Of course, that is very nice, but I would be willing to make a wager that the bankers of Boston own some of the property along there.

"At the entrance of the tunnel a circularization of traffic is accomplished by the widening of North Center street and Richmond street, between Hanover street and North street."

Well, we know what happened over there a few years ago in connection with property near the entrance of the tunnel on the Boston side, and I hope nothing of that sort will be repeated.

"From Clinton street the Central Artery is continued along Mercantile street and across State street, with a double set of ramps between State and India streets, and from India street to Atlantic avenue and Broad street."

We are back again where the bankers own this property. Then, out in the Blue Hills section, they are going to have a radial, the Blue Hills radial, of which the report says:

"A necessary adjunct of the Central Artery is the Blue Hills radial, which extends Blue Hill avenue as a 120-foot wide express thoroughfare from Seaver street to Albany street, near Massachusetts avenue."

Then the report speaks of Dover street. There is going to be quite a bit of land-taking there. The report says:

"Dover street from Tremont street to Albany street is an important lead from Berkeley street to the Dover Street Bridge and South Boston. With the Central Artery completed it will acquire an additional usefulness as a means of detouring from the South End and Back Bay to the Central Artery. The plan involves a widening along or near to Dover street, with a possible underpass under Shawmut avenue, Washington street and Harrison avenue."

So you can see the possibilities there, so far as the bankers are concerned, and a very large proportion of these properties are under bank mortgage.

Then, over in Charlestown, we have Rutherford avenue.

"It is proposed to widen Rutherford avenue to a width of not over 125 feet, with a small circular traffic connection at the Prison Point Bridge."

Then, at Dorchester avenue, we have another widening.

"Dorchester avenue, between Broadway and Old Colony avenue, is obstructed by the unused entrance to the Subway and is inadequate to take the combined traffic of both Dorchester avenue and Old Colony avenue. It is proposed to remove the entrance to the Subway, which is no longer needed, to widen the avenue to a total width of 120 feet. In addition, the corner of McCallen street where outbound travel turns into Dorchester avenue, will be eased with a small angle taking at the corner. Similarly, the angle at Dover street will be eased to facilitate traffic at that point."

Then there is the Embankment Road extension and, if I am not mistaken, the bankers own a lot of property there. The report says:

"One of the most difficult traffic points is at the corner of Beacon street and Embankment road, where the sharpness of the corner makes traffic turns difficult and causes substantial backing up of traffic during traffic peaks. It is proposed to extend a double driveway adequate to take two lanes of vehicles in each direction from Embankment road parallel to Back street, between it and the main broad granolithic walk, connecting with Berkeley street and Clarendon street. This will mean both driveways as far as Berkeley street and one driveway from Berkeley street to Clarendon street. Berkeley street between Beacon street and Back street will be widened, but no widening appears necessary at Clarendon street."

It seems that the banks don't own property at Clarendon street. Then there is the American Legion Highway extension, and no doubt there will be land-takings there. My argument today calls mainly for money to be spent, if it is to be spent, for the necessary things in Boston. Nearly every councilor here has been on his feet the entire year requesting and demanding certain things for his district. The entire delegation of five from Dorchester have introduced orders for health units and other public improvements in their sections. While some members wanted a stadium, the arguments of most of the members have been in favor of play areas and health units, dental clinics and other things that are more needed than a stadium. Of course, we all know the red herring that is drawn across the trail when the state, we are told, offers us $19,400,000. We all know that that money will have to be paid back, the same as everything we get from the state. And if we are to obtain money for anything, certainly there are many things we need more than this traffic artery, which, as I say, will be largely in the interest of the bankers. Therefore, I am going to ask that the Mayor take action looking to a plebiscite on this matter, to see whether or not the people of Boston really want this. The Mayor held a plebiscite on the question of whether the people of Boston wanted a dog track. We all know that racketeers in the City of Boston are behind this, as they were behind the horses and dogs. So I trust that the Mayor will at least consider a plebiscite on this matter. I know that the members here, regardless of how they may vote, are really opposed to this $19,400,000 expenditure for this purpose. How they will vote is, of course, another matter.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

CENTRAL TRAFFIC ARTERY.

Coun. TAYLOR called up assignment, No. 5 on the calendar, viz.:

5. Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the city to borrow outside the debt limit a sum not exceeding nineteen million four hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of financing the laying out and constructing of a central traffic artery and other related thoroughfare improvements, substantially as set forth in the proposed bill attached to the petition filed in January, 1941, in the General Court by Henry J. Nichols of Boston and others.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, Boston is a large city. Years ago it used to be the fifth largest city in the United States, but today, I regret to say, it has gone backwards. Boston is no longer one of the very large cities of the United States as it used to be. It has not gone along with the times and increased in size and importance as it should have done. The time has come when Boston can no longer sit back and be satisfied with itself. Its citizens must wake up and see what is taking place. The business men here particularly know, and everybody in the city should realize, that business in Boston is poor because of traffic conditions. Traffic has been the main problem of the City of Boston. People cannot get in or out of the city as conveniently as they should be able to do. So it seems to me that this is the time when we should take such action as is suggested in this bill that has been presented to the Legislature. We have this year, I believe, a sympathic Legislature, which may or may not come to the assistance of Boston in this matter, but which, I feel, realizes the important relation that Boston bears to the rest of Massachusetts and to the New England States. The outlying sections, I believe, have finally come to the conclusion that when times are hard in Boston they are hard in the state and I feel that a sympathetic Legislature will, therefore, give to Boston such a highway as conditions in Boston require, placing it more nearly on a par with New York, Detroit, Chicago and other big cities of the country. This proposed central traffic artery, as it is called, with the related thoroughfare improvements, will relieve traffic congestion; and let me say that this proposed $19,400,000 highway act which the state is asked to enact into law, is not going to cost the taxpayers of Boston one red cent. The gentleman from East Boston knows that to be a fact. We have a highway fund of $31,000,000 this year, for the purpose of building highways throughout the state. Every automobile owner who pays a three-cent a gallon tax on gasoline contributes to that fund and, as we all know, a large part of the fund comes from Boston and the surrounding towns. That fund is for the purpose of building highways, and every individual in Boston who pays this money has the right to feel that Boston should get a proportionate share of the Highway Fund. This bill proposes to provide 3 per cent of the highway fund each year for twenty years for the alleviation of traffic in the City of Boston. What is wrong in that? Are we not entitled to it? Why aren't the taxpayers of Boston entitled to this recognition? The State of Massachusetts is going to handle the thing. The Commonwealth undoubtedly will build the highway and, as for the taking of property, that is a matter that will have to be settled in the usual way. Of course, property must be taken for this or any such purpose. I am fairly familiar with property in the City of Boston, but I cannot tell you whether this place or that place is owned by a bank or not, and I don't believe the gentleman can tell. They are certainly not going to make a circuitous highway in order to avoid taking any bank property. The bank property argument is simply a smoke screen, of course. Those desiring this highway are interested in the City of Boston and not in banks. I might give you a few traffic figures. In 1928, 170,000 vehicles passed through the streets of the City of Boston each day of the week; in 1939 that number was increased to 285,000. That is, in eleven years the daily traffic increased by 115,000 vehicles passing through the center of the City of Boston. If something is not done, what will be the situation ten years from now? You are then going to face a much worse condition. I know that the Mayor of Boston does not want to spend one cent of the taxpayers' money for this purpose, if it can be avoided, and that is the reason why the bill has been introduced in the Legislature, the money to be taken out of the gasoline tax. Of this traffic that goes through our streets 32 per cent comes from the City of Boston and 68 per cent from outside of Boston. Certainly, if the people outside of Boston desire to use the streets of Boston, it is proper to use the money to which all contribute in this way. Boston, with its business facilities, naturally attracts people from all over the state and from all over New England. It has here its important industrial establishments, its subways, and there are found along the waterfront storage houses, warehouses, factories and such facilities. They are the things that bring business into Boston. Take the available land in South Boston; there is plenty of room to build factories and shipping facilities close to distributing points. Why do you think that the facilities over there are not more availed of today? It is because traffic conditions are not such as to warrant the building of factories or other business structures there, and that is the reason why those desiring such facilities have to go to Cambridge and other outlying districts. I believe there can be no question in the mind of any man who has looked into the question and who has the interest of Boston at heart, who really knows conditions as they are today, that we should do everything possible to have such a central traffic artery put through. We will certainly have to do something to relieve traffic conditions if Boston is not going to continue to go backwards. I believe all of you gentlemen understand the situation. You know that this order is brought before the Council not for the purpose of the Council passing it, as we haven't anything to say about it, but because it requires a bond issue, and anything that requires a bond issue must receive the approval of the Mayor and the City Council. In this case, I believe we should pass this order so that the particular bill may come before the Legislature at this session. Otherwise, if it does not pass this year, of necessity it will be delayed for two years. I certainly trust that it will not be postponed for two years, but that we will pass this order looking to action by the Legislature upon a bill that is necessary to the life of the City of Boston.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President: The bill under discussion is entitled "An Act Authorizing the Laying Out and Constructing of a Central Traffic Artery and Other Related Thoroughfare Improvements In and Near the City of Boston." I recognize that there is a traffic problem in the City of Boston. This bill seeks in part to solve that problem by a major operation. It calls for an expenditure of $20,000,000, for which bonds of the City of Boston are to be issued from time to time by the City Treasurer, with the approval of the Mayor. It further provides that the debt-service on these bonds, both principal and interest, be met from the State Highway Fund. That fund is derived from the motor vehicle registration fees, drivers' license fees and fines, and gasoline taxes, annually paid into the state treasury. About $29,000,000 a year is received from these sources. After paying the expenses of the State Department of Public Works (exclusive of the Waterways Division) and of the Registry of Motor Vehicles, and a few other charges of minor importance, and after making a distribution to cities and towns toward the expenses of their highway departments, the balance of the fund is used for debt-service and for the maintenance, reconstruction, construction, and repair of highways. Very little of the highway construction appropriations from this fund has ever been spent in Boston, although a large percentage of the fund is collected in Boston from Boston residents. I heartily indorse the principle that the time has come when Boston may fairly claim, toward the solution of its highway problems, a substantial portion of the highway construction appropriations from the fund. This bill recognizes that principle, and to that extent I indorse it. Beyond that I cannot give the bill my indorsement at the present time, and for two principal reasons. First: I am not satisfied that the projects described in the bill provide the best and most economical solution and will be worth their cost. Nor am I satisfied that the cost has been accurately determined. I have in mind such wide discrepancies between estimates and actual costs as occurred in the construction of the East Boston Tunnel, the cost of which exceeded estimates by over 50 per cent. I also have in mind the question of the cost of removing the Boston Elevated Railway structure in that portion of Atlantic avenue to be used for the proposed overhead highway, in case the Court rules in the pending litigation that the Boston Elevated Railway cannot be required to remove the structure without compensation. A project of the magnitude of that contemplated in the bill under discussion would ordinarily be preceded by a careful engineering study submitted in a printed report. No such report has been made. Second: We are now faced with the greatest national emergency we have ever known, during our lifetimes at least. The crying need of the present is for armaments such as airplanes, tanks, motorized equipment, guns, firearms and ammunition. For these purposes we are spending billions, all on borrowed money. These efforts, which are already overtaxing our plant capacity, particularly in steel production, should, in my opinion, have priority over all other expenditures, except for ordinary day-to-day maintenance. I therefore very seriously question the advisability of this or any other large capital expenditures at this time on state or municipal improvements. In closing, I may say that I recognize that without action on our part this bill cannot be released from the Rules Committee of the Legislature and given a hearing. Such a hearing would give an opportunity to call to the attention of the Legislature the plight of Boston, and the rightful claim of Boston to a fair share in Highway Fund disbursements. For this reason I shall make no objection to action which will release this bill from the Rules Committee. In taking this position I reserve the right, either at committee hearings or in any other manner, to present my views on the questions I have raised or on any others that may occur to me.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, last week I filed an order, which I will quote from the record of last week's Council session:

"Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner and other experts be requested, through His Honor the Mayor, to arrange to conduct a survey over the area considered in the traffic improvement bill for the Boston City Council."

I said at that time, Mr. President, that I thought it was only fair and proper that we should be given more time to deliberate upon the matter because of the fact that we were not provided with ample statistics on this huge program. I have never during my three years' tenure of office here acted hastily on any matter. I believe in taking my time and going into matters that come before us thoroughly, making sure that after my vote I will not subsequently regret it. I believe it is the intent of the charter under which we are elected representatives in this city government that we shall certainly deliberate on a matter so tremendous as this. It has been said that the taxpayers of Boston will not be hit by this bill, that it will be a gift from the Commonwealth; but I submit that in this Boston area there are more automobiles, registered machines, than in any other section of the Commonwealth, and how can anybody say that Boston citizens are being given a gift? It is common knowledge that the motorists of Boston, the registered car owners, pay more in tax money for gasoline than is paid by the motorists in any other section of the Commonwealth.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Coun. CHASE—Not now, Mr. President. I say, having that in mind, that we should take into consideration the fact that the taxpayers of Boston are interested. The councilor from East Boston, with whom I have the honor to stand in this controversy, has said that certain institutions would gain by such an undertaking. The councilor from East Boston (Coun. Coffey) has said truthfully that on other matters involving tremendous expenditures, people interested in land-takings have made profits which were not for the best interests of the city. With that in mind, Mr. President, I am sure that no member of the Council will hesitate to go carefully into a matter under which $19,000,000 will be spent, possibly on land-takings. Supposing that $14,000,000 of the $19,000,000 is spent on land-takings, or simply $12,000,000, isn't that a question on which members of the Council are entitled to some information? Can any member of the Council inform me how much money will be spent on land-takings? I have not yet been able to ascertain just how the money will be spent, and I feel that I owe a duty to the citizens of Boston to take my time before acting upon this order. I feel that every councilor here realizes the traffic situation in Boston, and that every member desires to do everything in his power to relieve that problem. But I also feel sure that all the members here must feel that they should have proper knowledge before acting upon the matter. I personally am not for or against this matter. All I desire is more information, and I feel that I am entitled to more information. Therefore, I shall not vote for the passage of this order at this time, because of my lack of information.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, may I say in answer to the gentleman who just took his seat, who is acting as a member of the Legislature in his first term in that Honorable Body, that he will find when any such matter as this comes before a committee of the Body, the members of the committee will get all the information that can be obtained. I can say, as one who has been a member of the Legislature, that that course will be observed. Then, after whatever information can be obtained is received, the question then comes as to whether or not it will get by. But let me say to the gentleman from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) that the Legislature will not sponsor this for the City of Boston. It is useless to indulge in any speculation as to what this money might otherwise be spent for, because it will be spent for highway purposes. It is no use talking about the possibility of its being spent for gymnasiums, health centers or dental clinics. It is highway money, to be raised under a highway loan. Of course, it has to come before us for action, because it involves a bond issue. This $19,000,000 will be paid for in a period of over twenty years, out of money raised by the state and, speaking in the interest of the City of Boston, as a former member of the Legislature, I ask the gentleman, where will that money be spent if it is not spent in this way? I pause for an answer.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I did not wholly get the question.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, I will repeat the question. If the City of Boston does not get this so-called gift, as somebody calls it, to the city, where will that $19,400,000 be spent in the next twenty years?

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, in answer to the question, two years ago the Governor gave an outright grant of $5,000,000 to the Mayor of Boston, which money Mayor Tobin was to spend as he saw fit. The Mayor did not spend it for roads, but applied it towards reduction of the Boston tax rate.

Coun. LINEHAN—If I recollect, that particular grant, as he calls it, was to be spent on public works, construction or resurfacing of the streets of Boston, and I think if he will check the records of the last five years he will find that more than $5,000,000 has been spent on the streets of Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman a question. Was that $5,000,000 so spent?

Coun. LINEHAN—More than $5,000,000 has been spent in the last four years on the streets of Boston. Personally, I admit that my knowledge of this particular project probably is not as great as that of the gentleman from Ward 5 (Coun. Shattuck), because I think, from his experience in the Legislature of many years, and serving on the Committee on Ways and Means, he probably knows more about these matters than any other member of the Body. But the gentleman from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) says he is looking for more information. I believe that is what he is going to get when this matter goes to the Legislature. Of course, each of us has particular things that he knows about in his own district or adjacent districts for which he would like to have money spent. I know that in the Ward 6 section, adjacent to mine, Dorchester avenue near the Broadway Station, there should be money spent, and I trust that it will be spent. There was money intended for that two years ago, and the Committee on Ways and Means of the Legislature turned it down. That is how they dealt two years ago with a provision for that district adjoining mine, for which they would not approve half a million dollars from the Highway Fund. I say that if Mayor Tobin gets the Legislature to approve this bill, it will be the greatest act of any Mayor of the City of Boston in my time, or any Mayor of any city in the Commonwealth, to my way of thinking. It will be one of the greatest accomplishments of any Mayor of this city. If he can get through the Legislature, after the lot of squabbling here, he will have done a wonderful thing. Of course, some of the members might have a very good reason for opposing it, on the ground that they want more information. Personally, I would like more information, but if it is not forthcoming at the present time, I certainly believe it will be forthcoming when it gets to the Committee on Ways and Means. You can rest assured of that. It seems to me that this affords a great opportunity for the City of Boston, and I am going to vote for it because I think it is a great thing. It is a matter that has been recommended in the main, perhaps not in the particular form, in a number of sessions of the Legislature. I trust, of course, that that place at the corner of Dorchester avenue and Broadway Station will be attended to. Anyone going down there will realize that it is one of the worst crossings in the City of Boston. Personally, I am willing to vote for this at the present time, because I believe it is a thing that is greatly needed for the city. I believe it is something that is due to to City of Boston, to help our taxpayers and business men. It will be a great thing for the various interests of this city to get rid of the trucks that are now coming into the city through our congested highways. They will be enabled to go around on the outside, and traffic coming through the city will not, as at present, block our main thoroughfares. I certainly indorse this measure, and hope it will go through the Legislature, because if it does, it will be the first thing of the kind the City of Boston ever got, not only through the Legislature, but through any City Council or other governmental body.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, there has been some talk about holding the order up for further study. We all agree that it has for years been proposed in various forms, and that it is now crystalized into a form that will probably be for the best interests of the city. I am personally willing to leave the details to the Planning Board and to his Honor the Mayor for final judgment, because I know that those gentlemen, sitting here day after day and working in the interests of the city will favor it and will see that it is properly carried out. My district is favored by the American Legion Highway, a million already having been spent on the projects, but even that will be of no broad avail unless such a circumferential highway as is suggested is constructed in connection with it. The Veterans of Foreign Wars Highway and the American Legion Highway and West Roxbury Parkway have already been constructed, and this should be accepted, being a project that links up with and makes more valuable all these other projects. I feel that if this highway is constructed, the Readville section will greatly benefit. But it is really something that will benefit all sections of our city. It will add greatly to the facility and convenience of all people going to and from our city and using the highways in connection with their business. I believe, too, that the tunnel will be a paying proposition as soon as this proposed highway is finished, and that home owners, instead of being driven out of the city, will feel safe, and not isolated, when they remain in the outskirts of Boston. I might say that one of my constituents, if he should want to go to the City Hospital, can travel as quickly to Springfield, and that there are many parts of Boston at the present time from which they can go to Salem or to Waltham more quickly than to the City Hospital. Unless you have a car or have a neighbor who has a car that is available, Mr. President, you could not at the present time live in the outlying sections of Boston. I feel that this plan will remedy many of the evils that now exist, and I trust that we will pass the order.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, after all, this is simply an attempt to show the members of the Legislature that the City Council is willing to go on record as favoring the passage of a $19,000,000 bill that will help to relieve traffic conditions in the City of Boston. After all, it is not only for the benefit of the citizens of Boston, as has been already brought out, but for the interests of those coming into the city from outside sections, whether north or south of the city. I am inclined to go along with this order or any order that will relieve traffic congestion in Boston. As a matter of fact, the Whitten report has set forth certain things that, if remedied, will tend to relieve our traffic congestion. It is my understanding that we are not even bound to abide by the Whitten report. The reason why I take the floor at this time is to remind the members of the very serious traffic congestion to be found in my section, as in other sections of the city, Of course, much relief will come from the new Huntington Avenue Subway and from the extensions that may be made from time to time, eventually. One of the members speaks of the considerable time it takes to get from Hyde Park to the City Hospital and from the City Hospital to Hyde Park. So far as we are concerned in my section, I feel that much relief will come from the opening of the Huntington Avenue Subway and from future work that will probably be done in connection with it. We are going to have a serious traffic situation along Boylston street and Huntington avenue, and at Arlington street. At the present time there is a bottleneck at Huntington avenue and South Huntington avenue, where we have thousands and thousands of cars leaving the center of the city and going towards the center through Huntington avenue and Boylston street. We all know that those streets and the streets entering them have a great deal of traffic to and from the Worcester turnpike, one of the most heavily used pikes in the entire state. I am going to vote in favor of this order, simply because I want to see something done to relieve traffic. But I want it understood that something is to be done, either in accordance with the Whitten report or otherwise, to immediately take care of traffic congestion in this city, particularly having in mind the safety of our young people. Along Huntington avenue there are two grammar schools to which thousands of children are going daily, and are being subjected to great danger to life and limb. The danger, certainly for a time, is to be increased. I trust, therefore, that the Mayor will give the matter serious thought and will consider in connection with this expenditure of $19,000,000 the situation in the Boylston street and Huntington avenue areas.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, I move the previous question.

The main question was declared ordered.

Coun. COFFEY doubted the vote and asked for a rising vote.

The question was declared ordered by rising vote, 10 to 3.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I again doubt the vote and ask for a roll call.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. What are we voting on? Taking the matter from the table?

President GALVIN—On Councilor Scannell's motion for the previous question.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. A favorable vote on this question will close debate?

President GALVIN—Yes. It will bring the question to a decision.

Coun. FISH—Then I am opposed to the motion, Mr. President. I favor debate at all times.

The Clerk called the roll on ordering the previous question, and the motion was lost, yeas 3, nays 14.

Yeas—Coun. Galvin, Hurley, Scannell—3.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Coffey, Englert, Fish, Goode, Gottlieb, Hutchinson, Linehan, Lyons, Russo, Shattuck, D. F. Sullivan, Wickes—14.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, we all agree with the councilor from Ward 4 in the Back Bay (Coun. Chase) that, as far as City of Boston automobile owners are concerned, they are paying the great proportion of the highway gasoline tax of the state. We realize that they have been paying it for many years. We also realize that no state highway has been built through the city. The state has built no road through the city that has been paid for out of the state highway funds. We do, however, realize that in practically every other city and town highways have been built, and that the citizens of Boston have paid most of the money for them. Now, here is the first proposition where the state is giving the City of Boston a highway. It will be, of course, not only for the benefit of the City of Boston but for the outside 68 per cent of our traffic which comes from other places and goes through our city. Therefore, it will benefit the people of the whole state. It is not only something that should be passed from the standpoint of the city, but should be passed for the city and the state. Of course, as some of my colleagues have stated, we know that the state Legislature will take the matter up in committee and study it very carefully before giving anything to the city. As a matter of fact, most of the senators and representatives are more interested in their own local conditions than in the conditions in the City of Boston. The only reason why the 68 per cent outside of the city may favor this thing is that they, of course, will benefit.

Coun. FISH—Very briefly, I was against the motion for the previous question because I felt that everybody who wanted to say something on this matter should be entitled to do so. We should approach the subject in a sensible way. There is only one question,—is this needed by the City of Boston? There can be only one answer to that question. There is no one in business in the city certainly who can get up here and say that Boston does not need it. It is something that will benefit the real estate owners, the tenants, and the business men. They say that the business district pays 50 per cent of the taxes in Boston, and if this is something that benefits business it will be one means of bringing business back so that they will be able to continue paying 50 per cent of the taxes, and it will also be a means of preserving our own homes. As I say, let us approach this in a sensible manner. The critics say that this will encourage graft in land-takings. Of course, critics are always looking to find fault, and they do pretty well at it.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, I want to be recorded in favor of this measure. I think it is the greatest measure I have seen in my term of office here, and probably the greatest measure that has come before the Body for years. The City of Boston was laid out hundreds of years ago in cow paths. When you went anywhere, you simply followed cow paths and footpaths. The State of Massachusetts now has its rapid transit highway trunk lines terminating at the outskirts of the City of Boston, teeming with freight and traffic, which comes here to find its ways through our crooked and narrow streets. There is not a city of any size in the country that does not have a better system of streets and highways than we have, because of our starting at a time when the importance of such highways was not recognized. Certainly there is a need for vast improvement in traffic conditions in our city. Only last week I had an appointment in East Boston, and I left my home at eleven and proceeded through the East Boston Tunnel, arriving at Central square, East Boston, in fifty-five minutes. If such a highway as is proposed here had been in operation at the time, I could have arrived there without any trouble at all probably in nine minutes. The state, as I have already suggested, has built rapid transit highways to Boston, but they have to take every bit of traffic through our narrow streets. This proposed highway is not the thought of the present administration. The plan was drawn up twelve years ago, long before the gentleman downstairs ever thought of becoming Mayor of Boston. It was thought of years ago, considered, diagnosed, and everybody said it would be an admirable piece of work. But at least let us act upon a matter of this kind, such a worthy project, and we will not be responsible for any delay in putting it through. As the gentleman from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) has ably said we are paying the larger part of the state tax, but we get practically nothing. Worcester, Springfield, Newburyport, towns and cities all through the state, get consideration, but they come to Boston last, and they let us simply worry about the traffic going through the city. I think this is one of the best projects ever undertaken by any administration, this or any other, in the City of Boston, and I hope, for the benefit of our city and of the people of Boston, we will act favorably upon the matter, so that it may be taken up at the Legislature shortly.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, the reason I raised the previous question is this. We have heard members of the Body get up and criticize this state project. With the enormous amount that the citizens of Boston have contributed in the past ten years to the gasoline tax highway fund, with practically no return whatever, why should they not be given an opportunity to get from the Legislature a bill favoring giving the people of Boston $19,400,000 for a highway, under such a bill as is referred to in the order we now have before the Body? I say that each and every member of the Body should vote for this measure, because if they do not they are not doing the right thing for the benefit of the people of Boston. If the Legislature wants to give the City of Boston $19,400,000 for a highway project in this city, I say it is the moral duty of every member of the Body to vote in favor of this measure.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I say that this contemplated project is a matter to which we should give very serious and favorable consideration. I have endeavored to take into consideration the various arguments suggested, not only of those brought out by the proponents of the measure, but by those in opposition. I have myself wavered at times as to whether or not I should vote for the measure. I have considered the matter from the financial standpoint from the local standpoint, and also from the standpoint of the way in which it is proposed to be carried out. From the financial standpoint, I feel that it is a matter which will be and must be given serious consideration by the state Legislature. There are many questions that will be seriously considered. There will be hearings before the committee, and I would personally like to appear before the Legislature when the matter is brought up. So far as the construction, or the practical carrying out of the thing as a project, is concerned, of course we may all have our opinions as to certain things connected with it. I feel personally, for instance, that the Atlantic avenue structure is certainly a menace, as far as beauty is concerned, and that it should be removed. From the standpoint of local considerations, I realize that this is by no means a panacea or cure-all. I know that it will probably not be of much local benefit, if I were to look at it merely from that point of view, It will probably, however, be of some assistance to Brighton and Allston, the same as it will be of assistance to all parts of Boston. But I believe that we should take the interests of the whole city into consideration, and not merely the interests of our individual localities. Boston certainly has a financial interest in the matter. We know the traffic situation here that traffic conditions are far from what they should be, and I do feel that if Boston is to grow or is to advance as other cities of the nation have been and are advancing, something must be done to deal with traffic conditions. I don't think any Mayor of Boston that we have had for years is to be compared with Mayor Tobin as far as honesty is concerned, that he is an outstanding Mayor in the long history of the city. I know, and I feel that we all know, that Atlantic avenue is nothing of a beauty spot now, and the situation there and in other parts of the city certainly can be properly dealt with and controlled if such a project as is here proposed is carried through. I know that it will help to get traffic in and out of Boston. I know that it will be of great benefit to the business people of the city and not only a benefit in a business way, but that it will be a help to our people at night in getting to and from places of entertainment. After serious consideration of the matter, I have come to the conclusion that it will be of great benefit to the city as a whole. I understand, of course, that there are some local objections on the part of certain members, and I have some myself, but I do feel that we are all desirous of carrying out the interests of the City of Boston as a whole. We wish to have Boston a strong financial city, to have it continue as the great metropolis of New England, but if we are going to keep business in this city instead of having it go far outside of our borders, if we are going to have a great city at all, we must build and maintain proper highways. We must encourage business to come here and to expand. If we are not to have a higher tax rate, something must be done. As I have said, this proposed highway is not a panacea, not a cure-all, but God help us if we do not take a progressive stand. Therefore, when I vote today upon this order, my vote will be "yes."

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, I want to add my few words, and to say why I voted to lay the order on the table a week ago. I would like to say at the outset that I believe, in connection with any vote we may take in the Body at any time, we should make our position clear. The reason why I voted to lay on the table a week ago was because I believe at this time, now that we have had an opportunity to look into the matter, we would belittle ourselves if we did not vote in a way that will forward this project as much as possible. I would say that in the meantime I have made a little research upon the matter, myself. I have talked with engineers, not those who drew up the plan, but with people who knew traffic conditions pretty thoroughly, and I have come to the conclusion that this project should be given a chance,— particularly so if the Legislature itself will investigate all details of the project. I am of the belief that the carrying out of this plan will speed up traffic in this city greatly. In endeavoring to get an intelligent opinion upon it from those who know more about it than myself, I made an appointment with ex-President Lowell of Harvard College. I thought that he knew something about it, so I called up his secretary on the telephone and asked if I might have a talk with ex-President Lowell. I was given an appointment with him, and after talking with him for more than an hour I am firmly convinced that the project should be given an opportunity to reach the Legislature.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, three years ago I introduced into the Council a similar order looking to a circumferential highway in the City of Boston. For fifteen years men whom I knew, who are thoroughly acquainted with traffic questions in Boston, have contemplated such a highway. Finally we have a bill drawn up by a Senator from Newton, contemplating this project. I feel that there is not a single gentleman in the Council, if he is interested in the welfare of Boston, who can talk or vote against this order. I believe the project proposed is a great one, and Councilor Carey is to be complimented — although I understand that he does not want any publicity in the matter — over the action he has taken. After listening to the councilor from the Back Bay, from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase), I feel that if his forefathers here years ago had had the foresight to see what was going to happen in this city, they would have been more careful in laying out the old cow paths. There is no doubt about the great benefit to be derived from such an arterial highway. People from outside the city, throughout the state and throughout the United States, are coming here and visiting Boston all the time, and dealing with our business men, and they are always talking about the scanty street space in Boston. This is the first time that we have had such an opportunity to obtain, through the state Highway Fund, such a highway for our city. It will not only help the citizenry of Boston, but will also help the legislators and the people from the western part of the state. I believe that they now realize the value of such a highway to the state. I had a talk with some of them the other night, and I think they agreed that favorable action should and probably would be taken on the matter at the State House. At the present time we have only about three miles of state highway. We have contributed a very large proportion to the gasoline tax, and we should get some recognition from the rest of the state. Answering the gentleman from Ward 1, we did not turn back the amount he spoke of to the state. We turned back about two millions, and took the remaining two and one half millions or so and gave it to the Public Works Commissioner. Boston is today the largest contributor to this state gasoline highway fund, and we are certainly entitled to more recognition than we have had in its distribution. This is something that everybody should favor, especially all the councilors representing the City of Boston. Speaking of what Councilor Shattuck has said in regard to the expenses that will soon be facing us in connection with the present war emergency in England, Germany will not come over here to invade us and travel over this road. This is a road for our own citizens to travel on, and it will be of help in going to Camp Edwards.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I wonder whether the gentleman heard me say a word about England? I was talking about ourselves and our own defense.

Coun. LYONS—Well, Mr. President, talking about defense problems, this will be a road that we ourselves can use advantageously in case there should be an invasion, and it will connect with other roads throughout the Commonwealth. If there should be an invasion of this country, it is such roads that would enable us to get from one city to another. So I think it is a good idea to have this road constructed, and to have this $19,400,000 from the state gasoline tax fund, towards which we have been contributing for so many years without getting practically anything in return. And we will not only derive a benefit but the whole state will derive benefit from it.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, I believe the need for a central traffic highway in the City of Boston has never been seriously questioned. There is naturally a question, of course, concerning the amount to be expended and whether it could be justified in these days of war emergency. A question has been raised by the gentleman from Ward 1 (Coun. Coffey) to the effect that there might be a scandal in connection with land-takings for such a Central Artery. Of course, in anything like this there will always be some profiteering, and neither the Mayor of Boston nor we members of the City Council can in any way prevent or control profiteering in such matters. On the other side of the question, there will always be some heart-breaking losses sustained by men in Boston who will be compelled to lose their property through land-takings in connection with this artery. Those things are inseparable from any big project in any large city, but we must at all times consider the needs of the majority of the people. The majority of the people of Boston need a central traffic artery. It has been correctly stated that it takes more time to travel from our own suburbs to the heart of the city than to go to Salem or other cities of metropolitan Boston. That is a thing that should have been remedied years ago, but it was never done, but I believe now there is a chance to do it, and that if the Legislature will play along with us we will be crazy to overlook such an opportunity. Let us analyze briefly what will happen if we authorize the borrowing of the proposed sum of money. This bill is before the Legislature. It proposes a bond issue of $19,000,000. I feel quite certain that the members of the Legislature who do not reside in Boston will not be sympathetic towards the plight of Boston. But we can only rely upon the Boston representatives to carry the burden in the Legislature and get the bill through. You and I can all agree that the Boston representatives will never at any time be able to promote the bill in the Legislature or get their colleagues outside of Boston to vote for it unless they feel certain that the bill will help Boston and also other parts of the state. We can all agree that the borrowing of money will increase the taxes of the city, but I think we realize that when it comes to reimbursement from the state Highway Fund many members will never approve the measure. From the standpoint of general, all-around benefit it may pass. So let us take advantage of the opportunity, anyway, and let the Boston members work on it.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, after sitting here and listening to all the pros and cons, I wish to bring to the attention of the Body a bill that I presented here right after I took office last year, asking that the elevated structure on Atlantic avenue and Commercial street be taken down, as a menace and a hazard. I think of all the members of the Council here, the member who should perhaps have the most to say about this, should be the councilor from Ward 3 (himself). Much of the overhead ramp of this new proposed highway is situated right in my own district. But I visualize and understand the traffic situation that confronts the City of Boston today. While some of my own constituents may be against me in my vote on this particular matter, I cannot help seeing the injury to this city that is going on night and day through the traffic situation, and I cannot help feeling that unless something is done,—yes, and done now, or in the very near future,—Boston will be isolated, because it will have no flow of traffic and people will not be able easily to get in and out. I have, however, had the assurance that that structure on Atlantic avenue is going to be torn down, and a new overhead ramp that will take its place will, I feel sure, be built in accordance with modern construction. Therefore, visualizing the situation that confronts us and looking ahead to something that will be for the benefit of the people and of the City of Boston, I feel that we cannot afford any longer to have the traffic congestion that we are having today, I realize that this plan will bring about more business, will bring more enterprises into our city and, therefore, I am going to cast my vote in favor of the proposed plan. I trust also that it will meet the favor of the Legislature and in that respect I feel that every bit of evidence possible should be presented there so that they will pass the bill. Having all these things in mind, I state specifically that I will be for this bill.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I realize, after the discussion we have had here, that I am like Costello on Kate Smith's program, the bad boy. The councilor from Ward 20 (Coun. Lyons) says that if this does not go through immediately, we are going to be invaded.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, can I answer that?

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I don't think I care to give way at this time. He has intimated that if this does not go through—I certainly got that impression from his talk—that we will be invaded. In an article in a Roxbury paper this week, they said that the bankers, in the opinion of the writer, were the only ones who were going to be benefited in case this $19,400,000 project goes through. We have heard a lot of talk about the Legislature having to pass upon this and give consideration to it. Please bear in mind that I have been a member of the Legislature for four years, and I have seen them railroad bills through that members of the Council would be ashamed to touch, on the night of prorogation. At that time anything that anyone wishes to shove through goes through, and you cannot get the boys to vote against it. Of course, the Legislature is going to act on this. From the talk on this, some are going to be against it and some are going to be in favor of it, and some who were thought to be on one side or the other are going to right-about face. Why throw all the responsibility on the members of the Legislature? Let me mention the fact right now that this bill is not going to have opposition in the Legislature. The thing is cut and dried. It was not a Boston senator or member of the Legislature who filed the bill. It was filed by the senator from Newton, and he has very much influence with the members of the Senate. The orders will go out, as in the past, and the bill will go along without any serious opposition. So don't try to say that the members of the Legislature will delve into it. They will do as they are told, the same as we do as we are told. When you speak of doing something that will relieve traffic congestion in this city, I am as much in favor of some action along that line as anyone, but when this $19,400,000 project is mentioned, I would like to know how much is to be spent on land-takings. It is all very well to say that the Traffic Commission had Mr. Whitten go over the thing and lay out the route where the project is to be, but we are not told how much is to be spent on land-takings and how much on construction. I believe we should be shown each lot of land, piece by piece. Then home owners will know just how they stand, and we will at least have a more intelligent idea of the thing. But I don't want to see any repetition of the Exchange street widening. I would also like to know, for example, about the Blue Hills and about the American Legion Highway, and other sections of the proposed project. Why does it not go in a straight line? Why does it go along for a ways and then go off at 45 degrees, then proceed a short way and cut off in another direction again? I don't see why it should not take a more nearly straight line. Of course, as we all know, most people own their property subject to mortgage, and banks and real estate sharks in many cases control the mortgages, and take advantage of the first opportunity to foreclose, and then, when a project like this comes up, they can sell the property with great profit. The $5,000,000 given by the state to the City of Boston was supposed to be used for road building, for public highways, but we all know what was done with it. The gentleman from Ward 20 (Coun. Lyons) says that $2,000,000 was turned back and that another $2,000,000 or $2,500,000 was used in other ways for which it was not intended. The gentleman from Ward 14 (Coun. Gottlieb), I think, made a very serious statement when he practically admitted that profits will be made on the land-takings, and he says that those things cannot be helped. Well, God help us members of the City Council if something cannot be done, and if this things goes on and these rotten deals are put through, and some years after we are dead and forgotten they are brought up against us. I am simply trying to stop some of the things such as we know have gone on in the past. Well, we heard what the gentleman from Ward 22 (Coun. M. H. Sullivan) said. I know that he is not in favor of this project, and he is not kidding me, but he is going through on it, and I thought he was opening up the Sullivan campaign for election as Mayor! (Laughter.) The gentleman from Ward 8 (Coun. Hurley) stated that he had business over in East Boston a short time ago and drove over from his ward, and that it took him fifty-five minutes to get over there from his home. Well, I understand the difficulties of travel from East Boston, when we want to get to the City Hospital from my section, and I think the members of the Body can understand how the people of East Boston feel when a child is run over, the Relief Station is closed, and it takes fifty-five minutes to get to the City Hospital. I say that the Governor and the Legislature can do this on their own, that they do not need the Mayor and the City Council. They don't have to make a bond issue. They can make an outright grant and do the work themselves. They don't need the help of the members of the City Council or of the Mayor, and I hope that the order will not prevail.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Coun. COFFEY—I do not yield. We have taken a lot of time on this order, as I think we should. After all, where $19,000,000 is to be spent, I, for one, would like to know how and where it is going to be spent. I have told the Mayor of the bad traffic conditions that we have in East Boston. I doubt if there are any worse traffic conditions anywhere in the city than we have over there in the horse and dog season. I suggested things that could be done. The McClellan Highway could go to the mouth of the tunnel. That would do much to relieve conditions. Then, something should be done with the old Narrow Gauge roadbed. But nothing has been done, and it does not look as if anything would be done. Why wasn't that in the $19,000,000? East Boston is not being considered. We have been practically told that they didn't want East Boston, and they are not going to get East Boston, they can rest assured of that. I would certainly like to know how much of this money is to be spent on land-takings and where the land-takings are to be, and I am against this proposition until such information is furnished to the City Council.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I was rather amused by the remarks of the gentleman from Ward 20 (Coun. Lyons), whom I have always considered a delightful young man, at times a little naive; but I think I should correct him to the extent to which he referred to my ancestors as immigrants to Boston. I feel that I should enlighten him on that point. It is true that my ancestor originally came to Boston in 1630, in Governor Winthrop's colony, but shortly after that he moved to the Cape, and for ten generations my people have been simple, honest, everyday members of that great group, the common people. I might say that my ancestors took up arms against the mother country because they didn't care to have taxation without representation, and I say that it is the duty of this Body to deliberate on all matters coming before it so as to be sure to properly represent the people, who are taxed to pay for these tremendous projects. I think my request is only reasonable. I don't say that we should take an attitude against this project or for the project. I simply say that we should ascertain the truth of the situation. It is our duty to ascertain the truth of every situation that comes before the Body. I have every faith in his Honor the Mayor. I like the young man. I believe he has given a good administration to the city. But, as a city councilor, as one elected to this Body, I have the right to carefully consider any proposition that may come from the executive branch of the government. Therefore, I say, notwithstanding the fact that I like the young man, I have in mind the fact that he has advisers who might misinform him on such a tremendous proposition as this is. I say we should ascertain the true situation. We all know about the scandals that there have been in the City of Boston in other years, growing out of something that was started through orders passed by this Honorable Body. I don't care to be implicated in any way in matters of that kind. It is quite possible that before I get through I may be carrying the ball in the Legislature on this matter, but before I carry any ball I want to ascertain as a matter of certainty what the thing is all about. It comes to us through some agencies over which we have no control, and there are features of it which certainly seem ambiguous and not specific. We should know certainly all about it, and until we know we should not act on the matter. Therefore, I move that the matter lie on the table.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN in the chair.

The motion to lay on the table was lost.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, I don't want to prolong this discussion, but in answer to the councilor from Ward 1 (Coun. Coffey), I wish to say that some property owners undoubtedly will benefit from land-takings that may be involved here, as in all other important measures of this kind, while others will be injured. Of course, those things cannot be helped. For the information of the gentleman from Ward 1, I want to say that we in the City Council or the Mayor of Boston, cannot control the prices involved in these land-takings, because of the different processes involved. There are many parcels of land in the city that are assessed for considerably in excess of their fair market value. It is quite conceivable in connection with land-takings that owners of property might ask for the full assessed value of their property, although it might be many thousands of dollars in excess of the fair market value of the property. If the assessed valuation is not paid by the City of Boston, these property owners have recourse to the courts, and it is quite conceivable that values that juries might consider fair market values might be in many cases much more than the owners could get in the open market. But we cannot, because these questions arise in a matter of this kind, hold up a central traffic artery which would benefit the people generally because individual owners hold out for more than they should have, and get a few more dollars. We know, on the other side of the picture, that many small business men will lose their businesses, and that others will not get what they should. But such considerations should not affect favorably or unfavorably an important matter of this kind which will be of great benefit to the city generally.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, in view of the remarks that have been made by certain councilors, I wish to inform the Body that I am not in the real estate business. As far as bankers are concerned, it is fair to assume that there are very few pieces of property throughout the city which are not mortgaged to one bank or another. And when we come to consider different people who are affected, it must be borne in mind that there are many individuals who labor day in and day out to see that their taxes are paid and that their interest is paid. In making what appears to be a right-about face, so called, I wish to state that it is no right-about face, that when I voted against ordering the previous question it was for the mere purpose of seeing that every councilor here, if he so wished, had an opportunity to get up on his feet and speak. But I know that any fair-minded citizen, either in my district or throughout the city of Boston, will not object to this particular proposed highway, when he knows that it is going to mean relief from congested traffic in the City of Boston.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, I simply want to enlighten the councilor from Ward 1. I did not say that if this bill went through we would be invaded by foreign nations. I merely said that we would have an artery on which to run our traffic through Boston.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, I move the previous question.

The main question was ordered, and the question came on the adoption of the order.

The order was passed, yeas 16, nays 2:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Englert, Fish, Galvin Goode, Gottlieb, Hurley, Hutchinson, Linehan, Lyons, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor, Wickes—16.

Nays—Coun. Chase, Coffey—2.

Later in the session Coun. CHASE said—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement. (There was no objection.) Mr. President, I would like to qualify my vote on the $19,000,000 proposition on which I voted "no." I would like to have it understood that my sole purpose in voting "no" was because of the fact that I felt that the Council has not received sufficient information to warrant us in acting on the matter as yet, and that I wished to go on record as voting "no" simply because I wished to vote in that way as a protest against such hasty action. The vote that I cast does not in any way commit myself as to how I will eventually feel or vote on this matter. I have not taken any position for or against the proposition. My only position is that I want more information before definitely making up my mind.

MILK STATION, SOUTH BOSTON.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor communicate with the W. P. A. Community Officials relative to the advisability of opening a milk station in the lower end of South Boston.

SOUTH BOSTON HOUSING.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to give preference to those whose homes are taken for the site of the new housing project and be it further

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to instruct the City Council whether or not the proposed South Boston Housing Project in the lower end of South Boston will be used for defense workers or for the housing of soldiers or sailors.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, the purpose for which I have presented the first order is to protect the people of the lower end of South Boston against any recurrence of what happened in the Old Colony project in Ward 7. The people of my district certainly did not like what happened over there. Those at the lower end of South Boston are undergoing sufficient hardship as it is, and I trust that those whose homes are taken for the site of the new housing project will be given preference in locating in the project. The second order has another purpose. It asks the Mayor to inform the City Council whether or not the proposed South Bosron housing project in the lower end of South Boston will be used for defense workers or for the housing of soldiers and sailors. I want to find out just where the people stand in this South Boston housing project. We don't want to spend $5,000,000 in the lower part of South Boston for slum clearance, if when the time comes, the project is going to be used for soldiers and sailors. The people of South Boston and the people of my district were deprived of recognition in the previous project and, as far as I am concerned, it is not going to happen again in my section, if I can prevent it. The people of my district are up in arms on this matter, and would like to know at once just where they stand when the project is built.

The orders were severally passed under suspension of the rule

SALE OF LAND ON COLUMBIA ROAD.

President GALVIN called up, under unfinished business. No. 4 on the calendar, viz.:

4. Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner of a certain parcel of land situated on the northerly side of Columbia road, on the easterly side of Old Colony avenue, northerly of the traffic circle at Columbia road, Old Colony avenue and Preble street and is adjacent to land of the Boston Housing Authority. The said parcel of land, hereinafter described, was acquired for public park purposes by an eminent domain taking dated June 9, 1897, recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 2449, page 418; and

Whereas, The said parcel of land is no longer needed for public park purposes; and

Whereas, The Boston Housing Authority is desirous of acquiring the said parcel of land for the development of its South Boston housing project; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to sell at private sale at a minimum price of three thousand five hundred (3,500) dollars, to the Boston Housing Authority, the above mentioned and hereinafter described parcel of land and to execute and deliver a deed thereof satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston. The said parcel of land is bounded and described as follows:

Northeasterly by land of the Boston Housing Authority, two hundred eighteen and 40–100 (218.40) feet; southerly by land of the City of Boston, by two measurements, twenty-one and 30–100 (21.30) feet on a curve of fourteen and 7–100 (14.07) feet radius and one hundred nineteen and 66–100 (119.66) feet on a curve of one hundred fifty-five (155) feet radius; southwesterly by other land of the City of Boston, ninety-nine and 71–100 (99.71) feet on a curve of sixty-two and 16–100 (62.16) feet radius, containing three thousand four hundred fifty-two (3,452) square feet of land, more or less. All of said measurements are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Park Department, Plan of Columbia Road, Near Preble Street, South Boston, Scale 1 Inch, Equals 30 Feet, John J. Murphy, Engineer, July 16, 1940," on file in the office of the Park Department of the City of Boston.

On February 3, 1941, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas seventeen, nays none.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 17, nays 0.

McLaughlin, a member of the Fire Department, who died on December 25, 1939, on account of injuries received in the performance of his duty, said annuity to continue so long as she remains unmarried, the payments to date from December 25, 1939, and to be charged to the appropriation for Fire Department, Pensions and Annuities.

The report was accepted and the order passed.

Wickes from the members of the City Council as a memento of his heroic deed of rescue for which he was awarded the Carnegie Bronze Medal and the Massachustts Humane Society Medal of Valor, and be it further Ordered, That the resolution passed by the City Council on January 27, 1941, be inscribed on said parchment.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SHELTERS FOR BUS AND STREET CAR RIDERS.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct a shelter for bus and street car commuters in Central square, Cambridge.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I am not trying here to overlap on the members of the Cambridge City Council, but Central square, Cambridge, is the terminus for transportation of buses and street cars coming out of the Brighton district of Boston. There are times when it would be a trial for Admiral Peary or any polar expedition to pass through the terrors of that district, when there are winds, rains and snow. There should be some shelter for the bus and street car commuters. This is a matter that should be brought to the attention of the Elevated Trustees. I already have on record their attitude on this very dire condition in the Central square area. I am informed by the weather bureau expert that this is probably the coldest section of metropolitan Boston, and there is no shelter afforded to the people who take that route in icy storms or anything else. There are long waits, and the people certainly should have some sort of shelter.

President GALVIN—The Chair rules the order out of order as being outside the jurisdiction of the City Council of Boston.

SALARIES OF JUNIOR SOCIAL WORKERS.

Coun. TAYLOR and M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of giving Junior Social Workers the same classification and pay as those doing the same type of work in the department.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, in the Welfare Department there are approximately seventy junior workers doing the same sort of work as the others, reserving $1,600 annually where the others are receiving $2,300. I understand that the work of all is the same, and I don't know why they should not all receive the same pay. I know that these employees, certainly as far as Brighton is concerned, are doing a pretty fair job, and I feel that they should therefore, receive the $2,300. Captain Patrick J. Moynihan issued a statement to the effect that it was not the intention of the Executive Director to lower this amount of compensation in the classification of social workers. However, shortly after he made that statement they were cut, the juniors receiving but $1,600. I think it is a highly inequitable situation. These people are doing meritorious, fine work, and deserve more money. They should receive the same compensation as the others, $2,300, instead of $1,600, which they receive under this rating or classification, which really does not mean anything at all.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, I want to subscribe to the order offered by Councilor Sullivan and also to the statement he has made. A short time ago I went to the Mayor in regard to the matter. He was very busy, but he said he intended to look into it.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, from what Councilor Sullivan has said, I think a grave injustice is being done to some of these employees in the Welfare Department, inasmuch as they are doing the same type of work as those receiving maximum pay. I would suggest, however, that the matter be referred to the Welfare Committee, and the committee can listen to the various parties concerned, and have the merits of the situation explained.

Coun. COFFEY—I would simply add one thought. I know that some of those junior social workers have passed an examination this past year for senior social workers, and I think, therefore, that the order should be referred to the Committee on Welfare.

The order was referred to the Committee on Welfare.

STEP-RATE INCREASES, LIBRARY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Public Library formulate plans to grant step-rate increases to all City of Boston Library employees.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, a very bad situation exists at the present time in the Boston Public Library system. A few days ago there was an article in a Boston paper by one of the political writers citing the almost incredible qualifications that a person must have before he is taken into the department. I understand that practically all of the employees are college graduates and many of them hold special degrees. They have also done a considerable amount of work and study to prepare themselves as librarians. As a former city employee, I understand that stenographers, clerks, and librarians enter the service at $900 a year and are eligible to the step-rate increases until a rigid maximum of $1,600 is reached. In spite of the fact that Mr. Lord, the director of the department, has seen fit to raise his own salary he does not see fit to give increases to employees who are normally entitled to them. I understand that it is a matter discretionary with the department head to deny step-rate increases to an employee when he is not doing a good job, but I think the lower paid employees in the department are doing a good job, and that they should be given step-rate increases until they reach the maximum.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, I want to go along with the councilor from Ward 18 in this matter. I agree with him that those in charge of the library are deplorably unfair to some of these employees holding the lower salaried positions in the public library, men and women who have worked for the library for many years, apparently without any hope of receiving an increase in salary or fair compensation for the type of work they do and the years of service they have given to the department. I am surprised that the Boston Public Library does not use a higher form of rating for these people, at least giving the regular employees a proper increase year after year if they deserve it. Many of the employees of the public library have never received such raises, and sometimes one employee will be singled out of many to receive an enormous increase in salary. I feel that such a condition is unfair and does not give the Boston Public Library a good reputation for fairness in treatment of its employees. I sincerely trust that the trustees will have an early meeting to bring about better conditions for the employees of that institution.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—And I also want to agree with that statement, Mr. President. I find that a number of the people up there have not received step rates since the City Council was instrumental in having step rates in that institution.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WHITE FUND UNIT FOR BRIGHTON-ALLSTON.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of constructing a White Fund Unit in the Brighton-Allston section of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

NEW HOUSING PROJECTS.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the mayor, to give preference to those whose homes are taken for the site of the new housing project and be it further

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to instruct the City Council whether or not the proposed South Boston Housing Project in the lower end of South Boston will be used for defense workers or for the housing of soldiers or sailors.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ELECTRIC LIGHTING, WARD 12.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to change the lighting system in the Ward 12 section of Boston from gas to electricity.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I want to reiterate what I have said many times before, that conditions in my district are so bad that something must be done at once to remedy the situation. If you should come into my district at night, you would think that Perlie Chase's ancestors were continuing the lighting that prevailed in their time, because conditions are so bad. I have received so many complaints of robberies and attacks on women that I think something must be done by the city to remedy these conditions. I am sure that with better lighting conditions the people would be healthier and happier.

The order was passed under suspension of the rules.

RESURFACING OF WARD 13 STREETS.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the following streets in Ward 13, as W. P. A. projects: Denny street, Spring Garden street and Mayfield street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CHANGE IN APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE.

President GALVIN—Through pressure of other affairs, Coun. Shattuck resigns from the Appropriations Committee and the Chair appoints Coun. Goode in his place.

PAYMENT FROM REVERE.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Auditor be requested to advise the City Council whether or not the City of Boston was reimbursed for sending police officers into Revere to clean up racket conditions in that city a few years ago, and if no reimbursement was made, that the Law Department be instructed to take immediate action to enforce payment.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, to my astonishment a few days ago, in one of the Boston newspapers I read that the chief executive of the city of Revere attacked the fair name of the citizens of the West End of Boston. When he reinstated the chief of police of that city he remarked that he was out to clean up the city of Revere and send these racketeer fellows back into the West End, where they belonged. I wish to inform the Mayor of Revere that we, the citizens of the West End, are proud to say that we have lived there all our lives and are also proud of the high position in political, professional and social life that are held, and have been for many years held, by people from the West End. We are proud that we come from the West End of Boston. I feel that it is proper for me at this time to ask for an apology from the Mayor of Revere to our people of the West End whom he has characterized as racketeers. I wish also to say to him that we have no place for such individuals either in the West End or anywhere else in this city. I would also remind him that a few years ago when they could not handle a situation that arose in Revere, they asked for the assistance of the Boston Police Department to clean up Revere. That was done by members of our department, and no reimbursement was made to Boston, as I understand it, for that work. It is, therefore, very clear that the police of the City of Boston are capable of handling situations in this city and that they are capable of handling them outside of Boston, also. I would call his attention to the scandals that from time to time have taken place in Revere. For instance, there was the beano racket and many other rackets of which we read in the newspapers from time to time. But the people of the West End of Boston are proud to be living in the West End, and there is no section of the City of Boston with a lower percentage of crime than you will find in the West End. If you look into the crime records, you will find very, very few cases from that section. In closing, I am proud to mention the fact that the people of the West End have contributed great names not only to the City of Boston and the State of Massachusetts but to the entire country, people born and raised in the West End, who have made a name for themselves and a name for that district and for the City of Boston. I wish also to add that I call upon the captains of the police stations of my district to be alert, that I will not stand for any racketeering in my district or any undesirable criticism. If any man in the department is proven to have engaged in that sort of thing, later, I shall ask for his immediate suspension or dismissal.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

BUS SERVICE, HUNTINGTON AVENUE.

Coun. CHASE and CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Elevated Railway Trustees be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make immediate arrangements for the providing of a five-cent local bus transportation system on Huntington avenue from Francis street to Park square.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the people of my district, and I believe of the adjoining district, Ward 10, have until yesterday enjoyed a local five-cent fare from Francis street to Arlington street, and likewise from Arlington street to Francis street. But with the removal of the surface cars, this necessary transportation was taken away from over 60,000 people in those two areas. The Elevated trustees should have made plans long ago to provide for adequate and necessary transportation for the people of my district to the Park square area. The people of my district are less than a mile from the Park square area, and how in God's name do the trustees expect those people to pay a ten-cent fare from Massachusetts avenue to Park square, when they allow people to ride all the way out to Arlington Heights for ten cents? There is no rhyme or reason in it, and I say that the trustees owe a duty to the public of Boston to provide adequate transportation at a reasonable price. They should not be endeavoring to slap on to the poor and everyone else a price that is not fair, and I say that they will absolutely have to give us action in this matter or else the people of my area and of other districts will go up to the Park Square office and start a young revolution.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I heartily agree with the councilor. It is certainly unfair for the trustees not to provide bus service from Francis street to Arlington street for five cents. There is no justification whatever for the position of the Elevated trustees in this matter. I have been in consultation with the trustees and with Mr. Dana several times in the last few weeks in regard to this and other similar matters. Certainly a five-cent fare should be provided for such short distances. As Councilor Chase has just stated, there is no reason why people using these short hauls should pay the same fare that people travelling twelve or thirteen miles pay. I would say, also, that the construction of the Huntington Avenue Subway is going to make it much more unsafe for the people of my district and for those living near Park square, to cope with the traffic conditions on the highway, and unless what is suggested in this order is done, it is also going to impose a hardship on the people of my district in reaching the stores along Boylston street and other shopping sections. I can certainly go along with the councilor when he says that if something is not done, we may have to do something revolutionary, in carrying on the fight of the people for the five-cent privilege that they are entitled to.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPOINTMENT OF NEW POLICE OFFICERS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor request the Police Commissioner of Boston to appoint fifty new police officers to handle the crime wave that has broken out since forty-five rookies have been taken from their police duties to tag automobiles.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I did not intend to talk upon this matter at all, but I do wish to say that this has nothing to do with the argument that my colleague has brought up in regard to the West End of Boston. It is just that I have read the newspapers over the week-end and have come to the conclusion that a crime wave has broken out in the last ten days or two weeks in Boston, and I attribute it to the fact that forty-five men have been taken from their police duties to tag automobiles. I therefore feel that fifty new police officers should be appointed to handle this crime wave.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, I too favor the passage of the order. I introduced an order some time ago that the Mayor appoint some young men to the Boston police list. I know that the list will expire in a short time in the future, and I think it is only fair that these young men should be appointed. I understand that a number of draftees have already been taken from the Fire Department and from the Police Department, and it is certainly important to take some action to fill their places. I hope that the Body will see fit to pass the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF WARD 20 STREETS.

Coun. GOODE, for Coun. LYONS, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out the following streets in Ward 20 as public highways: Morey road, Heldun street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SHELTERS FOR BUS COMUTERS.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated be requested to erect and maintain shelters for bus commuters at all termini of buses passing through the Brighton-Allston district.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, this is in line with the order I have already introduced in regard to the line running from Brighton to Central square, Cambridge. I feel that shelters should be erected also at these other points that I have referred to in the Brighton-Allston district. I hope, therefore, that the orders will pass and that the shelters will be erected.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC SIGNAL, GALLIVAN BOULEVARD-WASHINGTON STREET.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission, in anticipation of the 1941 budget, be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to draft a loan in the amount of $3,000 to be used for the purpose of erecting an automatic traffic signal at the junction of Gallivan Boulevard and Washington street, Dorchester.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

The Superintendent offered the following:

ORDERED, That the current term of the Boston Trade School (Evening Classes) shall close on Thursday evening, March 27, 1941.

The regulations were suspended and the order passed.

POST-GRADUATE COURSE IN SALESMANSHIP

On motion of the Superintendent, it was ORDERED, That the establishment of a post-graduate course in salesmanship at the High School of Practical Arts is hereby authorized beginning Sept. 1, 1941, to be open to young women graduates of all Boston high schools; and admissions of candidates to the course to be determined by the Head Master of the High School of Practical Arts and the Commercial Coordinator.

Mr. Lee: When this matter was discussed in conference my vote was no. I would like to see any money that we spend on post-graduate work spent on graduates, particularly boys who are dealing in export industries which enable the city to live, because we get paid for exports and can then import those vital things which Boston needs but cannot raise.

I am sorry to see School Department money go into preparation for retail trade which only derives revenue from the local Boston citizen without increasing the revenues to the city as a whole.

PORT OF BOSTON

Mr. Norton: At some time I would like to see the School Department officials consider arranging some sort of a program having to do with the port of Boston, perhaps visits by the pupils to the piers on the waterfront, or perhaps journeys about the harbor. There are a thousand and one possibilities.

From time to time we are subject to criticism for doing nothing about the port. It might be possible to protect ourselves by arranging for some sort of a schedule. Perhaps it would be only in regard to the students in certain courses in economics. Perhaps it would be certain classes of high school students or possibly it could go down to the intermediate schools.

In good weather there is a possibility of arranging some sort of a program whereby the pupils could be brought on inspection trips. I wonder how many of our pupils in the schools have seen the greatest drydock on the Atlantic Coast, or have seen the greatest fish pier on this hemisphere, if not in the world?

Mr. Sullivan: I recommend that that be referred to the Board of Superintendents.

Mr. Lee: On that point, I believe there is a report coming from the Board of Superintendents dealing with what I term industrial biographies, intended to vitalize and personalize the industries and the leaders that we have had in Massachusetts. I would not want to exclude from a report on this subject the embracing of those Boston enterprises which are centered around our port.

Superintendent: If you should ask any of these teachers here whether they have done that in geography, you would learn that that nas been done as far as a study of the subject is concerned.

Mr. Norton's proposal went a step further. He wants the youngsters to come in contact with the port facilities of Boston. In recent years the pupils in our schools have not done much visiting. In the first place, there are no funds for that purpose and then there are dangers involved in traveling. Do not get the idea that the Port of Boston is excluded from the youngsters' study of geography.

Mr. Norton: If you take the South Boston District first and try out a visit on that waterfront, it would not call for a great expenditure.

Superintendent: There is nothing like visiting the harbor. In the old days we used to visit every one of those places.

Mr. Norton: Like many others in this city I have never been in the Bunker Hill Monument. Some time I will go there.

The State and the City in the past twenty years have spent thousands of dollars in trying to save the port's business. The welfare of the city depends on the port. Empty piers, empty wharves, empty buildings and empty homes mean deflated real estate values.

The problem of the Port of Boston is an interesting one. I wonder if it would be possible to have our economics teachers study that problem and pose it for our students who are able to comprehend what it is? It is a problem that threatens the existence of this entire section. Yet I wonder how many teachers tonight could state what that problem is, considering that Boston has spent thousands of dollars in trying to eliminate what it is that is killling the Port of Boston here. Should we be interested? I think so.

Chairman: I agree with you. I suggest that your remarks on this subject be submitted to the Board of Superintendents for report. I also suggest that we do not interrogate the teachers tonight.

Mr. Norton: I thought as long as we had the teachers here—of course, I am referring only to the economics teachers.

ATTENDANCE AT CONVENTION

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the Superintendent is hereby authorized to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators of the National Education Association, to be held at Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 20 to 27, 1941, at an expense to the city not to exceed ninety dollars ($90).

On motion of the Superintendent, it was ORDERED, That William S. Lenihan, Master, Mary Hemenway District, is hereby authorized to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators of the National Education Association, to be held at Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 24 to 28, 1941, inclusive, at an expense to the city not to exceed fifty dollars ($50).

On motion of the Superintendent, it was ORDERED, That the following-named are hereby granted leave of absence without loss of pay for the period Feb. 24 to 28, 1941, inclusive, to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators of the National Education Association, to be held at Atlantic City, N. J.:

Department of Vocational Guidance—Susan J. Ginn, director.

Department of Penmanship—Julia E. Sullivan, assistant director.

Bigelow District—Joanna Z. Connell, master's assistant.

Mr. Norton: I am always pleased to see those orders coming through providing for travel by our Superintendent, principals and teachers. I do not think we do enough of it.

Superintendent: The School Committee has agreed to allow the president of one of the groups of principals to attend this Convention each year, in addition to the Superintendent. This year it is the turn of the President of the Elementary Principals.

I have received a communication from the National Council of Science Teachers, calling attention to the fact that a meeting of that organization is occurring during the vacation week, and asking if the School Committee would be willing to contribute funds in whole or in part because one of our people had been a valued member of that committee. I have not had the opportunity of talking with him but I am wondering if the School Committee would be willing to grant a part of the cost of his transportation. It probably would not be more than $50.

Mr. Norton: If you recommend it, I am sure the Committee would grant it.

Chairman: Are you intending to take action tonight?

Superintendent: No. The reason we do not do more of this is that we are limited by a statute which fixes the amount of money we can appropriate for travel.

Mr. Norton: Has there been a bill in the Legislature to enlarge that sum?

Superintendent: No. I think you are absolutely right in suggesting that a larger sum should be allowed. We are allowed about half as much as the City of Providence. I would like from time to time to select one of our teachers to attend a meeting devoted to teaching, if we had sufficient funds.

We plan to have the Business Manager meet with his group and we like to have at least one member of the School Committee go to one of these conventions.

Mr. Norton: Why not start a movement to change the law?

Superintendent: That would be well.

SALARY SCHEDULE

Mr. Lee: I would like to correct an impression that I think has gone out to the public and the teaching service on a matter important enough to stand being corrected.

On January 28 a Boston newspaper carried the following statement:

> "Joseph Lee's proposal for a revision in the salary schedule received a set-back when the Committee, over his protest, accepted a report from the Board of Apportionment reaffirming previous assertions that Boston teachers were not overpaid."

I think there is nothing factually wrong in that statement, but it leads to the impression that I favored a reduction of teachers' salaries. I think the School Committee knows that that is not the case.

I have continuously, emphatically and consistently, over a period of years, favored increases for teachers. Among the many increases which I have favored, the only point where I did not favor an increase was where I agreed with the Board of Apportionment, namely, in regard to a lower salary allowance as the maximum for high school men teachers.

I believe I am correct that in 1925, after careful study, the Board recommended the maximum of $3,600. I agree with the Board.

In 1928, on the eve of the depression, the School Committee, over the heads of the Board of Superintendents, raised this maximum to $3,888, to take effect later when the wave of young men coming into our vastly expanded high schools attained their maximums.

I do not believe the Board of Superintendents have taken the occasion of a ten-year period of depression, which has almost ruined the country and the city, to reverse their judgment taken in the days before the depression.

I want to point out that where I have favored a reduction it has been consistent with the stand which the Board of Apportionment took after careful study.

I could point out much in support of that view which I argued before this Committee, but I would like to take one or two instances from the School Committee records.

On June 3, 1940, at page 90, the record states: "Mr. Lee moved that the same item—salaries of principals, teachers, etc.—be increased in the sum of $5000 to provide for an increase in the salaries of kindergarten teachers."

The motion failed to pass by a four to one vote.

"Mr. Lee moved that the same item—salaries of principals, teachers, etc.—be increased in the sum of $5000 to provide for an increase in the compensation of permanent substitutes."

The motion failed to pass by a four to one vote.

The report of the Board of Apportionment last week says that they reaffirm their conviction that Boston teachers are not now overpaid.

Again I quote from the School Committee record of June 3, 1940, where I say.

"It seems to me that this much must be said: If we pay one group of teachers $5 a day and one group more than $21 a day, one of two things must be true. Either we are grossly exploiting those to whom we pay $5 a day or we are greatly overpaying those who get $21 a day."

To lump all school teachers together, as the report did, and say they are not now overpaid, certainly as to those receiving $5 a day, stands as an achievement of understatement.

Also on February 7, 1940, almost a year ago, the members of the Board of Superintendents said that they favored a single salary schedule. That statement I do not need to quote at length except that I brought the matter up again on June 3, with a quotation from different members of the Board, one of whom said:

"If I had to start a system, I would give a single salary schedule to people with the same qualifications, the same experience and the same training."

Superintendent: If he was starting a new school system.

Mr. Lee. That is, if he were starting a new school system, and he makes that clear by stating later, "I. we were building a school system entirely fresh."

And so, in asking for a report from the Board of Apportionment on January 9, 1941, I asked for a report from the Board of Apportionment dealing with those teachers coming freshly into the school service.

I just want to clarify what my stand has been in favor of increases and what the Board of Apportionment, as a body, at different times has favored as a salary schedule, and to bring attention again to what the Board, speaking individually in regard to starting things afresh, has stated as their idea of a proper salary schedule: in that case a "single salary schedule."

Superintendent: I do not get your first point with reference to the junior masters. As I recall it —and I have the extract from the Board of Apportionment's letter to the School Committee in conference, May 31, 1928—the Board recommended a maximum increase by one increment from $3600 to $3744.

"In previous revisions of the salary schedules the junior masters have received less favorable treatment than other groups. Their percentage of increase over the salaries paid in 1900 being about 17 per cent, while the percentage of increase of other groups ranges from 40 per cent to about 150 per cent in the same time. With a greatly increased cost of living the economic position of the junior masters has become very difficult, and this group seems to deserve relief more than any other in the school system."

That is a quotation from the Board of Apportionment's letter to the School Committee in conference May 31, 1928.

Mr. Lee: That was the statement I referred to. My statement pointed out that over the heads of the Board of Apportionment, the School Committee at that time gave an additional increment, making the maximum $3,888.

Superintendent: That is a prerogative of the School Committee.

Mr. Lee: I do not know what happened during the depression, when the cost of living dropped, to make the Board of Apportionment change their minds in favor of this increase.

Superintendent: Didn't that report state that 45 per cent of our teachers entered the service with the understanding that they were to receive a maximum of $3,888?

Mr. Lee: I think it stated that. I do not remember the percentage (examining papers). That is right, 45 per cent.

Superintendent: About 45 per cent of our teachers came with the understanding that they were to receive $3,888 as a maximum. I think that holds.

Mr. Lee: I thought one of the most extraordinary aspects of the report was, "the Board of Apportionment has carefully considered the suggestion that persons who enter the permanent service after September 1, 1941, shall be placed on a lower salary schedule than that which those now employed received."

I have been unable to find the source of that suggestion. Either there is a mystery man who has suggested that teachers be placed on a lower salary or they are referring to my suggestion that certain salaries be raised and that only one group return to the maximum that they had in 1928.

If a report which was to embrace the entire teaching service considers only one small fraction of the teaching service, it would appear that no one exists in the teaching service except that small group, as nothing is said about the other groups. Nothing is argued pro and con as to the desirability or the effect of a raise, and nothing is said pro or con as to the effect of a change in the opposite direction.

My concluding thought in arguing this matter, which will be before us this month, is that when the world got away from the feudal system it enabled any worker or any buyer of a person's labor, by voluntary agreement, if they came to an agreement, to fix the terms of work. That flexibility which exists when buyers and sellers make agreements with each other, acts as a steering wheel by which people steer the labor of themselves and others into the channel where the world wants that labor. In that way we dispensed with the feudal system and gave everybody an opportunity to bid freely in the market and to compete, with terms to be agreed upon, with the man he was buying from or selling to.

The Board of Apportionment's report of January 9, 1941, concludes with the note that it would not be desirable to change the scale of salaries of people coming into the system because there would be invidious comparisons with those already in the service. That would argue that we should never make a change in salaries. The essence of a price is that you provide the citizen with a steering wheel so as to be able to make adjustments by giving an opportunity to all sellers to come into the field with their services and for all buyers to come into the field to use those services, a system which results in the rate of pay being adjustable and sufficient to dispose of the services or the output of those who work and sufficient to attract the commodities produced for the consumer's wants.

I think it is too bad to discard the idea of using money and rates of pay and prices as a steering wheel by which we conduct our affairs. If you do not do that you have to have salaries and wages determined by dictators or you have to go back to the feudal system with a lot of petty dictators who determine the standards by which those under them should live.
